Ewes should be bred as soon as possible after lambs are sold. Alabama has an edge on many other colder states in producing lambs in time to hit the high-price markets. Therefore, growers should breed their ewes now so they will have 80 to 100 pound lambs ready for sale next May.

Tapioca Molds Are Pretty Desserts

Every homemaker knows the value of a dish which is made in advance and keeps in the refrigerator until serving time.

These individual molds of Creamy Tapioca Pudding are an example of good planning for dessert time. When ready to serve, just unmold on pretty plates or nappies, and spoon fresh sweetened strawberries over them. A garnish of whipped cream may be added.

Strawberry Tapioca Molds

1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar

1 egg yolk
2 cups milk

3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with about ¼ cup of the milk in saucepan. Add tapioca, salt, 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly — this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of hot tapioca mixture gradually on beaten egg white, blending well. Then quickly add the remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The hotter the tapioca and the faster it is blended in, the thicker and fluffier the pudding will be.) Add vanilla. Turn at once into individual molds. Let stand 20 minutes at room temperature. Then chill until firm. Unmold and serve with sweetened sliced strawberries. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Safer Childbirth For Mothers and Babies

Among the achievements of modern medicine, probably none is more satisfying — or dramatic — than the vastly increased safety in childbirth. In 1953, while the number of births was soaring to a new high, only one American mother in 1,800 died during childbirth.

The year 1930 seems to us very much a part of our modern age, yet in that year in the United States, more than 12 women died out of every 1,800 who gave birth to a child. By 1945, this figure had been cut to four.

The benefits of new medical techniques haven't been confined to mothers. As the number of deaths of women in childbirth has plunged down, the number of their babies who survive the dangerous first year of life has risen sharply.

Today, the most dangerous time for the baby is during delivery and for the first few hours afterwards. In this crucial period, though, deaths have been cut by more than one-third in the last thirty years. Between 1915 and 1948, the number of babies who didn't survive their first month of life was reduced by one-half, and the number succumbing during the next 11 months dropped by four-fifths.

The fight against maternal and newborn fatalities has been waged on many fronts by physicians, health educators, hospitals and research scientists in institutions and pharmaceutical laboratories. One small example of this progress is the increasing use of penicillin to prevent infection in the eyes of newborn babies. The antibiotic is steadily replacing the use of potentially toxic silver nitrate for this purpose. Education of mothers-to-be, raising standards of hospital care for mother and child, and general public health education and legislation have played a major role in making births safer today than they have ever been in the history of man.

Some of the important killers, however — childbed fever, pregnancy toxemias, whooping cough, diphtheria and Rh incompatibility — could only be conquered by new drugs, vaccines and transfusion and surgical techniques.

Whooping cough meant a death sentence in one-quarter of all cases of children under one year as recently as the 1940's. Now the use of serums and potent new antibiotics such as Polycycline are making such deaths virtually unheard of. In the year 1953, only one child for every 300,000 population died from anyone of the four main communicable diseases of childhood—measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough and diphtheria. In the days of our grandparents' childhood, all four were a serious menace to the lives of children.

The success of the fight against infantile paralysis is only one more step toward the victory which is being won on behalf of all the mothers and children in the world. The triumph of Dr. Salk's vaccine may lead to the perfection of other vaccines or serums to ward off the virus diseases.

Various Methods Of Home Canning

For canning purposes, foods are divided into two groups—low-acid and acid. The amount of acid in a too determines how it should be processed.

It takes a high temperature to destroy bacteria in closed containers of low-acid foods such as peas, corn, carrots, spinach, asparagus, okra, squash, and meats. These foods should be processed in a steam pressure canner at 240 degree Fahrenheit.

Acid foods, including tomatoes, fruits sauerkraut, pickled beets, and ripe pimientos, can be processed at the temperature of boiling water (212 degrees Fahrenheit). They should be processed in a water bath container.

Malathion in baits or sprays is effective and safe to use for control of house flies.

Heifers for herd replacements are being selected now on many Ala... cattle farms, and producers should save only those animals having good beef characteristics.

The tractor air cleaner should be serviced every day.

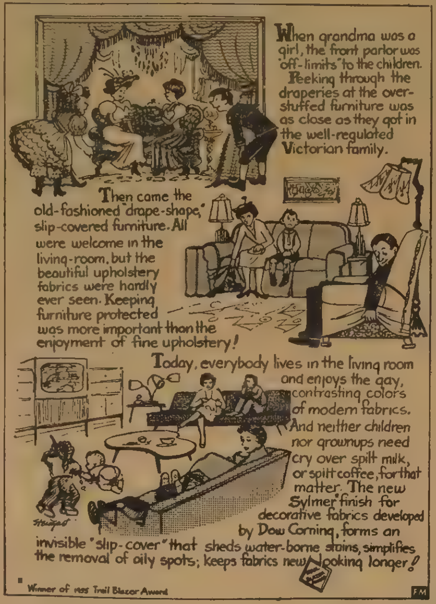
How About That!



When grandma was a girl, the front parlor was "off-limits" to the children. Peeking through the draperies at the over-stuffed furniture was as close as they got in the well-regulated Victorian family.
Then came the old-fashioned "drape-shape," slip-covered furniture. All were welcome in the living-room, but the beautiful upholstery fabrics were hardly ever seen. Keeping furniture protected was more important than the enjoyment of fine upholstery!
Today, everybody lives in the living room and enjoys the gay, contrasting colors of modern fabrics. And neither children nor grownups need cry over spilt milk, or spilt coffee, for that matter. The new Sylmer finish for decorative fabrics developed by Dow Corning, forms an invisible "slip-cover" that sheds water-borne stains, simplifies the removal of oily spots; keeps fabrics new-looking longer!

VETERAN'S CORNER

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am required to take a physical examination to reinstate my lapsed GI insurance policy. Would VA accept an examination made by an osteopath?

A. Yes. Provided the osteopathic physician is a graduate of a recognized college of osteopathy, and is listed in the current directory of the American Osteopathic Association.

Q. I bought a house with a GI loan. Occasionally I earn a few extra dollars on the side, and I'd like to use this money to pay off the loan in advance. Is there any minimum set for these pre-payments, or may they be for any amount?

A. Your pre-payment may be for either one monthly payment or $100 whichever is less or in multiples of either one of those payments.

Q. I have been taking on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill. I intend to change my course to on-the-job training in a different field. I already have had three reductions in my GI allowance. After I change, will I receive the full rate of allowance, or my current reduced rate?

A. Since you are changing your job training course, you will receive the full rate of allowance at the beginning of your new course. This rate will be reduced at four-month intervals.

Q. How much money can I borrow on my permanent National Service Life Insurance policy?

A. You may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value of your policy. Your VA District Office, where you mail your premiums, can give you the amount of your current cash value.

Veterans living in Chilton County who wish further information about their benefits, should write Bob Fullen at the VA office in Clanton.

Rev. J. L. Adams, pastor
Sunday School at 10:00 a.m.
Morning Sermon at 11 a.m.
Night Services at 8:00 p.m.
B.T.U. at 7:00 p.m.
Wed. night Prayer Meet. at 7:30.

Our Sunday School attendance was 109. There being a Homecoming at Fellowship Church, there was at least ten of our regular members out. had they been present there would have been 119, which would have been over our goal of 115. We are proud of our Sunday School leaders, they are doing a fine job. To each and every member reading this, make up your mind to be present Sunday.

The morning Sermon was very interesting, and seem to have good effect. We are grateful for our pastor, and thanks to him for the many calls made each week to our membership. A pastors visit is very helpful, it does something to a Christian that keeps him wanting to do something for the Lord.

Our B.T.U. leader, Mr. Jimmie Green can always say things that will help anyone attending this organization. As we have said before we are very happy to have Leaders that will carry on in this manner. And thanks to all the members that come and help make our work effective.

On account of the Vacational Bible School, Mrs. Frances Gregg announced that the W.M.U. Royal Service program will be postponed to Wednesday, June the 15th. Then following this program, there will be a Day of Prayer on June 16th. this service will begin at 10:00 a.m. The collection made will go for State Missions. All the ladies of the Baptist church whether members or not are cordially invited to attend.

The church in a business meeting Sunday night, voted to begin work on the pastor's home. This is one thing most of the members want. The collections on this Building is doing good. Anytime any amount you feel like paying see Mr. R. H. Davis, treasurer of the Building Fund.

Picnic On Rosy Ham Loaf

"PICNICS in the great outdoors are perfect, even if you forget such necessities as the salt or a can opener." That's not an old Chinese proverb; but a truth every family learns by experience.

Do remember for your outings this summer to feature juicy, Rosy Ham Loaf. Baked ahead, it's a beauty for jumbo sandwiches, hot or cold. Whether you plan to cook out or not, you're all set for a feast.

Cut ham loaf into generous thick slices; pop them into hot buttered buns. (Re-toast ham loaf over campfire if you like.) Pass the ketchup, mustard, pickles and lettuce. You'll want pork and beans too; potato chips; doughnuts and fruit. Then everybody join the fun of eating.

Freeze Baked Loaf

One point that especially endears this ham loaf to cooks is its "freezability." Because it keeps well in frozen state, you can bake two at a time; then freeze one to eat later.

With Rosy Ham Loaf ready for a quick meal, your future will be mighty rosy. It's a lip-smacking mixture of ground ham and veal; with tomato soup for the liquid.

Rosy Tomato Ham Loaf
(Double Recipe for Two Loaves)

1 pound ground veal
1 pound ground smoked ham
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Mix all ingredients. Shape into one or two loaves. Bake at 350° F. for 1 hour.

NOTE: To freeze meat loaf, remove from pan and cool quickly (on ice). Wrap in moisture-vapor-resistant paper. Seal package and label. Freeze at once.

SOUP SCOOPS

Picnic Honors Summer and Dad: Dad's Day and the First Day of Summer come all in one week; two good reasons to celebrate. Plan a picnic in honor of both; outdoors or in, according to the weather. You can cook up a whopper of a main dish in one big kettle over the campfire. Open cans of spaghetti (in tomato sauce) and of chili con carne. Pour in equal amounts of each, can for can. Add some green peas or corn also . . . for a super whopper dish. Let mixture simmer.

Plastic's The Thing For Warm-Weather Dining

Outdoor living in Spring and Summer is becoming an accepted pattern with millions of young homeowners. That means virtually moving the living room and dining room into the backyard, where their counterparts—patio, fireplace and portable barbecue—take over the two most popular leisure time pursuits: relaxing and eating.

When it comes to outdoor eating, whether it be buffet style when friends drop over or a big family gathering around the picnic table replete with aunts, uncles and cousins, homeowners like to use easy-to-handle dinnerware that is both practical and attractive.

This preference accounts for the popularity of dishes molded of Melmac, a plastic material that's light in weight, smartly designed in a variety of colors that are molded in from surface to surface, and far more durable than any other type of dinnerware (you can drop them to the floor from a height of several feet with little likelihood that they'll break or even chip).

Most of the pieces are now designed so that they can be used for more than one purpose. For example, a vegetable bowl can also double as a receptacle for bread, fruit, tidbits or flowers; a sugar bowl can be used for jams, or, in a pinch, as a cigarette container. A platter can be used for sliced meat, or to serve rolls, or as a receptacle for such things as radishes, celery, olives and scallions.

It's the combination of Melmac and some of the nation's leading designers such as Russel Wright, George Nelson and Jon Hedu that accounts for the demand for this type of ware that is in the best of taste whether it be at the dining room table or out on the terrace.

Here's Why GI School Checks Are Sometimes Late

Veterans starting summer school under the Korean GI Bill may have to wait until late in the summer term for their first GI allowance checks, since under the law it takes about two months for the money to reach them, Harley A. Smith, Manager of the Alabama Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, said today.

For that reason, Smith urged veteran-trainees to bring along a "nest egg" of their own to tide them over for the initial period. Very often an entire summer semester may last no longer than two months, Smith said.

Once the GI checks start coming, they will cover every month of training completed, so long as veterans make sure their schools file monthly attendance certificates with the VA.

Smith gave these reasons for the length of time it takes to make initial GI allowance payments:

First, the law requires the allowances to be paid after the end of each month of training completed, and not before. Further, payment for an initial period of training of less than a full month may be deferred until the end of the following full month. All that accounts for at least one month's delaq.

And second, after the end of the month, the veteran must sign a certification stating he was attending class during the month. The school sends this certification to VA. Usually, a veteran's check should go out within 20 days after the time VA receives the certification. This, roughly, accounts for the remainder of the two-month waiting period.

Colleges throughout the country have reported that many Korea veterans have been coming to school without sufficient funds to tide them over until they get their first GI allowance checks.

This has created unnecessary hardships for many veteran-students. Some have taken advantage of the limited resources of college loan funds, but many more have been put to remain in school.

Most of the financial problems could have been prevented, Smith said, if the veterans had remembered to bring money of their own to last until their GI checks arrived.

A "milk habit" of three glasses each day promotes a healthier nervous system.

Nutritionists have stated that all the calcium in the human body is replaced every few years—milk and milk products are the most practical source of calcium from infancy through old age.

As milk, evaporated milk is simplicity itself to use. For drinking, or for use in any recipe where milk is called for, an equal volume of water is added to evaporated milk. A simple stir with a spoon blends the concentrated milk and water immediately.

An inexpensive way to add more milk nutrients to the diet is to use nonfat dry milk solids in cooking and baking.

Milk and other dairy foods provide approximately [illegible]0 percent of the nutritional requirements of each family but cost only 15 cents out of each food dollar—making them real bargain foods.

Anemia

Anemia is present when the amount of blood in the body is decreased as in cases of hemorrhages, or when the red blood cells are not present in normal quantities, or when they do not contain enough of the substance which gives them their red color. This substance is known as hemoglobin. Anemic patients are pale because of a lack of blood, or of red blood cells, or of the hemoglobin in red cells. Disturbances in the digestive system result in this abnormal quality of the blood.

Such cases are known as primary Anemia. Secondary Anemia is present when the composition of the blood has been made abnormal by some disease condition of the body wherein there is sufficient accumulation of toxic substances to seriously interfere with the constituents of the blood.

The time required for a correction in all cases depends upon the nature of the cause. In primary Anemia it is usually necessary to correct the condition in the digestive system, while in secondary Anemia the disease process in the body must be corrected before the blood can be purified.

There are other factors involved in this condition, but one thought to keep in mind is that in any condition, time is your worst enemy but it is a friend to disease.

There just ain't no need for a continuous advertising campaign . . .

Preachers

Should preach only one sermon or so a year, it don't take constant 'advertising' to root out sin.

The Traffic Light

At the Courthouse should be turned off to save electricity; everyone knows that's a dangerous corner and there will be no accidents. No need for 'constant advertising' to influence people to stop and watch.

Teachers

Don't need to constantly review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

Highway Police

Can stop driving up and down the highways. Everyone knows the law and knows there are police. No need to continually remind drivers by 'advertising' the fact through patrolling.

All Out-of-Town Firms

That advertise in the daily press, the weekly press, radio and television, are just giving their money away and fast going broke; mail order firms who send out catalogs are also wasting money. Everyone in the Chilton area knows what's sold in Montgomery and Birmingham, and all that advertising (what a joke) doesn't influence them a bit---they all shop at home!

But if you are one of the foolish kind---like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there---and believe in continuous, profitable advertising, then advertise in the outstanding local medium. . .

Alabama Music Clubs Want Original Poem For Song

June 15th is the deadline for submission of an original poem for the 1955-56 Alabama Education Centennial Song which the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs has been commissioned to produce by early Fall. A prize of $50.00 is offered for the words and also $50.00 for the musical setting. Any person may win one or both prizes.

The Centennial of Education in Alabama, sponsored jointly by the State Department of Education and the Alabama Educational Association has for slogan "Our Yesterdays Mold our Tomorrows" which suggests that the song cover not only acheivements of the past but high purposes for the future.

A marching song of three or not over four stanzas is what is wanted. Immediately upon completion of the song it will be distributed to all schools in the State to be sung by all school children and played by school bands in celebration of the Centennial.

Mrs. L. A. Mosely, of Uniontown, president of the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs has named Mrs. M. M. Paschall, of Uniontown, chairman of the Centennial Song Committee to be assisted by Mrs. Bertha Loys Gilbert, of Montgomery, and Mrs. D. Trotter Jones of Birmingham.

It is explained that music clubs may invite writers and composers of the State to participate but all manuscripts must come through a Federated Music Club.

Further information may be had by writing to Mrs. M. M. Paschall Uniontown, any member of the committee, or the president of a local music club.

Newcomer To Church Of Christ Gets Things Done

Brother McClesky

Our Minister, Brother McClesky, recently closed a good meeting with the Church in Jemison. Good interest was manifested.

We have just finished painting our church building and making some changes on the front which add to its appearance. We also made some changes on the inside including rearranging the seats, putting down runners in the aisles, and installing a new electric clock.

We are beginning a Vacation Bible School here on Monday, June 13, at 9:00 o'clock and closing at 11:30 each morning. There will be classes for children of three years of age and upward and we will have a class for adults in the auditorium. You have an invitation to attend.

Insure Your 1956 Strawberry Crop

Auburn—The 1956 strawberry crop can be helped right now. Several small jobs that follow this year's harvest will do much to make for strong plants and a good yield next season, in outlining the proper summer care of strawberry plants.

First of all, soon after the last berry is gathered, rows should be barred off, leaving a six-inch strip a little to one side of the center for the establishment of a new row of plants. The plants in the new row should then be thinned to 18 inches Apart. Next, apply 500 pounds per acre of 6-8-8 fertilizer and work the soil back to the rows. Some hand weeding and hoeing, in addition to regular plowing, will probably be necessary to keep the patch free of weeds and grass throughout the summer.

VETERAN'S CORNER

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am thinking of paying my GI insurance premiums once a year, in advance. If I pay my yearly premium, and suddenly need the money, would it be possible for me to get it back from VA?

A. Yes. VA will refund you whatever amount has not yet been applied to monthly premiums.

Q. I attended college for four years under the World War II GI Bill, and then went back on active duty. I have just been discharged from my second tour of service with a service-connected disability. Would I be eligible for vocational training under Public Law 894, even though I already had received training under the GI Bill?

A. Only if you are in need of training to overcome the handicap of your disability. If you need the training you may train under Public Law 894 for as long as is necessary for you to achieve complete rehabilitation.

Q. If I take flight training under the Korean GI Bill, how will I be paid?

A. You will receive a monthly allowance from VA covering 75 percent of the established rate that non-veterans ,taking the same course are required to pay. The allowance will be based on the number of hours of instruction received during the month.

Q. A friend of mine is a paralyzed veteran eligible for a $10,000 VA grant for a "wheelchair house," especially adopted for his needs. Would he also be eligible for regular GI home loan to apply on the remainder of the cost of his house?

A. Yes. The fact that he obtained a $10,000 VA housing grant would not deprive him of his GI loan benefit.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

HEAT STROKE

Heat or sunstroke is not due to the sun's rays, but rather to the infra-red or heat rays. The condition may occur in such places as industrial plants or laundries where the workers are exposed to excessive heat. It may develop in persons who perspire profusely thereby losing great quantities of salt from the body and it may develop in those who do not perspire at all.

Normally the temperature of the body is maintained by a little center in the brain which acts like a thermostat. When changing weather conditions cause the temperature to rise or fall, this little center turns loose the mechanisms that help the body maintain its normal temperature.

When heat stroke occurs, these normally acting mechanics are thrown out of order. Symptoms of headache, nausea and dizziness usually precede the attack; and if ignored, the victim may be suddenly struck with an attack so violent that it may result in death.

In heat stroke, the person must be cooled as quickly as possible. He should be placed in a cool place and be at complete rest flat on his back. Sponging the body with cool water will also help.

The power of the body to adjust and regulate its temperature is one of the most interesting of the phenomena in physiology. but it is also recognizable that the human body is unable to adjust itself satisfactorily to excessive temperature for a long period of time.

Sensible precautions should be taken in hot weather. Cool, comfortable clothing should be worn; alcoholic drinks should be avoided, and lighter meals should be eaten to reduce energy producing fuel. And above all remain placid and calm.

Rabies Threat Is Low In Chilton

Montgomery—Evidence of rabies was found in 2 animal heads sent in from Chilton County during 1954, the State Health Department said today.

The state total of rabies-positive animal heads examined was 458 last year. The Department said that the total included 307 dogs, 106 foxes, 28 cows, 14 cats, 1 raccoon and 1 hog, and one case of rabies in man.

Most of the examinations were performed by the state's Bureau of Laboratories, with a small number examined and reported by Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn and by the U. S. Public Health Service's virus laboratory at Montgomery.

The beautiful and spacious home of L. O. Lenoir of Maplesville, Rt. 2 was last week's Mystery Farm. This home, incidentally which was built by Mr. Lenoir, was the third of the current series of Mystery Farms being run in your Chilton County News.

hTe farm was bought by the Lenoirs some five years ago from A. J. Traywick. It was first settled by Jim Myers about 75 years ago. There are 80 acres in the farm and most of it, says Mr. Lenoir, is in pastureland. He enjoys his Black Angus cattle more than anything and devotes most of his time to them.

He and Mrs. Willie T. Lenoir, his wife, are members of the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church. They were married three years ago.

It has been a busy five years since the purchase of this farm and the Lenoirs have made a real home of these beautiful acres.

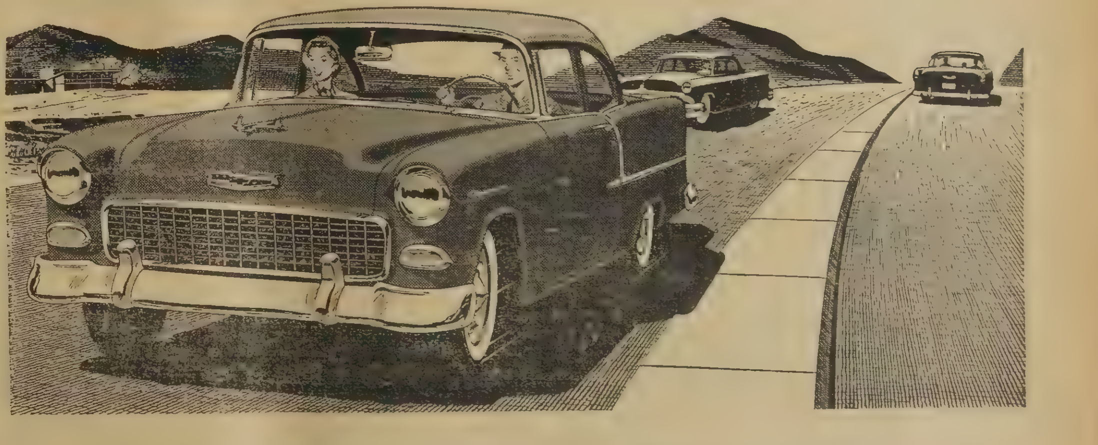
Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!



Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach. NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach. NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach. NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet . . . and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

Trencherman's Breakfast

Glorious fresh air . . . keen appetites . . . and plenty of good hearty food . . . it's time for outdoor meals. And what could bring hungry campers or picknickers faster than the tempting smell of pancakes and ham sizzling over an open fire?

For ease and speed of preparation as well as taste appeal, pancakes provide a main dish that can't be beat for breakfast in the woods—or in your own backyard. Made with a mix, there's no advance preparation—they hit the spot every time.

If you're planning a camping trip, remember to pack several boxes of pancake mix. Besides being a satisfying breakfast food, you'll find it convenient for frying fish, either dry as it comes from the package or as a batter dip.

Plain pancakes, of course, are everybody's favorites. But for variety, you can add a number of simple ingredients such as fruit or bits of crisply-fried bacon or ham which will make them taste better than ever. Try one of these recipes—all suggest the fresh new flavor you're looking for.

Corn Kernel Pancakes: Prepare batter for 14-16 Deluxe Pancakes as directed on the package of Pillsbury's Buttermilk Pancake Mix, decreasing milk to 1½ cups. Stir in 1 cup drained, whole kernel corn. Bake as directed.

Bacon or Ham Pancakes: Prepare batter for 14-16 Deluxe Pancakes, adding ½ cup chopped, crisp bacon, or finely-chopped baked ham. Bake as directed.

Corn Meal Pancakes: Prepare batter for 14-16 Deluxe Pancakes, substituting ½ cup yellow corn meal for ½ cup of pancake mix called for in the recipe.

Duroc Breeders Hit At Hog Brucellosis

Auburn—Enlisting in the fight to eradicate hog brucellosis, members of the Alabama Duroc Breeders Association voted recently to accept no entries in 1956 association-sponsored sales except from certified brucellosis-free herds. This requirement will not be put into effect until next year in order to give farmers a chance to qualify their hogs under the new federal-state program to rid Alabama herds of the disease.

"The Duroc breeders' action was a big step forward in the fight," said one authority as he explained that the State Department of Agriculture is conducting the blood-testing program to rid purebred herds of animals that carry brucellosis. After a herd passes three "clean" tests, it is certified by the Department as being free of this highly contagious disease. Other purebred breeders and market hog growers who buy breeding stock from certified herds can be sure that the animals will not carry brucellosis to hogs on their farms. Duroc Breeders Association sales will give buyers that assurance.

According to the Extension specialists, brucellosis, which is sometimes called "contagious abortion," has cut deep into the profits of Alabama pork producers for several years.

FIN-FAN ITEMS—

Davy Crockett Fad Adds To Popularity Of Coosa River

The lovely Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes are continuing to receive nation-wide recognition for their good fishing potentials and their other good utilitarian benefits that they so rightly provide. Of course, the magazine stories, though good, cannot tell the full story, but then, the fact that the lakes are even mentioned is worth something.

On page 70 of the May issue of "American Rod & Gun", Ted Janes refers briefly to the lakes as a likely location while fishing in Dixie. Another mentioning of the lakes appears on page 91 of the June issue of the "Readers Digest". This is a very interesting account of how private enterprise has developed two rivers, the Coosa and the Wisconsin.

Perhaps, the current popularity of Davy Crockett has had something to do with this very kind attention on the Coosa and Tallapoosa Rivers. As you know, it was in these two valleys that Davy and General Andrew Jackson fought and won the Creek Indian War. From Bienville's Fort Toulouse, below Wetumpka. to Horseshoe Bend, n ar Dadeville, arrowheads and minnie balls have been found by the hundreds. Many camping grounds are still in evidence today, one in particular is near the shoals on Lake Lay. A cemetery of Tennessee Volunteers is located along Jackson's Trace at the mouth of Cedar Creek, Lake Lay. It was probably Davy Crockett that drove Chief Red Eagle from the heights of Cherokee Bluff, near Martin Dam.

So you see, we, of the Coosa-Talapoosa Valleys have plenty to talk about. Maybe we should mark off these historical sites so Walt Disney and other out-of-state visitors will know that it was here in Alabama that Davy fought, hunted and fished.

The lakes are beginning to clear. and fly and spinning tackle is proving to be very effective. Willow flies are coming out in nice hatches all up and down the chain of lakes and this means that Mass and Bream are easy pickings under the fly covered bushy banks. Ed Hardiman, Riverview Fishing Camp, Lake Lay reports that creel limits of Bluegills are being brought out daily. Ed says that as soon as the present stained waters pass, Stripes should really start schooling.

Other report and Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest entries are as follows:

Lake Martin

Wayne Floyd, Assistant Manager, Kowaliga Beach Resort, near Alexander City, reports: Mrs. Joe Richardson, Alexander City, was fishing for Bluegills with a small limber cane pole and worms when a 4 lb. 12 ounce Largemouth Bass struck. Business picked up for a few minutes and the Bass was safely boated. Dr. J. J. Walls and Joe Mitchell, Alexander City, boated medium Bass weighing up to 3½ pounds each while trolling a Bass Master trailing a silver spoon on Kowaliga Creek. Mrs. Chris Sherlock, Montgomery, strung up a nice catch of Bluegills weighing up to 8 ounces each while fishing with worms as bait. Young Wink Moeling, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Moeling, Goodwater, out fished mom and dad by landing a pound 8 ounce Stripe while trolling.

B. J. Phillips Paint & Tackle Shop(downtown Sylacauga, reports: Dick Webster, one of Sylacauga's outstanding spinning masters, made his own lure, and caught from Lake Martin a nice string of Largemouth Bass weighing up to 7 pounds 6 ounces each.

H. E. Dopson's tore, Red Hill Community, near Tallassee, reports: Romona Sellers, Tallassee, used a live spot tali minnow for bait and turned in a 5 pound 1 ounce Largemouth Bass along with several other smaller fish.

Lake Mitchell

Extension Agent Gets Egg-Grading Training

Auburn—Passage of a new egg law by the Alabama Legislature prompted the API Extension Service to plan refresher courses in grading eggs for its county workers. Although they will not have any part in enforcing the egg act, county agents and their assistants are preparing to instruct and assist local dealers in conforming with the law. They will also be able to show producers how to grade and class eggs.

This explanation was given in Auburn today by Extension Poultryman John Weeks, who is conducting the series of June and July county training meeting. Weeks said dealers who sell over 60 dozen eggs in one week are directly affected by the law requiring that eggs sold in this state be marked with labels showing grade, weight class, packer's name and address, and date of grading. However. dealers are likely to ask that suppliers grade the eggs. Poultrymen who produce quality eggs will plainly profit fro mthe demand for high grade eggs. It is also true that growers who turn out poor quality eggs will probably have a harder time peddling their products, Weeks pointed out.

"Consumers are the folks who really stand to profit most," the specialist said in speaking of the legislation's value. When dealers comply with the regulation, a food-shopper who picks up a carton of eggs in the grocery store can tell at a glance the size and quality of the eggs inside. Too, the law requires that egg advertisements giving prices also state the grade and weight classes of the eggs.

SUMMER BUYING AT HOME—

In this issue of the Chilton County News you will find many advertisements of Chilton merchants. These merchants are, through the medium of our paper, asking for your support.

We all realize that thousands upon thousands of dollars are lost out of our county each year which could and should be spent at home. The idea that the slogan, "Trade at Home" is the despairing cry of a dying community is absurd, although some folks tend to classify it thusly. Town-boosting is an art practiced by wide-awake citizens with the best interest of the community in mind.

That's why we say, "Trade at Home"; in the long run it pays all of us. We get to keep the money amongst ourselves to spend time and time again, making us more prosporous and more useful.

Our merchants are not asking for, nor are they entitled to, charity. But, if a man offers quality merchandise at reasonable modern prices, he is entitled to the trade and support of his own community.

There is also a convenience angle that you will not find when you go out of town to do your buying. Free delivery (over a large radius), charge accounts (easy to establish) and easy terms are just a few of the local conveniences that you aren't likely to find when you go to a larger town to buy.

When you buy at home, thereby creating a larger demand, local merchants will be able to increase their stocks, thus offering a wider variety of merchandise at cut-rates, that very often beat big-town prices. No business can, nor should be expected to do this, however, until they are assured of some kind of local consumer support.

A community, like an individual, cannot spend its money and keep it too, but as we said: a community made up of many people, such as ours, who spend their money at home, are assured of spending that money time and time again over a period of time, and we can all profit by it. A community is not a community without the cooperation of the merchants and the consumer, which is you and me.

ALABAMA'S MILK SITUATION—

The House Agricultural Committee is, and has been for a time, discussing ways and means to help Alabama dairy producers sell their milk more profitably and in greater quantities to milk distributors throughout our state.

It was stated that last year more milk (83,000,000 pounds) was brought into Alabama from other states than in previous times and that Alabama producers had to sell half that amount for under profitable prices.

This is obviously unfair to the milk producing and dairy farmers who depend on the distributor (and vice-versa) and who must sell their milk at lower prices in order to sell it at all, while out-of-state producers make larger profits.

While other states control the amount of milk that is shipped into them Alabama is a magnetic selling grounds for any and every producer who can't sell his milk or can get bett[illegible] [illegible]es for it in Alabama.

If we want our [illegible]iry industry to grow, as other dairy states have in the past and will in the future, we must put some control on our milk system that will assure producers of an outlet for the milk and at the same time assure distributors of quality products so that both will profit by it. Without this mutual cooperation between producer and disributor Alabama cannot and will not become the dairy state that it should, in spite of the natural environment to make it so. We hope that the Committee on this affair has acted and will act with foresight enough to protect Alabama's valuable Dairy Industry.

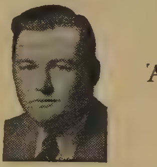
Report from Washington



BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The veterans direct loan program has been extended an additional year by the House of Representatives, making it effective through June 30, 1956. This measure, approved by the House last week, is identical to a bill I introduced earlier this year. Both bills extend the direct loan program, authorize an appropriation of $150 million for the extended year of the program, and liberalize its farm loan provisions.

-Direct Farm Loans

The present law allows a veteran to obtain a direct farm loan only for building a house or improving an existing structure on land he already owns. The bill passed last week liberalizes the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 dealing with direct farm loans. Under the terms of this new legislation, a veteran will also be allowed to obtain a direct loan either for the purchase of a farm with an existing residence or for the purchase of farmland and the construction of a farmhouse to be occupied by the veteran.

Also, under the present law, in order for a veteran to qualify for a direct farm loan, he has to show that the major portion of his yearly income will be derived from the farming operation. This restriction has prevented many veterans from buying a farm while working on a salary and putting their earnings into the farm until such time as the farm becomes self-supporting. The measure passed by the House changes that requirement. Now all the veteran will have to do is to qualify for the loan, and express his intentions of living in the dwelling on the farm to be purchased.

At the present time, the Veterans Administration has about 20,000 veterans on the waiting list for direct loans under the existing law. In Alabama this waiting list numbers more than 1500. Although there is a long waiting list for direct loans, few of the veterans on this list are applying for a direct farm loan. As a matter of fact, only 112 farm loans have been made since the beginning of the program in 1950. Only 13 such farm loans have been authorized in Alabama. Therefore, there is an obvious need for broadening the farm loan provisions of the direct loan program.

The measure adopted by the House places the farm veteran who seeks a direct loan on an equal footing with the veteran who lives in a metropolitan area where guaranteed loans are available. There s every reason to believe that this legislation may make it possible for more veterans to return to the farm.

-Loan Program A Success-

Since it was first started five years ago, the veterans direct loan program has operated successfully throughout the nation. As of Mar. 31 of this year, the VA had made a total of 61,014 loans of which 7,147 had been terminated. Of the 53,867 direct loans outstanding on that date, only nine-tenths of 1% were four or more installments in default. This very low default rate indicates the soundness of the program.

In our own State of Alabama, the direct loan program has proved equally successful. There were a total of 2,135 direct loans outstanding in Alabama at the end of last March. Of this number only four-tenths of 1% were four or more installments in default. This certainly speaks well of the veterans of our State.

Things we -SEE- and Hear

by "Tuck"

Many businesses go on the rocks because the business heads have rocks in theirs.

Wondered if the War Between the State had flared up again the other night when we looked out the door and saw three fellows coming across the field with a musket and . . . one of 'em with his pants abbreviated (on closer inspection we found they were his shorts) and the other one (well, he was a regular looking chap and we didn't see any fife or anything). Didn't have no drum or bugle either so it wasn't the Drum and Bugle Corps. They did have a musket, anyhow, and it turned out to be Archie Hardiman (totin' the musket), Wallace Cox (abbreviated pants, and Reedie Taylor (a regular guy). They were out after the dogs. Seems the cows were being annoyed considerably by a bunch of renegade dogs and our heroes was out to get 'em. (We'll keep our renegade locked in the corral from now on.) Anyhow, they routed the rustlers and came home victorious. Arch says he didn't get shot at the varmints, but he'd recognize one of 'ems face anywhere. From the looks of the blunderbuss he was totin' that cattle rustler's in the next state by now and still hi-tailin' it.

Wish those dogs would cut that out anyway, they run the cows, barkin 'and howlin' and then the "Home Guard" gets out their yipping and yahooin and a feller might think something was up. (We'd like to join this here outfit, but we don't have much of a blunderbuss, nor a fife, drum or bugle, and we'll be horn swaggled if we'll run around out there in our shorts.

The young fellow who cut our grass last week did an admirable job of it, in fact he did a better job than we usually do (which is seldom). That's understandable, however, we don't get a dollar for cutting it. Seems when I do it, they forget about the old saying mentioning charity beginning at home.

Our interpretation of success in the field of business, if you are a laborer is: Accuracy, then speed and then the perfection of both. If you have these and practice them you are a success.

Going to open a bake shop? Didn't think you were, but here's a good, flashy, eye-catching corny slogan for you anyhow. "We knead the dough." Yeh, I'm ashamed of myself too.

Went a'blackberry pickin' Sunday and I agree now that blackberries are for the birds, and so is picking them. Naw, I was just kiddin'; why I had a good time. Whoever said climbing up briar bushes twice as high as your head and ripping your thumbs open wasn't fun didn't know what they were talking about. (unless they've done it). At least we didn't get snake bit. Come to think of it, I doubt if any self-respecting snake would live in that tangle of mother nature. Birds didn't like it too much either, us stealing the food from their mouths, but we left them some. (all the little ones).

Noticed that any number of churches around over the county are dressingg up their faces and some are even building new ones. That indicates that our county of Chilton is growing spiritually regardless of physical development at present and we contend that physical growth will follow, right soon. We're growing, but we're going to grow faster.

No sooner had summertime put much greenery forth than much wind came along and took away much of that greenery. Lotta folks are minus shade trees since that blow we had the other day. We're glad it got the tall trees and not the smaller ones. . . mighta got us also.

Lakes Reopened To The Public

Montgomery, Ala.—W. H. Drinkard, director of Alabama's Department of Conservation, today announced that Valley Creek State Park Lake 16 miles north of Selma will be reopened to public fishing June 8.

This 96-acre lake was closed by the Department in 1953 for renovation and restocking with bream and bass.

Creel limits for the lake are 20 bream and six bass. One day permits will sell at the concession stand on the lakeshore for 50 cents, and boats can be rented for $1 per day or any portion thereof.

Fishing on opening day began at 6 a.m. and ended at 6 p.m. and in all days following will begin at sunrise and end at dark.

A swimming area is provided at the Valley Creek Lake and all other areas are closed to wading or swimming. Only rowboats will be allowed; motors are prohibited.

Fishermen are asked at all public lakes to have their fish counted and weighed before leaving the lake so that biologists of the Department of Conservation may keep a close check on production of the lake.

The Valley Creek Lake is located in Dallas County west of Highway 22, the Selma-Plantersville Highway.

Fishing opened June 9 (today) on 40-acre Open Pond which is located in Covington County on Conecuh National Forest.

Drinkard and C. F. Burnham, in a joint statement, said that the public is invited to fish the completely renovated lake.

Open Pond Lake has been restocked with bream and bass and fertilized by Department of Conservation biologists, and according to recent checks, should provide excellent fishing.

Opening and closing hours and creel limits are the same as the other lake mentioned above.

Fishermen are asked to have their catches weighed and counted before leaving the lake so that fisheries biologists can keep a close check on fish production.

BUFFET TABLE FROM THE TROPICS

Balmy spring days mean now's the time to get out your best appointments and do some entertaining. An outdoor buffet with a tropical flavor is in order. And the exotic islands of the south seas offer a wealth of ideas to dress up the ordinary buffet with an unusual touch.

An attractive table simply set will suggest the idea of the romance and charm of these islands. Start off with a pineapple colored table cloth and centerpiece of "Bird of Paradise" flowers set in a large clam shell with smaller shells and green leaves intermingled at the base. And what could be more in keeping with this motif than a table set with "South Seas" flatware —Community's newest look in finest silverware. The simple flowing lines of "South Seas" with the deeply sculptured scroll motif at the base of each handle conveys the grace and tranquil charm of these islands.

And for your south seas menu you might include a crisp cool salad of avacado and pineapple, jelly glazed ham, rice, hot biscuits and carrot sticks served in shells, and iced melon.

These are just a few ideas, with a little imagination and ingenuity, you can think up a lot more for a unique buffet from the south seas.

Red Finds a "Sweet Solution"

Red Jackson found a slick way to get his cows to eat what's good for them. Seems they were passing up the tall green grass—full of minerals and vitamins—and eating the short grass, which is naturally sweeter.

Red solved the problem by spraying a solution of corn syrup over the grass that was going begging. The cows sure went at it. Red says it's lucky for him—and the cows—that every one of them has a "sweet tooth."

Next week, according to Red, he's going to have his cows clean up all the weedy grass along his fences—after he sprays them with more corn syrup, of course.

From where I sit, some folks, like Red, are always trying out new tricks—and others stick with the old tried and true methods. Just a question of preference, I guess. Like the way you may enjoy coffee with meals, while I prefer a cold glass of beer. So let's not allow any bad feelings to "crop up" by thinking ours is the only choice.

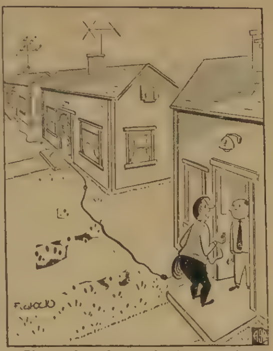
Old Hat With New Flowers



"Please, please let me plug into one of your many wall sockets. I want to watch the fights tonight and I don't have adequate wiring!"

Do you live in a modern [illegible] which has up-to-date appliances but [illegible]? If you [illegible] trimming an old hat with more than its cost in expensive flowers, veiling, ribbon and [illegible].

What is more, the old hat fixed up this way can be made to look very presentable in many cases, but your appliances are no good to you at all if they cannot be operated.

Perhaps you do not often have blackouts in your home because, when you want to plug in some appliance in the kitchen or laundry, you find out first if your husband is watching television or operating his buzz saw. This situation will exist if you have, like four out of five homes in the United States, only two service entrance wires into your house or apartment and a total of only 3600 watts. Most homes have 30-ampere, 120-volt wiring, which is insufficient.

Modern homes require 100-ampere service with three service entrance wires from the main power line. This provides for both current requirements and future additions to your electrical appliances. The cost of such wiring is very low.

Some small appliances require a surprisingly large wattage: your automatic toaster requires 1100; your coffee maker up to 1000; your waffle iron or sandwich grill up to 1000; your automatic hand iron 1000. Your refrigerator, every time it starts, takes several times its average 150 wattage. That is why you will sometimes notice your lights dim when the refrigerator goes on. Perhaps you have told your husband that the new percolator does not make coffee quickly,—or perhaps he has told you when he is in a hurry in the morning! None of your new, modern appliances will function as well if you do not have enough circuits or if you have "octopus wiring."

"Octopus wiring" is the term often used to describe the way many people choke up their electrical circuits by piling multiple plugs one on another into wall outlets. This creates a tangle of wiring underfoot and under furniture and rugs. It is not only inconvenient and dangerous: the result is poor operation of appliances and, often, blackouts.

Mr. and Mrs. Home Owner or Mr. and Mrs. Apartment Dweller have found this out when they have started to play hop-scotch among their circuits, disconnecting their coffee percolator when the toaster is turned on, turning off the attic fan to accommodate the electric broiler, and disconnecting everything in the house when they turn on the air conditioning unit!

If you don't have modern, adequate wiring, why don't you see your neighborhood electrical contractor?

Farm Journal Honors Alabama Power Co.

Alabama Power Company, on June 2nd, received from the Farm Journal the Frank Watts Award for "excellence in promoting farm electrification as a productive force for more profitable farming and richer living during 1954." The presentation was made at a meeting in Birmingham where approximately 100 reprseentatives of farm, industrial and public leaders gathered to witness the presentation. The presentation was made by Wheeler McMillen, vice-president of the Farm Journal, Inc., and chairman of the board of governors of the National Chemurgic Council. It was received by L. M. Smith, president of Alabama Power Company.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. McMillen stated: "The remarkable industrial development in Alabama is in part attributable to not only great natural and other resources, but also to an expanding market. The expanding market to a large extent is traceable to research resulting in the mechanization of many farm tasks, improvement in methods and consequent economic improvement in agriculture. This has brought about a release from farm labor to an increasing number of farm people who become available for part or full-time jobs in industry and yet retain the advantages of living on the farm.

"Industrial development", he said, "very definitely is tied in with agricultural development."

The Farm Journal is the country's largest national farm magazine. The Watts Award, which it presents annually through the Edison Electric Institute, is so named in honor of the late Frank Watts, a pioneer in rural electrification, who for 11 years directed the Farm Journal's rural electrification division.

This is the fourth time Alabama Power Company has won the award for its promotion of greater agricultural efficiency through increased use of many types of electric equipment used in farming. It was a winner in 1950, 1951 and 1952.

B. T. U. Service at 7:00
Preaching Service at 8:00
Mid-Week Prayer service Wed. p.m. at 7:00

Services were wonderful Sunday morning. The Lord was back with us as usual. What a wonderful Saviour! Bro. Lowery brought an inspiring message from John 3:16. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on him shall shall not perish, but have everlasting life." [illegible] Do you know Him as your Saviour? [illegible] it will soon be passed only what's done for Christ will last. Why don't you surrender your life, your all to the One that gave His only Son to die on the Cross in order that you and I might be saved. Let's all humble ourselves then as He said in His word. "When I see the blood, I'll pass over you." It doesn't matter how low you have gone in sin, he'll forgive your sins and make you whole. Then on that day you'll have a glorified body like unto Christ Himself. Let's back our pastor and pray for him and his family and we'll have a better pastor working to accomplish for Christ.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Tattle Tale!

City Manager Wall is urging Clanton residents to take advantage of the opportunity to get the street in front of their home paved. During the month of July the City, in cooperation with the County, will pave the street in front of your home for 55c—yep, fifty-five cents per front foot. That is like stealing it. Now to do this you will need to get the other property owners on your street to agree to have their street paved to. So, here's what Mr. Wall wants you to do. Get someone on your street to be the chairman of getting your street paved and have him contact all the other property owners. This must be done right away as plans have to be made in advance for this sort of thing and the time is short. To date plans are going ahead on paving projects on Fifth Street, 15th Street, between 2nd and 4th Avenues, 14th St. and out at Candler Terrace. Ordinarily paving in front of your home would cost you about eight times what the City and County have agreed to pave it for during the month of July.

Have you seen J. E. Easterling's garden? It's down beyond the Assembly of God Church on First Avenue. We don't know what kind of special fertilizer he is using, but he has some of the finest rag weed for this time of year we have ever seen. Some are as high as an elephant's eye.

First cotton bloom was brought in by G. W. Boozer who lives out on Verbena, Alabama, Route 1 in the Enterprise Community. He brought it in last Thursday morning exactly one week ago. He promises us the first bale of cotton too and we hope he delivers.

Tuesday morning's mail brought a bloom from Robert McAfee of Lawley, Alabama. Mr. McAfee says he has about four acres in bloom at present. His letter was mailed on June 13th.

Another honor comes to John Edsel Schmith. He was one of 1 in the School of Chemistry at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute who was placed on the Dean's Honor Roll for the spring quarter. Congratulations John and may your successes grow, and grow, and grow.

Glad to Alvin Davis back at the Bell Hardware Company. It just goes to prove what we have been telling you all the time—you can't beat good ole Chilton County. The Davis' moved to Florida and thought the change would be good for Mrs. Davis' health, but whatever the cause for them coming back we're glad to welcome them.

Folks and Things: The twin pretties behind the soda fountain at the Upchurch Drug Store. . . . people who signal to turn right and then turn left gripe us. And you'd be surprised some who do. . . . Our local citizens are leaving town in droves headed for some far off vacationland. . . . the new hospital looks gooder and gooder every day. . . . these rains mean that the weeds are covering the farmer's crops faster and more complete than the mortgage. . . . we gotta go.

Then dinner on the ground will be enjoyed. We will continue our day o fthanksgiving to the Lord for Hi wonderful love and blessings during the afternoon. We expect to have people bringing us special music during the afternoon. At night the cake will be cut.

Won't you join us in our work during the rest of this week and all day Sunday?

Sparkman Succeeds With Housing Program

Senator John Sparkman (Dem., Ala.) has expressed keen satisfaction with the great progress made by his Housing Committee toward reestablishing an over-all housing program designed to provide opportunities for all income groups to have decent housing.

The United States Senate has approved by an overwhelming vote a comprehensive housing bill sponsored by the Alabama Senator. Sparkman pointed out that among the major provisions of his bill are:

1. Safeguards are added to protect the government's investment in housing, and to give more adequate protection to home owners.

2. The home repair and modernization program of the Federal Housing Administration is to be extended for another five years.

3. Changes necessary to the reactivation of the slum elimination and prevention program, which, for all practical purposes, was killed by the Housing Act of 1954, are provided.

4. The authority for FHA-insured mortgages on single and multi-family dwellings is to be increased sufficiently, in terms of anticipated needs, to extend through the next fiscal year.

5. A public facilities loan program is to be established with a revolving fund of $100,000,000 to be used primarily to assist small cities and towns to make public facilitie improvements.

6. The Home Loan Bank Board, The Agency that supervises the Savings & Loan Associations, is to become an independent Agency as it was originally

7. Restrictions imposed by this Administration that have served to hamper the College Housing Program are to be removed, and that program is to be expanded and modernized.

8. A greatly modified housing program to provide more adequate housing for members of the armed services is to be established.

9. The rural Farm Housing Program, originally established in 1949 by Senator Sparkman and Congressman Jones, 8th District of Alabama, is to be renewed.

The Senator was especially critical of the Eisenhower Administration for discontinuing the program.

"Unfortunately," Sparkman declared, "the Korean War prevented—as it did in many other worth while programs—more than a token realization of this program. More unfortunate, however, is the inexcusable neglect of the program during the last two years. There is simply no justification for discrimination against rural people in the process of trying to make it possible for all American families to have decent and sanitary shelter."

10. The low-rent housing program established in 1949, but made largely inoperative by first, the Korean War, and secondly, the unfriendliness of the Eisenhower Administration, is to be restored to the 1949 levels. In addition, 10,000 units especially designed for housing the aged are authorized for each of the next five years.

"A soundly housed America, an adequately housed America," Sparkman said, "would be a stronger America, and one less susceptible to the threat of Communism and other anti-American ideologies. A well-rounded housing program which neglects no segment of the American people contributes to the national security of this nation."

Senator Sparkman has been in the forefront of the fight to make it possible for all income levels to have decent housing since he began serving in the Senate in 1947. Legislation sponsored by him has enabled several million American families to buy homes, and other millions to modernize existing homes.

Chamber of Commerce Will Hold Annual Meeting Tonight

The annual meeting of the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday night, June 16, at the City Hall in Clanton. Dr. J. E. Edgar, President of the Chamber, has advised all members and many prospective members that the Nominating Committee will make their selections for the different offices at this time. This is an open meeting; and everyone with any interest in the development of our community is invited and urged to attend.

The feature of the meeting will be a speech by Mr. Cooper Green, a vice-president of the Alabama Power Company, and past Mayor of the City of Birmingham. Mr. Green's responsibility with the power company is in the field of industrial development of the State of Alabama. This division of the company has been of much assistance to the people of our County in the past—in fact, they have been called in to help with most of the plants that have located in Alabama during the past several years. It is imperative that we continue the cooperative spirit that now exists.

Many local people have apparently been misinformed about participation and membership in the local Chamber of Commerce. This organization is not limited to merchants nor any other particular field. To the contrary to it is indeed hoped that more farmers, employees, and others interested in making our home still better home will come forward, attend this meeting, join the Chamber officially, and take an active part in this concern which can be vital to all of us. If you have been one of those few people that have wondered "what's wrong with that bunch in The Chamber of Commerce" here is a most cordial invitation to "cross over the bridge" and join those who are trying—making errors, yes, but still trying.

Thursday night is the best opportunity you wil lhave to establish or re-new your membership; and, at the same time, hear Mr. Green's message. And, if you happen to be in business in Chilton County, you just can't afford to miss it.

Quest Club In Retrospect—

The Quest Club had its antecedent years ago when my mother was a young lady, known as Mattie Patton. Then she, misses Elizabeth McNeill, Mattie Hand, Bertha Johnson, Maline Bunn, Anna Lowry and others met and discussed Tennyson at their literary society meetings. The [illegible] were enlivened at times by the presence of local swains when P. P. Burns, now Dean Burns of Howard College, [illegible] Professor Henson, who had come to attend [illegible] from West Virginia and was then at [illegible] Institute [illegible] Harvard campus [illegible] and tendered the young ladies the benefit [illegible] wisdom.

The possibility of reviving this club [illegible] was discussed at various times by various people. Early in 1945 Mrs. Leo Langston and Miss Paralee Henson went [illegible]. Mrs. Mattie Henson [illegible] club. The idea was [illegible] interested [illegible]. In February [illegible] held at the home of Mrs. McNeill. A short program was presented and a discussion of the type club to organize.

The Jemison Study Club was organized in February, 1945, with social activities included but not paramount. Mrs. Langston was looking forward to the Federation of the Club even before its actual existence and the Constitution Committee had this in mind when it drew up the Constitution.

In the minutes of the club for February 9, 1945, there is recorded, "Miss Henson gave an opportunity to all to sign roll for charter members. Twenty-five names were listed and five prospective members to be contactd.

At the March meeting, held at the home of Mrs. George Naish. Mrs. Leo Langston was installed as first president of the Jemison Study Club and the traditional candlelighting dedication service was begun. This service was written by Miss Henson, mindful of the object of the club as stated in the constitution . At this meeting it was decided to have a flower color and motto. It was further agreed that the club join the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs.

At the April meeting a committee reported the choice of a motto, "Knowledge Pays the Best Interest." The flower chosen was the "red rose". the colors were red and white and gold. It was announced at this meeting that the club had been received into the Federation.

At the May meeting the Jemison Study Club became the Quest Club. The name was suggested by Mrs. Leo Langston and was inspired by her knowledge of the Quest Club of Athens, Alabama.

The object of the club was twofold; first, the members desired to promote the cultural, intellcetual and social welfare of fellow members and of the community; second, it was hoped the club would increase intelligent interest in cultural opportunities in the community and surrounding communities.

The membership has attempted to accomplish the first objective through its programs and meetings open to the public. It has attempted to accomplish the second objective through the sponsoring of the Community Concert program The "Gay Teens" and through contributors to other projects. The conception and completion of the library project contributed to the welfare of members and, the community.

When the club became federated its aims broadened. Participation in federation projects demanded interest in state, national and international projects.

In retrospect the first accomplishment one might note is that the club has endured and remained active for ten years—in any club crises may arise, membership fluctuates, prophets of doom prophesy—but the Quest Club celebrated its 10th anniversary on May 27th, 1955.

Not only has the club survived, but it has progressed.

The non charter members were recognized and commended for their loyalty, co-operation and talents. Owing to sickness two charter members were absent, Mrs. Leo Langston and Miss Mary Clements; two were away on leave, Mrs. Marion Glass and Mrs. S. L. McNeill; three were present and received badges bearing the club colors. Mrs. C. W. Bethany (Paralee Henson), Mrs. V. O. Lenoir and Mrs. Geo Naish. Three members who joined during the 1st year were Mrs. Walter McNeill, Miss Sybil Langston and Mrs. Marvin Dawson.

Year books were sent to district and state headquarters and federated dues paid and a scrapbook purchased.

Department chairmen presented then objectives to the club and have functioned faithfully and well thruout the year, an increased effort was made to learn of the history and programs of the State and National eFderations.

Congratulatory notes were sent to sons and daughters of club members upon the occasion of their recognition in chosen fields of endeavor.

CONFERENCE KIT

PRESIDENT URGES LOCAL CONFERENCES ON EDUCATION: With the engaging Eisenhower smile of pleasure, the President of the United States is shown accepting a Better Schools Conference Kit from Roy E. Darsen, chairman of the National Citizezns Commission for the Public Schools. The kit is a packet of information on community conferences on education which Mr. Eisenhower urged to be held in every community in the land. Looking on are Neil H. McElroy (far left), chairman of the Eisenhower-apponited Committee for the White House Conference on Education, and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The President said that conferences on education will "make a vital contribution to the welfare of all of our people" and expressed hope that all communities will hold them. "The community, state and White House conferences—taken together—will strengthen," he said, "the continuing interest in education which is the cornerstone of our free society." Mr. McElroy commented that his organization welcomes the aid of the National Citizens Commission and the National School Boards Association which are backing community conferences, greeting these two groups as allies—not rivals—in the common effort. Further information on community conferences is free from Better Schools, 2 West 45th St. New York, N. Y.

Bahia Left Behind In Test On Grasses

API Extension specialists, based on results of the test, now discourage the planting of bahia except on light, sandy soils of extreme South Alabama where better grasses won't grow well.

Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery and Livestockman W. H. Gregory, who agree that bahia is worth little to most Alabama farmers, said this week that coastal bermuda consistently produced more beef per acre when the two were compared in a two-year test at the Wiregrass Sugstation, Comparing beef yields from bahia with those from white clover-dallis grass pastures in other sections, the specialists recommended that farmers who have land that will produce them stick to clover-dallis pastures or to a mixture of clover, dallis, and orchard grass, with coastal bermuda as a supplemental grazing and hay crop.

In addition to its better yield, coastal doesn't make seed and therefore can't become a pest as readily as does bahia.

Be sure your '55 V-8 has all these advances

When it comes to ordering a V-8, it stands to reason you want a proven V-8. And both Ford's 162-h.p. and 182-h.p. Y-block V-8's are just that . . . backed by Ford's 23-year experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined.

Unlike other V-8's on the road, Ford brings you Trigger-Torque power . . . power that can obey four times faster than you can wink! And only Ford has the years-ahead look of the Thunderbird . . . the smoother riding of Angle-Poised Ride . . . the gas savings of the Automatic Power Pilot. Why not come in for your Test Drive today?

Extra-deep, Y-shaped block
Ford's deep-block construction provides a more rigid support for the crankshaft to help the engine run smoother . . . last longer. Only Ford in its field uses this construction.

Short-stroke, low-friction design
With Ford's modern, short-stroke design, pistons travel a shorter distance for a given amount of car travel. This results in less friction, more available power from gas, longer engine life.

Highest torque in the low-price field
Torque is the twisting force that turns the rear wheels of your car. The greater the torque, the faster your engine responds to your commands. And the torque in Ford V-8 engines is the highest in its field.

Automatic Power Pilot

Turbo-Wedge Combustion Chambers
The wedge shape of Ford combustion chambers causes faster, more complete combustion and more efficient conversion of gas into usable power.

Full-Flow Oil Filter
Unlike filters used in other low-priced cars, Ford's oil filter cleans all of the oil in your engine all of the time . . . for greater protection of vital parts.

18mm. Spark Plugs
These totally new plugs, exclusive with Ford in the low-price field, have an extra-wide gap between plug core and shell, which makes them resistant to formation of deposits up to three times longer.

TAKING SISTER TO THE BEACH when she looks like a little doll can change summer baby-sitting from a chore to a treat. Flattering little girl shades of pink and aqua with contrasting trim make her the perfect fashion picture. Swimmable, sunable and washable (because they're cotton) they are made to order for the mistress of a castle in the sand. Big sister wears a print bloomer suit, shirred in the right places to help the tween-ager's figure along. Picnic Time — Frankfurter Time

By Marie Gifford

Summertime is picnic time and what's a picnic without plump, juicy frankfurters?

Served with buns and the "trimmings"—mustard, catsup, horseradish and pickles — and a steaming casserole of baked beans, franks are a perfect choice of picnic food. They're easy to tote, fun to fix and just plain wonderful to eat. Best of all, they eliminate the hours in the kitchen which so often turn a picnic into an ordeal for you.

Whether you're picnicking at the beach or park, in the country or in the back-yard, or in the kitchen because a sudden shower has driven you indoors, here's a sure-fire formula for picnic success. Keep things simple. Arrange franks on one side of a tray, relishes in custard cups or dessert molds on the other. Use pie pans and tin cups for serving, bandanas as napkins and a French vegetable basket or collander of fresh vegetables as a centerpiece.

Frankfurters are a blend of ground beef and pork, lightly seasoned, then smoked in link form over hardwood fires and thoroughly steamed. They're ready to eat when you buy them or may be heated over an open fire or in a pan of boiling water. In the latter case, place the franks in the boiling water, cover and let them stand, off the heat, for 7 to 8 minutes, until heated through. Don't boil the franks or the skins will burst and you'll lose those good meat juices.

In bulk or in the package; franks average 8 to 10 to a pound. The usual allowance is 2 to a serving but remember, picnic appetites are not "usual," so plan accordingly.

Outdoor picnic, indoor picnic — it will be a real success if you star franks with the open-fire flavor!

Queen Of Hearts Tarts For A Coffee Party

The Knave of Hearts would have good reason to steal these delectable tarts. They are Mocha Chiffon Tartlets made easy as can be with Nescafé, dry, right from the jar, and semi-sweet chocolate. Few women realize how easy it is to flavor desserts with coffee these days. No brewing double-strength coffee any more when coffee desserts are desired. You can use instant coffee dry with the other dry ingredients in a recipe.

For that perfect cup of coffee to serve with the Mocha Chiffon Tartlets, make Nescafé in your best server. Keep the cover on for a few minutes before pouring, and you'll find the flavor is even better.

Mocha Chiffon Tartlets

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 6 oz. package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon Nescafé (dry)
3 eggs, separated
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
6-8 baked tart shells

Soften gelatine in cold water. In top of double boiler put semi-sweet chocolate morsels, ¼ cup sugar, salt, milk and Nescafé (dry). Cook over hot water, stirring rapidly. Return to double boiler; cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat; add gelatine; stir until dissolved. Chill until thickened. Beat egg white until stiff; add remaining ¼ cup sugar while continuing to beat. Fold in mocha mixture and whipped cream. Turn into individual tart shells; chill until firm. Garnish with unsweetened whipped cream; sprinkle with mixture of equal parts of granulated sugar and Nescafé (dry). This recipe makes from 6-8 tartlets depending on size of tart shell pans.

Sunday School at 10:00 a.m.
Preaching Hour at 11:00 a.m.
Preaching Night at 8:00 p.m.
B T U at 7:00 p.m.

Our prayer meeting last Wednesday night was well attended, and spiritual feeling was good. In fact it was one of the best we have [illegible] and we think it would be good for the church to use the youth more.

The lot on which the pastor's home will be built has been staked off, and some time in the near future work will begin. We trust our members will be much in prayer for this undertaking, and that all members will take part in this work.

Our Sunday School attendance was 104. Thanks to each and every one attending, making it possible to have this number. Let each member invite at least two so next Sunday will be better than this. There are many people not attending any Sunday School. There are at least fifteen in hearing distance of the church who do not come, so there is plenty room for improvement. We invite the prayers of the Christian members that we may so live and act in a way our Heavenly Father may cause our efforts to be a success in His work.

May God bless the efforts of all the churches and may our churches be a blessing to all the world.

Restocking A Lake Is Very Expensive

If you are one that believes restocking is the panacea to all our fishing ills, then you had better make a quick trip to Auburn and talk it over with the experts.

There is much more to restocking a lake than most of us are even willing to consider. First, it's very expensive. Raising a Bass to twelve inches, costs an estimated $2.00 to $4.00. Only about half of the planted fish can be expected to be caught. This raises the price of the fish caught to $4.00 to $8.00 each. Second, restocking isn't a cure-all. The value depends on how intelligently the job is done. A need for restocking should be definitely determined by a professional fishery worker, not by a sportsman or a forest ranger. A truck load of 5,000 Bass fry represents about half the potential output of one adult female. The distribution should be properly supervised by one trained in fishery biology for a successful planting, or else the planted fish will have less chance for survival than an orange tree in Canada.

Where there is a limited brood stock, such as that on the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes, it has been proven more than adequate to provide all the young fish needed. As you probably know fish are much more prolific than most animals we deal with. A large female lays many more eggs than a small female of the same species. An average estimate would be to say that a Bass lays 10,000, a Bluegill 20,000, a Walleye 50,000 and a big Carp might lay a million. A large percentage of these eggs will hatch under suitable conditions. Then comes the problem of feeding—fish require a very large amount of food, and the deeper you get into this fishy subject, the more complicated it becomes. So, in conclusion, if you are planning a restocking program, leave it to the experts. Restocking can be ineffective and sometimes even harmful.

The Alabama Power Co. Fishing contest judges agree that Sylacauga's young Steve Kirkland won the April monthly prize by boating a 22 ounce Shellcracker from Rock Springs Creek, Lake Lay. G. O. Norred, Dock Operator, did the weighing in. Also, Coper Shaw, Montevallo; won the May award with his 6 pound 4 ounce Smallmouth Bass. Coper's catch was weighed in at Raymond Wyatt's Camp on Walnut Creek, Lake Mitchell.

The month of June is wide open Come on out and join the fun; you may be a winner. Be sure and let your boat dock operator weigh in your catch.

Last week's reports are as follows:

Lake Martin

Wayne Floyd, Kowaliga Beach Resort, near Alexander City, reports: Major John W. Sims, Montgomery, fly-fished Big Kowaliga Creek, and his string of Large mouth Bass weighed up to 4 pounds each. Tommy Ogletree and Cary Hodnett, Alexander City, fished for Bream and caught some nice ones weighing up to 14 ounces each, but the sad part of their story is about the great big Bass that got away. Tommy said that he was about to boat a Bass weighing at least 6 pounds when it broke away along side the boat.

E. V. Estes' Store, near Eclectic, reports: Willy Powell and G. L. Sheafer, Montgomery, picked up a 4 pound Bass and a nice string of Bluegills from Little Kowaliga Creek. Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Ellis. Central, had good luck in the Bass department. They boated 4, weighing 9 pounds, with the largest weighing 4 pounds even.

Lake Jordan

Mrs. J. R. Gibson, Manager of Blackwell's Fishing Lodge, Shoals Creek, near Holtville, reports: William A. Myers, Deatsville, used a fly rod and Hula Popper on Shoals Creek to catch a nice string of Smallmouth Bass weighing up to 3 pounds 8 ounces each.

C. P. Dick, Manager, Bonner's Fishing Camp, near Holtville, reports: Frank Curlee, Prattville, and Frank Whitaker, Wetumpka, each caught the creel limit on Black Bass while fly-fishing on two different days last week. Several nice Stripes and Bluegills were also brought in by these two fishermen. Mary Alice Ledyard, Wetumpka, used a Mepps lure and weighed in a 1 pound 8 ounce Stripe. B. Godwin. Montgomery, boated several Smallmouth Bass weighing up to 3½ pounds each.

Lake Mitchell

Traywick's Landing, Yellow Leaf Creek, near Clanton, reports: Oscar Hays, Birmingham, used river minnows to catch the creel limit on Stripes weighing up to 2 pounds each.

F. L. Barrett's Fishing Camp, Hatchett Creek, reports: Cliff Barrett, Bessemer, brought in a 6 pound Largemouth Bass caught on a Dalton Special from Hatchett Creek Mr. Barrett says that fly-fishing has been mighty good on Hatchett, and that Stripes are schooling in large numbers as willow flies are logging out in huge hatches.

F. Z. Ward's Pennymotley Fishing Camp, reports: J. B. Jones, Birmingham, used a small Lazy Ike and cleaned up the Stripes. Jones' largest catch weighed in at 3 pounds even.

Elmer Hughes' Fishing Camp, Pennymotley Creek, reports: Dr. Glen Barnes and Claude Suttle. Birmingham, caught a string of 12 nice Bass, with three of them weighing 3 pounds each. Carl Wilhite, Sylacauaga, picked off seven Bass while fly-fishing the weed beds. Carl's fish averaged just under 3 pounds each.

If you come out this week and the water looks a little too dingy, just ease up into one of the creeks Your boat dock operator will tell you where there's plenty of clear water.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: Engineers can take the flaws out of motors and boats. . . but they can't take the human error out of it's operation—only you can do that. Avoid sudden stops and quick turns . . . they can cause flooding and capsizing. Use common sense in steering. You're gambling with something far more valuable than you boat, motor, and equipment when you are careless on the water. . you're taking chances with your life.

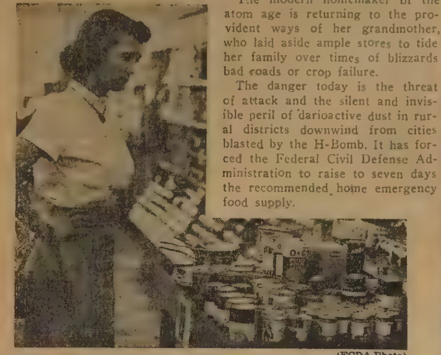
FCDA Asks 7-Day Emergency Pantry



The modern homemaker of the atom age is returning to the provident ways of her grandmother, who laid aside ample stores to tide her family over times of blizzards bad roads or crop failure.

The danger today is the threat of attack and the silent and invisible peril of 'darioactive dust in rural districts downwind from cities blasted by the H-Bomb. It has forced the Federal Civil Defense Administration to raise to seven days the recommended home emergency food supply.

(FCDA Photo)
DOUBLE-CHECKING her seven-day emergency food supply for use by her family of three is Mrs. Henry Lee, of Battle Creek.

Families in the fallout zone might be forced to stay under cover for as much as a week. Life in a shelter or basement could be an isolation almost as complete as that of the lonely pioneer clearing, with no power, contaminated water systems, crippled communications, and radiation danger beyond the doorstep.

To test the "shopability" of its emergency food list, FCDA went along with Mrs. Henry Lee, wife of a railroad switchman in Battle Creek, Mich., when she shopped for a seven-day emergency "pantry' for her family of three.

Mrs. Lee ruled out those items on the list which she knew her husband and 10-month old daughter Deborah Ann wouldn't eat, and marked down quantities based on her weekly shopping experience.

In planning her shopping list she weighed the following suggestions by FDCA dietitians:

1. Ability to keep emergency foods for a long time and in a small space is more important than a balanced diet. While a family would only need to depend on the emergency food for a week. The canned foods should be good for a year's storage at all temperatures above freezing. All other foods should require rotation no oftener than every three months.

2. Small containers, such as No. 2 cans, for all except very large families are preferred so that opened food would be eaten in no more than two meals. High calorie foods are desirable.

3. One gallon of water should be the minimum for each adult or child over two years for the seven-day period. This allotment should be doubled for infants still on formulas or using evaporated milk. Water is preferred to fruit juices because it also can be used for baby formulas and cooking, as well as drinking.

In shopping, Mrs. Lee ruled out pickles, tomato catsup and similar condiments with the exception of sugar, salt and pepper as being space' wasters and unnecessary.

She did buy mayonnaise as a less perishable butter substitute. The mayonnaise and cans of food once opened need the added protection of aluminum foil or adhesive celliphane wrap to prevent spoilage or contamination, she felt. Aluminum foil was finally chosen because it could also serve as an emergency cooking surface.

Mrs. Lee also departed from the FCDA list by buying two small cans each of orange and tomato juice.

The baby's milk problem was solved by planning a can of evaporated milk for each day, plus a reserve can,

Canned cookies and canned crackers were unavailable at her supermarket.

Two other necessaties are not normally available at grocery stores. Ordinary candles can be bought at the dime store. And canned heat or simple camp stoves costing about $10 can be purchased at any sporting goods store.

Methodist Church To Have Youth Week, June 19-24

All of the youth are invited to join in this Youth Program each evening from 7:00 to 7:45 p.m. and to participate in the recreation which will follow the worship service.

What Cooperators Are Doing In Chilton

Joe Higgins, Cooperator of North Central Soil Conservation District, has completed cutting and baling 6 acres of Coastal Bermuda. Joe states, "I got 213 bales of hay weighing 60 pounds or better per bale."

"Sericea makes a good mulch for my orchard", states C. R. Sandlin of Maples Springs. "I mow my sericea twice a year and leave it. This way the mulch helps my peach crop and keeps my soil from washing."

The following farmers—all cooperators of the North Central Soil Conservation District—are planting Coastal Bermuda on the following acreages: Joe Smith, Posey's Crossroads, 5 acres; E. P. Bean, Isabella, 7 acres; A. R. Taylor, Clanton, 12 cres; R. O. Williams, Collins Chapel, 6 acres; W. A. Williams. Baker Community, 40 acres; S. A. Jones. Clanton, 12 acres.

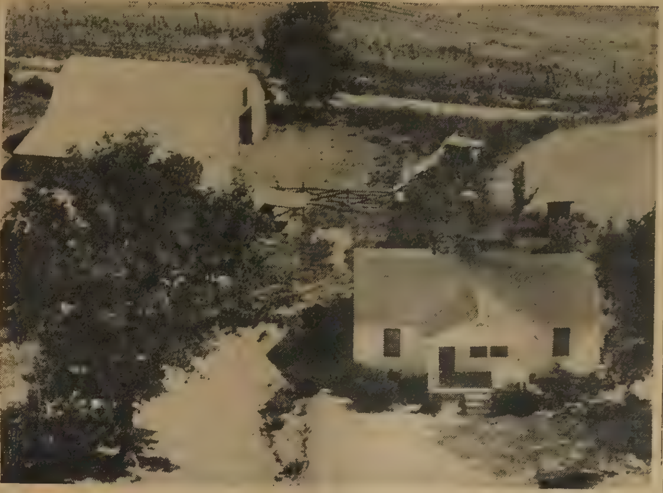
J. W. Bradberry, Cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District, has an excellent stand of Pensacola Bahia Grass on 3 acres of water disposal. This fall new terrace lines will be run to drain to these outlets.

All farmers with grass for hay and grazing could increase the yield by applying nitrogen. The same is true of farmers having Coastal Bermuda, as they could increase coverage by applying nitrogen direct to the plants.

Now is a good time to check the terrace system on your farm. The chances are that the farm that does not have the meadow outlets established is losing a lot of valuable top soil. Start now to get a complete water disposal system on your farm.

SLOW DOWN and Live

Whose Farm Is This?



Well, folks, here it is again. No one guessed last week's "Mystery Farm" so we're giving you another chance at this easy one.

The man who owns the farm came in Monday to claim his free framed photo, but was too late to enter a guess.

We'll give you a big hint—the farm is located 15 miles from the heart of Clanton. You'll have to guess which direction, though.

Come to the News office before four o'clock next Saturday afternoon and tell us who owns the above pictured "Mystery Farm" and be a winner in this easy contest.

Windows Important Kitchen Equipment

Andersen crank-operated casement windows provide ample light and ventilation for this modern kitchen. They swing outward, and so don't interfere with work areas.

The proper use and design of windows is too often overlooked in the home's most important room—the kitchen.

Whether you're planning a new kitchen or remodeling an old one, windows deserve as much thought as any other kitchen feature.

Kitchen windows should provide abundant light for the home's principal work center. They should ventilate quickly, replacing cooking heat and odors with fresh air. Windows should open and close readily so a small person can easily operate them while leaning over a sink or table. And, the operation of kitchen windows should not interfere with work at sink or counter by swinging in over these areas.

Most important kitchen window is over the sink. Trouble here usually is caused by a small, stubborn, double-hung sash that requires a circus strongman to open it at arm's length.

Large, crank-operated casements that open outward are the perfect answer to kitchen lighting and ventilating.

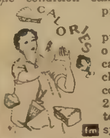
When completely modernizing an old kitchen, it should cost less than ten per cent extra to install the correct windows. In planning a new kitchen, this cost should be less than two per cent of the cost of the kitchen, according to the Andersen Corporation, leading manufacturer of complete wood-window units.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Trouble With Calories

In motherhood, calories can be critical. An overweight expectant mother puts both her own and her unborn baby's life in jeopardy.

Physicians are paying more and more attention to weight control in mothers-to-be, for a sudden and rapid weight increase may herald the condition called toxemia of pregnancy.



Toxemia of pregnancy is one of the major causes of death in childbirth and accounts for some 25 per cent of maternal deaths. Its symptoms include swelling of limbs, high blood pressure and headache.

The exact cause of toxemia has not been determined, but physicians have become more attentive to weight control during pregnancy.

Proper diet is essential in pregnancy, according to Dr. W. C. W. Nixon of the University of London. He recommends that mothers-to-be follow a strict 1,800 calorie daily diet, which is supplemented by a daily glass of orange juice and a vitamin and iron capsule.

Normal diet cannot always provide the pregnant woman with sufficient vitamins and minerals. To reforce her food intake with those elements most needed, the multi-vitamin-mineral supplement Obron is indicated.

For the woman who cannot stick to a strict diet during the critical periods of pregnancy, physicians report AM Plus is effective. A combination of dextro-amphetamine, multi-vitamins and minerals, the drug helps her control her appetite and to compensate for restricted food intake.

Dr. McClain Again On Baptist Hour

Bridling the tongue is an art too difficult for most modern, says Dr. Roy McClain in the Baptist Hour message scheduled for Sunday morning over station WKLF at 7:00 o'clock.

The need to trace rumor to its source is expressed in his talk on the Commandment: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

The duty of an individual when gossip arises against a neighbor or friend is clearly defined, and the need for more words of praise and fewer words of blame is expressed in this Sunday's Baptist Hour message.

Crusade For Christ In Birmingham, 19-26

Howard E. Butt, Jr.

The 115 churches of the Birmingham Baptist Association, Birmingham, Alabama, have completed final plans for the greatest City-wide Crusade for Christ that has ever been held in this city. The Crusade is scheduled to be held June 19-26 ta Rickwood Ball Park. The first service will be Sunday afternoon June 19, at 2::45. Other services are to be held June 20-26 at 7:30 nightly.

Co-chairman of the Crusade, Rev Charles C. Bowles, pastor of the Hunter Street Baptist Church in Birmingham said that "even though this Crusade is being sponsored by Birmingham Baptists, it is open to all denominations."

Heading the list of this laymen led Crusade is Howard E Butt, Jr., who will do the preaching. Butt, a 27 year old, executive vice-president of the 70 HEB Food Stores, is a "business with a message." Howard is a Deacon in the Downtown Baptist Church of Corpus Christi, Texas. He has originated a unique team of Christian laymen, dedicated to the spreading of the Gospel of Christ. Butt has just recently returned from Scotland, where he assisted Billy Graham in the Evangelistic Crusade there

Howard's city-wide crusades have brought national recognition. During an eight-day meeting in Mobile, Alabama, total attendance approached 85,000 and 1,400 decisions were recorded, 485 in one service. In Dallas, Texas, the city-wide crusade was sponsored by 140 churches with crowds up to 18,000 for the closing service. [illegible] averaged [illegible] 10,000 each night in Miami, Florida. Howard has been the [illegible] written up in "Time" Magazine. He is the [illegible] sought after speaker in America today.

He is a God-fearing man who takes time out from his business to come to Birmingham in the Crusade for Christ. He has made it a policy to accept no honorariums or payment for his work. Traveling expenses and other personal costs are refused from sponsoring groups. These expenses are defrayed by the H. E. Butt Foundation.

Since 1946 he has made over 1,650 appearances in 22 states, the District of Columbiana, seven foreign countries, speaking before churches, schools, Civic Clubs, Army camps, on radio and television stations, Student Retreats, United Fund Rallies and other welfare organizations.

Other laymen who will assist Howard in the Crusade are Karl Steele, Artist. Steele presents sermons in blazing color nightly. His message flows forth from pieces of colored chalk. You won't want to miss his berath-taking sermons in art synchronized to musical accompaniment nightly.

Fred Smith, Emcee and Song Leader who takes time out to work for the Lord. He is vice-president of the Gruen Watch Company in charge of operations. In spite of the fees he usually draws for speaking before such large national conventions, he comes to Birmingham to give his service in this Crusade for Christ.

Fague Springman, Singer, is associate professor of voice at the University of Maryland. His singing is dramatic presentation of ageless Christian music. It is concert stage quality rendition of the "Old, Old Story of Jesus and His Love." He walks out on the stage with a geniality that one might expect of a gentleman emerging from a Williamsburg drawing room to greet his dinner guests. Blond and personable, the baritone performs with ingratiating naturalness.

Birmingham Baptist extend an invitation to all to attend the services nightly.

All-Stars Bow To Strong Mars Hill; Beat Dairy Producers

S. Y. Dorminey

The Mars Hill baseball club combined 5 hits with 8 walks and took advantage of 7 All Star errors to [illegible] out the Stars by a score of 9 to 8 in a game played at Mars Hill last Saturday.

Benny Avery of Mars Hill gave up only 5 hits and struck out 7 in pitching himself a fine ballgame. For the Stars, Grant Burnett and Bobby Easterling collected two hits each.

Mars Hill really has a fine ball team and will win a lot of games this season.

The All-Stars displayed a fine defensive game and upset a strong Dairy Producers team from Montg. in Sundays ten inning thriller.

The Producers scored two runs in the third on Hicks single after they had men on second and third. The Stars scored one time when Burnett came home on Grant's single.

The Stars tied the count in the fifth as Edwards batted in Burnett with a single.

The Stars led 4 to 2 in the sixth as Smith and Burnett crossed the plate on Ellison's single. The Producers scored one in the eighth and one more time in the ninth to knot the score at 4 all.

Tom Taylor, the Producers manager strode to the plate with his big first baseman and pointed to the centerfield fence calling on Bailey for a homerun. Mr. Bailey obliged his boss with a circuit clout over the fence in that direction

In the bottom of the tenth with two out and J. P. Easterling on first Roy Burnett tripled to deep right field to plate Easterling and then legged it in home with the winning run on Grant's single to left.

Smith and Grant had two hits and Burnett collected three hits Lawrence also came through with a double and two infield hits.

Our visitors for this week-end will be the Buck Creek team on Saturday and the Selma Flyers with the famous Lefty Lawrence on Sunday.

Our seasons record now stands at ten wins and four losses

Creation Of Man

By Lee A. Popwell

Man was created in the image, likeness, glory, character, and nature of God.

Jesus Christ created man to reproduce his own family: created man to be God: Ye are gods, who said ye are Gods? Jesus Christ said "Is it not written in your law that I said ye are Gods."

The Holy Spirit told the Psalmist that Jesus Christ said, "ye are Gods;" the Psalmist wrote, "ye are Gods."

John wrote, "If He called them Gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken.

The Holy Spirit said He called them gods, Jesus said Himself, He called them gods in the law: Psalms 82:6, John 10:34-35, and the scripture cannot be broken, and we are gods.

For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed Me, for he wrote of me. But if ye believed not his writings, how shall ye believe My words?" John 6:46-47.

The Holy Spirit told Moses, Jesus Christ said, I set before you this day, life. if you keep these commandments, death, if you obey not these commandments of the Lord your God."

These two scriptures in the old testament are examples of the scriptures throughout all the scriptures of your Bible: Jesus Christ speaking, the Holy Spirit inspiring, and the Apostles, the Psalmists, and the Prophets writing: Creation liked two points putting man on the equal with His Creator: one point having the Spirit of God, the other is having eternal life. To possess the Spirit of God, we must repent, obey and keep ourselves.

Then Jesus Christ gives us the anointing of the Holy Spirit, which teaches us all things, makes us know the faith, mind and power of Jesus Christ, makes us able to do all the works that Jesus Christ did while on earth.

The other point that brings us to the level with Jesus Christ is being born into eternal life. This comes by keeping the Commandments, and by the resurrection from the dead.

"To get the Holy Spirit we must obey." Acts 5:32.

To possess eternal life, we must keep the Commandments, and be born into everlasting life. Luke 16:17.

There is but one God. He is the Creator God.

The merciful Saviour God, the Redeemer God, the God that is, that was to come, and did come, and is soon coming again, as King of kings, and Lord of lords, and is coming in all his creative power to redeem His Saints.

Friends listen, I am going to show you something that will be worthwhile to you. You read in Hebrews 13:5, For He hath said I will never leave thee nor forsake thee. Yes He said that. He also said this, If you forsake Him, He will forsake you. II Chronicles 15:2. This is the most important: If thou forsake Him, He will cast thee off forever, I Chronicles 28:9.

Every person that is in transgression, (not keeping his Sabbath Day Holy, which is the seventh day) has forsaken God, and Jesus Christ has cast out further from Him than the east is from the west and cannot call on Jesus Christ for anything but forgiveness of the sin brought on you through transgression. Proverbs 28:9.

You have refused all the light that has come your way, making your prayers abomination in the sight of Jesus Christ. May I ask one question? Would you like for me to come on the air, and make these truths so plain, that a twelve year old child can understand?

I mean you that have been turning a deaf ear to the truth, that my Lord wants you to know. If so drop a line to Lee A. Popwell, Rt. 5, Clanton ,Ala. Thank you.

Notice! To Excellent Swimmers Only

Don't let a drowning fatality spoil your vacation, Alabama's State Health Officer urged today.

Dr. D. G. Gil said that swimming is fine exercise as well as pleasant recreation for those persons who know how to swim well.

"When swimming, it is a good idea to know your limits and stay within them," Dr. Gill said. "Even an expert swimmer should not swim alone, without help at hand, preferably a lifeguard with a knowledge and equipment for resuce."

He pointed out that strong persons, as well as weaker ones are subject to cramps which may handicap their agility in the water, as well as bad guesses regarding their endurance.

The State Health Officer listed these additional rules to remember for safe summer swimming:

1. Avoid sudden plunges into cold water: an individual tires faster in cold water.
2. Do not dive into water of unknown depth: submerged rocks or logs may result in fatal injury.
3. Do not swim when overheated, and wait at least one or two hours after eating.
4. Never engage in horseplay and pranks: such practices cause many water accidents each year.

It'll soon be lay-by time for most summer crops. Don't forget to properly store your cultivating equipment when you have finished using it.

HEARING LOSS

Many people have trouble with their ears and hearing but for some reason or other do nothing about it. Since hearing loss usually develops very gradually without pain, with no running of the ears in most instances, a person finds it hard to believe that his ears are going bad and is inclined to blame the change in hearing on something or someone else.

Hearing loss stems from many causes. It also appears in many forms, any one of which may result from infections, disease or injury, individually or collectively. Many types of hearing loss can be remedied by medication. Others require surgical attention.

Some persons may not benefit by any medical or surgical procedure, but instead they may be helped with other procedures which might include the use of a hearing aid. The proper decision as to which kind of treatment is to be utilized depends solely on an accurate and positive diagnosis.

Many people think they can be aided by vitamins, operations on the nose or tonsils or ear; but this is not usually the case. People should not be misled by wild-eyed advertising or high pressure salesmanship.

It must be remembered that a hearing aid does not restore normal hearing. Rather it helps the person to hear in the same way that an artificial leg helps a person to walk, but, at the same time, does not restore normal walking A person should not "shop" for a hearing aid. The process of getting a hearing aid should not be seperated from the process of diagnosis and treatment. It should be considered part of good treatment of certain kinds of hearing loss. Hearing loss should not be hidden. It should be discovered and treated. For every person some improvement is possible, if only to allay his fears and if only to learn how to make the best use of the hearing he has left.

Sheepmen Guard Against Scrapie

Auburn, Ala.—Five Alabama sheep producers have been warned that rams in their flocks may have been exposed to "scrapie", a highly infectious neurosis of sheep. These flocks are under observation by state and federal authorities so that any possible outbreak of the disease may be detected and isolated.

Revealing this information in Auburn today, API Extension Livestockman W. H. Gregory said that the suspected rams were brought into Alabama recently from a flock which subseqently developed symtoms of scrapie. This hard-to-spot an dusually fatal malady has never been diagnosed in this state.

Gregory emphasized that the five rams had clean bills of health when they were admitted for sale. However, the specialist cautioned that sheep growers must take greater precautions in the future to make sure that animals brought into Alabama are from flocks that have no scrapie history.

Scrapie—so named because of the characteristic early symptom of itching and rubbing which scrapes the wool from infected animals' backs—usually in marked nervousness, gradual loss of condition, and finally death. There is no known treatment for scrapie, and the only present method of control is destruction of infected and exposed animals. The federal government will pay indemnities for flocks in which this disease is detected, Gregory explained.

The livestockman said scrapie is especially hard to spot because its incubation period is sometimes as three years. Sheepmen who have any suspicion of scrapie in their flocks should contact county veterinarians or farm agents to notify the state veterinarian's office, which handles livestock disease control.

Send Good Samples For Seed Analyses

Auburn,—Commercial seed producers are responsible for the analyses tagged to their seed. Therefore, it's up to growers to see that samples from which the analyses are made are representative so that true analysis reports can be given. Seed samples should be taken from uniform lots in the following ways:

Samples from bulk seed should come from every part of the bin—top, bottom, mid-portion, and all sides. If it's bagged seed you're sampling, get a part from each bag where their are five or less or a sample from every fifth bag if there are more than five bags. The parts should be well mixed, and then the correct size sample weighed out.

Two pound samples are required for oats, peas, corn, cotton, and other seed of that size. Such seed as sorghum call for one-pound samples, and one-half pound should be sent for seed the size of crimson clover, sericea, dallis grass, and ryegrass. It takes four ounces for seed the size of white clover, whereas the small-seeded grasses such as bermuda and carpet grass require only two ounce.

Send the samples to privately owned or to state-operated seed labs with an attached letter telling what kind of analysis is wanted, the kind and variety of the seed, and the owner's name and address.

It takes one to four weeks to get complete analysis reports, so samples should be sent off as soon as possible after the seeds are processed.

Marines Do Away With Waiting List

Temporarily discontinuing a policy that has been in effect for the past few months, the U. S. Marines are now accepting men for immediate enlistment, thus doing away with the waiting list.

This announcement came from Master Sgt. John T. Collier of Marine recruiting for this area.

"We have just received instructions from Marine Corps Headquarters, Washington, D. C., which lifted the restrictions concerning the number of men we may enlist during certain periods of the month."

"It means simply that any qualified young man who wants to enlist and go on duty immediately may do so without having to wait as was the previous policy."

Young men who enlist are sent immediately to the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. for ten weeks of basic training.

Upon graduating from recruit training they may be assigned to any one of the many technical schools the aviation branch of the Marine Corps, a tour of duty aboard one of the large ships of the Navy, or a large Marine base for further training.

Interested young men are urged to contact Sgt. Collier at the post office building in Clanton each second and fourth Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Close supervision of harvesting labor will pay off in most cases. Truck crops should be gathered at the right time and handled with care.

162 H.P. V8

180 H.P. V8

See that fine fat mountain yonder?

You can iron it out, flat as a flounder . . . and easy as whistling!

Mister, you got you a flat mountain!

. . . At least it feels flat. For these Chevrolet V8's gobble up the toughest grades you can ladle out. And holler for more. They love to climb, because that's just about the only time the throttle ever comes near the floorboard.

And that's a pity. For here are engines that sing as sweetly as a dynamo . . . built to pour out a torrent of pure, vibrationless power. Big-bore V8's with the shortest stroke in the industry, designed to gulp huge breaths of fresh air and transmute it into blazing acceleration.

So most of the time they loaf. Even at the speed limit they just dream along, light and easy as a zephyr, purring out an effortless fraction of their strength.

An engineer instantly understands why these V8's are so hyper-efficient . . . how friction is held so low they need just four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more . . . how big valves let them "breathe" deeply for maximum power.

But you don't have to be an engineer to know that these are the sweetest running V8's you ever piloted. Just come in, slip behind the wheel, and point the nose at the nearest hill. These V8's can do their own talking . . . and, nobody argues with them!

*Optional at extra cost.

CITY PARK CONVENIENCES—

In last week's "News" and in this week's issue you will find a sample schedule of what goes on at the Clanton City Park during the week.

In the three or four years the park has been in real operation, it has done unbelievably well in the way of developing what it had with the finances it was given.

Since V. L. Bulger has taken over, it has progressed even more and now it is equipped and prepared for your convenience from picnic table to tennis court.

They have added much new equipment, which they hope to kee pin good condition for quite a spell, have begun lessons in practically every recreation that is available at this time and have programs outlined for your enjoyment and convenience throughout the summer.

It is your park, you patronize it, and it will grow to be one of Clanton and Chilton County's most prized possessions. It's equipped now, so that anyone enjoying sports at all will find something to interest him and make him want to come again.

You are invited to visit your park whenever possible and are urged to use its facilities to your utmost enjoyment. That's the end toward which Mr. Bulger and his crew are working and also one we hope to see accomplished.

SERIOUS BUSINESS—

With reference to an article published this week in the "News" distributed by the Federal Defense Administration. There is cause enough for each of us to read, and absorb such suggestions and advice as is offered in this feature.

Too many of us take our Atomic Age too lightly while, on the other hand, others of us go to extremes in the other direction. It is extremely important that we take any advice given on the matter very seriously, and, it would also be intelligent on your part, not to make fun of anyone doing "extreme" looking things in the way of safeguarding himself and his family. Wouldn't you go to extremes to protect your family? Yes, all manner of extremes.

We all feel that atomic warfare is too devastating to be used, but we also thought Pearl Harbor was there to stay. This is not a warmonger article to scare you out of your senses. It's a mere suggestion to make you use your senses to your best advantage. Anything you do to protect your home or family is just insurance and, should the time ever come to fall back on it, it will be well worth the price, even the ridicule of your neighbors.

We've always been the "better safe than sorry type" and good or bad, we certainly wish we could afford to build us a shelter of some kind. We would likely envy rather than ridicule our neighbor for such a thing.

GIVE A LISTEN, FOLKS—

Soon, June 30 as a matter of fact, the nationally famous group of singers known as the Blackwood Brothers will appear at the Clanton Airport in a Memorial Singing Concert. Hovie Lister and the Statesmen Quartet will also be there to add to the program.

The program is being sponsored by the Clanton Lions Club and the time of the program is 8 p.m. The public is invited to hear two of the top Gospel Quartets in the nation and certainly the best in his neck of the woods. Plan to attend this concert of gospel favorites.

Boat Races At Guntersville, July 24

Beautiful Guntersville Lake in northeast Alabama will again be the scene of the spectacular Boat Races on July 24th. The [illegible] of Guntersville with its enormous and picturesque lake has been the setting for water festivities for many years and have been witnessed by thousands of enthusiastic spectators.

The week-end of July 24th will include the Annual Boat Race Dance and beauty pageant at which time "Miss Guntersville Lake of 1955" will be crowned. The featured attraction of course, will be the national championship boat races in the 2[illegible] and 135 cubic inch classes. These two classes are the fastest and most popular limited inboard hydros in the nation. The big 266 classes are capable of speeds in excess of 120 m.p.h., and the fastest boats in the United States and Canada will be attracted here.

An additional attraction to the races this year will be the Governor's Cup Trophy Race," a ten-mile free-for-all consisting of all the fastest boats. The winner of this classic event will be presented a beautiful perpetual trophy by Alabama's governor, James E. Folsom.

The Boat Races this year are again sponsored by the Guntersville Junior Chamber of Commerce who anticipate the "Biggest Show" in the history of Alabama boat racing.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

House members gave their approval last week to a bill which amends the REA Act of 1936 to provide for certain changes in the administration's loan formula. The measure has already received Senate approval.

The Rural Electrification Administration Act of 1936 stipulated that one-half of all funds appropriated by Congress for REA loans must be allocated to each state in proportion to the number of farms without electricity, with no state being allowed more than 10% of the total funds. This provision assured all states equal treatment and provided substantial loan funds for those areas having only a small number of farms with electricity.

At the time the REA Act became law, only 10% of our nation's farms had electricity. Today approximately 88% of the farms in Alabama and 92.3% of the farms throughout the country are supplied with electric power. As a result, the REA now winds it is called upon more often to increase the size of powerlines than to extend power to additional areas.

To enable the REA to meet these changing conditions, the bill passed last week provides that only 25% (instead of one-half) of the loan funds must be allocated to the states on the basis of the number of farms without electricity. The remaining 75% is allocated to the REA Administrator to use where studies indicate it is needed most. Any part of the funds earmarked for new consumers that is not used during the first six months of a fiscal year will be merged into the general loan fund. The bill also increases the limit for any one state from 10% of the total funds to 25%. In addition, it retains a previous vlause which calls for a yearly survey of farms without electricity.

It is believed that the new loan formula provided for in this legislation will enable the REA to use more funds for constructing heavier generation, transmission, and distribution facilities to meet the constantly rising loads in sections where present power supplies are insufficient.

-Smithsonian Institution-

If you have ever been to Washington, you have probably visited the Smithsonian Institution, the government's principal repository for objects of historic and scientific value. Known throughout the world for its art galleries and museums, the Smithsonian Institution has over five million visitors annually.

Because of its importance, the Institution has increased its priceless collections so rapidly that some of the present buildings are now inadequate. In order to provide more space, the House passed a measure last week that authorizes funds not to exceed $36 million for planning and building a National Museum of History and Technology. This new structure will be located near the other Smithsonian buildings and will contain adequate space for exhibits, reference collections, laboratories and workrooms.

Although the bill authorizes funds for the new museum, an actual appropriation must be made by Congress before construction can begin. It is doubtful that such an appropriation will be made this year, but the first step has been taken toward providing a much-needed additional building for the famous Smithsonian Institution.

-Postal Pay Raise-

After having its recent postal pay raise bill vetoed by the President, the Houes passed another measure last week providing an average 8% salary increase for potsal employees. The bill also provides a new method of classifying postal workers for salary purposes.

Under the bill, all postal employees will receive a minimum increase of 6% on their basic salaries, retoactive to March 1, 1955. This legislation affects over 500,000 postal employees.

-Clanton Visitor-

It was a pleasure to see Lt. Benjamin D. Roberts of Clanton during his visit to Washington last Thursday. Lt. Roberts graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., on June 7.

IT'S MY OPINION

A man told me once, "Whatever you do, take advantage of your opportunities." I've remembered that, though I've forgotten hundreds of things just like it, throughout quite a number of years. For some reason it has stuck with me.

The other day we read something about the recently graduating seniors of the country and wondered if anyone had ever given them that bit of advice before turning them loose into the world of life and business.

Of all the people we know, successes and failures, they are what they are because they either took advantage of their opportunities or let them pass until it was too late for them to grasp for one.

If all you young folks who graduated this year, in our county alone, will take hold of the opportunities that confront them today, just that handful can have a decisive effect on the country and the world.

If our teachers failed in the methods and means of teaching then we did not contribute a thing to the growth and development of our America this year. But, if the teachers and the parents exposed their children to the possibilities of their opportunities then we can be satisfied that our contribution to our country was great and that, in years to come, the children of these and others like them, will continue to carry on in the way in which we taught the students of today.

We can be assured by a good crop this year that future growth will be affected greatly by these teachings and that our country will not lag in its progressive efforts toward future development and good meaning.

We likely can be proud of this year's graduates and if they will apply themselves with honesty and sincerity always in mind, and will keep also in mind "to take advantage of their opportunities" they will be successful in the world and leave a mark that will last, and act as a guiding influence for future generations.

Things we -SEE- and Hear

by "Tuck"

Noticed they were selling them Chevrolets like hot-cakes last Sat. Don't know whether they sold any like trucks or not. . . They had some right nice looking vehicles down there that were bargained priced so we heard. (We didn't get close enough to get a bargain, we can't even pay for the "bargain" we got.) Anyhow they didn't go all the way on their "Big 30 Sale", but we can saye for sure that they sold more than usual.

One of the young nephews, (by the good old name of Robert) (he also says "jep" and "jes" when he's agreein' with you). He said an ant got on him the other day and stung his leg. Asked him what kind of an ant was it and he says "a stinkin' ant". He's either murderin' the English language or he could be right I guess. . . I never smelled one of the critters.

Ole Paul Connell (associated with the CCN) says his brother tore up his old man's car the other night. We don't hold that against him, in fact we've torn up one or two ourselves, but not giving flying lessons to our girl. Him being in the air force and all I figured he was teaching his girl to fly. They said he landed "turtle side up" in a "crick". Sounds a little like he needs some lessons hisself on how to fly a Ford. (Them Ford's just won't take off like they used to.)

Dave Tingle says "Boy, those dogs are smart." He's talking about the neighborhood mongrels. you know. He says now they've acquired an appetite for his sweet milk and have started waiting on the milkman at his front door. He says they knaw the tops off the cartons and have a jolly good drinking spree. 'Bout the only suggestions we have along those lines are to either get the milkman to bring bottles, which is impracticle, or to get up earlier, which is outrageous.

They've evicted ole Amon sure as the world. Saw him riding down the street the other afternon all sprawled out on the back of one of his trucks. Didn't get a statement, but it could have been worse, Mr. Jones, she at least threw the couch out with you so you'd have somewhere to go.

And say, our good friend William Wilkins came in to see us the other day, too. He's kin to us on both sides of the family (sort of an I'm my own grandpa' affair), but we see him once in a blue moon or two and can truthfully call him our good friend. Anyhow, he's working over at Central Alabama Gas Co. now, and liking it right well. Just to prove we don't get to see him very often, he informed us that he'd been with them about eight months now. Even though we're a wee might late, we hope he'll kinda' keep in touch with us from now on and not wait another eight months to visit us.

Say Dave Tingle, we have your canine problem solved. Fill a carton with "booze" and put it in their way. They'll have such a hangover that they'll probably go over to nip at Ed Waldrop's or one of the Langston boys for a while. You might not could run 'em away with a stick after such a procedure, but at least you won't have to feed them your milk. (Who wants a bunch of four-legged sots running around the yard, though. As a matter of fact, who wants a bunch of two-legged sots running around the yard.

Anway Dave if you have any trouble breaking them of the habit just call the CAA (Canine Alcoholic Anonymous) they need the business.

Bahia Left Behind In Test On Grasses

API Extension specialists, based on results of the test, now discourage the planting of bahia except on light, sandy soils of extreme South Alabama where better grasses won't grow well.

Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery and Livestockman W. H. Gregory, who agree that bahia is worth little to most Alabama farmers, said this week that coastal bermuda consistently, produced more beef per acre when the two were compared in a two-year test at the Wiregrass Sugstation. Comparing beef yields from bahia with those from white clover-dallis grass pastures in other sections, the specialists recommended that farmers who have land that will produce them stick to clover-dallis pastures or to a mixture of clover, dallis, and orchard grass, with coastal bermuda as a supplemental grazing and hay crop.

In addition to its better yield, coastal doesn't make seed and therefore can't become a pest as readily as does bahia.

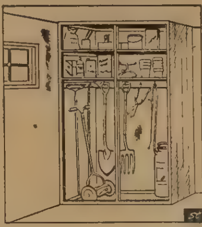
Here's How You Can Do It Yourself



Storage Space For Garden Tools

Shelves set against the walls in a corner of the garage will put otherwise wasted space to practical use for the storage of garden tools and supplies.

Most dealers carry 3/4-inch pine shelving in standard lengths and widths that will require you to do little sawing. The box-form framework can rest on the floor. The walls will take the place of a backboard and one side of your "box."

You can save money by buying No. 2 or 3 grade lumber and upgrading it yourself. If the surface is a bit rough, sand or plane it smooth. Fill cracks and gouges with Plastic Wood, building it up slightly higher than the board surface. Sand flush and smooth when hard.

If there are any loose knots, push them out. Then coat the sides with household cement and replace. If necessary, fill in around the knots with Plastic Wood after the cement has hardened. A primer coat of aluminum paint will prevent resin or sap from working through. Finish with one or two coats of any good indoors paint

KILLERS OF CHILDREN

Diphtheria. . . mastoiditis. . . scarlet fever. . . pneumonia! These were some of the big diseases—the big killers of children—a quarter-century ago. But today, we rarely hear of anyone dying from one of these diseases. The explanation? These diseases have been conquered by new drugs—drugs that were unknown 25 years ago—but are now found in every drug store.

VETERAN'S CORNER

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. If a veteran fails to apply for Korean GI term insurance until the last day o fhis 120-day free coverage, and that final day is a Saturday, does he lose out on his chance to get insurance?

A. Not necessarily. If the final day falls on Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday, the 120-day period will be extended to cover the next VA workday. With the final day on Saturday, the veteran could obtain his GI term insurance the following Monday.

Q. May a veteran taking Korean GI Bill trainin galso receive GI unemployment allowances at the same time since he isn't working?

A. No. The law prohibits veterans from receiving GI training allowances and GI unemployment allowances at the same time.

Q. I am World War II veteran in school under the original GI Bill. At the wind-up of the program on July 25, 1956, I figure that Istill will have some unused GI training entitlement. Will I be able to use my entitlement after that date?

A. No. Even though you may have unused entitlement your GI Bill training must stop on July 25, 1956 GI training beyond that date will not be permitted, under the law, except in certain rare instances.

Q. I have just entered the armed forces for the first time. Will I be eligible for a GI loan after I am discharged?

A. No. Under the law, servicemen who enter the armed forces for the first time after January 31, 1955, may not be entitled to the GI loan benefit after they leave service.

Welfare Funds Are Hiked This Year

Montgomery, Ala.—Revenue from the new taxes levied by the second special session of the Legislature have made it possible to increase the 1954-55 operating budget of the Department of Public Welfare by approximately $6 million, Commissioner J. S. Snoddy told members of the State Board of Public Welfare in session at the Governor's office last week.

The original 1954-55 welfare budget approved by the State Board last Fall totaled a little over $38 million. whereas the current figure totals $43,855,834.58. This includes $31,394,991.64 in Federal funds and $12,460,842.94 in State funds. The total shows actual expenditures for the first six months of the current fiscal year and estimates for the last six months.

The Commissioner reviewed with the Board the new liberal policies governing old age assistance. He otulined developments in the program since he took office. The Commissioner's report emphasized the share increase in applications, especially for old-age checks, since April.

"During April county departments received over 2,500 old age applications and about 2,000 for other types of aid," Snoddy told the Board. "Applications were approved for more than 1,400 old people in April. A partial May report shows over 2,500 more were approved for old-age checks last month, as well as a considerable number in other categories."

Dr. Snoddy then pointed out that the extent of the increase will not be apparent even when May data is complete. He reminded the Board that the repeal of the Relative Responsibility Law and the major policy changes did not take effect until May 1st.

The Board considered the problems that might be presented if applications continued to increase at a higher rate than called for in the budget. It was pointed out that the Federal government requires the Department to add each eligible person to the payroll promptly as a regulation for getting Federal funds. This has [illegible] reducing individual payments.

Other matters coming before the Board were the problems of limited staffs in the counties, making it difficult to clear applicated promptly. The Commissioner said the State Department has carried forward a strict plan for keeping down administrative costs but present staffs cannot handle the rise in caseload effectively.

Pending legislation that would affect the Department of Public Welfare was discussed as well as the work of the second special session called in behalf of the old age program.

Members of the State Board, in addition to Governor Folsom, who is chairman, are: Senator Oliver Young, Vernon; Dr. J. J. Walls, Alexander City; Mrs. John S. Tillev, Montgomery; Bryant Whitmore, Birmingham; Senator Tom Blake Howle, Oxford; and Mrs. Mildred White Wallace, Columbiana.

Transoceanic Cable Laying Starts Jun. 22

Laying of the world's first transoceanic cable—to span the Atlantic between Newfoundland and Scotland— is to begin June 22, it was announced here today by Parks Scott, local manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company.

The transatlantic voiceways are to be extended 300 miles westward from Newfoundland to the eastern tip of Novia Scotia via another submarine cable, and from there to the United States over a 575-mile radio relay system.

The project is a joint undertaking of American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the British Post Office and Canadian Overseas Tele - communication Corporation and will cost about $40,000,000. Service will be established late in 1956.

The local Southern Bell manager quoted Henry T. Killingsworth, vice-president of A. T. & T. in charge of the Long Lines Department, as saying the first cable of a twin cable system would be spun out across 2,000 miles of ocean bottom by summer's end. Summer is the only time the Atlantic is calm enough to permit such an undertaking. Laying operations will start at Clarenceville, Newfoundland, and be completed at Oban, which is on the west coast of Scotland about 60 miles from Glasgow. The second cable is to be laid from Scotland to Newfoundland in the summer of 1956.

The new cable system will greatly improve the telephone service between the United States and Great Britain. This service was inaugurated in 1927 and is handled entirely by radiotelephone.

The transatlantic cables and the Newfoundland-Nova Scotia cable will be laid by HMTS Monarch. The ship is now loading the first segment of deep-sea cable at the Simplex Wire and Cable Company plant at Newington, N. H.

A radio relay route, connecting with the cable, will pass within sight of the grave and former home of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone. Bell was among the first to believe that this continent could be connected to Europe by voice cable.

Telephone scientists have spent many years developing the amplifiers needed to make a deep-sea voice cable operable. Unique in quality, design, and structure, these amplifiers give weakened voice currents new strength as they speed along their 2,000 mile underwater journey.

Each of the transatlantic cables will be equipped to transmit speech in one direction. Thus voices from New York will travel eastward over one cable and voices from London will be carried westward over the second cable. The system will be able to carry 36 conversations at the same time ,almost tripling the present radiotelephone capacity between the U. S. and Great Britain.

Higher Priced Tractor Fuel

Tractor fuel costs you a whole lot more if you allow part of it to evaporate. You may not see the gas going off into the air .but high evaporation is probably occurring if your storage tanks are not protected from the sun. Fuel loss can be as much as 10% of the total gasoline stored.

What's more high evaporation may cause damage to engines by leaving a high gum content in the fuel ,which often is responsible for sticky valves.

FOR FINE FLOOR FINISHES

Warm, dry weather is just right for finishing floors, so choose your favorite kind of finish and apply it over a clean, wax-free surface.

Cattle Disease Funds Recommended

Montgomery—Representatives of Alabama's important beef, dairy, swine and poultry industries recommended today that the legislature appropriate $525,000 for each of the next two years for an all-out fight on cattle and hog diseases, 1 of which also is a public health problem.

The action was announced by J. Frank Baker, Montevallo, chairman of the Alabama Committee on Livestick Diseases, who said funds were necessary to carry on the campaign being waged through the cooperative efforts of farmers and the state and federal agricultural agencies and the state health department.

Of the total, the group requested $250,000 annually for the anti-Bang's disease program and $175,000 to fight Bang's, cholera and other diseases of hogs. Baker pointed out that the state health department, in cooperation with the state and USDA veterinarians, had launched a five-year program to free all Alabama dairy herds of Bang's disease.

The cattle malady is spread to humans in the form of undulant fever; through the consumption of milk from infected cows or through working with such animals. It causes abortion in cattle and hogs, thus resulting in millions of dollars in losses annually, he added.

For several years the federal government has indemnified cattle owners for a portion of the value of animals destroyed in the Bang's control and eradication drive. At an average of about $25 per cow, this amounted to approximately $65,000 during the first three months of this year. Beginning July 1, the state must pay half the cost to participate in the federal program, he explained.

More than 20 leaders in the livestock and poultry industries. along with state and federal health and livestock sanitation officials, attended the meeting here.

Deep Sea Rodeo Drawing Closer

Mobile, Ala.—An expected record crowd of fishermen will vie this year for the biggest bonanza in prizes in the history of the Alabama Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo.

Anglers from coast to coast have already registered for the fishing fun, scheduled for July 29-31 off Dauphin Island. This will be the first year fishermen have been able to use the Dauphin Island Bridge, now being constructed to connect the island with the mainland of Mobile County.

Rodeo Prize Chairman Ed Zimlich said there seems little doubt the Rodeo will reach its goal of $10,000 worth of prizes this year.

Zimlich pointed out this will also be the first year that permanent trophies have been awarded for prize catches of game fish such as ling, tarpon, sailfish, cavalla, etc.

Jack Edwards, chairman of the Rodeo boat committee, has urged skippers all along the Gulf Coast to register their party and pleasure craft for the Rodeo. He said requests for boats during the Rodeo now far exceed the number of craft registered with the Mobile Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the annual sporting event.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Let us correct a grave error in our editorial columns last week when we stated that the Memorial Singing at the Clanton Airport was being sponsored by the Clanton Lions Club. The singing is being sponsored by the Chilton County Lions Clubs—T-J Lions Club, Maplesville and Clanton. The writer thoughtlessly put it Clanton Lions instead of Chilton County Lions and takes full responsibility for the error. Sorry.

Dick Scott gave us the nicest map showing the recreation areas of Jordan, Lay, Martin and Mitchell Lakes. It was prepared and published by the Alabama Power Company of course. We're not much of a fisherman but just in case we do decide to get away from it all we will know exactly where to go.

Dubb Huddleston will be missed. Not only by his family and loved ones but by thousands of his friends throughout Alabama. As to the whys and wherefores of his act none will ever know, but we do know that he was always friendly and human and likeable. Our sincere wish is that the Huddlestons (whom we all love), will take heart and strength from the many friends who were ever present during their trouble and find comfort in the knowledge that they are not alone in their grief.

For many years a mining company out West employed a Chinese cook, and one evening after an unusually good dinner the superintendent decided to raise his wages. The next pay day the Chinese noted the extra money in his envelope.

"Why you pay me more?" he asked the superintendent.

"Because you have been such a good cook all these years," replied his boss.

The Chinese thought it over, then said, "You been cheating me long time, eh?"

Kinda late getting around to wishing our very good friend Marvin K. Vickers back for another year at the First Methodist Church. This will be his fourth year at the church and he has made wonderful progress there. We would say that his progress has been made where it counts most too—and that is in the attitude of the membership and the spirit with which they undertake a worthwhile project. We know his return here was a blessing to Clanton and Chilton County and we're also sure that he will reap rich rewards from his service here.

And speaking of preachers: J. Gilbert Hutchinson finished his sixth year here this week. The Hutchinsons are leaving next Monday for London, England, Ireland and other points on the continent. The Baptist Church of Clanton has grown remarkably under the leadership of Dr. Hutchinson and we're sure he has deserved a long vacation abroad.

Guess you heard about the fellow who was complaining to his dentist about paying five dollars to have a tooth pulled. "It only takes about a minute and five dollars is too much for a minutes work." "Aw sit down", said the dentist, "and I'll pull it real slow."

Mrs. James A. Payton called this week to ask us to call attention to the ad run recently in the local papers by a James Payton regarding his refusal to pay anyone's debts but his own. Mrs. Payton say that is Jame L. Payton and NOT James A. Payton the Chief Deputy Sheriff of Chilton County. We are glad to enlighten the readers and hope the similarity of the names hasn't caused her too much embarrassment.

Mrs. W. F. Haywood brought a picture of her son Michael, who is in the Navy and stationed at Treasure Island, in for us to see this week. Michael was laying on his bunk reading. And of course you know what he was reading, the Chilton County News. Mrs. Haywood said he sent many pictures of navy life to she and Mr. Haywood.

Turkeys Grow Better With Early Care

Auburn—Poults that Alabama farmers are starting now for holiday markets will need extra attention while they are young.

Frequently growers must coax the young birds to eat by placing a little chick scratch grain on top of their mash and by putting their feed in well-lighted feeders. It is important to see that the poults eat and drink properly and to follow several other practices in starting turkeys.

Each poult needs at least a square foot of floor space in the brooder house, and the birds should be kept in the house and sun porches until they are 8 or 10 weeks old. Then they may be moved to a range.

Turkey range requires a green growing crop, with one and one-half acres for each 100 birds. The turkeys neel a cover until they are fully feathered; then only roost and shade will be necessary. White clover, soybeans, corn, and green sorghum are excellent grazing crops for turkeys. Corn or sunflowers will afford good shade.

Home-grown grains can make up the greater part of the ration while turkeys are on range provided a good concentrate mash or supplement is used.

Length of thawing time does not affect the juiciness or flavor of frozen meats.

All-Stars Defeat Kilby Team 7 to 5

The Chilton County All-Stars did not get to play their game last Saturday with Buck Creek as the Creekers failed to show up and did not send any word as to the reason for their absence. The game was forfeited to the Stars.

Playing before the largest crowd of the season the Stars defeated Kilby Prison the first of Sundays double-header 7 to 5. Grant and Smith teamed up on the mound for the Stars and held Kilby to 7 hits. One of these was a homerun by Rogers over the centerfield fence. Leading the hitting parade for the Stars with two hits each were James Paul Easterling, Lawrence, Smith, Grant, and Ellison. Smith was the winning pitcher.

In the second game of the day Selma's Lefty Lawrence south-pawed his way to a no hit no run game over the Stars striking out 7 and walking 4. Harris, the hard-hitting Flyers catcher had one of those rare tennis court homers. Local baseball fans will understand just what this is. Bobby Carl Wyatt pitched brilliant ball for the Stars and it was his first defeat of the year.

The All-Stars wish to thank everyone for their attendance and with a boost like that we are determined to improve our game and to keep bringing good teams to Clanton for the finest in baseball entertainment.

Next Sunday our visitors will be the National Guard team from Selma. We are trying to arrange a good game for Friday night. If scheduled we will advertise it as soon as possible.

Our seasons record now stands at twelve wins and five losses.

Pond Owners Should Take Precautions

Farmers who treat their money-making fish ponds as playthings rather than businesses may find themselves haled into court for their carelessness. It is considered highly important that pond owners take steps to keep themselves free of liable for injury to perons buying fishing permits.

Best thing to do is see that injury in and around the pond is unlikely. Be sure that grounds are kept clean and as free as possible from brush and other growth. Keep all boats in good condition. And don't allow the drinking of alcoholic beverages on the premises.

Every pond owner who sells fishing rights should display a prominent sign saying "Not Responsible in case of accidents".

Land Banks To Improve Under New System

After extensive studies by the Farm Credit Administration on the long-range outlook for agriculture and the economy as a whole, coupled with demonstrated trends, it was concluded that there is ample justification for making some increase in the level of values used by the Federal Land Banks in the appraisal of farms for loans.

The net result of this change, in the 5th Farm Credit District, is that the appraised values on the better type farms were increased, effective Decembr 1, 1954, approximatly 36 per cent from the levels in use during the 3½ years prior to that date. This action does not change the normal value concept as a basis of appraisal, regarded as a feature of the land bank system, nor does it change the definition of "normal value." It simply means that the base period regarded as normal was moved from 1943 to about Mar. of 1946, says W. W. Fussell, vice-president and treasurer of the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans.

The effect of this and other interim changes in the law and in appraisal practices can best be illustrated in the following comparison. For example, a good farm appraised and valued at $10,000 prior to July 1, 1945—when the land bank was using a level of values existing in the 1936-39 period, and when the loan had to be limited to 50 per cent of the seperate appraised value of the land and 20 per cent of the value of insurable buildings—a loan on this farm would have been $4,600.

A change in the law, effective July 1, 1945, on the same $10,000 valuation enabled the land bank to make a $6.500 loan. In 1951, the level of farm values that existed in 1942-44 was adopted as representing "normal", which resulted in an increase approximating 25 per cent, of $12,500 on that farm, giving a loanable of about $8.000. Now, under the latest revision, this farm is given an appraised value of $17,000, based on the 36 per cent increase, to equal the value that the farm sold for in March 1946, [illegible] the farmer-owned national farm loan associations to now make a land bank loan of $1[illegible] in round figures.

The appraised values used by the federal land banks may still seem to be on the conservative side in the views of some people, but the farm owner who uses this cooperative mortgage credit system can feel a degree of safety and security in his farm financing. Although the revised appraisal approach has been in effect for only a few months, an increased number of farmers are finding it most helpful.

[illegible] proposed amendments to the law are pending in the present Congress which, if enacted, will further improve and broaden the credit service of the land banks.

Persistent "Heartburn" Needs Attention

Montgomery—A touch of heartburn may be only the result of excessive smoking, nervousness or an increase in one of the digestive acids.

But heartburn can also come from or be a symptom or organic disorders, Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer said today.

Heartburn is usually described as a sensation of pressure, fullness or "burning in the pit of the stomach or near the heart.

"When this condition persists or occurs frequently, a person should seek the advice of a doctor," Dr. Gill said. He explained that the use of various home remedies, in such cases, might mask or cover up critical conditions.

"If there is a serious underlying cause, a doctor can get at the root of the trouble and advise th proper plan of treatment," Dr. Gill said.

[illegible] of the excess cotton acreage within the time [illegible] stances [illegible] the farmer's control, it is suggested that he immediately get in touch with the County ASC office. In such cases, the County Committee may allow an additional period of not more than 10 days for disposing of the excess acreage. The cost of rechecking any acreage disposed of must be paid by the producer.

If the planted cotton acreage is not adjusted to the farm allotment the "Excess" cotton will be subject to a penalty, which must be paid even though no cotton is marketed from the farm, Mr. Owen further explains. The rate of the penalty will be 50 percent of cotton parity price as of June 15, 1955. Until the penalty is paid, the entire crop of upland cotton produced on the farm will be subject to a lien in favor of the United States.

Farmers who are knowingly overplanted and who do not adjust their upland cotton acreage likewise are ineligible for price support on the 1955 crop cotton produced on the farm.

Cotton growers who believe that their cotton acreage measurement was incorrect may obtain a remeasurement by depositing with the ASC County Office an amount equal to the cost of the remeasurement. The deposit will be refunded if it is found that the acreage planted to cotton is not in excess of the allotment.

Local Guard Unit To Train At Ft, McClellan

Co. "I" 200th Infantry local Guard Unit will report to Ft. McClellan, Alabama with the other Units of the Great 31st Inf. Division of Alabama and Mississippi on the third of July for two weeks of training.

The Units Strength as of this date is 5 officers and 68 enlisted men. The local unit is the smallest in the 3rd Bn 200th Infantry which is located in Tallassee Alabama.

Although the local unit is the smallest it is the best Unit in the Battalion in records and in training [illegible] subject.

[illegible] the Unit [illegible] May [illegible] 1955 [illegible] commended [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] very high and will remain high [illegible] unit received the rating of Excellent on this report.

Members of the National Guard have a great advantage as members of the Guard, they are draft exempt if they enlist between the ages of 17 and 18½ years of age and attend 90% of the drills with two weeks of Summer Field Training.

There are many courses that members of the Unit can apply for and get full army pay allowances while attending these schools.

Men of the local unit who have attended these schools are Capt. Fred C. Blackmon, Sgt. Arthur E. Foshee, Cpl. Robert E. Martin, and Pfc. Joe E. Lewis

All men with less than one years service can apply for 8 weeks basic training as soon as the Unit returns from Camp at Ft. McClellan, which we would like for all members that are engible to attend.

There are openings in all ranks in the unit for enlisted men at the present time which we hope to fill before summer field training in 1956, if you are interested in joining the National Guard call M-Sgt. William R. Popwell at 831 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday or visit him at the Armory on the Airport Road.

The New Armory will be complete in July and the Unit hopes to move into it on their return from Camp. It will be a great asset to the County, as they may use this building when it is not in use by the Guard for meetings which we do not have a place for at this time.

It has been estimated that it would take about 3500 dollars to make an auditorium out of the Armory which would meet the needs of Chilton County. That's not much to have to pay since the County cannot build one themselves due to other projects underway at the time.

June?
Than if ever come a perfect day.

It was resolved by Congress, June 14th, 1777 that the flag of the thirteen United States be striped of alternating red and white and that the union be represented by thirteen white stars on a blue field.

The flag should be to all the symbol of our country, "The Flower of Liberty," and be reverened and cherished.

Question: What is meant by the foot-washing at John 13:4-15? Does it mean that this should be performed as a ceremony by Christians?

Answer: In the time of Christ the people wore sandals and the feet of travelers became soiled, so that upon arriving at their destination it was necessary to wash the feet. The traveler being weary from his journey would often be shown the courtesy of having his feet washed by a servant under the direction of the host. (Luke 7:44) Servants not being usual among Christians, most of them being poor, the service was performed by the host or hostess. (1 Tim. 5:10) It was a service having much practical value in Jesus' time. When Jesus did it he was not establishing any religious ceremony, but was setting an example. "If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you." (John 13:14, 15). He was demonstrating humility and love by performing a menial service for the comfort of his brethren; by example he made his desciples see the need of being servants in God's organization, waiting on one another with the water of truth to aid them to walk in the clean way. (Eph. 5:25 26). Hence Christians today should copy his example by being humble and ready to serve their brethren in practical ways, just as in Jesus' day foot-washing was practical. Changed conditions have removed the practical benefits from foot-washing under those same circumstances, and it should not be done merely ceremoniously.

Randolph Speaks On Ala. Public Education

I have testified before the committee on Ways and Means of the Legislature of Alabama and made four recommendations regarding additional financing of public education in Alabama. The recommendations were made under general policies pertaining to Public Education adopted at the last annual meeting of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation in Birmingham, Alabama, November 3, 1954, and under authority of action taken by its Executive Committee (i. e. Board of Directors) at a meeting in Montgomery on May 5, 1955. The recomfendations are:

A. That exemptions from the sales tax and use tax be retained and that bills pending to repeal all or part of such exemptions not be passed. The repeal of exemptions from the sales and use tax would result in many instances in double taxation and cause undue and unnecessary hardships in many cases. The Alabama sales tax is primarily a tax on retail sales and a large number of the exemptions would place Alabama farmers in a position where the price of their products would not be competitive with farmers in adjoining states, who enjoy such exefptions.

B. That there be no increase in ad valorem (property) taxes. We believe a high ad valorem tax is one of the most unfair of the taxes because persons must pay taxes on property regardless of whether a profit is derived therefrom. We do not object, at the present time, to the level to which property taxes are levied in Alabama but we are vigorously opposed to any increase in this form of taxation.

C. That adequate additional taxes be levied for the purpose of financing. to the extent of our ability, a better and expanded program of public education, as follows:

1. Eliminate deduction of federal income taxes in calculating State income taxes. This would bring in about $11,000,000.
2. Increase the sales and use tax by ½ cent by the legislature. This would bring in about $10,000,000, or
3. Increase the sales and use tax by 1 cent subject to vote of the electorate. This would bring in about $20,000,000.
4. Apply the withholding plan (pay as you go) to the State income tax. It is estimated this would bring in about $7,500,000.
5. Raise the income tax on corporations from 3 per cent to 5 per cent. This would bring in about $5,000,000.

D. That the need for $3,000,000 for capital outlay at the Medical School of the University of Alabafa and $3,000,000 for capital outlay for the Agriculture and Veterinary Sciences at Alabama Polytechnic Institute be added to such bond issue as may be issued for capital outlay for public education.

I also pointed out to the committee other sources of revenue, which have not been endorsed by our Board of Directors, but which could be leived on by the Legislature if the above mentioned sources are not sufficient to finance such an expanded and improved program of public education as may be decided upon by the Legislature of Alabama.

You can always tell if the family has children by the bulge in the screen door.

* * * *

They were too good to last; those cool days and nights we were having.

* * * *

Some folks think that the biggest thing in Chilton County since the drought is the heavy rains we've been witnessing. Hopes are that they continue. . . moderately.

* * * *

* * * *

They say that one of the silliest things in the world is a civic leader without any followers. Let's not have any in Chilton County.

* * * *

We wouldn't need that Industry in Chilton County quite so badly if everyone would trade at home.

A BEE IN THE C OF C's BONNET—

We know not of one around these parts, but we got an idea from a neighboring state the other day that would go over real well as far as public relations goes.

This was a roadside park in some small town, or rather just outside town, sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce. In comparison with the good will it would bring it would cost very little and would, at that, pay us back ten times ten.

It's something for the businessmen of the County to think about. Wouldn't it be grand to hear of people talking of southern hospitality and mention Chilton County in their praise.

We have been fortunate enough to have gotten ideas before from neighboring states and towns and this is an opportunity to do ourselves proud. One of the most recent applications of this is the Coosa River Guard. We borrowed the idea but it has gone over tremendously and what do we want but good feelings and results. We hope the Chambers of Commerce in the county will take note that if we made these parks the best along the roads, anywhere, we'd get more visitors to our County and thereby profit as well as aid travelers.

PREDICTS SPAN OF 150 YEARS—

The American Medical Association's recent convention—in Atlantic City—heard the chairman of the general practice section that by 1999 adults in this country would be living to the ripe age of 150.

The doctor making that prediction, Lowry H. McDaniel, also says that women will be able to stay young and shapely almost indefinitely, by 1999. There will be no such thing as fatal cancer, sight will be restored to the blind and other seemingly incurable conditions will be readily corrected, McDaniel said.

From reading his report one would assume that life's major problem right now is to live to see the arrival of 1999. That is less than fifty years distant and a good many readers might actually live to see the last year of the twentieth century make its bow.

There is much truth in what the Tyronza, Arkansas, doctor sees in the future, of course. Medical science is just beginning to get into the outer areas of the mysteries which cause disease and suffering. Modern scientific developments, including progress in the atomic and electronic fields, have not yet been utilized to a great extent.

It [illegible] hoped that the great progress envisioned [illegible] science will be used to produce the [illegible] about. If great advances in [illegible] weapons are allowed to get out [illegible] may never see 1999. It seems to boil down to [illegible] question whether the world's great scientific advancements will be used for good or evil.

A little thought along this line will make one understand the President's appointment of Harold Stassen as special lisarmament ambassador, and the Persident's willingness to pursue any course which can be followed, with honor, in the search for a better understanding with potential enemy leaders.

THE INTER-AMERICAN HIGHWAY—

Want to drive down to the Panama Canal, via Mexico, and through other central American countries? Well, prospects are not too good for the trip at the time, but the House of Representatives in the national capital recently voted to do something about it.

The House voted to speed up construction of the Inter-American highway, which is of great military importance, as well as from the tourist angle. The vote was a whopping 353 to 13.

Former plans had called for completion of the highway to Panama by the early sixties. But the House went on record as wanting the highway operating by 1958, possibly in late 1957.

Looking back to World War II days, and the lives lost in ships transporting fuel and other vital supplies to seaports on the Atlantic, one can readily see the importance of a through, and first-class, highway from Central America into Texas and the United States.

An eventual road which would continue on into South America is the goal (or dream) of planners, as it has been for centuries. But the first step is completion of a good road to the Panama Canal. And this project has not been an easy one, and still faces obstacles.

Central American countries are cooperating, though, and with U. S. aid, it seems there is a good chance that such a highway will be available in three years. It is hard to realize that even in this hemisphere, where transportation is so advanced, there is not even one good road to the vital ore and oil fields in Central and South America.

It is time for this Chinese-like transportation deficiency to be solved. The House has made a decisive move in this direction. We hope nothing prevents completion of the Panama highway as rapidly as possible.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House last week approved a $1,372,122,800 Public Works Appropriation bill for fiscal year 1956. This measure appropriated funds for the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority, certain agencies of the Department of Interior, and civil functions administered by the Department of the Army. The final amount provided for in the bill was $86,376,555 more than was recommended by the House Appropriations Committee but $417,042,203 below the President's original budget requests.

-Sixth District Benefits-

Under the provisions of this bill our own Sixth District fared extremely well. An item of $4,100,000 was included for continued construction of the Warrior Lock and Dam between Hale and Greene Counties. Also, $180,000 was provided for a traffic survey of the Coosa-Alabama River System.

The sum of $4.1 million for the Warrior Lock and Dam, included in the 1956 budget estimates, was retained by the House Appropriations Committee. This amount, now approved by the House, will make it possible to continue on schedule the construction of this vital $20 million link in the Warrior-Tombigbee Waterway.

The appropriation of $180,000 for a shipping or traffic survey of the Coosa-Alabama Rivers will make available the funds necessary to determine the economic efasibility of adding navigational facilities to the dams now on this great waterway and the dams that are scheduled to be constructed by the Alabama Power Company.

This $180,000 item had not been included in the President's budget as had the funds for the Warrior Lock and Dam. Also, an unsuccessful effort had been made by me and other interested Members of the House to persuade the proper Committe to add this amount to the Public Works Appropriation bill. It was therefore necessary that an amendment be offered from the floor of the House in an effort to obtain the required funds. This was done and the amendment was adopted.

There is every reason to believe that the Senate will retain the funds for both the Warrior Lock and Dam and the Coosa-Alabama survey when the Public Works Appropriation bill reaches the Senate floor for consideration.

-Other Projects-

Also included in the 1956 Public Works Appropriation bill was the sum of $1 million for deepening the Mobile Ship Channel and an item of $2 million to begin construction of the Fort Gaines Lock and Dam on the Chattahoochee River.

The budget had contained $1 million to be used for deepening the Mobile Ship Channel but the Appropriations Committee had cut this amount in half. A House amendment restored the original budget request.

The Fort Gaines Lock and Dam is the third in a series of locks and dams that will make the Chattahoochee River navigable from Columbus, Georgia, to Appalachicola, Florida. No funds were included in the President's budget for this important project but the $2 million item was added by the Appropriations Committee and retained by the House.

I think I can say without fear of contradiction that the prospects for the further development of Alabama's great natural harbor and its fine system of rivers during the months ahead are most encouraging.

Heifer calves and their mothers should be seperated from the main herd as soon as the young animals are six months old, in order to keep them from being bred too early.

The Winners!

It took two weeks for folks to identify our last "Mystery Farm" as that of Mr. E. B. Thornton, but we had twelve correct answers this past week.

Mr. G. B. Smith of Maplesville, Rt. 1, won the Grand Prize and the following people will each receive two passes good at any Wadesonian Theatre in Chilton County:

Leslie E. Smith
Mrs. W. W. Culp
Mrs. George R. Payton
Ollie Blalock
Bernice S. Calfee
Lawrence Calfee
Mrs. G. E. Smith
Sue Culp
Mrs. Aram Ellison
Mrs. Floyd Ellison
Betty Jean Minor

Mr. Thornton, owner of the farm came in last week after the deadline and claimed his free photograph.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

While our good health generally depends on good nutrition, equally important is the elimination of waste products from the daily intake of food. The chemical waste products of the diet are eliminated by the kidneys. When these organs are not functioning properly, a condition develops which is known as nephritis. It is often called Bright's disease.

Normally there are two kidneys one on either side of the spinal column. They are beanshaped, located in the upper part of the abdomen beneath the diaphragm, behind the stomach and directly in front of the muscles of the back. The kidneys are each connected to the bladder by two long tubes, known as the ureters and their primary function is to act as a filter in removing waste products from the blood stream.

The kidneys may be considered the most important chemical laboratory in the body, as they not only filter the waste products but conserve the body's minerals and salt and keep body fluids and chemicals in balance. They are so important that all of the blood in the body eleven to thirteen pints, circulate through them every three minutes for the purpose of being freed of its waste products.

When anything interferes with these filters, such as blocking or plugging, the waste products are not properly processed, inflammation develops and we have the condition known as nephritis.

Nephritis, or Bright's Disease is a serious condition. Very often the symptoms in the early stages go unnoticed. The waste material, instead of being excreted from the body, accumuates in the blood, frequently causing sweiling and more work for the heart.

The urinalysis is the laboratory test used to detect improperly functioning kidneys. Therefore, everyone should have a urinalysis regularly.

Forest industry experts are predicting that within 10 years 50 to 80 percent of all homes put up will be built in pre-fab plants.

Letter to the Editor-

Rev. Stuckey Writes About Wonderful Progress At Samaria

When I took over the pastorate of the Samaria Baptist Church the first of last December I knew I was accepting a difficult assignment. I knew I was accepting a work that most aggressive and ambitious preachers would shun. This knowledge was not because the people were wicked or incapable, but because of circumstances beyond their control. I knew that in spite of these circumstances God had reserved a remnant of the finest people this side of Heaven. I will admit I tried hard not to accept their call, mainly because I would have to begin my work with my salary cut $100.00 per month. I was afraid I couldn't live on that reduced salary. Try as hard as I could I could not say no, for God said to accept and He would provide. I followed the urge from within and faithfully began my work. As we stand to-day we are better organized, poised and ready to take a steady climb upward and outward.

Forgetting the lesser improvements and looking forward to greater things we are planning to build a beautiful Church, with comforts, conveniences, and lots of room. In planning to build the question of location came up. When we put lots of money in a Church we should consider returns as in other investments. Not in dollars and cents, but in service to generations to come as well as the generation that now is. Therefore, the location of a church is important.

A special Business Meeting has been called for next Sunday at eleven o'clock to decide this important question of location.

We invite any unenlisted Baptist', who would like to be of service to your Master, to come over and help us and we will give yu a place to serve. There is no need for you to be idle in the Master's Vineyard.

Cost: 1 Ice Cream Soda A Day

If your doctor prescribed an ice cream soda a day for 10 days to get you out of a sickbed, you'd take your "medicine" gladly... with little thought to its cost. When figured on the basis of the quantity of medicine the doctor asks you to take every 24 hours, today's prescription rarely costs you more than a daily ice cream soda. But it does something no ice cream soda can do. It cures disease.

Make Sure Of All Things

Question: What does Solomon mean when he says he found a true man in a thousand, but never a true woman?

Answer: Ecclesiastes 7: 29-29 states (AT): "See, this is what I have found,' says Koheleth, 'adding one to one to find the total, which I have sought repeatedly, but not found: one man out of a thousand have Ifound, but not a woman have Ifound among all these. Only see this which I have found, that God made man upright, but they have sought out many contrivances.!" Moffatt renders verse 28 as follows: "Here is what I have found, says the Speaker: one true man in a thousand, but never a true woman!"

This can hardly be taken to mean that men are better than women. It cannot be taken literally to mean that there are no true women, for the Bible speaks of faithful women. Solomon could have been speaking from his personal experience, for he had a thousand wives and concubines all told. There may not have been a single one of these that was devoted to Jehovah God, though he doubtless did know some men who were faithful to God. So he may have had his own unhappy domestic situation in mind when he wrote as he did.

However, there is another possible meaning that seems more sound. One thousand is a multiple of ten, which represents earthly completeness. So the thousand may refer to all women ever to live on the earth, not one of which was or is a perfect woman. Eve did not remain such, in fact never did pass the test that would have shown her perfect in integrity to God. The virgin mother of Jesus, Mary, was not perfect. As for men, the thousand there would also represent earthly completeness and embrace all the men that ever lived upon the earth. The situation of men is different from that of women. Whereas there has never been a perfect woman that held faultless obedience to Jehovah God, there has been one such man, namely Christ Jesus. He is the one true, perfect man, and the only one that lived on the earth. So it is very likely that this great truth is embraced by the words of Solomon at Ecclesiastes 7:27-29.

The conclusion announced in verse 29 is a sweeping summation that embraces all mankind, man as a race rather than men as contrasted with women, and thus it supports the view last presented rather than the first possibility that Solomon's words might be referring to his own personal experience.

lorida's Legislators Study Our fficient Conservation Dept.

Montgomery—Alabama's wild tur- y stocking and public lake con- uction programs drew praise here s week from a Florida Legisla- e Committee visiting Alabama study the State Conservation De- rtment.

Members of the Florida House of presentatives Committee on Con- vation included Representatives hn M. Hathaway, Punta, Gorda, ., D. C. Jones, Jr., Naples, Fla., l Chaires, Old Town, Fla., Tom nson, Tampa, Fla., and Walter ppard, Fort Meyers, Fla.

Principal object of the visit was amination of the complete or- nization of Alabama's Depart- nt of conservation considered to one of the most ideal in the untry today.

The Florida Legislators received information on all resource conservation projects being carried on by the Department and were especially impressed with the excellent fishing available in artificial lakes constructed in Alabama areas with poor natural fishing waters.

Although Florida is widely known for excellent fishing, members of the committee told Conservation Director W. H. Drinkard that they had never experienced better fishing than in Alabama's public lakes.

The Florida Legislators viewed 300 wild turkey eggs now in incubation and 80 young turkeys of brooder size which will be used in turkey stocking experiments in several areas of Alabama.

After a tour of Department of Conservation facilities at Montgomery, the group fished some of the lakes by special permit, and completed their tour with a visit to Oak Mountain Game Refuge and Oak Mountain Public Lake near Birmingham, which is scheduled to be opened for fishing July 1.

It's Hard To Irrigate Pastures At A Profit

Auburn—Farm engineers have found that pasture irrigation in many instances doesn't pay on Alabama farms. Yet more than half of the irrigated acres in this state are in pasture.

High producing dairy cattle will, in most cases, pay well for irrigation of forage crops. It's beef cattle that often fail to do so.

It is pointed out that using the same system to water some high-paying crop like cotton or vegetables will go a long way toward making the equipment pay for itself. Irrigating two crops should mean that the system can be used more hours per day. However, this doesn't mean that either crop should get less water. As for other ways to profitably use an irrigation system on beef pastures, try some of the following .

1. Put cattle on irrigated pastures about mid-June and keep them there until November, grazing two to five cows per acre for two or three-week periods on only part of the pasture at a time.

2. Don't allow plants to be stunted by dry weather. Water them as soon as available moisture gets down near 50 percent of field capacity and one half to two feet each time water is applied.

3. Irrigate a grass-legume mixture for the highest yield in both quantity and quailty.

4. Use plenty of fertilizer and split the applications, applying plant food at intervals of several months for best yields.

5. Use irrigation equipment to get new seedings up and ready for grazing early.

Films Offered Public By Southern Bell

More than 50 different 16mm motion picture films are now available for loan to civic, social and educational groups from Southern Bell Telephone Company's film library, it was announced this week by Parks Scott, the Company's local manager.

No charge is made for use of the films since the library is maintained as a public service, he said.

The library offers films on a wide variety of subjects suitable for any age group.

One of them, "Rehearsal," stars Blanche Thebom and Ezio Pinza with the Bell Telephone Orchestra. Another "For Progress. . . Call Dixie!" tells the dramatic story of the industrial growth of the post-war South.

Scenes from the latter were made in seven states served by Southern Bell.

A complete listing of films and information on how to borrow them may be obtained at the telephone company business office, the manager said.

Ebernezer Baptist Church—
Rev. J. L. Adams, pastor
Preaching services at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m.
Sunday School at 10:00 a.m.
B.T.U. at 7 p.m.
Prayer meeting each Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m.

The attendance at prayer meeting was not as good as should be, however we had one of the old time services, which to my mind was the best way. The spiritual feeling was the best yet.

Our Sunday School attendance was 120 and that is the best since Brother Adams has been our pastor. May we all work hard this week and make our next Sunday attendance 125 at least. We are proud of our young Supt. Bobby Eddy. He is just about the best we have ever had.

Brother Adams preached to the Fathers at the Morning Worship, his topic being "God Sought A Man". God is always looking for men that will live each day that others may see his good work. That's what the World needs today. If all the churches will use the men that God is looking for, it may bring on a revival in all our churches there are young men eager to do the will of God. They are the ones you find at all the church services.

Our men worked last Saturday on sawing the logs to be traded for lumber suitable for our need in building the pastor's home. There were better timber than at first thought. This timber will be a great help in our building program.

Tuesday will be the executive board meeting of the W.M.U. will meet with the Billingsley Baptist Church. It will be attended by Mrs. Frances Gregg, Mrs. Eula Ruddick and Mrs. C. E. Parnell.

Rabies Vaccination Schedule

Dr. C. F. Gaines announces that all dogs 3 months of age and older are required by law to be vaccinated against rabies. We have had several cases of rabies in the last 12 months, in all parts of the county. We think this is due largely to lack of dog vaccination.

Due to the fact that we have had several cases of rabies in the county, we will have to enforce the law to the fullest extent. Your cooperation to meet these clinics and get your dog vaccinated will be greatly appreciated. It should be of personal interest to each individual to aid in elimination of rabies by having their dog vaccinated.

Below is a list of places where the clinics will be held. The price will be $1.00 per dog until September 1st, then it will be $2.00. Please meet at your most convenient place.

MOST Modern V8 FOR YOUR JOB!

NOW...THE SHORTEST STROKE V8's IN ANY LEADING TRUCK!

Now new Chevrolet Task-Force trucks bring you the industry's most advanced V8 engines* with an ultra-short stroke for reduced friction and wear. Here are some of the modern features they bring you.

Modern 12-volt electrical system
You get double the punch for quicker starting and more efficient ignition. Also, you have a greater reserve of electrical power.

Gas-saving high-compression ratio
With a high 7.5 to 1 compression ratio, Chevrolet's new V8 truck engines squeeze extra power—and work—out of every tankful of gas. Hauling costs go down!

Extra-high power per pound

STROKE 3.0
BORE 3.75
Note that the bore is bigger than the stroke!

Advanced aircraft-type valves
A new valve train design permits each valve to function independently—as in modern aircraft engines. Valve action is more positive.

Floating oil intake . . . full-pressure lubrication

Thorsby Institute News—

The Ladies Guild, an organization of Thorsby ladies, who for many years have been interested in helping the school. Almost every summer the ladies have done considerable canning of peaches which has been quite a help, but that will not be possible this year because of the heavy frost which ruined the peaches. Friends donated and canned quite a number of squashes, a few days ago for the school. We hope that vegetables will be sent the school for canning.

Charles Bradford of the class of 1950, is now in England. His second child is named Sunset, after his Mother.

On Thursday at 2:30 p.m. the Guild will meet at Mrs. Charles Howard's. She is away but Mrs. Harry Thompson will be the hostess. Every one is invited to this pleasant gathering.

Mrs. Lamar Williams (Dorothy) accepted a job with Deaton Freight Lines and started to work Monday. She took her business course at Thorsby Institute under the teacher, Mrs. Arden Folk.

Conserving Soil Is Foremost Job In Chilton

Land preparation for six additional acres of Coastal Bermuda has been done on the hill land of Cleve Mims' farm. This will complete the sodding of all the rough, hilly land except one small field and will give him approximately 15 acres of Coastal west of his house.

Carey Mullins, Shiloh Comunity Coperator of the North Central District, states "You know that steep land back of the barn that I have been growing corn on, and maybe the entire back field is going in Coastal Bermuda next spring." Carey takes great pride in his registered Jersey cows and plans on keeping the pasture ahead of the cows. This is one way to make up the income that most farms lose under cotton allotments.

Woodrow Hunter, also of the Shiloh Community, has asked that a survey be made of his farm to determine if he can put parallel terraces on his farm. Woodrow stated that he would sod the necessary land needed for meadow outlets. Woodrow also plans to establish two acres of Coastal Bermuda next spring.

Would you like to increase the income of your farm? If you would then follow Soil Conservation Service practices by putting each acre of it's best suited crop.

Mr. Jesse Hayes, Cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District, has established a nurse patch of Coastal Bermuda. His plans are to grow his own stolons a establish 8 acres of steep san loam soil to this grass. This land w will wash easily and needs go sod to protect it. Mr. Hayes liv two miles west of Thorsby. He pu chased his stolons from a neighb and set them as soon as possible a ter digging. This is very good pra tice, and one of the important fa tors in getting a good stand.

Treed by a Cat!

Big commotion last Tuesday when the Adams' cat chased a squirrel up a pine tree—and then couldn't get down.

A crowd collected and "Tiny" Field, the policeman, climbed to the rescue. But the cat went to the other side of the trunk and carefully clawed his way to the ground.

Tiny started to come down, too, but his revolver belt got snagged. Tiny was stuck! Someone called the hook 'n' ladder and the firemen finally rescued him.

From where I sit, even though we laughed at Tiny — we were actually pretty proud of him for doing more than his duty. A lot of us owe the public more than just "doing a job." Take Andy, over at the Green Garden Inn. Andy works voluntarily with the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. By putting extra effort into keeping his place clean and neat, Andy gets "*extra*ordinary" praise from his friends and neighbors.

Folks and Things

ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Alma (Mrs. W. E.) Huddleston has been made Distributor for the Texas Company in this District. We're glad to see Alma carrying on and wish her every success. These other gasoline and oil distributors around here had better get up on their toes now that a woman has stepped into the field as a competitor. However, as you all know, Mrs. B. N. Studdard has been her old man's First Vice- Pres. in charge of everything, for a long time. Understand Pat and Ann will be around close to assist their mother when needed.

There's more than one disadvantage to reaching fifty. At every turn you hear: "It looks like at his age he'd have more sense." Of course your creditors spell it "cents"

Bet you didn't know Mrs. Belle Wade could be a TV actor if she wanted to. Yep. She was invited to appear on a Montgomery station recently but declined. We're sorry she had to say no. There is a lot of wisdom in one who has seen so many summers and heartiest congratulations to Mrs. Wade on the signal honor bestowed upon her. Maybe next time she is asked, she'll feel like going down and joining the show.

Oh, and speaking of TV. Charlotte and Susan Brown, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Abney Brown, of Maplesville, have been appearing for a week on Channel 6 at Birmingham. They're on the Romper Room program that comes on from 11:30 until 12 noon each day.

Some folks are just like wheelbarrows—good for nothing unless they're pushed.

Decrepit old Joe Smith is a grandpa. He'll need to get more help on those gas pumps up at the Joe Smith Sinclair Station now. You know these old grandpas can't take to fast. They get around as much—it just takes 'em longer. The first grandchild is little Billy B. Hayes Jr. and we're glad mother and son are both doing nicely now.

Gotta congratulate Lloyd Warr on being awarded a medical scholarship by Chilton County. He will attend the University on the Scholarship and will, we are sure, make the county and his friends here proud of him. He has been an outstanding student throughout his college career.

Our sympathy to Mrs. Durwood Teel in the loss of her father, J. M. Willis of Dadeville. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon. Her many friends grieve with her in her great loss.

Bet you didn't know the first schools in Alabama were established before she was a state. They were at Huntsville and St. Stephins. It was the Mississippi Territory and the year was 1812.

Billy Graham To Visit Clanton In Movie

"Souls in Conflict," newest film release by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., will be shown in Clanton on July 13. Local arrangements are in the charge of Rev. L. T. Boldt, who has secured the First Baptist Church for the showing. All seats are free.

"Souls in Conflict" was filmed during Graham's London Crusade. It is a full feature-length film in color and it is through screen presentations such as the one scheduled for Clanton that the Graham organization anticipates surpassing the success of an earlier film, "Mr. Texas," described as "the world's first Christian Western," which played to more than five million persons in its first two years of showings, and to which 135,000 "decisions for Christ" are attributed.

The story of "Souls in Conflict" encompasses the lives of three "typical" individuals, troubled with the present and completely confused about the future. Joan Winmill, star of the British TV thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," and herself a convert to full-time Christian service, plays an actress; Eric Micklewood and Charles Leno portray a jet pilot and a factory worker respectively. Their need for a soul satisfying religious experience is realized when each attends one of Graham's metings in Harringay Arena, London's vast stadium.

We are required to notify Birmingham how many prospective donors we will have in order that the Blood Center there, will know how many registered nurses and also equipment will be needed at the local center. Your local Red Cross Blood Center will be open on Friday, July 15th from 12 noon until 6:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Clanton. 26-2t

All-Stars Stomp Selma Guard By 30 to 2

A large crowd of local baseball fans turned out at City Park Sunday afternoon in hopes of seeing a good ball game but what they had to witness was just the opposite. The final score of the slaughter was All-Stars 30 and the Selma National Guard 2.

The Stars scored 14 runs in the sixth as they sent 14 men to the plate with Lamar Robinson going up 3 times.

The leading hitters for the Stars were Bobby Easterling with 4 hits, Smith 3, Grant 2, and Wyatt 2. Smith and Edwards batted across 4 runs each.

Bobby Easterling seems to have hit his stride and has boosted his way to third place among the leaders with an average of .325. Gaining confidence as the season goes along this fleet outfielder should soon be a strong challenge for the team batting championship. Watch this man.

Our visitors for the next few games will be the Montgomery Gayles Wednesday night, June 29, Mars Hill, Saturday, Prattville Sunday, July 3, and the Dairy Producers in a Fourth of July double-header.

Have A Heart---

Your Contribution Needed For "Hawaiian Heartline"

How many of you know Marshall Williams, the cop on the corner in Clanton? Well, how many of you know his lovely wife or his fine young children. It seems a few days ago after Mrs. Williams got the news of her mother's illness, that Mrs. Clarence DeLoach, a neighbor and close friend of the Williams' took it on herself to try and raise the necessary funds for Mrs. Williams trip to Hilo, Hawaii and back and succeeded in raising only $200 or so on the $550 or so needed for her round trip. This is by no means a failure for Mrs. DeLoach, on the contrary, not many folks would go so far to help a neighbor in trouble.

The money was borrowed for Mrs. Williams' trip there, but it has to be paid back. We are asking your support at this time because we know that our County of Chilton has a big heart and wouldn't want one of it's own to be handicapped any more than necessary. There are many ways in which we would like to help Mrs. Williams and her family, but financial aid is all we can give at present and that is what will go to help the most.

Also understand, that neither of the Williams' or any of their family requested this aid. It was brought about in the first place by Mrs. DeLoach and others have just sort of pitched in.

Mrs. Williams mother has had a stroke and is in critical condition and her step-father has had cancer for some time and is reported to be also in a very bad way. On top of that Mrs. Williams is all by herself in comparatively strange surroundings not having been there in some seven or more years. Too, she's seperated from her family and there's thousands and thousands of mile between them.

Many, many folks have already lent a helping hand in this emergency and Marshall and his wife are most grateful to them.

It is realized that time was short on the first request for aid by the paper, because Mrs. Williams was to leave soon after publishing time. We are renewing the request so that those folks who wanted to help, but didn't feel they had time can still lend a helping hand. It's not too late and we can assure you that it will be most appreciated.

If you know Marshall or his wife you'll know, as we do, that they're mighty fine folks and you'll want to help them now, just as they would help you were you in the same or a similar situation.

Mrs. DeLoach is still in charge of the project and can be reached at 1058-M here in Clanton. She has been under the weather herself lately so if you prefer you can give what support you can to Marshall personally or you can turn it in to the News office.

There's plenty of time; it's a worthy cause. Let's show a fellow Chiltonian just what kind of folks his fellow Chiltonians really are.

Shootings Scrapes Injure Two In County

A shooting five miles East of Clanton injured Richard Wilson in the left side reported the Sheriff's office this week. He was shot by a step-son, James Dennis it was reported. In West End two Negroes were in a shooting scrape. Pete Smith shot Jessie Lee Johnson in the stomach with a German made 22 cal pistol. Johnson was taken to a Tuskegee hospital and a warrant was issued for Pete Smith but he had not been picked up Wednesday. Chief of Police Charlie Tucker stated at the time of the shooting he placed Smith in jail but after holding him for several hours no [illegible] was [illegible]. This year we hope our combined attendance will double this."

The cities in the United States and Canada named as convention sites are Chicago, Vancouver, B.C. Los Angeles, Dallas and New York. Those in Europe are London, Paris, Rome, Nuremberg, Stockholm and The Hague.

Chilton County Rescue Squad Stresses Water Safety

Quite a bit is written and said about water safety, but apparently very little has been done about it. Drownings are increasing at an alarming rate all over the State. A few years back a drowning occurred very infrequently, but now, it's getting to be an almost weekly needless tragedy. Of course, today, there are many more people using the lakes and streams for recreational purposes than ever before and this probably accounts for the increased mishaps. The same applies to the highway situation; more automobiles, more accidents. However there is a difference in the two types of accidents and the effects they have upon the people. A bad auto accident can be viewed by passers-by and forgotten fifteen minutes later. On the other hand, a boating accident is remembered for years and sometimes places a stigma on an entire body of water.

Water accidents can be greatly minimized by a continuous flow of newspaper, radio and TV precautionary material, and through a joint action taken by interested local organizations. Chilton County's Sheriff, Odell Payton, started the ball to rolling in the formation of the Coosa River Guard. It all started a few weeks ago while he was assisting a small group of volunteers to drag the river for a body. There were too few working, and those that did work retraced each others drag with no success. After observing this haphazard operation, Sheriff Payton decided that an organized group of volunteers, fully equipped and trained, was the answer to perform this gruesome task. An appeal in the local papers brought about two hundred cards requesting membership. Week before last, the first organizational meeting was held, and now the Coosa River Guard is a going concern.

Alvin Ellison, a sportsman and welder by trade, was elected President. Other officers are Joe Brown, Vice-President; John Sellers, Secretary; Alton Downs, Treasurer and Horsley White, Refreshment Committee Chairman. The entire membership is divided into six squads with each squad having a squad leader. Whenever an emergency arises the squad leaders are notified and the various squads are asembled for action. Chilton County is backin gthe Coosa River Guard one hundred percent. Some equipment will be furnished by the County sports dealers and others, but most boats and motors will be furnished by the membership.

Congratulations to Chilton County for the Coosa River Guard. A need was recognized and action was taken.

Other counties have a need for a similar organization. (and a few already do have them.) Who would you call on in event of a water accident in your county? Just a little effort in the right direction will produce an organization that would be a great credit and service to your community.

Fishing on the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes continues to produce very satisfactory results. Bass, Bream and Stripes are being caught in large numbers. The water is unpredictable as local showers constantly change the complexion of creeks and sloughs. Nevertheless, most any desired shade of water can be found on all lakes.

Lake Lay

Ed Hardiman, Manager, Riverview Fishing Camp, above Lay Dam and near Clanton, reports: Clayton C. Brooks, Bessemer, brought in a nice string of Largemouth Bass weighing up to 6 pounds each. Clayton used a Creek Chub lure and had his good luck about the mouth of Paint Creek. J. E. Doss, Birmingham, spen a week at Riverview Camp and caught plenty of fish every day of his stay. J. E. had better than usual good luck fly-fishing with a yellow Bream Fly. His best catch was a 5 pound 4 ounce Bass.

G. O. Norred's General Store, Talladega Springs, reports: John Paul Tate, Sylacauga, fly-fished Rock Springs Creek with a popping bug and brought in an outstanding string of Bluegills averaging 8 ounces each.

E. R. Young's Store, Lay Dam Road, near Clanton reports: Ervin D. Daily, Clanton, had strung up a nice string and was about ready to qiut for the day but decided to make one more last cast, when bang! A 4 pound 4 ounce Smallmouth Bass hit his fly. Ervin said that he had to play this fish for several minutes before landing him.

Lake Mitchell

E. R. Young's Store, Lay Dam Road, near Clanton, reports: Young Wilton Smitherman, eight years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smitherman, Clanton, tied into a fighting 5 pound 9 ounce Largemouth Bass with a casting rod in the upper reaches of Lake Mitchell, and earned himself an attractive Whopper-Catcher Certificate for his trouble.

Lake Jordan

Evans' Store, Slapout, reports: J. V. Davis, Montgomery, had good luck with Smallmouth Bass while using a Cisco Kid lure and Spinning Rig. The largest catch was 3 pounds 4 ounces.

G. O. Nobles, Manager, Cauthen's Fishing Camp, Coosa Ridge, reports: V. E. Rawson, Montgomery, fly-fished and boated a 1 pound 8 ounce White Perch along with several other Bass and Bream.

What has been your best catch so far this year? If you are not satisfied, come on out to one of the Coosa-Tallapoosa lakes, now when it's cool. Fishing is good!

CHIEF ALAPOCQ SAYS: You may like the most powerful motor available. . . but can your boat stand it? To much power can damage your boat and may even swamp it. Many fatal accidents can be correctly blamed on the fact that a motor was too powerful for the boat it was on. You may consider yourself quite a speed demon, but it isn't anything to be proud of. Speed has its place and hulls are especially designed for racing. A "too-powerful" motor may speed you right out of this world.

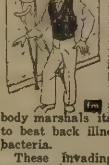
SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

The "Whole" Patient

Our life span is 30 years longer today than it was 75 years ago, thanks partly to the antibiotic drugs. Now, by combining antibiotics with vitamins and practicing the ages-old concept of treating the "whole" patient and not just his disease, science has put new wonder in the wonder drugs.



Just how long you lay in a sickbed suffering from a severe infection depends on your body's ability to fight its way back to normal. Reinforced by antibiotics, your body marshals its entire resources to beat back illness and invading bacteria.

These invading bacteria, and sometimes the germ-killing antibiotics, throw your body's normal functions out of kilter. Your body's nutritional needs are altered and often you cannot eat enough of the right foods to aid your body.

Thus, you suffer a nutritional deficiency which may extend your recovery period long after the infection has been licked.

According to Dr. Felix Marti-Ibanez in the medical journal Antibiotic Medicine, modern science now has the means to attack both the infection and the vitamin deficiency. He reports that a combination of vitamins and antibiotics in a single dosage form such as Tetracyn-SF or Terramycin-SF gives physicians a weapon to treat the "whole" patient and thus shorten his stay in the sickbed.

Last Week's Mystery Farm Belongs To D. D. Hill

Rough Weather Has Changed Scene Since Photo Was Taken

Owner of the "Mystery Farm" appearing in last week's Chilton County News was Mr. D. D. Hill of Billingsley. Mr. Hill has owned the farm for the past 15 years having bought from N. O. Stroud who had made his residence there for about the same length of time.

Hill said the hail early this year beat the roof off the barn and the house and following it a storm destroyed the small outhouse in the upper right hand corner of the picture. During this storm which came about a week after the heavy hail, Mrs. Hill was walking along the road near her home and the storm picked her up and set her down on the opposite side of the road and then picked her up and set her back where she was originally. This, of course, happening in the matter of seconds. She was uninjured however.

Mr. Hill and his son, who were working in the pasture near the house saw the timber from the outhouse sailing through the air and rushed home thinking their house had blown away.

Mr. Hill said they did general farming such as corn, cotton, vegetables, a few head of pigs and a few cattle. He is too busy for a hobby.

He and Mrs. Hill have been married for the past 27 years, she being Miss Dolly Pierce before her marriage to Hill. They have two children, a boy and a girl. The daughter, Irene is the oldest and the son James Carr is 20 years old.

THE MEANING OF OUR 4th OF JULY—

On next Monday, July 4th, the people of the United States will celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. This document, proclaiming the independence of the thirteen colonies in America, signed by the delegates to the Continental Congress, was, in some particulars, no more than a recognition of the existing state of affairs.

Signed by John Hancock, the President of the Congress, on July 4th, 1776, the Declaration was subsequently engrossed on parchment and signed by fifty-three members of the Congress on August 2nd of that same year.

Largely drafted by Thomas Jefferson the Declaration of Independence expresses the essence of Jefferson's personal political philosophy. This, briefly, is the idea that men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, including life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Moreover, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men and derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. The Declaration asserts that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as shall seem most likely to affect their safety and happiness.

It seems strange to us, in this day, to reflect that the Declaration of Independence, which proclaimed the principles of the colonists in their war for indepndence, does not express the spirit of some of the descendants of the men who fought under General Washington. Human nature being what it is, it is perhaps inevitable that there should be a large number of people in every country devoted to the established order, whatever it is, and however it may have worked.

While we admire the handiwork of those who framed the machinery of our Federal Government, and we believe in the principles expressed in the Declaration of Independence, we find ourselves more tolerant of those who advocate changes from time to time. We believe that the defects of our present governmental system, whatever they may be, are due more to men than to the machinery of government and, we, therefore realize that from time to time, some adjustments are necessary.

We would suggest that our readers celebrate the 4th by reading the meaning of the day in the words of the Declaration of Independence.

LET'S GIVE—

"You've got to give, if you want to get." So spoke Mr. Gordon Robertson in his first speech as he was named President of the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce recently.

Truer words were never spoken, as was evidenced by the fact that only twenty-five merchants and business men were present. Out of the hundreds of businesses in Chilton County only these few were able to attend the one Chamber of Commerce meeting held in a year's time.

Raring back in your chair and degrading the efforts of the local Chamber is in actuality proving to yourself their need for your support. If you are a citizen of Chilton County then you should be vitally concerned with the inner working of the Chamber and should make every effort to support and assist in every project that it takes to hand.

Many folks erroneously believe that the Chamber of Commerce is set up solely for the purpose of enticing industry to Chilton County. The truth of the matter is that anything concerning business in Chilton is a concern of the local Chamber of Commerce and therefore should be of vital concern to you, as a citizen of this County.

Let's all give—then we'll get.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Both houses of Congress completed action last week on a measure providing a salary increase for federal classified employees and sent the bill to the President. The 7½ percent pay raise will be retroactive to March of this year and will affect approximately 1,200,000 government workers.

Earlier the Senate had approved a 10 percent pay raise for civil service employees. However, after a conference the Senate agreed to the House figure of 7½ percent.

This legislation granting a raise to classified employees follows bills already signed by the President increasing the salaries of military personnel and postal employees.

-Medal Of Honor-

A measure adopted by the House last week concerns holders of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest award for valor bestowed by our nation. This measure, if enacted into law, will increase from $10 to $100 the monthly pension payable to Medal of Honor winners and will permit payment at any age. The present law requires that those eligible for the special compensation must reach age 65 before paymnts are initiated.

The original law providing pensions for Medal of Honor winners was enacted in 1916. It established the Army and Navy Medal of Honor roll upon which is recorded the names of those who have received the Medal by distinguishing themselves by unusual gallantry or intrepidity during time of war at the risk of their lives, abov eand beyond the call of duty.

The report submitted by the Veterans Affairs Committee in support of this legislation contained the following statement:

"The Committee fully understands that it is impossible to place a price tag on valor, honor, patriotism or other virtues. However, it has come to the attention of the Commttee that in some cases holders of this highest award are in destitute circumstances and several have had to go relief or resort to applying for welfare payments from the states in which they reside. A holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor should not be forced to eke out an existence in this fashion."

It has been reported that there are approximately 395 living recipients of the Medal of Honor. To this small group who have won our nation's highest honor of bravery, the House of Representatives voted overwhelmingly to award this increase in special compensation.

-Pray For Peace-

The House also passed and sent to the Senate last week a measure that will authorize the Postmaster General to provide a special canceling or postmarking stamp bearing the words, "Pray For Peace", for use in first and second class post offices.

In acting favorably on this legislation, the House took into consideration that the most important aim in the unsettled world of today is peace. It was felt that the use of cancellation stamps bearing the words "Pray for Peace" might encourage many more of our people to pray and work toward that great goal.

If this legislation is passed by the Senate and signed by the President, you may soon see the reminder "Pray for Peace" stamped on many of the letters you receive.

Oak Mountain Lake To Open July 15

Montgomery — Oak Mountain State Park Public Lake, originally slated to open July 1 for public fishing, will be opened two weeks later on July 15 because construction of facilities at the lake have not been completed.

In a public announcement here today, W. H. Drinkard, Director of the Alabama Department of Conservation, said the lake opening must be postponed because construction is incomplete on a lakeside concessions building, parking area and access road into the area.

Drinkard said, "We [illegible] expect a large crowd for the new lake opening and I feel that we cannot [illegible] to inconvenience the public by opening fishing before the necessary facilities are complete. The [illegible] access road is long, narrow, crooked and dusty so that it would be impossible to move a heavy flow of traffic over it without accidents and discomfort to the public."

He said, "we will do everything possible to have the facilities ready by July 15. We believe this lake will provide excellent fishing and think the public will enjoy it much more with easy access and a good concession building available."

Details of the lake opening will be announced prior to July 15, Drinkard said.

The average cow in this country last year gave 5,500 pounds of milk. But the standing record for milk production for a single cow is nearly eight times that much.

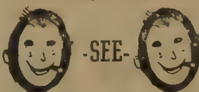
SELF-CONTROL AND HAPPINESS—

The peace and happiness of the average citizen does not depend upon the amount of money he or she possesses, the number of organizations to which he or she belongs, or the outcome of any great social struggle.

The contentment that makes for human happiness is within the reach of every individual who is able to face life with a philosophy that solves personal problems. The acceptance and practice of religious tenets often provides the answer, whether these religious beliefs are adopted as an individual or as a member of some religious organization.

The capacity of the individual for self-control, however, is the real key to happiness and contentment. It is a product that you cannot buy, or receive as a gift. It is nevertheless within the reach of all—but, oftentimes, is attained by very few.

Things we -SEE- and Hear



by "Tuck"

Little sister-in-law came up with a good one the other day. Seems her grandma had a cat whom they called Snowball. Janet took a fancy to the kitty, but couldn't seem to keep his name clean and kept calling him "Screwball". Little folks seem to understand animals better than we do, so maybe the kitty is a screwball cat.

Have an up-and-coming printer's devil here with us at the News. His name is Bernie Mullins and he hails from down around Shiloh and Enterprise comunities. Glad to have him aboard. Seems like a likeable, intelligent fellow. We think he'll graduate from "helper" to apprentice with flying colors.

Some folks tend to tear down the point they are trying to make by the way in which they present it. And it might be a good point.

We made a million dollars the other day in just a few minutes, by merely talking about investing this million dollars of our'n. Remarkable isn't it. Hope we didn't talk about bad investments. We'd hate to lose this immense fortune we've accumulated over the years.

Don't say nuthin' about this. The revenue boys don't know we're totin 'around that much.

The wife went down and picked string beans the other day for canning and if you see 'em running out our ears in the middle of next winter don't be alarmed. I never saw so many ding-danged beans in my life. . . and I have to eat 'em. I probably will be glad to get them during the cold months, but I don't think I like string beans three meals a day. (and between meals).

We heard a suggestion the other day that we heartedly agreed with even tho we didn't agree with the way in which it was put over. It was about these folks that are continually saying "why don't they do this and that in the Chamber of Commerce." It seems the suggestion was that these civic minded folks should come into the ranks and help put their opinions over rather than just beef about what they don't have and aren't getting. A very good suggestion, but not a point well taken. We'll have to go one step further and agree that it has been proven that you can't invite these folks into the organization with any amount of results, but neither can you help the situation by jumping down their throats. Action is truly what is needed within the Chilton County Chamber of Commerce and you should help, if you have any ideas, but diplomatic action is what will win out and get the folks what they need and want.

You farm owners be sure to come around and claim your free farm photograph at the News office when you see your farm has been run. If you don't come because you don't agree with us, well, maybe you will when you leave. We might agree with you. Anyhow, we'll be glad to have you, no matter who you are, so if you see your farm printed in the News, or if you don't own it but know who's it is, come in and set a spell. We'll be glad you did.

A real "Suthun Gentleman". We were driving down the highway south of here the other day, pretty early and happened to see a fella in a Cadillac broken down by the side of the road. This by itself, was unusual, but the "gentleman" was leaning agaist the side of the car while his lady companion gave all heck to an old fashioned tire pump. Being a gentleman, he no doubt didn't want to spoil his appearance. Or maybe he had a busted clavicle or something, but he looked suspiciously healthy to us. (so did the missus, as a matter of fact)

Summer Storm Warnings

The season of summer storms is about to start. With them, the July and August disturbances will bring lightning, which every year destroys 2000 human lives and $60 million worth of farm buildings.

A lightning protection system does not offer absolute safety from a bolt out of the blue. But there is rarely a serious loss where a good system has been installed and kept in good condition, says William T. Cox, API Extension farm buildings specialist. He reminds Alabama farmers that a system which gave good protection last summer may not be so good now. Some systems are subject to corrosion, and any system that has been in service several years should be checked carefully.

Fruit trees should not be fertilized so late in the summer that they won't become dormant before cold weather starts.

IT'S MY OPINION

Today I am a man. I tied a paper sack to a dog's tail. What an ambition!!!

Possibly tying something to a wayward mongrels rear end is some folks idea of sport, but even though it's fairly popular; it isn't what I call sport.

On the serious side it has always been an opinion of mine that Clanton and Chilton County have some sort of humane society for the protection of such cases as arise. Of course Chilton County needs quite a few things. Still, it wouldn't be half a bad idea and we see many a "nobody's pup" who might appreciate this consideration.

Tying something to a dog's tail is bad; but tying something to his tail after deceiving him by petting and the like is downright inhumane and anyone getting a kick out of such an act. . . deserves it.

I have friends that possibly do it, but it doesn't raise my opinion of them very many notches. What sort of sense of humor is it, anyhow, that delights a person into doing something cruel? They'd call you names if you didn't share in their "joke" but if they'll do it to a dog, then they aren't much more considerate when it comes to their fellow man.

It's child's play actually, and sport (if you want to call it that) unbecoming a grown man. Children do not know any better. It's a deed of not much worth and nobody profits by it. The only enjoyment derived from it is that "possum" like grin that follows the deed. If you caught a man in the act and reprimanded him for it, he'd be ashamed of it. But if he can find some callous group that will "possum" grin right along with him, he's mighty quick to show his human superiority over the helpless old hound. I'm not arguing that humans aren't superior to other animals, they definitely are, thats why God gave us brains enough to know how to treat dumb animals and not to be cruel to things that are beneath us.

Soft-hearted, that's me, but it beats stone-hearted a mile and a quarter and you'll never convince me that being cruel to dumb animals, unnecessarily, beats a pat on the head or a scrap of bread by even so much as a quarter of an inch.

Think about it. If you'd tie a tin can to a dog's tail or treat him badly, would you be much more considerate to your associates.

THE PHILOSOPHER....

Chilton Must Stay Green To Be Prosperous

Cooperator J. H. Kincaid of the Thorsby area, has a god water disposal area established on his farm. This area is established to Coastal Bermuda grass and takes care of the water from the road ditches that outlet into this natural depression. A recent visit to Mr. Kincaid's farn found his son, Jimmie, digging coastal plants from this area to establish 6 additional acres. This additional acreage will be used for hay and grazing, but the primary purpose will be for protection of this rolling, light, sandy type soil, which washes easily.

B. H. Giles made application for a soil and water conservation plan recently. Mr. Giles said, "I have planted pasture grass for several years and haven't had any luck. I want some help to put the right plants on the land."

Mr. J. E. Cox states" I want to set Coastal Bermuda grass on this steep land I have just cleared. I don't like to see my land wash and Coastal Bermuda is the best plant I can use". J. E. is following a good conservation plan on his place. He has all of the critical areas sodded to sericea, rescue and crimson clover.

Lorenza Williams and F. E. Neeley of Enterprise community, have a good stand of Pensacola Bahia grass sowed on Class III and IV land.

Conservation farming does not cost—it pays.

A demonstration of the best known methods of hair and scalp treatments to be given to the citizens of our city.

HAIR AND SCALP AUTHORITY HERE TO TELL TRUTH ABOUT BALDNESS

A personal demonstration will be held from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. on Thursday only, July 7 1955, in the Cloverleaf Motel in Clanton, Alabama by the Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The Merrill [illegible] give you FREE a complete hair and scalp examination and tell you why you [illegible] or why you are having trouble with your scalp.

Hopeless Cases Are Few

First, the Merrill Consultant is quick to tell the hopeless cases that they [illegible] can be done [illegible] are [illegible] Merrill [illegible] what [illegible] will come to light.

No Charge For Examination

The [illegible] requires a full 20 to 30 minutes. And, there is no charge for the examination. After the examination you will be told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. After starting the treatment you will make regular report to the Merrill Laboratory in Wichita Falls, Texas. An expert will check your progress regularly, and keep in touch with you throughout your course of treatment. As you will be shown at your interview. Merrill offers you a written guarantee of satisfaction.

New Hair Is Permanent

"If every man and woman will follow our treatments faithfully during treatment and after finishing treatment, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," says this authority. "We know our treatments will work from our thousands of testimonials. It all depends on the individual person's faithful observance of a few simple rules."

Guarantee Pledges Results

Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants GUARANTEE, in a written certificate given to each new client, that if you are not responding satisfactorily to treatment at the end of 30 days, that all money paid on treatments will be graciously refunded. "We do this to overcome skepticism," says the Merrill Consultant "Most of our clients are happy, satisfied men and women, confident that they will regain their hair and remove all traces of imbedded dandruff and other malicous hair and scalp ailments that prevent natural growth. This guarantee is for those who want to be assured that they will get their money's worth, and that is exactly what we intend to give them.

A Truthful Note

Thousands of men and women have been helped by the Merrill methods. Because of their tremendous success in this field, it should be said here that there are some who cannot benefit from these treatments. Any person who is slick, shiny bald, is destined to remain so. If there is any sign of fuzz, no matter how short or colorless, there is a definite chance that hair may be regrown in time. "We have no cure-all," says our expert. "But if you take care of your hair, we can help you have healthy, normal, lasting hair that you will be proud of all your life."

The Merrill Consultant will occupy a suite of rooms in the Cloverleaf Motel in Clanton, Alabama on Thursday, July 7 from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. Ask at the desk for the Merrill Consultant and see what can be done for your troublesome hair and scalp condition.

A baby born today can look forward to a life expectancy of almost 70 years. Back in 1930, the insurance people figured life expectancy at only 60 years. Chiefly responsible for those 10 extra years of life are today's wonder drugs—drugs that did not exist in 1930. That's why we say:

Services were good both Sunday and Sunday night. Bro. Lowery brought two good messages. The spirit was there in a good way as is everywhere where real true and honest children of God assemble. There are people who just "play church" but the spirit doesn't abide with that kind of person.

May God ever be near to the Easterling family in the loss of their loved one, Mrs. Charlie (Mamie) Easterling. "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in time of trouble." May they look to him for comfort. Let's not forget Mrs. Bob (Grany) Payton in our prayers. She is Mrs. Easterling's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burnette from Helena were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burnette.

Ideal Picnic Calls For Good Food

Auburn—Once the Fourth of July picnic is over ,you'll want to have pleasant memories, rather than stomach pains, to remind you of it.

Barring an accident to some member of the party, about the only thing likely to fake your picnic unpleasant to remember is the food. If what you take along is hard to digest, hard to eat, or hard to pay for, the relaxed atmosphere that makes a picnic truly successful is destroyed.

These problems are easily avoided. With a little forethought, the homemaker can plan and prepare a delicious picnic fare from inexpensive foods that the family gets every week. The menu should include foods that are easy to carry and easy to eat, but the meal can also be a nutritious one. Many highly nutritious foods are especially suited to outdoor eating.

She urges homemakers to keep these points in mind and to plan their holiday outings for best results.

Rabies Vaccination Schedule

Dr. C. F. Gaines announces that all dogs 3 months of age and older are required by law to be vaccinated against rabies. We have had several cases of rabies in the last 12 months, in all parts of the county. We think this is due largely to lack of dog vaccination.

Due to the fact that we have had several cases of rabies in the county, we will have to enforce the law to the fullest extent. Your cooperation to meet these clinics and get your dog vaccinated will be greatly appreciated. It should be of personal interest to each individual to aid in elimination of rabies by having their dog vaccinated.

Below is a list of places where the clinics will be held. The price will be $1.00 per dog until September 1st, then it will be $2.00. Please meet at your most convenient place.

Central Alabama Offers Varied Types Of Low-Cost Vacations

If you haven't already taken your vacation and are shopping around for a spot that would please the entire family, without wrecking the old budget, then you are in luck. Central Alabama is the place to go. A week on any of the lovely Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes would be enjoyed by everybody in the family from young Davy to Aunt Lucy. The several comfortable lodges, located on the lake of your choice, offer clean airy sleeping quarters, with or without prepared meals, boating, fishing, swimming and accomodations for cool, quiet relaxation.

Think it over. Why spend all your vacation time driving the crowded highways to some far away place to be broiled and pestered by insects, when right here at home in Central Alabama, a complete and wholesome vacation awaits your beckon call. It's cheaper too.

Full details for a fine inexpensive, yet most comfortable, vacation lodge can be acquired by writing the Secretary, Chamber of Commerce, Alexander City, Wetumpka. Tallassee or Clanton.

With the fading days of June the fishing picture is revolving to an early morning and late afternoon proposition. The hot summer weather is now upon us and the finny tribes are doing most of their feeding in the cool of the day. Willow flies are still out in the largest hatches most fishermen have ever seen and future prospects for outstanding catches are looking pretty good.

The Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest weigh-in stations are continuing their good job of weighing in the big ones.

Lake Ley

G. O. Norred's General Store, Talledega Springs, reports: B. E. Pope, Talladega, used a cane pole and worms to creel a nice catch of Shellcrackers, Rock Springs Creek. Mr. Pope's whopper weighed in at 13 ounces. Mrs. Bertha Morris, Talladega Springs, fished with friends at Rock Springs and together they accounted for 43 Bream. The best of the lot was a Shellcracker weighing 15 ounces.

Lake Mitchell

Traywick's Landing, mouth of Yellow Leaf Creek, near Clanton, reports: Earl Hale, Columbiana, tried the upper reaches of Lake Mitchell with a duster for bait and enjoyed boating a nice string of Largemouth Bass. Earl's Whopper catch was 5 pounds 4 ounces.

Lake Martin

E. V. Estes' Store, between Eclectic and Kowaliga Beach, reports: M. L. Hardin, Eclectic, brought in a large string of Bluegills averaging 8 ounces each. H. B. and brother J. C. Farren, Eclectic, fished near Kowaliga Creek Bridge for a few minutes last week and caught 4 Largemouth Bass totaling 10¼ pounds. The largest individual catch weighed 4½ pounds.

Want a map of the lake? You can get a nice little folder containing maps of Lakes Lay, Mitchell Jordan and Martin. Just direct your request to the Alabama Power Co Birmingham, Alabama. These maps will fit into your tackle box and they show how to find your way to the various fishing camps. The supply is limited and they are free, while they last, upon request.

Some of the fishing camp weighing-in stations haven't been heard from this year. We know that you are busy and that nice strings of fish are being brought in at your place, but we can't tell the fishermen about them unless you tell us. The summer slump will be upon us before long and if nothing is mentioned about your camp while fishing is good, there will not be anything to say later on.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: It's an exciting experience to hook a fish and to try to land it. But don't let your excitement cause you to forget where you are. A boat does not provide stable footing and even under normal circumstances, standing up in your boat may be dangerous. In the excitement of catching a fish, you may become overbalanced or the boat may tip you out. Don't let carelessness ruin your vacation and cause you worry and heartache. Make sure that everybody around you follows safety rules, and don't forget to obey them yourself.

Many Poultrymen Plan To Keep Yearling Hens

Auburn—Hanging on to yearling hens a little longer than usual this year may prove to be profitable. And at present it looks as if many Alabama egg producers may take advantage of this system to cash in on rising egg prices and smaller pullet replacements expected this fall.

However, API Extension Poultryman John Weeks points out that this practice won't pay off unless a profitable production level is maintained among the year-old hens. Speaking in Auburn this week, he offered the following suggestions to farmers who plan to keep yearling hens later than usual:

Use lights very carefully to maintain production and to delay molting. Don't keep the birds after they have stopped laying profitably and have begun to molt, which will likely be in October or early November. And don't keep the hens in the laying house after the building is needed for the pullet flock.

Weeks explained that morning lights are needed for the hens now. Turn on a 40-watt bulb for each 40 or 50 hens for an hour before daylight each morning and increase the lighting period about 30 minutes every two weeks until the hens are moved from the laying house. Then the birds are put in temporary shelters or at any time are handled before they are moved from the laying house, start all-nite lights. Larger bulbs should be used as the year progresses and more stimulation is needed.

These hens should be watched very closely, and birds that molt or go out of production should be culled, said the specialist. "Sell the entire flock as soon as production drops below the money-making level," he concluded.

Today, Mr. Average U.S. Citizen can buy twice as much milk, twice as much chicken, and nearly twice as much bread with an hour's take-home pay as he could have bought with an hour's earnings 30 years ago.

Cook Vegetables Carefully To Retain Value

Aubburn—Most rules for preserving the food value of boiled vegetables call for little more than restraint—in the amount of liquid used amount of fat added ,and length of cooking time.

Vegetables should be boiled in a small amount of salted water so that water-soluble vitamins and minerals will not be lost. The preservation of valuable Vitamin A. . . a fat-soluble nutrient. . . is the reason for not using large amounts of fat in cooking vegetables. A short cooking time is recommended for the preservation of food value, flavor, and color.

Most vegetables should be cooked in closed containers. Exceptions to these rules are the strong-flavored food that are best prepared in open pans with large amounts of water.

Ebernezer Baptist Church At Stanton

There has been no change in the Church Calendar. To our members, we urge each one to be present next Sunday and help carry the work on.

Our Sunday School attendance was 109 and we do appreciate each one taking part and helping to make this number. There were several of our good members out, and to them we want to express our regrets of their absence.

There will be a Deacons meeting next Saturday night at the usual time, and it is hoped that the attendance will be 100%.

Next Sunday after the morning worship service there will be the regular business meeting of the Church. We hope all members will be present.

The Young Men elected by the church to be Deacons will be ordained next Sunday, July 3 at 2:30 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to be present.

Many thanks to our loyal men who took part in work last Saturday loading, hauling and sawing the logs into lumber that will help in building the pastor's home. Thanks to Mr. Millard Reynolds for the use of his saw mill. Mr. Melvin Carter has been very important in this work by furnishing the equipment with which to get this work done. We are so very grateful for this wonderful cooperation.

Please be much in prayer for our church program, let us remember the saying of St. Matthew 4:4. "Man shall not live by bread alone."

—By Ben

Did you ever go into a store and buy something and then find you didn't have enough money to pay for it? We did Tuesday morning. We went to the Dixie Cafe and ate our breakf t in cool comfort. Just about the time we got to the last biscuit and half cup of coffee the light dawned—we didn't have a crying dime. Well, dishwashing isn't one of our better accomplishments so the lady said she would put us on the cuff for the price of the breakfast. We're supposed to take it back to her when we go down thataway next time. We take a solumn vow, that ain't going to happen again until next time.

Our River Guard had a chance to show its worth in a hurry didn't it? Congratulations to our Sheriff and members of the Guard on their fast and systematic efforts in the finding of the Easterling woman Honday morning.

Did you hear about the careful driver who stopped at the railroad crossing to stop, look and listen? All he heard was the sound of the driver behind him crashing into his rear bumper.

Mrs. W. A. Reynolds appeared on TV at Montgomery last week. So now we have a television personality in our midst. Congratulations Mrs. Reynolds, we didn't get to see you but we did see the beautiful flowers presented you on the program in which you appeared.

The young lady stopped at a one pump gasoline station in the mountains and, after the tank was filled with gas, she said: "Do you have a rest room here?" "No mam" said the gas man. "But you'll find a mighty comfortable rocker up there on the porch."

Thoughts while writing: One death already in Chilton County since the long Fourth holiday started. This is Monday morning. Hope death takes a holiday today. . . Rev. Don Esty is a credit to his calling. He has done a lot for the Presbyterian Church here. . . air conditioning spoils you. Even when you are hot under the collar, you're cool as a cucumber. . . which reminds us, some of the stores and business places in town keep their places too cool. . . You can start getting ready for the hospital opening. It won't be long now. . . Saw Bob Tabor and Polly Saturday. Bob was formerly manager of Radio Station WKLF here. He is now at Albertville, Alabama. . . Their home here is for sale. . . Chilton County Lions Memorial Singing was a big success. . . If you want to live to be 80 keep your speedometer below 60.

The Theatre Cafe fixes the nicest barbecue plates. Mrs. Robinson specializes on plates like this on special occasions such as the Fourth of July etc., on Christmas and Thanksgiving, she specializes on turkey dinners. But let's get back to that Fourth of July barbecue plate. It was something to celebrate about. And we bet those folks down at Theatre Cafe would fix you one just about anytime your appetite called for one, or two, or three.

Revival Starts 10th At Mt Pleasant

Jaycees Honor 2 4-H Leaders With Trip

The Junior Chamber of Commerce again sponsors an important phase of the 4-H Club program here in Chilton County. They are making possible a trip for one outstanding 4-H Club boy and girl to attend the State 4-H Club Camp in Auburn, July 5th-9th.

The youngsters who are being sponsored by the Jaycees are Lloyd Mims, Jr. of Verbena and Carolyn Cox of Rt. 2, Clanton. These youngsters are considered among the leaders in 4-H work and will represent Chilton County well.

During the 1953 Peach Festival the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored the County 4-H Club Peach King and Queen. A beautiful float was constructed by the Jaycee members, thus adding color and beauty to the peach parade as well as highlighting the 4-H Club program.

Cancer Officers, Helpers Commend Chairman Yeargan

E. R. Yeargan

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. E. R. Yeargan of Thorsby, Chilton County Campaign Chairman for the 1955 Cancer Crusade. Mr. Yeargan did a splendid piece of work during the recent campaign, finishing fourth to the highest on the Honor Roll of 21 counties who went over the top. The quota for Chilton County was $1,325.00. By tireless effort Mr. Yeargan exceeded his quota, attaining the amount of $1,738.44. The County Commander of Chilton County, Mrs. Hugh Jones, speaks highly in her commendation of Mr. Yeargan, "he is a most conscientious and tireless worker." He selects the workers for his committee with meticulous care. He also served as County Crusade chairman in the 1954 Cancer Crusade, and made this same remarkable achievement. He is known throughout the County for his ability, and his pleasant approach. In receiving congratulations from the County Commander, Mr. Yeargan said that he attributed the success of the Cancer Crusade "to the fine work of his committee, who gave of their time and efforts, marching down the long stretch of the campaign, tirelessly, dedicated to the noble cause of saving human lives in this work of the American Cancer Society." Mr. Yeargan also said that several members of the Committee specifically remarked of the warm feeling in their district of the work that had been done, through the American Cancer Society for indingent cancer patients, and that in many of these sections people were most eager to help.

All-Stars Win Three In Row

By B. B. Bates

Mars Hill, 15-14—

The All-Stars defeated Mars Hill in a Saturday afternoon game by a score of 15 to 14. The Stars trailed 12 to 6 going into the bottom of the sixth but scored 6 times on seven hits only to see Mars Hill go back into the lead with two more runs in the seventh. There was no more scoring until the ninth. The Stars then got busy and sent five men to the plate. Four hits and one walk tallied three runs for the Stars and pulled the game out of the fire. The winning pitcher was Grant.

Wayne Guin led the hitters with a single, double and triple. Grant came through with three hits. Minor, Lowery, Wyatt, and Robinson had two hits each.

Prattville, 5-3—

The Stars treated the local fans to a well played game Sunday and came out on top of Prattville 5 to 3. Lowery started on the mound for the Stars despite a badly bruised side and pitched four hit ball for 8 and one third innings giving way to Bobby Wyatt in the ninth who retired the side giving Lowery the win. Harry Ellison playing with an injured foot started two fast double plays that were a big aid in giving the Stars another victory. Lamar Edwards played a fine defensive game although being injured when struck in the face by a hard hit ground ball. The hitters were again led by Wayne Guin with three more hits. Bobby Easterling continued his fine hitting with two singles.

Dairy Producers, 8-3—

The All-Stars finished out the week in fine fashion by making it three straight wins over the Dairy Producers team of Montgomery by a score of 8 to 3.

Bobby Wyatt pitched all the way for the Stars and really did a neat

Red Cross Bloodmobile Coming Here In Search For Donors

The Red Cross Bloodmobile unit from Birmingham will visit Chilton County again July 15th for the purpose of collecting blood. All blood donors whose cards will soon expire are advised to renew same by offering to donate a pint of blood at our local center on this date.

As has been explained numbers of times, in order that you and your immediate family remain covered for FREE blood in time of need— it is required by Red Cross that you offer to donate a pint of blood every 8 months; which will keep your blood donor card valid. As you probably know, this card—when presented to the hospital or the doctor in charge of the patient, he or she will receive as much blood as is needed, WITHOUT CHARGE or REPLACEMENT. of course, there is never any charge for Red Cross blood ,however, the doctor reserves the right to make a charge for giving transfusions.

The citizens in Chilton County should be very proud of the opportunity to participate in one of the most effective and efficient lifesaving systems of our time. All doctors are placing more and more dependence upon the administration of whole blood to seriously ill and injured patients. Nothing can serve as a substitute for the giving of whole blood. One out of every five persons admitted to a hospital needs at least one pint of blood. A blood donor not only reaps the satisfaction of knowing he or she is helping their fellowman but is also performing a merciful service to humanity. Also bear in mind, you and your immediate family are getting "blood insurance" for even offering to donate blood through Red Cross. In Chilton County we have an expiration date of 8 months.

For the benefit of those who have asked the questions, "Why do you need to collect blood now that the fighting has ceased in Korea." As everyone knows, although there is no fighting—there are still men in the service. We also have men in Veteran hospitals; also there are men and women in civilian hospitals requiring blood. Your Chilton County Chapter has records showing that a new defense contract was drawn up with our Birmingham Regional Blood Center requesting a quota of 4,500 pints—a portion of which our local chapter is responsible. Shipments began on this quota last March and the quota was expected to to be filled this month. Another quota for the Defense will be set up for the next quarter. The records also show it to be an actual fact that Veteran Hospitals are using more (Red Cross blood) than ever before. Requirements for civilian hospitals in the Birmingham area, which includes our County—have also increased. For the information of those who may not know—In our Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton 7 to 9 pints of Red Cross blood are used each month; however, in May this year there were 16 pints shipped here. This does not include the number of pints being used every month by Chilton County citizens who enter other hospitals in this area.

It will prevent confusion at our local center here on July 15th—if you will call 216 or 701 and make an appointment to give a pint of blood. We are required to notify Birmingham how many prospective donors we will have in order that the Blood Center there, will know how many registered nurses and also equipment will be needed at the local center. Your local Red Cross Blood Center will be open on Friday, July 15th from 12 noon until 6:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Clanton. 26-2t

Anyone who is interested and has loved ones buried in Mulberry Cemetery and would like to contribute to this fund, you may send it to the church treasurer, Mr. Casey Cummings, Maplesville, Ala., Rt. 2.

Local Farmers May Obtain Loans For Conservation

Chilton County Farmers can obtain loans from the Farmers Home Administration to finance soil conservation practices on land which has been diverted from crop production, Joe Murphree, County Supervisor-Appraiser, of the Farmer's Home Administration, said today. Many farmers are planning to use the former crop land for permanent pasture, he said.

Under Secretary True D. Morse has pointed out that in many areas there is not enough land in hay and pasture to support the livestock now on farms, especially the all-time record number of cattle. Cattle numbers this year in this country total 95.4 million head which is more than ever before. The nation's experience with drought in the past three years has demonstrated that most farmers do not have enough pasture and hay reserves to protect their livestock operations, and the threat of drought is still with us in 1955, according to Mr. Morse. Good pastures and high quality hay and forage are essential in cutting livestock production cost and expanding income from beef cattle, dairy cows, and hogs.

The new soil and water conservation loans which are available from Farmers Home Administration may be used for land leveling, brush removal, seed bed preparation, purchase of seed and fertilizer, and for all other items that go into establishment of good permanent pasture.

Credit is extended only to farmers unable to obtain the financing they need from other sources. All applications are approved by the local County Committee of the Farmers Home Administration.

Applications are made at the county office of the Farmers Home Adminsitration which is located in Clanton.

Loans are made by the Farmers Home Administration out of the funds advanced by private lending institutions. The government insures the repayment of the loan. Practices carried out with the loans must be the type approved by the Soil Conservation Service and the Extension Service.

Preaching at 11:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.
B.T.U. at 7.00 p.m.

Prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Our Sunday attendance was 111 We would like very much to bring this number up next Sunday, therefore each member should make an effort to invite at least one this week that we may bring our attendance to at least 115.

The ordanation service was conducted by Brother Lockhart and Brother Stuckey. Brother Lockhart brought the charge to the Church and Brother Stuckey to the Deacons. Brother Eddie Ruddick prayed an excellent prayer.

The B.T.U. Director, Bro. Jimm Green, ask that we make a greater effort to pull the grade up by using those things that will give us a better average. Then one other thing to do is go after the ones that were not there.

Our pastor brought to our attention in his sermon Sunday night "excuses". God is good to us, but the christians seem to make some sort of excuse when it comes to doing the Lord's wishes. We should take a second look at our Sunday School lesson.

We had as our visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Allen (Miss Willa Dean Smith) of Panama City, Fla. Miss Smith was one of our best church workers before moving.

The churches in our County should make a great effort to reach the unsaved, there are many. It will be well for us to remember the verse in First Kings 18:21. "How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him; but if baal, then follow him.

Precautions Are Still Necessary Against Polio

Montgomery—Although we are undoubtedly on the verge of the partial control of poliomyelitis with Salk vaccine, it is wise to remember and take certain time-honored precautions to prevent our children from contracting this disease, said the Alabama eHalth Office today

Dr. Gill said that tonsillectomies for children, for example, should be postponed during the summer months unless they are absolutely necessary.

"Neither should children be allowed to become fatigued excessively," Dr. Gill said. "The rule of exercise followed by rest is a good one."

There is still much to be learned about the way polio is transmitted from one person to another, but the precautions listed here and the value of god personal hygiene are believed to play a part in preventing the disease's spread.

4-H'ers Should Prepare Cattle For Spring Shows

Time's getting short for Alabama 4-H'ers who plan to start beef calves for club projects this year. Youngsters who hope to produce prime and choice animals before spring shows roll around need to get their calves at once, if they don't already have them.

The clubsters are reminded that good calves go fast. Youngsters ought to make arrangements for their animals even before they are ready to start them. Calves bought now should weigh 500 pounds or more. Beef cattle specialists advise young livestockmen to start gentling their calves as soon as the animals have become accustomed to new surroundings and feed.

Some 15,615 Alabama boys and girls carried 4-H beef cattle projects last year, and the prospective good 1955 corn crop should mean that the number of beef projects will be even higher this year.

State Firms Pay $145 Thousand In Back Wages

Birmingham—Regional Director Homer E. Krog of the U. S. Department of Labor' Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions said today that 289 employees as a result of investigations made under Federal Wage and Hour laws during the 12 months' period just ended.

The payments were restitution for failure to comply principally with the overtime provisions of the Federal Wage and Hour law, which applies to employees engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, and the Public Contracts Act, which applies to Government supply contracts amounting to more than $10,000.

Total payments of this type for the same period in the Birmingham region, composed of the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, and South Carolina, were $728,096.27, made by 1,392 employers to 9,353 employees.

According to Regional Director Krog, most of the violations found were inadvertent, caused by misunderstanding or honest misapplication of the two laws and the regulations set up under them. "That is why approximately 95 percent of violation cases are settled administratively, rather than in court," he said. "We know from experience that most employers want to comply with the law. When violations are found, the Divisions show the employer how to come into compliance and in most instances provide the machinery for him to make restitution of wages due his employees."

GUARD INVITES COUNTY INTEREST—

The local National Guard Unit, in the person of M-Sgt. William R. Popwell has expressed it's wishes to aid the County by cooperating in any way possible to make the new Guard Armory available to the public as an auditorium.

In expressing this interest, Sgt. Popwell said that the people of the County had done much to help the local unit and make it one of the best there is, anywhere; and the unit feels that the least it can do is cooperate with county officials and organizations in the matter of an auditorium.

The public may use the armory, as is, at any time that there is not official business going on there. It is estimated that $3500 would make the armory into an auditorium that would fit any need of our County and since we cannot reasonably afford one at this time it might do well for our officials and clubs to consider such an offer. You, as a taxpayer, can be talking it around and see what others' opinions are on the matter. May be an opportunity we wouldn't want to pass up.

ALABAMA CAN AFFORD BETTER SCHOOLS—

According to recent statistics, Alabama taxpayers pay the lowest taxes of any state in the nation. Sounds unbelievable doesn't it, that anyone pays more taxes than we do here in our state.

The per capita taxes of the United States (average) is $134.60. Alabama's per capita taxes are $74.98. Next lowest are Arkansas and Kentucky with $76.49 and $79.19 respectively. Highest in the nation is Oklahoma paying a per capita tax of $169.28. We'll admit Alabama has few oil wells compared with Oklahoma, but Alabama has the children right on, who need decent educations.

In percent of income, Alabamians pay next to the lowest taxes in the South. The lowest is Kentucky. This would indicate that it is not Alabama's lack of finances so much as it is a lack of interest and a general feeling of indifference when it comes to higher learning and better educations for our children.

We'd do well, while we're so concerned over our teacher's rightful salaries, to think about our children's rightful inheritance of better educations. Which is more important?

The per capita income in Alabama in the year of 1940 was $268, in 1947 it was $775 and in 1953 was $1,043. Has the percentage that each child gets in their education risen accordingly.

No, it hasn't.

The amount of expenditures by each pupil in Alabama in 1954 was $118 compared with a national average of 247. Only two states were indicated as spending less than Alabama on their children's education.

These figures do not make us proud. Not when we consider the amount of money spent annually on pleasures and other things compared with these figures on our children's learning.

We, and other states around us had better wake up to the fact that the only way to keep peace in the world, should we attain it, is through higher learning and a higher standard of living. Consistent and unparalled education is what we need in our classrooms to assure ourselves of lasting progress and greatness. Then and only then, can we say we have done our part toward gaining lasting world peace. Not only, is this true of our state of Alabama, but of the entire country and the sooner realized, the sooner our children will see more finances for their learning and the sooner we can be proud of our educational system.

Report from Washington

BY

'ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

After two days of debate, the House of Representatives approved last Thursday a $3.3 billion foreign aid authorization bill. Known as the Mutual Security Act of 1955, the measure was passed on a 273 to 128 vote.

This legislation does not appropriate funds but, as an authorization bill, it limits foreign aid expenditures in fiscal year 1956 to $3.3 billion. Later, Congress must approve legislation to appropriate the actual money for the mutual security program. The appropriation cannot be more than the authorization, and it is usually considerably less.

The bill authorizes $122 million less than President Eisenhower requested for foreign aid and $139 million less than members of the Senate had voted when they approved the measure a month ago. It will be necessary for a conference committee to work out a compromise between the two versions of the legislation.

A passed by the House, the foreign aid bill authorizes approximately $2.4 billion for mutual defense support, $182 million for development assistance, $172 million for Point Four technical assistance, and $459 million for other programs.

During the consideration of this legislation, I offered an amendment that would have made it mandatory that not less than 50% of all development assistance be made available in loans rather than in grants. This development assistance consists primarily of economic aid in the form of grants that will be made to certain nations, most of whom have no mutual defense agreements with us.

In support of my amendment, I pointed out that our government has loaned considerable sums to foreign countries since World War II and that none of these loans are in default. Of the approximately $14.1 billion made in loans during that period, the sum of $3.2 billion has already been repaid and interest on the loans in the amount of $1.3 billion has been collected. I frankly admitted during the discussion of the amendment that some of the loans we make may never be repaid. Yet, as I pointed out, if our development assistance is extended as an outright gift instead of as a loan, these funds will be gone forever.

Although I was unable to muster the necessary votes to pass my amendment, the House later adopted an amendment directing that all development assistance be made on a basis of loans instead of grants "wherever possible."

There were a number of other amendments proposed, but the 1955 Mutual Security Act as finally adopted contained all the funds that had received prior committee approval.

-Reserve Bill-

Last Friday members of the House approved a revised version of the President's recommended military reserve bill. This action came after the House had rejected an amendment introduced by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York that would have barred the assignment of any reservists to segregated National Guard and Reserve units. It is believed that President Eisenhower helped to defeat the Powell amendment by stating that segregation as an issue is "extraneous" on a national defense matter.

After deletion of the Powell and other so-called "crippling" amendments, members of the House approved the bill in almost the same form as it was reported from the Armed Services Committee. This National Reserve and Manpower Bill is designed to strengthen our armed forces by increasing the nation's "ready reserve". These reserve forces can be called up in time of emergency to supplement the regular armed services.

YOUR Health

RINGWORM OF THE FEET

Because the preponderance of cases of ringworm of the feet seem to occur among persons frequenting swimming pools, gymnasiums and shower rooms, the condition has taken on the popular name of athlete's foot. Actually the condition is not limited to these public sources of infection, since it can be picked up from the floor of the bathroom or bathtub in the home of some one previously infected has deposited the organism believed responsible for it.

Fungi, which are vegetable organisms similar to those causing the mold on stale bread, are considered the causative agents. They thrive on damp, moist areas of the skin and may lie dormant for months and even years. The condition is not confined to the feet but may appear in any area of the body that is susceptible to moisture, such as the groin, armpits, the scalp and hands. Thus the medical term for the condition, dermatophytosis, means any skin disease caused by fungi.

Actually the term ringworm is incorrect, since the scaly condition associated with it does not always take the shape of a ring and a worm is not the source of the infection.

Prevention of ringworm of the feet is most important since once it develops and becomes acute, great discomfort is experienced. The itching associated with the disease becomes, at times, almost unbearable. In fact, the condition can become so severe that loss of time from work results.

In prevention of ringworm of the feet, good hygiene is essential. Careful attention to the areas between the toes is necessary, particularly in bathing and drying the feet. In washing, the toes should be separated and cleaned thoroughly but gently. The same procedure should be followed in drying the feet. This is important in all seasons of the year, but particularly so during the summer months when humid and excessive heat cause the body to perspire more.

Dr. Harold W. Seever, talking on the Baptist Hour, Sunday, explains the need for a "fresh vision of God", and tells why this can be the way into serene living. Dr. Seever's message dsecribes how this better understanding of God determines the quality of a person's life.

FAMOUS MONTH—

This month of July brings with it many memories and many historical anniversaries. The Battle of Gettysburg, the most important battle in the War Between the States was fought on July 1, 2 and 3, 1863.

Independence Day, of course, observed the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the resolution introduced by Richard Henry Lee on July 2nd.

General Edward Braddock, sent to America in 1754 to command British troops here, was defeated in a battle near Ft. Duquesne, the present sight of Pittsburg, Pa. Nearly all of Braddock's men were wiped out and 63 of his 89 officers were either killed or wounded. (Col. George Washington was a member of the General's staff in this battle).

The first Woman Suffrage Convention was held on July 19, 1848 and Brigham Young and his followers reached the Great Salt Lake valley on July 24.

Famous birthdays in the month of July include: Calvin Coolidge, 4; Admiral Farragut, 5; John D. Rockefeller, 8; John Quincy Adams, 11; John Jacob Astor, 17; John Paul Jones, 18; and many others.

Things we -SEE- and Hear

by "Tuck"

Got a new businessman around town. An up and coming businessman mind you. He's young Pat Murrah, and during these summer months away from the grind of "higher education" he is finding time to help his dad, Cecil with all the car repairs and such up at the Lambert Motor Co. He's a very busy young feller and he sure has a winning smile, which, by itself, will help him a long way up the ladder. You watch him.

Speaking of smiles, we think nobody quite enjoys life like Mr. A. J. Lecroy. He was in to see the boss the other day and I'll tell you, he's got what it takes to spread good feeling. Mr. Lecroy would say after you've been around as long as he has, you'd learn to do the same, but we say, not many folks ever find winning ways. Life is certainly worth living when you can feel that way about it. If you can just shine on the outside, you can do a lot of good in the world. Wish there could be more like him.

Got a joker in the crowd. Went down to patronize Clarence Easterling at the "31" Service Station the other day. We asked for a dollars worth of his high octane, knock proof, road gripping petrol, and he says, "you want it all back here", pointing out the gas tank. Now I ask you, is that any way to talk to a feller who can't buy more than a dollars worth of petrol at a time?

If opinions were facts we could cure a lot of ills, eh.

Learned recently that Jack Jones, a former employee of the CCN, has gone in for a Robinson Crusoe type of entertainment. He threw a bottle out of a window in the Selma Times Journal, where he is now employed, into the Alabama River. His name and address was inside the bottle. Recently the Ala. Press Ass'n. contacted him and said that someone had traced the name and address in the bottle. Seems that within about five or six months time the bottle floated a distance of 220 miles before it was picked up. Don't know what kind of bottle it was, but it seems to us that it would have taken something stronger than water to propel it all that distance in that length of time. We'll bet he's started a fad at the Selma Times Journal.

By the by folks. It's about time to start thinking about the Chilton Fair as you'll notice throughout this issue. The date is set for September 5th through the 9th and we're trying to make it the biggest and best yet. After the County Agents and the Home Demonstration girls got through last year, the record will be hard to top as far as success goes. Anyhow, they're out to try it and with the cooperation of the folks around the county, they'll do it again this year. The Agent's office and the HD ladies have done an excellent job with our county fair and they deserve all the cooperation we can give them. The Fair is one of those items mentioned that can put us on the map and make us proud of our county. Do all you can to help this year. . . mainly, attend the Fair.

"You're shiftless, no account, won't work, won't care for your family and you're a bad liar. What have you to say for yourself?"
"Well dear, no man's perfect.'

"Your husband have any hobbies?" Asked a neighbor. "No." said Mrs. Phinkle. "He has rheumatiz and the hives now and then, but he ain't never had no hobbies."

"My son wants to be a stock car driver. What must I do?"
"I wouldn't stand in his way if I were you."

Mr. G. T. Watts of Billingsley, Rt. 1 came in to "look around" the other day and detailed this "tale" to us. His daughter, Willie Nell, was out in the barnyard when an old hen layed an "aig". On observing the egg, which was broken (by the fall we suppose), they found that there was another egg, shell and all, inside the one that was broken. Mr. Watts told us that the inside egg was normal size and the outside one was a sho'nuff aig. He should write a book, and call it "A Whole In One".

We can't see why the Russians aren't satisfied; we've yet to see one that didn't look overfed.

Questions Answered-

Ala.'s Rigid New Egg Law Will Affect Local Farmers, Merchants

The Alabama Egg Law, and how it effects producers, retailers, and consumers, was studied by approximately 40 Chilton County poultrymen last Friday morning at the Clanton City Hall. Mr. O. D. DeLoach, Manager of Piggly - Wiggly and Mr. H. J. Taylor of Coopers, both retailers were also on hand to find out how to comply with the law.

John D. Sellers, Ass't County Agent, introduced Mr. Harry Shaddix and Miss Mary Tinney of the State Department of Agriculture, whose duties are educational as well as regulatory.

The following questions and answers may help you further understand the law and appreciate its possibilities for the consumer and producer.

General Provisions For Dealers

1. Q. Is it true that I must have a permit to sell eggs in Alabama now?

A. A law passed by the Alabama Legislature in April 1955 requires that any dealer who sells as many as 60 dozen eggs (two cases) to be used a food in Alabama in any one week must have an annual permit to sell eggs. If you produce all the eggs you sell you do not have to have a permit or if you ship all your eggs out of Alabama you do not have to have an Alabama permit.

2. Q. How can I get such a permit?

A. By writing to the Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries, P. O. Box 220, Montgomery, Ala.

3. Q. How much time does each permit cover?

A. Permits expire on September 30 each year. Any permits issued from now until September 30, 1956 will expire on that date and shall be renewable on or before October 1, 1956.

4. Q. What will a permit cost?

A. Nothing. There is no cost or charge for this permit.

5. Q. Are there any taxes or fees charged to dealers in connection with this law?

A. An inspection fee of 4c per 30 doz. eggs (one case) or 2c for 15 dozen (½ case shall be collected from the dealer first selling or offering the eggs for sale. Fees for the same eggs shall be collected only once so long as they remain in the original container or containers.

6. Q. What about eggs shipped into Alabama from other states? Is there a special tax on them?

A. No distinction whatsoever is made in this law between Alabama-grown eggs and eggs produced in other states except eggs cannot be labeled as "Alabama" eggs that are not produced in Alabama.

Retailers

1. Q. I am a small food retailer and usually do not sell more than 40-50 dozen eggs a week. Must I secure a permit to sell eggs?

A. No. Unless you sell as many as 60 dozen eggs in any one week during the year you do not come under the provision of this law.

2. Q. I am a retailer and handle several hundred cases of eggs each year. I buy my eggs directly from nearby farmers who deliver them to my store. Is it necessary for me to have a permit?

A. Yes. If you sell as many as 60 dozen eggs in any one week it will be necessary for you to secure a permit regardless of the source from which you buy the eggs.

3. Q. If I buy my eggs directly from producers, do they have to be labeled to comply with these law?

A. Yes. If you sell as many as 60 dozen in any week from any source, it will be necessary that the eggs be labeled as outlined in the law as follows:

(a) If in case lots, the label must be on each case or partial case and must have the name and address of the person or firm who packed the eggs, the weight class and grade of the eggs, and the date packed plainly printed on the label. Letters indicating the name and address of the packer and the weight class and grade must be at least ¼ of an inch high. Letters showing the date packed must be at least ⅛ of an inch high.

(b) If the eggs are sold in cartons, each carton must have the name and the address of the person or firm who packaged the eggs, the weight class and grade and the date you packed them clearly printed on it. Letters indicating the name and address of the packager, the weight class and grade must be at least 3-16 of an inch high. Letters howing the date packaged mut be at leaf ⅛ of an inch high.

(c) If you sell bulk eggs from an open container, each container must have a placard or heavy cardboard label at least seven inches by seven inches on it on which is clearly printed the weight class and grade in letters at least one inch high.

4. Q. Is it necessary for me to pay any tax or fees for selling eggs I buy directly from producers?

A. Yes. An inspection fee of 4c per 30 dozen eggs (one case) must be paid by the first dealer handling the eggs.

5. Q. What are my responsibilities as an egg retailer under the Alabama egg law in respect to eggs I buy from a wholesale dealer??

A. First you must have a permit to sell eggs. Then you should be sure that the eggs you buy have met the labeling requirements, or take steps immediately upon receiving them to see that they meet, these requirements as explained above. Finally, you should keep the eggs refrigerated or move them fast enough to insure that they retain the grade shown on the label until sold.

6. Q. Suppose it is found that some of the eggs I have for sale in my store labeled Grade fail to grade out that high upon inspection. What penalty may I suffer?

A. You may be charged with violation of the labeling provision of the law and thereby be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor and punished as prescribed by law for such an offense. Your permit also may be revoked.

Facilities needed for grading shell eggs for Quality and Size

1. A DARKENED INSPECTION OR CANDLING ROOM with no cross beams of light between the grader and the candling light. By "dark" is meant a room darkened to the extent that a person entering the room from bright daylight would be temporarily blinded. The cross beams of light to be avoided are those which are due to improperly closed curtains, doors, windows, cracks in the partitions, or unshielded candling lights, nailing bench lights or room lights.

2. CANDLING LIGHT. There are many different styles and types of candling lights commercially available in which the light intensity and the size of the candler opening vary considerably. Most of these candling lights, however, are satisfactory if they are adjusted to provide comfort and proper illumination for the job. Accuracy of the candling results shall be checked by breaking out an occasional egg and checking the broken out appearance with the quality determination by candling.

The size of the light bulb used can vary considerably, depending upon the size of the candler opening or whether or not a reflector is used. A 60 to 75 watt frosted bulb is usually satisfactory in a light without a reflector. Inexperienced egg graders often make the mistake of using too large a light bulb in their egg candling light. The opening to which the egg is placed for examination shall be no larger than 1⅛ inch in diameter. (Approximately the size of a quarter) The opening at the bottom of the candling light should be no larger than necessary to permit sufficient light to escape to enable the grader to properly classify the eggs with respect to shell texture, shape, stain and dirt. Lights shall be so mounted that the "case light" falls into the case being graded. It is very important that every egg candling light has a "case light." The candling light should be adjusted so that the light opening to which the egg is placed is approximately on the same level as the grader's elbows. The interior of the candling light shall be kept clean and free from dust to assure maximum light efficiency.

3. AN INDIVIDUAL EGG SCALE capable of being balanced and checked for accuracy at the time of grading. The scales are to be kept in a level position when in use and shall be checked each time its position is shifted.

Three States Offer Bonuses To Veterans

According to information reaching Bob Fullen, Veterans Service Officer, State Department of Veterans Affairs, West Virginia 1955 State Legislature has reopened the filing period for veterans of WW I and WW II and also approved a resolution to place the question of paying a bonus to Korean veterans on the ballot at the next general election.

Eligible are veterans of WW I and WW II, who had at least 90 days honorable wartime service and who were residents of West Virginia for at least six months immediately prior to entering active duty. The date for WW I is April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918, and for WW II, it is December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945. The bonus is paid at the rate of $10 a month for domestic duty and $15 a month for foreign duty up to a $400 maximum. Domestic duty is $300.

Korean veterans from Connecticut will be paid at the rate of $10 per month for each month of honorable service between June 27, 1950 and October 27, 1953. Applications were available July 1.

Pennsylvania has extended the time limit for WW II to December 31, 1956 for filing application for bonuses paid by that state.

VETERAN'S CORNER

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. Could I get a GI loan to pay off household expenses such as grocery bills, doctor bills and furniture bills?

A. No. Under the law, GI loans may not be used for such purposes.

Q. I am a totally and permanently disabled World War II veteran. For that reason, VA waived premium payments on my GI term insurance policy. Would I be permitted to convert my term policy to a permanent plan, even though the premiums are under waiver for disability?

A. Yes. You may convert your term policy to any permanent plan except endowment. You could choose between Ordinary Life, 20-Payment Life or 30-Payment Life.

Q. I am receiving disability compensation payments from VA. My disability has recently worsened. Would a statement to that effect, by my own physician, qualify me for higher payments?

A. The statement alone would not suffice. It would have to be followed by an official VA examination, and reconsideration of your case.

Q. I am a World War I veteran drawing a disability pension. In figuring my annual income, would I have to include the rental value of the small house that I own and live in?

A. No. Under the conditions you cite, the rental value of your home would not be considered as income, for VA pension purposes.

Q. I am working for my Master's degree under the World War II GI Bill. My school does not offer a language course, and yet I need it in order to fulfill my Master's requirements. May I take a language course in a different school?

A. Yes, so long as your school specifically designates the courses to be taken at the second school, and so long as the credits you receive will be accepted at full value

Q. I am the widow of a World War I veteran, receiving a monthly VA pension. I am receiving Survivors' Insurance benefits, based on my late husband's employment Are those benefits considered income, for pension purposes?

A. Survivors' Insurance benefits, which you receive on the basis of your late husband's employment, are considered as income.

Q. I borrowed some money on my permanent National Service Life Insurance policy. If, by chance, I can't repay the principal or interest, will my policy be cancelled?

A. Your policy will not be cancelled until your total indebtedness equals or exceeds the policy's cash value. Should that happen, your policy would cease and you no longer would be insured.

Q. I am a disabled World War II veteran taking training under Public Law 16. If I am injured while training, would I be entitled to additional VA compensation?

A. Yes, provided your injury resulted directly from your training.

Picnic Sites Plentiful On Coosa Lakes

As the season for family picnics and outings swings into high gear the various picnic areas are readied for capacity crowds. Attractive access points to the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes on Alabama Power Company property are located in many easy to reach areas. One of the most popular sites on Lake Mitchell is found on the Higgins Ferry Road, twelve miles east of Clanton. There are picnic tables, barbecue pits, a swimming beach and an ideal boat launching ramp are among available facilities for your use. On Lake Jordan's east shore, across from Benner's Fishing Camp, is an eight acre area especially reserved for the picnicking public. Lake Martin, of course, offers the State Highway Park at Kowaliga Bridge, but for those desiring smaller crowds will find Rocky Cove, just south of Castaway Island, an ideal spot. The mouth of Cedar Creek has long been a popular gathering point on Lake Lay. There are numerous other areas where family, church and youth groups may get together on the lakes to enjoy the wholesome delights of natural beauty. The Alabama Power Company welcomes you and ask only that you be careful with fire and that you use other common safety precautionary measures.

Most fishing camps and boat landings provide picnicking facilities for your use too. Ask your boat dock operator about a picnic spot.

Fishing reports on last weeks results have all been good. The water is clear and the willow flies continue to swarm from over-hanging trees.

Riverview Fishing Camp, Lake Lay, reports that Stripe and Smallmouth Bass are being taken by trolling.

G. O. Norred's General Store, Talladega Springs, sends in an excellent report on Shellcrackers and Largemouth Bass catches. I. L. Vickers and J. W. Robinson, Bemiston, fished Rock Springs Creek with worms as bait and each caught a nice string of Shellcrackers weighing up to 12 ounces each. Ralph Watkins, Talladega Springs, tride a Jitter Bug on a spinning rig at Rock Springs and boated a 5 pound 5 ounce Largemouth Bass plus several smaller ones. Mr. Norred stated that since the fly hatches have started, Bass and Bream fishing has been great. He went on to say that he caught the creel limit on Bream again last week.

Inman's Camp on Cargile Creek, Lake Mitchell, reports that nice catches of Stripes and Smallmouth Bass were brought in during the week. Large schools have been very active lately between the mouths of Cargile and Walnut Creeks.

E. V. Estes' Store, between Eclectic and Kowaliga Creek Bridge, reports that most of Lake Martin's fishermen have switched their interest to the big salt water Stripers. Each year, usually during the spring months, the anadromous Stripers make their headquarters among the rocks in the Tallapoosa sholas at Tallassee. Large numbers of these monsters ranging between 5 and 50 pounds are being caught daily. The best time of day is between the hours of 3 and 8 a.m. and between 4 and 8 p.m. Semi-heavy duty tackle, 40 pound test line and a Creek Chub silver flash lure is the type rig most commonly used.

The Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest enters another month, and if you haven't won a prize this may be your lucky month Ask your boat dock operator to register your best catch.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: It's a well understood fact that the unknown has an unusual attraction for us all. Well, that may be good or it may be bad. . . depending on what you're talking about. In boating you should always know your boat and understand its limitations. When you know what to expect from your boat, don't ever try to exceed its limitations. You may get away with it once. . . you may get away with it twice. . . but you never know which trip may end with fatal results.

A demonstration of the best known methods of hair and scalp treatments to be given to the citizens of our city.

A personal demonstration will be held from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. on Thursday only, July 7. 1955, in the Cloverleaf Motel in Clanton, Alabama by the Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The Merrill Consultant is being sent here for the express purpose of explaining to the people of our city, the facts and the truth about hair and scalp disorders. He will explain the 18 common scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose their hair. He will demonstrate the proper methods of hair and scalp hygiene that have been proven successful for thousands of Americans from coast to coast. The Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants will give you, FREE, a complete hair and scalp examination and tell you why you are losing your hair, or why you are having trouble with your scalp.

Hopeless Cases Are Few

First, the Merrill Consultant is quick to tell the hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. Once a man is completely, shiny bald, nothing can be done. But the hopeless cases are few. Because, if the hair roots are still alive, (evidenced by the presence of light, colorless fuzz.) the Merrill Consultant can perform what sometimes seem to be wonders. In the private examination, these facts will come to light.

No Charge For Examination

The examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires a full 20 to 30 minutes. And, there is no charge for this examination. After the examination you will be told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. After starting the treatment, you will make regular reports to the Merrill Laboratory in Wichita Falls, Texas. An expert will check your progress regularly, and keep in touch with you throughout your course of treatment. As you will be shown at your interview. Merrill offers you a written guarantee of satisfaction.

New Hair Is Permanent

"If every man and woman will follow our directions faithfully during treatment and after finishing treatment, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," says this authority. "We know our treatments will work from our thousands of testimonials. It all depends on the individual person's faithful observance of a few simple rules."

Guarantee Pledges Results

Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants GUARANTEE, in a written certificate given to each new client, that if you are not responding satisfactorily to treatment at the end of 30 days, that all money paid on treatments will be graciously refunded. "We do this to overcome skepticism," says the Merrill Consultant. "Most of our clients are happy, satisfied men and women, confident that they will regain their hair and remove all traces of imbedded dandruff and other malicous hair and scalp ailments that prevent natural growth. This guarantee is for those who want to be assured that they will get their money's worth, and that is exactly what we intend to give them.

A Truthful Note

Thousands of men and women have been helped by the Merrill methods. Because of their tremendous success in this field, it should be said here that there are some who cannot benefit from these treatments. Any person who is slick, shiny bald, is destined to remain so. If there is any sign of fuzz, no matter how short or colorless, there is a definite chance that hair may be regrown in time. "We have no cure-all," says our expert. "But if you take care of your hair, we can help you have healthy, normal, lasting hair that you will be proud of all your life."

The Merrill Consultant will occupy a suite of rooms in the Cloverleaf Motel in Clanton, Alabama on Thursday, July 7 from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. Ask at the desk for the Merrill Consultant and see what can be done for your troublesome hair and scalp condition.

NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY

You need not have an appointment to take advantage of this clinic. All examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way. Both men and women are welcome.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

A Vacation

Everyone should take a vacation. No matter how well liked or pleasant the job, an individual needs to get away from it for a time. Sticking close to the task day in and day out takes its unconscious toll in the form of restlessness, irritation, "nagging" disposition, and a fatigue and boredom that, if ignored will harm not only the worker but the job itself. Effective results cannot be accomplished when one is tired or bored.

Vacations should be planned with care so that they do not become a burden financially. One who spends he possesses on a vacation will return to his job morose and wondering just how the bills will be met. Make your plan to fit your means. Travel accomodations are available that will meet your individual pocketbook.

Maybe your "change of scene" means leisure time for reading, puttering in your garden, or doing a hundred little things for which you have no time in your work-a-day year. It doesn't make much difference what the change is, provided it meets the objective of getting away from routine.

If your plans include automobile or camping trips, be alert to safety measures in driving and caution in the selection of camping sites. Many a family has started out with happiness in their hearts, only to have accident or disease return them to their homes.

By all means take a vacation. Plan it with interest and enthusiasm that fit your individual desires Guard your health by avoiding insanitary eating places, excessive exercise or wearing yourself out by crowding too many activities into a limited period.

Use discretion when you leave the work-a-day world temporarily Do the things you want to in moderation. Have fun and relax. Make your "change of pace" count. Don't leave wisdom at home in your search of change, for it is wisdom that will return you to your job with renewed zest and happiness.

Farm Correctly Identified By Name Of Its Residents

GI Farm Loans Now Easier To Get

World War II and Korean conflict veterans will find it easier to get GI loans to purchase farms on which there is a home or to construct or improve farm houses under a new law, Harley A. Smith, Manager of the Regional Office, has announced.

The new law increases the Veterans Administration guaranty of GI farm loans made by private lenders to 60 percent of the loan with the maximum guaranty of $7,500 on the following three types of loans:

1. For the purchase of a farm on which there is a farm residence to be occupied by the veteran as his home. The guaranty would cover not only the farm and residence but include all other buildings which are considered as part of the realty.
2. For the construction of a farm residence to be occupied by the veteran. In the case of a veteran who wants to build a residence on his farm on which there is an indebtedness secured by a lien against the land, the GI loan with the increased guaranty can be used to liquidate that lien if the indebtedness does not exceed the reasonable value of the land.
3. For the repair, alteration or improvement of a farm residence owned by the veteran and occupied by him as his home. Such repairs, alterations and improvements must protect or improve the basic livability or utility of the farm residence.

Smith said the new law puts the three types of farm loans on a parity with GI home loans—both of which now carry the 60 percent up to $7,500 guaranty.

The guaranty on GI loans for unimproved farms or for the repair of farm buildings other than the residence itself will remain the same—50 percent of the loan with a maximum guaranty of $4,000.

The guaranty of farm non-realty loans for such things as stock, feed, seed and equipment remains at 50 percent of the loan with a maximum guaranty of $2,000.

Smith said that while maximum guarantees are set by law, the amount of the loan obtainable by a veteran depends on the policies of the lender.

In the 11 years of the GI loan program, VA has guaranteed or insured 67,760 farm loans totaling $264,786,200. Veterans already have paid back in full 39,867 GI farm loans totaling $120,909,670.

VA has had to pay claims on only 2,099 farm loans. Net amount of the claims paid is $1,456,400 and that amount is subject to further recovery through the liquidation of tangible security or from the veterans.

World War II veterans have until July 25, 1957 to use the GI loan benefits while Korean conflict veterans have until January 31, 1965.

Last week's farm was identified early as being that of Mr. Luther Payton.

This was another of those confusing ones in that Mr. Payton works and lives on the farm, but it is owned by a Mr. Kendrick. However, it was established last year, when we ran across something similar, that it was the resident that counted and not necessarily the owner. Especially if the owner didn't work his farm and let someone else do it. Not many folks got tangled up this time.

The Payton's have lived on the place, located on the old Thorsby road only a year. The farm was originally known as the John Gray place and is in the Mt. Pleasant Community.

Mr. Payton, who took the farm after Arthur Mims had worked it, has recently planted 700 new peach trees, which he says, is his favorite crop. They've also done repair work around the place but nothing big as yet.

Daisy, Mr. Payton's wife and he were married in 1932. They now have four children: James, Charles, Billy and Gulma. The family attends church at Mt. Pleasant.

The Payton's have 90 acres planted to peaches, cotton and corn; peaches being their main crop, as a rule. They use both tractor and mules in their farming.

There is something unusual about the Payton farm, that they might not know about. The fact that it sits on the only road in the County, so some folks tell us, with a certain type of electric pole on it. If you'll check down in the corner of the picture, you'll see the one that gave Thurl Patterson and his wife Imogene their clue and also the White family, of Maplesville said that's what set them on the right road.

If you don't think you know the farm, better check the little details like the above mentioned. Chances are there's only one like it in the County. Then all you have to do is find which one. You know, like how many chickens in the hen house or how many nails in the roof. Won't hurt to try, anyway.

Are You Sure You Can 'Do It Yourself'?

Montgomery—Do you plan to paint your house, roof the garage, or remodel your bathroom during vacation time? If so, remember that "saving your neck is more important than saving money," says Dr. D. G. Gill, Alabama's State Health Officer.

"More and more Alabamians are joining in the do-it-yourself movement," Dr. Gill pointed out. "And at the same time, according to the National Safety Council, hospital admissions for emergency treatment have increased accordingly."

Dr. Gill listed three National Safety Council rules for carrying out a home project safely:

1. Don't tackle a job that is too big or too complicated.
2. Be sure you have the right equipment for the job: do not use rickety ladders or dull tools.
3. Find out all you can about the work you are going to do and ask questions. . . don't learn by accident!"

Three level tablespoons of cocoa and one tablespoon of butter may be substituted for each square of chocolate in a recipe calling for block chocolate.

Crops in the U.S. are still attacked by some 30,000 known diseases, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Of Interest To All "Mystery Farm" Fans

This past week was an example of that we explained last year, but some folks either didn't hear us or didn't remember.

There have been discussions on the matter and it was decided last year that when a farm came up, where the owner didn't live on the farm but rented it out, that it was the renter who would be the right one to put your guess on. In other words, the family who resides on the farm is the one that will be counted correct in the guessing. This week we had some folks who misunderstood, but the rule had already been made. Now, the next time you guess you'll know for sure how to guess. We hope those folks who missed out this week will try again next week. Those that have won so far have been "stickers" and have usually guessed more than one time. You tell us who this week's "Mystery Farm" belongs to.

Condition Jerseys Now For Coming County Fair

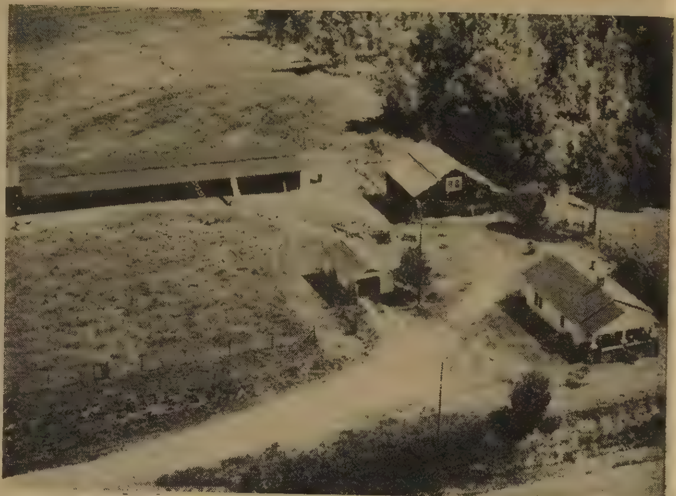
All Jr. Dairymen and adult farmers who are planning to exhibit Jersey animals at the County Fair, September 5th-9th should begin conditioning their animals at this time.

A good practice is to pasture the animals at night and keep them in the barn during the hot days. The animals should also be blanketed for best results. An efficient blanket can be made from a thick burlap sack. Attach strings to points on the sack so that it may be secured as a permanent garment throughout the summer months.

Animals not carrying enough flesh should be fed enough protein and good quality roughage for proper fitting. Good body capacity can be obtained by feeding all the good quality hay the animal will consume.

If you desire help in working out any problem in connection with this phase of work, contact your County Agent's staff.

Whose Farm Is This?



SURE YOU KNOW who owns the above pictured "Mystery Farm". As attractive as it is you would surely remember if you have ever passed by it.

Now, if you'll just tell us who owns the "Mystery Farm" you'll be a winner. It's that simple; come by the News office before four o'clock next Saturday afternoon and tell us who own's the farm shown in the aerial photograph above and we'll mail you two free passes good at any Wadesonian Theatre in Chilton County. Too, if you guess correctly, you'll be eligible for the Grand Prize drawing next Monday and the Grand Prize winner will receive, absolutely free, twelve dollars in merchandise.

See how much you can win without buying, counting, or writing anything. Just one guess can put you in the Winner's Circle. Come on in. . . it's fun.

Frozen Foods Offer Alabama Farmers Future Prospects

Auburn, Ala.—Frozen foods offer Alabama farmers one of their brightest prospects for immediate improvement in food marketing.

An API Extension Service expert holds to this belief despite predictions in some quarters that preservation by irradiation may, within a few years, completely eliminate commercial frozen and canned foods. The use of irradiated foods likely will not be widespread for a least five years. For some delicately flavored foods, the change may never come. said the specialist.

In any case, growers and dealers may be sure that campaigns to get frozen food processors to locate in Alabama will be worth their efforts. At present, many of the dollars we spend for such processed foods go out of the state. We could keep some of that money right here and, at the same time, provide a better market for Alabama-grown foods.

With processing facilities nearby, growers could send a larger quantity of their products to market at top quality, because of the shorter shipping distance. And, they could be sure of a constant market for the foods they grow, eliminating market gluts and resulting low prices.

Ezzell pointed out that processed foods have been claiming an increasingly larger share of retail food sales. And the demand for foods in the convenient frozen form is expected to grow as per-capita income moves up. Therefore, the merchandising expert urged Alabama farmers to work with other producers, their county agents, and interested civic and business leaders to attract frozen food manufacturers, as well as other food processors, to this state.

Helpful Hints For Housewives

One medium size Irish potato has no more calories than an apple or banana. It is the gravy, butter or other fat put on potatoes which runs up the calorie count.

Too vigorous cleaning probably does linoleum more harm than heavy shoes. Abrasives should never be used in mopping this type floor covering.

Be very exact in measuring baking powder. Too much of the leavening agent is just as disastrous as too little.

A small lump of sugar, a half teaspoonful of baking soda, a little salt, or a few pieces of white soap added to the water will keep cut flowers fresh longer.

Sugar added at the end of cooking time makes apples, prunes, and other fruits sweeter. Sweetening fruit this way requires less sugar.

Egg yolks will beat better and combine more easily with a hot mixture if one teaspoonful of water is added to them.

This news will be of interest to the many relatives and friends of Miss Apperson in this and adjoining sections.

This bit of news will be of interest to the readers of my column. It is of our neighboring county of Dallas.

A Virginia slave owner and his family, coming into the very tip of North Dallas county before the Civil War, set the stamp of early culture on Plantersville. "Driskell Family was spared ruin in 1865 advance." "Well-built home is weathering age." His house still stands, to give the community architectural prestige. Now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Martin, the residencve is historically important, aside from its nostalgic appeal to the passers-by—white columns rising from a heavy growth of century oll boxwood under old oaks. The house was built by Thomas S. Driskell of Virginia in 1850.

In the closing days of the Civil War, as General James H. Wilson advanced on Selma with the purpose of knocking out this important center of munitions and supply to Confederacy, Mr. Driskell, his wife, their two sons, Will and Tom, and their three daughters, bacame of necessity hosts to General Wilson, when he established his headquarters office in a bedroom on the second floor of the 12-room mansion. The family continued to reside on the lower floor; the fact that the house was of value to General Wilson being the only reason for its preservation from the torch. The rooms, 18 x 20 feet in size with 16 foot ceilings, each has a mantle and open fire place, the stairway connecting the two floors is of solid walnut and makes an easy ascent along the north wall of the 15 foot wide hall. The parlor, on the left of the entrance, the dining room on the right, and the entrance hall are marked by plaster work. Open fret-work for the tray ceilings in the two rooms is as beautiful today as when a young Frenchman, traveling this way, was induced to turn his hand to the job and put them up for Mr. Driskell. Amazing, too, to the modern builder are the four giant columns of the old house, as strong and white and gleaming as when they were put in place 105 years ago Each is composed of four solid boards, each 30 inches wide and two inches thick; heart of long leaf yellow pine, cut on the place. Al of Plantersville takes pride in the old house, and in the other evidences of culture which still remain as a reminder of those early settlers Some of the other buildings, the quaint old Methodist Church used as a hospital for Union soldiers after the battle of Dixie Station and the skirmish at Plantersville, and a victim to fire from a lightning bolt about 30 years ago. Home built by the Virginia slave holder's children have become beauty spots too, in the community. Another home built by Dr. Thomas G Todd, a Maryland dentist who moved to Plantersville before the Civil War the house dates back to 1859. It was occupied for many years by the late Sally Jo Todd Lawrence, wife of Charles Lawrence who still resides there. Plantersville has three churches: Methodist, Baptist and Christian. Two schools, and a number of business firms, Southern Railway Station. Two cemeteries, both well kept. That laid out adjoining the Methodist church where the Driskell family worshipped in bygone days, and since rebuilt contains the grave of a Union soldier who died in the old home, after the Yankees had moved on to Selma. Slaves are buried near him; those for whose freedom the Union soldier came to fight. The grave was marked some years ago "Trammell" thru the generosity of Plantersville citizens, he was from Missouri.

The other cemetery is known as the Christian cemetery. The first interment being made 53 years ago when the Methodist cemetery became crowded.

The Dallas County High School has the distinction of being the oldest county high school in Alabama, having been established as the first such school in 1906.

A park for the use of Plantersville children, and avaliable for barbecues and public gathering, now is being enlarged. The park is lighted for night use and provided with tables. A small branch runs nearby.

Plantersville has a book depository which serves Central Alabama counties, as one of two such depositories in Dallas. Located in Biscoe's Cash Store it has a large customer appeal in Bibb, Chilton, Autauga, Dallas and Perry Counties.

Plantersville has been the center of heavy freight shipments of sand and gravel for many years. Two sand and gravel companies now operate in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graham (Catherine Schurter) and Judy of Birmingham spent Sunday with Mrs. Alma Schurter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer Schurter of Anniston, Ala. are on vacation here with their mother, Mrs. Alma Schurter and other relatives.

You May Get Added Benefits From Disability "Freeze"

Retired workers now receiving Old-Age and Survivors Insurance checks may get an increase in their benefits if they establish that they have a total disability and fulfill other conditions of the law. In some cases, the increase may amount to $10.

The Social Security Administration advises seriously disabled people who used to work in covered employment or self-employment to get in touch with their Social Security office in order to take the first step that may lead to increased benefit payments.

According to Social Security officials, the disability freeze provision may apply to those who:

(1) Have been totally disabled for six months or longer and,

(2) Have worked in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security Law for as many as five years out of the 10 years before they were disabled.

Active military service and employment in the railroad industry may count toward the needed amount of work. By applying to have their Social Security earnings records frozen, disabled people may prevent loss or reduction of future benefits.

The "Freeze" provisions will be significant for those people who have been disabled for a long time before they reached 65 and who are now receiving Old-Age Insurance payments.

Those under 65 may also gain by establishing a disability freeze, if eligible. By filing at this time, for example, it is possible to establish a disability that began as far back as October, 1941.

Social Security officials emphasized that the Law protects the Social Security rights of a worker who is suffering from prolonged total disability but does not pay cash benefits to him before he is 65.

ACS Issues Research Grants To 5 Institutions

Birmingham—Research grants totaling $57,152 to five Alabama Institutions for the fiscal year begun July 1 were announced today by the American Cancer Society.

Receiving the grants were Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, $15,700; Southern Research Institute, Birmingham, $24,840; Tumor Registry, Birmingham, $4,600; Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, $3,750; University of Alabama Medical College, Birmingham, $8,262.

Mrs. Lillian G. Meade, executive director, Alabama Division, American Cancer Society said this brings to $661,920 the amount spent in Alabama alone by the American Cancer Society for research.

Mrs. Meade also announced two other grants by the Alabama Division for the current fiscal year: $2500 to the Tumor Clinic at Jefferson-Hillman Hospital, Birmingham, for medicines for medically indigent cancer patients; and $1600 for secretarial help and office supplies for the Mobile Tumor Clinic, Mobile.

The Alabama research grants were among 305 made throughout the nation to 120 institutions in 36 states and the District of Columbia for the current fiscal year. The American Cancer Society will spend approximately $5,800,000 in research this year, but must turn down many requests because of lack of funds, according to Mrs. Meade.

Twenty five per cent of all funds contributed by Alabamians to the American Cancer Society is allocated by the national organization for research in different states, including Alabama. The Alabama Division of the cancer society also allocates additional funds for this purpose within the state. Funds are raised publicly during the annual cancer crusade in April, and many donations are received in the form of memorial gifts.

Mrs. Meade outlined projects supported by the new allocations as follows:

Alabama Polytechnic Institute—Dr. W. D. Salmon, Department of Animal Husbandry—to support continuing studies in the effects of diet upon cancer. Experiments already have indicated that cancer may be induced in chickens and rats by dietary deficiencies, and may be prevented by correction of these deficiencies. Auburn researchers are studying the work of Vitamin B12, choline and Amino acids in speeding and retarding the growth of cancerous tissue.

Southern Research Institute—Dr. Howard E. Skipper and Dr. L. L. Bennett, Jr.,—to finance a study of chemical agents that might stop the wild growth of white blood cells in leukemia victims. Besides screening chemicals for possible anti-leukemia compounds, researchers also will produce new chemical compounds which might have similar effects.

Tuskegee Institute—Dr. James H. M. Henderson—for the study of a compound that kills one type plant but spares another. The substance 2,4-D, apparently destroys the growth hormone in wide leaved plants, but stimulates the hormone and promotes growth in grasses. The basic objective is to increase knowledge about growth processes which might help to a better understanding of the cause of cancer.

University of Alabama Medical College—Dr. Samuel B. Barker, professor of harmacology—research into the effects of hormones on various tissues. Apparently such hormones as thyroxine, a product of the thyroid gland, affect the rate of activity of some organs such as the heart, liver and kidney, but do not affect some others such as the brain ,splee nand sex glands. Information as to the effects of hormones is valuable in understanding the nature of cancer.

Economic Outlook Still Favorable In Alabama

Montgomery—Alabama is continuing to show a favorable economic outlook as nonfarm employment figures for mid-May reveal an increase of 6,800 workers over the previous month, according to a report released today by the Department of Industrial Relations.

Director of the department, Eugene M. Wells, estimated nonfarm employment at 672,000, which is 10,700 more than the May 1954 figure. He said non-manufacturing employment made the greatest advance as the settlement of a major railroad strike resulted in the addition of some 3,200 workers by interstate railroads.

Contract construction continued its upward trend with an estimated 1,500 workers added since last month. The present level of 33,200 may be compared to the May 1954 estifate of 32,000—an increase of 2.2 percent. Most of the gain in May occurred among general contractors in construction of buildings and residences, Wells said.

Mining and quarrying reversed a long downward trend with an increase of 1,000 workers over the month.

Primary metalis, he continued, added 800 workers as improvement was evident throughout the industry. Blast furnaces and steel works were up by 400 and iron and steel foundries added an estimated 300 workers during the month.

Wells noted an over-all increase of 600 workers in the lumber industry, which was aided by favorable weather, expansion of construction, and the settlement of a strike. He also mentioned the expanded activity of the food industry as soft drink and seafood processing shot the totals upward by 300.

Industries experiencing a downward trend were general merchandise stores, down by 500; apparel stores, down by 300; chemical group, down by 700; and the nondurable group, down by 500.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

Tales Out of School: Fred Steen and Hugh Champion, our two genial State Highway Patrolmen stationed here, were alerted last week for a stolen car. The report stated the automobile was stolen at Wetumpka and was headed north up U. S. 31. Of course it gave the description of the vehicle, etc., anyway the stolen car and driver was spotted at Verbena and about the same time the culprit spotted the hiway patrolmen. He turned off on a chert road and according to Fred Steen raised all kinds of dust which threw up a veritable screen. When Hugh Champion who was driving turned onto the chert road he put his car into second gear to keep from losing control of it and when he did he stripped the gears. About that time Steen stuck his head out of the car window and shouted for the negro to stop or he would shoot. The negro pulled his car over and stopped and the patrolmen coasted up beside him and placed him under arrest. They had to use the stolen car to push the patrol car back to Verbena—their car was "dead." And to cap it all Fred hadn't shot at the negro at all, the gear had popped when Hugh Champion threw it into second gear and the car rogue thought he had been shot at.

Always hearing Chilton Countians say the best sight in the world after a long vacation is to see the familiar signs, etc., announcing Chilton County. It's just like the old saying: "When you leave Hawaii you die a little." Well, the same thing goes for Chilton County.

Glad to see Mrs. Sibley McGowin on the staff of the new hospital. She has a winning personality and will be an asset to administrator David Morgan.

Bet you didn't know Ralph Johnston had nine lives like a cat. Ralph was invited by the late Sam Johnson to join the navy before World War II with the promise that he would get him on the same ship with him. That was just before Pearl Harbor, shortly thereafter the sad news came that Commander Johnson was killed on that fateful day. A few years later Ralph was in the Army and stationed in Japan. He was standing watch one night and on his way to duty, which was some 20 miles distance, he with several others were being transported in an army truck. Ralph says he had a nice warm place in the back of the truck with seven other GI's when the C. O. called him to stand on the running board of the truck to break the wind off him during the ride. Before they reached their destination Ralph relates the truck had a wreck and all the boys in the back were burned to death. And then there was the time when he tried to join the air corps. They turned him down because of his eyesight, he was rejected and at the time felt pretty bad about it. Later news came that all of the group he tried to enlist with and were accepted were killed in action on a mission over enemy territory. Nope, Ralph's time ain't come yet. The good Lord is saving him for some important job for sure.

Friends of Carlisle Miller will get to see him again next week when he preaches at Mt. Nebo. He has thousands of friends in Chilton County and we know they will be glad of this opportunity to renew acquaintenances with him.

You're never down until you're out. And you're never out until the Great Umpire calls "strike three." So as long as you have just one strike left—you have a big chance. Let's not be counted out before we're through.

Another "R. D." has been added to the Roy Mahan family. Roy, whose initials are R. D. has four sons with the same initials—but no Junior. Now along comes a grandson and his initials are "R. D." Just in case you wish to keep your R. D.'s seperated there's Roy DeVal, Ronald Dewitt, Ray Delaine, Robert Dewey, Ralph Donald and the grandson, Robin Drew.

The other day we heard two neighbors talking. Seems that one was trying to get the other to tell him how he had such a beautiful lawn. "Well," quoted the fellow, "the first thing you have to do is to start about five years ago."

Bean Reunion To Be In August

There will be a family reunion the second Sunday in August at Lake Forest, so make preparations if you belong in that group and attend.

Maplesville Folk Lead In Winning Grand Prizes

It looks like folks from Maplesville and its routes have a knack for winning the Grand Prizes in our "Mystery Farm" contest. To date, four Grand Prize winners have been from around Maplesville and we've only run seven "Mystery Farms" this year.

Mr. Marvin Green of Maplesville, Rt. 1, was the winner of last week's Grand Prize. His name was drawn at the News office Monday from a box containing names of the forty-three persons who correctly guessed last week's "Mystery Farm" as that of Bolden Robinson.

Guesses come in from all over the county each week but Maplesville just seems to be lucky at the drawing on Monday. No matter where you live, that's a mighty nice Grand Prize and you should make an effort at winning it. It consists of five-dollars in merchandise from Pig's Grocery & Market in West End, five dollars in merchandise from Watson's in Clanton, and a one-year subscription to Chilton County News. That's twelve dollars worth of merchandise and it's easy to win.

Consider this article a personal invitation from us, for YOU to come in to the News office this week and tell us who owns the "Mystery Farm" pictured in this issue. If your answer is correct you'll receive two free passes good at any Wadesonian Theatre in Chilton County, you'll be eligible to win the Grand Prize drawing next Monday, and you'll have your name published in the "winners" column in next week's Chilton County News.

Get in on the fun and prizes. It won't cost you a thing, but you sure can win a lot.

We urge that each member put forth every effort to be present for every service to hear our evangelist's messages. He is a wonderful preacher.

We also extend a very cordial welcome to visitors from other churches.—Rev. E. C. Hand, pastor.

She brought her children and a grandchild back with her and a family reunion was held by the family during their visit. She makes her home now in Sequin, Texas.

Skipper Reynolds Is Three Years Old

Skipper's birthday cake was in the form of a package and was placed under the tree in the back yard.

Mrs. Reynolds served ice cream and cup cakes, with a flag in each cup cake, to the following children: Brenda and Landy Godbold, Laura and Jack Carlisle, Leigh and Mark Easterling, Guy and Kaye Higgins, Danny Eiland, Claudia Maddox, J. Sam and Edwin Johnson, Ken Johnston, Nell Wade, Mike Morgan, Mike Bennett, Duke Heflin, Susan and Jeff Blankenship. Susan Barton, Susan and Bill Speaks, Vickie Vinson, Albert and Babel Patterson of Montgomery, Chric and Bruce Rinehart of Montgomery, Sherrie Lord, Leigh Waldrop, Karen Smith, Laura Ann Klinner, Debbie Fulmer, Sandra Sellers.

Babe Ruth Teams Playing Good Ball To Small Crowds

The Calera-Montevallo team is proving too tough for local teams to handle in Babe Ruth League play. They have won their first two games for the only perfect record in the league. Each of the Clanton teams have won one and lost one, while Jemison has lost twice.

Next Wednesday, July 20, the teams start the second round of play. The two Clanton teams will meet at City Park at 3:00 p.m. The Calera-Montevallo combine will play Jemison in Jemison at the same time.

The First Baptist Church Brotherhood has most graciously agreed to purchase one half of the uniforms for the Clanton teams and the parents of the boys have accepted responsibility for the other half. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has made an appropriation for the equipment, and it is hoped the hat will keep the balls and bats replaced. However, there haven't been enough people at the first two games to warrant trying for any collection—despite the fact that many have expressed themselves favorably on this activity. If you really mean "Sho Nuff," and we hope you do, come on out to the ball game. Clanton residents won't have trouble keeping the dates in mind—there is a game scheduled for EVERY Wednesday afternoon through August 24. If you are interested in watching and supporting the other two teams, watch the papers and tune WKLF for announcements.

Sen. Lister Hill To Be Guest Speaker

Senator Lister Hill

The long awaited opening of the beautiful new Chilton County Hospital was announced today by Mr. David Morgan, Administrator. Ceremonies to mark its beginning of service will include a dedication service followed by two days of Open House

Senator Lister Hill, co-sponsor of the Hill-Burton Act which made the hospital possible, will be the main speaker at the Dedication Services, July 24. The public is cordially invited to attend the program which will begin at 2:00 p.m. on that day.

Open House will be held for the public on Sunday, July 24, from 2:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. and on Monday, July 25, from 10:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. On these two days guides will be on hand to show visitors through the hospital and explain its many new features.

Due to the expectation of a large crowd on hand for the Dedication Ceremonies, officials of the hospital wish to make an appeal to the citizens of Clanton to wait until Monday, July 25, to take their tour of the building. In this way folks who live out in the county will all have a chance to go through the hospital on Sunday and those living close by can easily return on Monday when it will be less crowded.

This modern $400,000 structure was made possible by the Hill-Burton Hospital Act which provided for the building of hospitals in counties where the need was greatest if the County involved was willing to share in the expenses and to accept the maintenance and administration of the hospital.

Construction began on the local hospital on May 3rd of 1954 and was kept on schedule until set back by the series of transportation and communication strikes in the spring of this year.

This forty-bed hospital is far superior to that of any County of Chilton's size and means. Its equipment is the most modern and efficient that money can buy. The building as a whole, has been constructed with an eye to the future with room and plans for expansion.

Many Chilton County Leaders have put a tremendous amount of effort and time into this gigantic undertaking and all are to be highly praised for their unselfish work in making a dream come true for the citizens of Chilton County. The majority of our citizens have continually watched the development and construction of our hospital with pride and satisfaction.

Be on hand during Open House and see for yourself what your tax dollar has bought in the way of health protection for the citizens of Chilton County.

Northside Baptist To Hold Baby Day

A great day was enjoyed in the Lord at our church Sunday. Four followed Christ in Believers' baptism. We were also proud to have our out-of-town visitors: Reece Hamilton of Sylacauga, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Padgett of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Wheat of Sheffield, Mrs. Louise Smith, Anne, and Elizabeth of Montgomery. We always welcome our visitors and with us a visitor is never a stranger.

Our Youth Rally for our church is Saturday night at 7:30. Rev. Charles Carter will be the speaker and the singers will be our Northside quartet and the Wyatt Sisters. Refreshments will be served after the service.

This coming Sunday, July 17th, is Baby Day and every baby present a year old or under will receive, as a special gift from the pastor, a 10K gold ring.

We believe in the fundamentals of faith, seperated living, and the premillennial return of Christ.

Patches of dirt that are hard to remove from floors will come up easily if rubbed with fine steel wool that has been moistened with turpentine.

The attendance was pretty good Wednesday but we do wish more could come out to prayer meetings. Everyone is invited each Wednesday night at 7:30.

There are still a number in the comunity that are sick and we are praying they will be well and in church very soon.

State Solons Have Hectic Week Hearing Both Sides Of Stories

The State Legislature is now reaching the point of decision on what best to do in the way of finding more money for our public school system and teachers' salaries.

Last week the House Ways and Means committee, which must make the State budget recommendations, had two hectic days of public hearings. Some 5,000 teachers, and lay friends of schools invaded Montgomery to speak for the program urged by educational leaders, and also supported by Gov. James E. Folsom.

The next day, Alabama businessmen and industrialists had "their day" in the Legislature, and many spokesmen opposed one fund-raising proposal which would abolish many exemptions, now enjoyed by certain businesses, from the present 3 p.c. sales tax. They held that loss of those exemptions — estimated to bring in an additional $20,000,000 a year from the sales tax which is "earmarked' for schools—would damage industry.

Among proposals for new school revenues are. 1. A pay-as-you-go law for State income taxes, by which this tax would be deducted from payrolls similarly to the manner social security benefits are deducted. 2. Increase in corporation taxes from 3 p.c. to 5 p.c. 3. Abolish some 30 exemptions to the sales and use taxes. 4. Equalize statewide the ad valorem—i.e. property taxes. 5. No longer allow Federal income tax payments to be a deductable item on the State Income tax returns.

The State Farm Bureau, however, is opposing the plan to equalize property taxes. Their president, Mr. Walter Randolph, has told the committee that his directors would prefer seeing the present 3 p.c. sales tax raised to 3½ or 4 p.c.

The Governor made a brief visit to the Ways and Means Committee alst week. He urged the members to give "serious consideration" to the bills before them on sales tax exemptions, saying he knew that business means to carry its fair share of the school burden. He also said he felt sure that Alabama farmers are prepared to do their part in carrying the load.

Administration spokesmen on the committee appear to have shown sympathy towards the businessmen's problems on the tax exemption question. However, they are developing interest in property equalization proposals, and other tax proposals, and other tax-raising methods listed above.

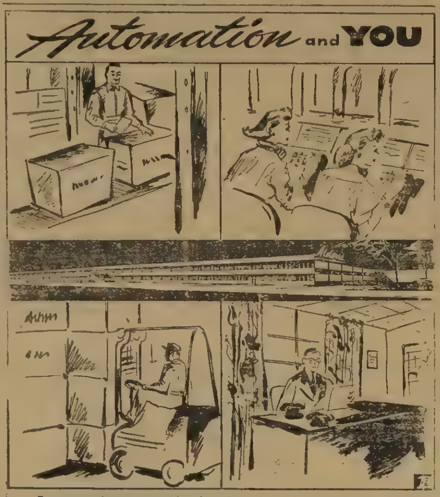
Governor Folsom has signed the bill which returns the Alabama State Docks administration directly to the State and under a director appointed by the Governor.

Meanwhile, interest is mounting on a bill which would develop a network of inland "ports' 'on rivers "navigable for commercial traffic." and place such river development projects under the administration of the State Docks. The river inland docks could be promoted with tax-free bond issues, and provide cheap industrial transportation for industry, the bill provides. Sen. G. aVn Antwerp, Mobile, said the program would "tie-in" with the Administration's overall industrial development plans. Many counties could benefit under the bill, it was stated.

The bill to set up a Toll Road Authority was still in a Senate committee Wednesday morning. It has already passed the House. It would authorize a technical survey of traffic flow to decide whether Alabama, instead of Georgia, should continue a scheduled super trans-Continental toll highway from the Great Lakes near Chicago to Florida with a probably auxiliary road forked from it to Alabama's Gulf Coast and the Port of Mobile. A recent Senate public hearing developed a number of controversial points on whether such a road would damage local communities through loss, instead of gain, of tourist traffic, and whether it would block some State lateral roads, and slice across certain farm properties. Problems relating to the letting of franchises along the proposed turnpike also seemed scheduled for "ironing out."

A bill to repeal the so-called "Right-To-Work" law, remains in the House Business and Labor Committee. Committee members went into executive session to discuss this bill last week, then voted to delay their decision on whether to report it out, for another two weeks. It is expected that efforts will be made to have any further discussions on this bill in public.

The same committee "killed" a bill which would have required the State Dept. of Public Examiners to audit the books of organized labor groups. It was pointed out that this might lead to similar Senate audits for business, farm, and various professional organizations.



Incorporating many aids of modern day science to plant construction and operation, Aldens, one of the nation's big four mail order companies, soon will move into a huge new streamlined 2-story building that will centralize its middle west headquarters in Chicago. Automation is the theme of the 650,000 square feet of space that will expedite handling of needs of shop-by-mail customers throughout the country. Sketched above are some of the steps taken to provide improved service at lower cost.

CHICAGO—Designed throughout with the customer always in mind, the new headquarters building of Aldens will house the administrative offices, the Chicago buying offices of the mail order and retail divisions, the advertising and sales promotion division and the financial, operating and industrial relations divisions.

Hours of time-consuming operation have been eliminated as Aldens' engineers and the architects combined their talents to streamline and mechanize the big mail order operation, with extensive use of automation. Operating costs will be cut, because a larger volume of business will be handled by their present personnel.

Features of the new building are relocation of executives to provide easy access and ready supervision of the thousands of employees. Daylight and artificial light are combined to provide constant lighting to reduce fatigue. Acoustical ceilings will reduce distracting indoor sounds, while color dynamics reach their full height in the interior decoration.

Executive offices include movable partitions providing a flexible arrangement to meet changing needs. All windows are canopied so as to prevent glare and reduce heat in the summer.

Every consideration is given to the company worker—from recreation facilities to dining area. The new cafeteria can adequately handle a population of 2,500 people.

Customers' orders will be rapidly moved through many activities by the use of pneumatic tubes, mechanized baskets and conveyors. An in-floor drag line system that continually moves a quarter-mile at one-third walking speed enables incoming merchandise to move quickly on storage pallets to warehouse and open stock shelving. This towveyor also moves outgoing merchandise to shipping points.

It is expected that introduction of the many innovations being pioneered by Aldens will cause many others in the field to revamp operational plans and schedules.

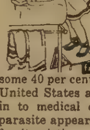
SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Pesky Parasite

The pinworm is a pesky parasite. No bigger than a pencil point, the pinworm is mankind's greatest robber of sleep. It is believed that some 200 million people throughout the world suffer the effects of pinworms.

Although it carries the scientific name of Enterobius vermicularis, it is more commonly known as pinworm, seat worm or threadworm. For millions of people, the pinworm means sleepless nights, a disturbing itch, nervousness and a loss of appetite.



Pinworms infest some 40 per cent of the people in the United States and Canada, according to medical experts. The hardy parasite appears to prefer children for its victims, although adults are not immune.

Once attached to a child, the pinworm stubbornly resists all efforts to eliminate it. Children often transmit the pinworm to those coming in contact with them and tend to reinfect themselves by scratching the irritated area.

Proper medical and sanitary measures can control this parasite. Terramycin, a widely-effective antibiotic, is one of the drugs used successfully to eliminate the parasite.

Parents must follow up medical treatment with a personal cleanliness code. They must see to it that children wash their hands often and must insist that hands are washed before every meal.

Fingernails of children with pinworm must be cut short. These children should sleep alone, if possible, and great care should be taken when handling their bedclothes. The children should not be allowed to touch food eaten by other members of the family.

There's still room for progress. . .

Hogs produced in the U. S. now gain a pound of weight for each four pounds of feed; but it has been shown that hogs can gain, over a period of five months, at a rate of one to three.

TOO MUCH CRITICISM—

We've never been one against constructive criticism. But you can get too much of a good thing. Chilton County has always been shown, in some way or other, what it didn't have and couldn't get. As we said, it is usually constructive criticism. But, the bitter with the sweet and that sort of thing requires that we get a little pat on the back now and then for efforts and successes already brought about in our county.

The opinion that we need new industry in Chilton is a good one and shared by us. It is one that should continue to be pursued by all of us.

In the meantime, let's remember that we have things to be thankful for in our county here that would make many peoples envious: What about our million dollar peach crop annually that so many of us depend upon for a livlihood; and what about the sources of power located at points in the Coosa River that supply Chilton and other counties with all-important electricity; and while we're on that subject, what of the fishing opporunities afforded only in Chilton County.

What about the miles and miles of farm to market roads, some paved, some not, that will eventually all be paved to give our farmers better means of transporting their corn, cotton, watermelons, etc. from the farmer to the consumer; and the hundreds of fine churches, young and old. that Chilton County boasts; and

Then there's the fine folk of Chilton County, like no other on earth, and the beauty that surrounds us everyday and the schools and the heritage. . .

Some of these things, everyone has, but nowhere on God's earth will you find a place so rich and overflowing with the goodness of life. Look around you. If you see someone who looks better off than you are, think of all we have here in our County; chances are you'll change your mind and be thankful to live in such a beautiful, prosporous, bountiful section of this old world.

COOPERATION—

A new city ordinance which you will find in this issue of the paper, cracks down, so to speak, on careless drivers in the City of Clanton. It details exactly what speeds to travel on what roads around the city within the police jurisdiction.

We are definitely for the apparent basic meaning of this ordinance, which is safer, saner driving, but it is going to take the cooperation of both city officials and the taxpayers.

The fines are by no means light and we hope they are enforced, even if we're the first one to have to pay one, but

There are certain roads named in the ordinance which, up until this is written have no city limits markers up. It's a technicality, but if the technicalities aren't taken care of the ordinance won't be worth the paper it's written on.

Perhaps the majority of the folks should know where the city limits are around the city. Well, the majority of the folks do know where the city limits are in some directions, but not in all directions.

It may not be a law, but if a man were caught on a road which was not marked, then he should not be arrested. Ignorance is no excuse, tis true, but he would have no excuse in the first place were there a marker up relieving his ignorance, thus eliminating any argument. Such technicalities, when taken care of, will give the violator no grou[illegible] whatsoever to stand on and it will be much easi[illegible] on the officers who have to do their duty.

There should be markers up, and the folks who dislike all the "hot-roddin'" around town should take care of them after they are put up. Should you see a sign being molested, you should report it.

And while we're on the subject, we wish the city could afford to put up street and avenue markers all around town. We would surely hate to be a stranger in town trying to find a certain address. We're a growing city, we rightly should have markers. It's worth considering anyway.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Both Houses of Congress have set their sights on an Auggust 1st adjournment date. If we are to meet that deadline, the next three weeks will necessarily be filled with legislative activity.

Although the House of Representatives has complete daction on at least 20 major measures as well as several hundred other proposals, a number of important bills still await consideration.

-President's "Must" Bills-

In a recent interview, President Eisenhower stated that he would urge Congress to complete action on five "must" bills before adjournment. These include the military reserve bill, the highway construction program, the school construction bill, the housing bill, and legislation providing for the President's atomic peace ship.

The House of Representatives has already passed a military reserve bill and it will probably have the President's atomic peace ship proposal before it next week.

The Senate is working on their version of a military reserve bill at the present time, and there is every indication a compromise bill will be enacted into law before we adjourn.

-Highway Program-

The Administration's proposed highway construction program has already encountered a very bumpy road. The highway bill which passed the Senate some six weeks ago bore very little resemblance to the plan recommended by President Eisenhower. He wanted a $38 billion 10-year program, of which $21 billion would have been obtained thru a special bond issue. The Senate adopted a substitute that calls for an outlay of $18 billion over a five year period by the federal and state governments on a matching basis Under the terms of the Senate bill all of this money would be direc. appropriations.

A subcommittee of the House Public Works Committee came forward last Friday with a third proposal. Theirs also rejects the Administration's plan to sell bonds but it differs from the Senate bill in that it proposes a method to finance the highway construction program. Under this subcommittee proposal, taxes on gasoline, trucks, diesel fuel, and heavy tires and tubes will be increased. Hearings have been scheduled for this week by the Public Works Committee, and opposition is expected to develop to the proposed increases in taxes.

Although a highway construction bill may pass before adjournment, there are still some difficult problems that will have to be resolved.

-School Construction and Housing-

The House Education and Labor Committee expects to finish consideration this week on a bill that will provide federal funds for school construction. Favorable action on this legislation will probably depend upon the provisions in the bill dealing with segregation in our public school systems.

The housing bill has been stalled temporarily in the Rules Committee by opponents of public housing. This measure, approved by the House Banking and Currency Committee, includes a provision for 35,000 public housing units a year for the next two years and also includes such non-controversial features as additional home mortgage insurance authority for the FHA. Despite the Rules Committee's action, it is expected that housing legislation will be passed before adjournment.

-Other Legislation-

In addition to the President's so-called "must" bills, there are a number of other important meaures that will probably be acted upon before Congress closes shop this year. They include minimum wage legislation, revisions in the social security law, legislation to amend the Natural Gas Act, and the 1955 Mutual Securiyt Appropriation. From all indications, the next three weeks will be busy ones for those of us here on Capitol Hill.

IT'S MY OPINION

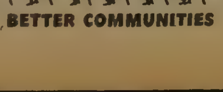
This will probably be of no consequence to my lady readers (if there be any) but there is sort of a moral to it I guess.

It's about this thing called hunting. Some of us define it differently from others. Some folks think that "shoot everything that moves" is a good hunting motto. Well, it's been tried and proven that that's not necessarily the safest and by no means the most intelligent way of going about it.

Then there are those of us who hunt for sport. By that we mean game in season. There are those "sports" who hunt game year 'round. Som of 'em get caught. Some of 'em have positively foolproof ways of getting away with it (usually the ones that get caught).

And then there are those of us who just like to shoot, but hate to kill things. Bird hunting for instance. We used to hunt birds (back when the only pretty thing about a bird was that it moved) but every time we killed one, we got a sort of funny feeling down in our stomach about killing something as pretty and as harmless as that, just for the pure pleasure of shooting at "something that moved". We certainly had no intention of eating it and it wasn't very useful for anything else. Not dead anyway. Killing birds is not in our line anymore. We like pretty things. And we've yet to see any kind of bird that wasn't pretty; either in the way it sings or the way it looks, sometimes both. Birds get into crops tis true, but we doubt if the damage done by birds will size up to other destructive pests and we doubt also, if they will ever make or break anyone.

We gave up bird hunting. But if ever you need a shooting partner for "something that moves"; well snakes are my meat—right up our alley 'cause that's the only kind of "moving target" we like (unless it's mechanical). The only reason we kill snakes is: we don't think they're worth a plug nickel to anyone and they certainly aren't pretty from our point of view, and we've never heard one of 'em sing pretty. That's the only thing we can shoot and feel any satisfaction from.



Foundation Is Place To Start In Fixing Home

Auburn, Ala.—"Start at the bottom' 'is a time honored saying. And W. T. Cox thinks that the bottom is a good place to start in improving the farm home.

Most farm houses have poor foundations which offer little resistance to high winds, rot, or termites, the API Extension farm buildings speciailst said yesterday. And winter winds whistling under their floors make heating these houses a real problem. In addition to making a house warmer and more secure, a good foundation also adds tremendously to the appearance of the home.

Underpinning can be done a little at a time. And, with local labor and as many local materials as are available, the job doesn't have to be expensive.

Start by checking existing piers and leveling the floors, suggested the specialist. All wooden props should be removed, since wooden supports allow termites to work their way up into the house sills and girders. Cox said brick, stone, or concrete masonry are most suitable for underpinning farm homes. Ventilators at eight or 10-foot intervals are needed to admit light and air.

July Heat Can Ruin Quality Of Produce

Auburn, Ala.—Keeping foods fresh in withering July weather is a three way proposition. It requires the cooperation of the producer, handler, and consumer to preserve farm freshness all the way to the table. But it's the grower who first has an opportunity to see that food quality is preserved.

Suggestions for keeping produce fresh until it's delivered to the food handler were given in Auburn this week by specialists. Alert producers can start by harvesting fruits and vegetables early in the morning before the foods are heated by the sun. The foods should be cooled quickly in tubs or vats of ice water and then packed in crushed ice for the trip to market. It's important to protect produce from sun and drying wind every step along the way, the experts warn.

It has been observed that growers who take every precaution to preserve food freshness find their reputations for quality goods going up with summer temperatures.

Pineapple English Trifle Is Picture Pretty And Good Eating Any Time

Cool, colorful desserts with the delicate flavor of pineapple rate high on party menus during the summer when luncheons and showers dominate our entertaining. For instance, a pleasing party dessert, that can be made in advance, might be a Pineapple English Trifle.

In quality, it is rich and nutritious and provides a perfect ending for either festive or family fare.

Pineapple English Trifle

36 lady fingers
1 cup raspberry jam
1 can (#2) pineapple tidbits
1 package vanilla pudding mix
2 cups milk
½ pint heavy cream, whipped
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup whole almonds

Split lady fingers in half lengthwise and spread each half lightly with jam. Stand halves of the lady fingers on end, jam side to the center, around the edge of a spring-form pan or straight-sided casserole. Place half of the remaining lady fingers jam side up, in an even layer in the bottom of the dish and arrange half of the pineapple tidbits over them. Follow the directions given on the package for making the vanilla pudding using the 2 cups of milk. And while still hot, pour half of it over the pineapple layer. Repeat layers of lady fingers, pineapple and pudding in the same order and chill dessert thoroughly. Just before serving, unmold on plate, and decorate with additional pineapple tidbits and whole almonds. Serve with sweetened whipped cream. Serves 8.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Small Dot Makes Big Difference

When I make a mistake on this newspaper it's generally a honey. Like Saturday when a visitor in town named Nichols put an ad in the Personal Column. He'd lost a young Springer Spaniel and offered a fifteen-dollar reward.

Well, somehow that "$15.00" came out "$1500." So Mr. Nichols gets driven half-crazy by "calls" from folks who figure him for a millionaire eccentric—and by a steady stream of callers toting everything from Great Danes to Mexican Hairlesses.

I offered apologies and a new free ad, but Mr. Nichols replied, "No, thanks"—grimly—"things got so desperate I went out and found that dog myself!"

From where I sit, we're entitled to let one get by us now and then ...though some people never seem to make a mistake. Take Andy at the Green Garden Inn. He's so used to living up to that Self-Regulation Program the Brewing Industry sponsors — keeping his place clean and orderly — that there are no slip-ups. A "doggone" good way to be!

Fine Record—

All-Stars Win 17, Lose Six This Season

(By B. B. Bates)

The All-Stars game with Prattville was rained out and will be played at Prattville next Saturday afternoon.

The All-Stars came back strong in the second game of a Sunday double header at Selma to earn a draw for their days work. In the first game Howard Fields went to the mound for the Stars and really pitched a fine ball game but the infield play for the Stars was rather unearned duns while the Stars could shoddy and gave the Flyers five score only two runs off the hurling of Lefty Lawrence, Selmas ace pitcher. The final score was 5 to 2 in Selma's favor with both clubs getting 5 hits each.

The second game was different as the Stars gave Bobby Wyatt excellent support with Bobby Easterling in the starring role. Bobby made two sensational catches in deep left field to rob the Flyers of at least 2 triples. In the fourth inning with Taylor on base and two out Bobby went back and crashed into tn left field fence in taking a labeled three base hit away from Nicholas. Later in the sixth inning he robbed Harris of at least a triple with a running one hand stab of a hard hit line drive.

Bobby Wyatt gave the Flyers only three hits in notching his seventh win of the year. Two of these came in the first inning and the other was a single by Taylor as first man up in the second inning. At that time Bobby really clipped the Flyers wings and did not give up another hit the remainder of the game. The final score was six to two in favor of the Stars. The Stars collected eight hits with two of these going to Ellison.

It is interesting to note that the Selma Flyers have only lost three games this entire season and two of these were at the hands of the Chilton County All-Stars. The Flyers hold a decision over the Langston Finance team that is rated as one of the best semi-pro teams in the State. The Flyers will come to Clanton on Sunday August 7 to play the Stars another double-header.

Our record for the season now stands at 17 wins and six losses.

Ebernezer Baptist Church At Stanton

Prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday attendance was 95. This is low, so let each one make an effort to bring this up next Sunday.

Last Wednesday night we had one of the best prayer meetings yet. The Leader was Mrs. John Parnell and the attendance was good. We could feel the holy spirit was working, and everybody went home feeling better by having come. One of the best parts of the service was little John Evelyn Parnell playing the piano. It just goes to show, we should use our young folks more.

There were 16 absent at B.T.U. and as Mr. Jimmie Green, the leader said, "where are the 16?" May each one of the members make a special effort to see the absent members this week, that we may have more next Sunday night.

Our meeting will begin next Sunday night, July 17 at the night services. The Rev. Wilkins of the West End Baptist Church will be doing the preaching. Don't forget our promise to pray for the meeting each day this week. We wish to invite every body to come to our meeting, and please pray that the power of God will be present.

Let us look to God and be faithful in our every day life, and remember the words in Revelation 2:10, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

Breed Sows Twice; Add To Litter

Larger litters result when sows are bred twice during their three-day heat period, according to present research findings. Both gilts and sows have farrowed an average of one more pig per litter when they were bred twice. These female animals always release a larger number eggs than are fertilized, and two services result in more fertile eggs.

The prospective mama should be bred late on the first day of heat and again about 24 hours later. If only one service is allowed, it's better to breed late in the heat period, the specialist added.

There were good congregations at both services Sunday. Bro. Evan Johnson's Sunday morning sermon, The Last Hymn, was very inspiring. The Lord's Supper was observed following the sermon.

On Sunday evening after BTU the group working in the South Alabama Mission gave reports of their work there, led by Gordon Conway. Each one gave a report on different features of the work. Every report was extra good, especially the poem given by Jean McCrow which she composed herself of their work there.

Remember our revival is "just around the corner" as it begins the fourth Sunday in this month. Bro. G. W. Riddles will be the evangelist.

SARDIS NEWS

All good things must come to an end. Our Revival closed Friday night. We had a wonderful revival last week. Bro. Brookshire did some of the best preaching we have ever heard; it would just stir your very heart to hear preaching like this. We are mighty thankful for his services and those of Bro. Jones.

We received five members and about forty re-dedicated their lives to Christ. We still have unsaved people in our community, let's keep praying that God's "will" be done" and that the revival will keep living in the hearts of all our people.

We were glad to have Miss Shirley Martin of Beechwood Baptist Church of Birmingham to come spend the week with her aunt and play the piano for us and sing specials. It would really bless your heart to hear her play and sing. We were fortunate to have the Wyatt Trio to come sing for us two nights. This makes our hearts rejoice to see these young people take a stand for God.

Our Vacation Bible School begins next Monday, July 18. It was voted to have the school at night. Our associational missionary, Bro. Cecil Sewell will be in charge. Keep this in mind and come bring your children.

We still have some sick in our community. Remember them when you pray.

Sunday and Sunday night is our regular preaching times. We extend an invitation to everyone to come worship with us. Bro. Jones always has a good message for us, so if you have no other place to worship, you are more than welcome to come be with us.

Fishing in ponds is generaliv "slow" in uly, because there are plenty of little bluegills for the larger fish to eat.

—By Ben

"No Mun, no fun", is the word going the rounds of the city streets but it isn't the kind of "no Mun" you think. That is the way of saying that "Uncle Mun Wyatt" has left us for a few days—or more. Uncle Mun left this week for Birmingham and a vacation and says he will be back when he feels like it. At any rate he says he won't be in the peanut business when he returns.

"Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for such is the Kingdom of God," and we in Clanton do still look on Rusty Shelton as a little boy. But he preached a man-sized sermon at the First Methodist Church last Sunday morning to a man-sized congregation. We have never heard such extravagant praise from some people as we have heard in regards to Rusty's sermon. At any rate he has grown to manhood here amongst us and grew even more in stature last Sunday morning. With his personality, his youth, and his faith, nothing can stop him. We're expecting big things from him and his ministry.

A father was scolding his son for the way he was eating and told him that he thought he was a little pig. It didn't seem to make much impression on the little fellow so his dad asked him if he knew what a little pig was. "Sure", answered the small one, "It's a hog's little boy."

Company I, 200th Inf. Alabama National Guard, the local unit arrived back in town Sunday after their summer encampment at Fort McClellan at Anniston. 1st Lt. Leland Hudson was acting C. O. upon arrival back to the local armory the men received more than $9,000 drill pay and for their sumer encampment pay. Out of 63 men there were 62 who attended the encampment which is practically a perfect score for the local unit.

No doubt about it, Samson was the greatest advertising man of all time. He took two columns and brought down the house.

Got a correction on the Physician's Life Insurance ad which ran in our last issue. We had a Greensboro, Ala., address and phone number in the ad when it should have been a local address; T. A. Griffin or T. J. Sims at the Ellis Tourist Court will take your calls or you can fill in the coupon appearing on another page in this issue. If you should wish to call Griffin or Sims the phone number at Ellis Tourist Court is 571. They'll be glad to hear from you.

Many, many thanks to the advertisers in this issue of the Chilton County News who helped make this Chilton County Hospital Edition possible. Especial thanks goes to Semmie Scott our local photog who contributed so much of his time and talents. Also to David Morgan, the Administrator, Mrs. McGowin, Leo Thompson, and many others. We are deeply indebted to you all and want you to know your complete cooperation is appreciated.

Accepts Job As Chairman Of Heart Council

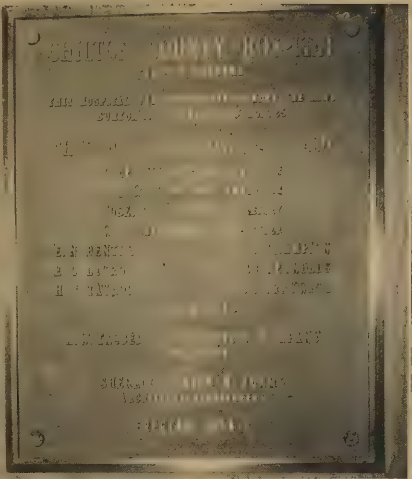
Dr. C. O. Lawrence, Alabama has accepted Chairmanship of the Alabama Heart Association Heart Council for Chilton County, it was announced today by Dr. William J Atkinson, Jr. Association president.

The Chilton County Heart Council will direct activities for the Alabama Heart Association in this County and will assist the state Heart Association in conducting its annual February Heart Fund drive.

Dr. Lawrence is expected to name his co-chairmen for the County within the next few weeks.

"I am highly pleased to be working with the Alabama Heart Association here in Chilton County", Dr. Lawrence said. "Alabama Heart is the state affiliate of the American Heart Association—the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to the reduction of premature death and disability caused by the many forms of heart and blood vessel disease. As the representative of Alabama Heart in Chilton County, our Heart Council will join them in a year 'round program of research, education and community service in the heart disease field.

Dr. Lawrence pointed out that 12,374 deaths in Alabama last year were caused by the heart and blood vessel diseases. This was 48% of all deaths in the State.



COMMEMORATING THE CONSTRUCTION of the Chilton County Hospital this bronze plaque is mounted in the lobby of the beautiful new building. It contains all information pertinent to the development of this modern health center.

Unity Executive Meeting To Be 23rd

The Executive meeting of the Chilton-Unity Association will be held at the First Baptist Church, Clanton, Saturday afternoon, July 23 at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting has formerly been held on Sunday afternoon, but several of the pastors planned to be away, and the Moderator, Rev. G. H. Carroll together with others thinks that it is best to hold our meeting Saturday afternoon.

It is a very important meeting since we failed to meet for the last two times and each pastor is urged to attend along with one of the brethren of each church. The summer worker will probably make his report. Other things of vast importance will be discussed. Please make your plans to be present.

Northside Mission Grows From 7 To 75 In Year

Rev. L. E. Hand

The above picture shows the pastor of Northside Baptist Mission, Rev. L. E. Hand, in the pulpit behind a sixty-two pound birthday cake. The cake, baked by Mrs. Claude F. Comer, Mrs. L. E. Hand, Mrs. Buck Headley and Mrs. L. C. Harris, was beautifully decorated and two hundred people were not able to eat all of it on June 19th, when the Mission celebrated one year of growth with services throughout the day.

The day climaxed two weeks of Vacation Bible School and Youth Revival services. Rev. Charles Carter of Birmingham preached in the morning and evening services, and Rev. James Jones of Birmingham, who was Vacation Bible School principal, preached in the afternoon service. Beginning with seven church members the day the Mission organized its Sunday School June 27, 1954, its church membership now totals 75.

Homecoming And Singing To Be At Maple Springs

Rev. J. L. Gaines

The Annual Homecoming and Singing will be the fifth Sunday in July at the Maples Springs Church.

The Revival also begins with services being held each night at 7:30 p.m. Rev. J. L. Gaines of Tuscumbia will be the visiting minister. Services daily at 10:30 a.m.

Local Hospital Features New X-Ray Viewers

The new Chilton County Hospital is equipped with X-Ray viewers in the operating rooms and a few of the other rooms. These viewers are of the greatest importance to a patient's welfare, who has a broken bone or an internal disorder of some kind.

The viewers are installed on the wall of the room, in the case of the operating rooms, in plain view of the doctor as he works. A previously taken X-Ray of the patient can be placed in this viewer and can be referred to by the doctor at anytime during the operation, making it surer and safer for you.

This great advancement enables the doctor to see just how to fit the bones back togther or just where to look for the trouble of internal disorders.

It's something we've never had the good fortune to have around Chilton County and we think it is going to prove one of the most useful and satisfying features of our new hospital.

Large Crowds Expected To Attend Open House

New Hospital Has Convenient Special Rooms

Some of the rooms in the new hospital are equipped and located for the convenience of the staff and public, but are not really necessary to the smooth operation of a hospital. However, they do add greatly to the efficiency of the place, in that everything does have its place, and thereby avoids confusion.

For instance, there is a family room which is located just off the main Reception Room for family groups to meet when there has been a death in the family; or, should you wish to speak privately to your doctor, it is convenient for that also.

Then, of course, there's the Solarium, or sun porch, where you can talk to patients who are not completely bed-ridden. It is a very comfortable lounge, (for patients and their visitors).

There are any number of closets and storage spaces over the building that make for a neater appearance of things and a more convenient operation of the building.

There is a bath for wheel chair patients with the tub in the center of the room so that the patient can be assisted from either side of it.

The laundry room is located in the South wing of the building and will be available to employees (to a certain extent) as well as to patients and a linen service.

There are just some of the extra rooms, but it gives an idea of the efficiency and convenience of the new hospital as a whole, and shows the planning that went into the careful construction of the building. Built with an idea of future development in mind, thus making future development easier when it does become necessary and possible ☆

☆ We've said before and we'll say it again: "As modern as tomorrow", is the new $665,000.00 Chilton County Hospital. For an institution dedicated to the saving of lives you will find no finer little hospital anywhere.

Senator Lister Hill will make the dedication on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock after which visitors will be admitted to the new hospital for its inspection. Again Monday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. the hospital will be open to the public. Guides will be on hand to answer questions and conduct you through the building.

A statement from David Morgan, Administrator, this week announced that the active medical staff of the hospital will be composed of the doctors legally licensed to practice medicine in Chilton County. Morgan also stated that Blue Cross-Blue Shield pre-payment plan for hospital care will be accepted upon presentation of the identification card and that other insurance companies policies will be examined and accepted or rejected on their individual worth.

Make your plans to attend the dedication but if you live within easy driving distance the management has asked that you return for inspection of the hospital on Monday if that is possible. This of course, is to relieve the heavy crowds who will wish to see the new building on Sunday after the dedication speech by Senator Hill

Morgan Chosen Administrator For Efficiency, Ability

David Morgan, the blond, medium built, 29 year old Administrator for the new Chilton County Hospital, is a perfectionist as far as efficiency is concerned, as he will likely prove to you when his public duties are taken up August 1st.

David comes to us from Birmingham, where he was assigned to the Highland Avenue Baptist Hospital as Assistant Adminitrator and where he stayed about a year.

Morgan served his Administrative Residency (internship) at Lloyd Nolan in Fairfield and received his degree in Administrative work from the University of Houston in Houston, Texas. He received a Master of Science and Hospital Administration degree at Northwestern University in Chicago.

The young Administrator, has been married to his wife, Carolyn for seven years. They have 2 small sons, Michael Thomas, three years old and Patrick Kevin, one year old. Sound a bit Irish? Apparently it is and from conversation with papa Morgan, it's a proud ancestry.

When we spoke of efficiency we meant just that. If Dave Morgan hasn't another virtue to his name, he is the most efficient fellow we've ever come across. You can bet your bottom dollar that every door will shut properly, every light will burn every glass will be intact, and every member of the staff will be on their toes, when the new Chilton County Hospital opens to the public August 1st.

COMMENDABLE ACHIEVEMENT—

Chilton Countians are to be commended, along with the rest of the state for having an eye for the future—their future.

The first six months of this year have recorded the highest sales of E bonds and H bonds since 1945, in our state of Alabama, and Chilton County is eighth from the top of the list. A record which we can well be proud of considering the fact that for two or three seasons Chilton has been one of the hardest hit drouth areas in the entire state.

Highest in the state on Bonds is Cleburne County, which has already passed its goal for the entire year of $75,000. They have gone over 100% (112%) and by the end of the year should more than double their first goal at the current rate.

The year's goal for the entire state is $49,500,000, of which Chilton's goal is $260,000. Our county has already bought 78% of its goal in the first six months of sales. In June alone the sales in this county were 51,150.50; a remarkable record. From January through June the County sales have been $202,922.75.

The sale of bonds during times of peace is just as important to you as in times of trouble. You can plan for your future by buying "Bonds for Peace."

Chilton County is first in its district which is district four in area two. There are two areas. Three districts in the first area and nine in the second. Our county is 11.2% ahead of any other county in the fourth district. (There are six other counties.)

With a record such as this Chilton could well be closer than eighth place by the end of the year and with your help, by buying bonds for your own future, it will be very near the top at the end of 1955.

THE GOOD OLE SUMMERTIME?—

July is the middle month of summer. It is the only month in the year in which most school children can safely say they are free from school. It is the month for vacations, scorching weather and wonderful fresh fruits and vegetables.

In modern times summer is not always appreciated as much as it was in the past. It is also true that in most sections of the United States summer is not the long awaited season it long has been in colder climes, especially in most parts of Europe.

In many countries summer is the only time of year when life can be enjoyed, out of doors, anyway. Heating problems are avoided and heavy clothes are put away. Bathing is possible for those who live near the water and abundant sunshine usually makes for healthier living.

Lots of us Americans prefer other seasons to summer. Take fall for instance; the first cool snap, the smell of burning leaves, the first roast pork and apples, football, hunting, the beauty of autumn and the invigorating weather make fall the favorite of many.

Spring, on the other hand, is welcomed by many as favorite. It brings the first warm days, the first flowers, the first greenery, all signs of the end of a rough winter. With spring comes the end of school, baseball, plans for vacations and nature.

Summer is no longer the big favorite, but when you consider the time of freedom for young folks, the parties, boating, fishing, swimming, picnicing and the like. Well, it might not be the season for older folks; but for the youngsters, it's the challenging season to do better things and have better times. With them, there is no season to compare with the fresh, sweet freedom of summer.

A BELOW-AVERAGE COTTON CROP—

The Department of Agriculture has estimated cotton in cultivation on the first of this month at only 17,096,000 acres. This is a surprisingly low figure and is more than two and a half million acres less than was under cultivation at this time in 1954.

Moreover, the 17,096,000 acres is over one million acres less than the total apportioned to growers under the marketing quota program now in existence. That system imposes penalties on excess production.

The Department of Agriculture says that there is a surplus of over ten million bales, so the small crop this year will still be enough to meet demands.

We think that the small cotton farmer is confused as to what he can plant and what he'll get paid for. Why should he bother with a crop as uncertain as the Department has made cotton when he can raise truck crops that he knows will sell, and raise as much as he can. These cotton allotments have the farmers confused and until a standard or a uniformity is reached in what can and can't be raised, the cotton crop will likely continue to be below par.

The farmer realizes that allotments are on his side, but they are so fickle until he can't tell which way to turn—so he turns to a sure crop to harvest. Can you blame him?

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

I witnessed last week one of the most amazing "points of order" assaults that has ever taken place in the House of Representatives.

On Thursday last the House was scheduled to consider a supplemental appropriation bill containing funds in the amount of $1.6 billion, and approval seemed certain. Yet before the evening was over, the bill had been stripped of more than 92% of its funds.

This unique exhibition of budget cutting was done primarily by one member, Rep. Rabaut (D. Mich), who more than 30 times used the technical devise of objecting to items that had not been specifically authorized. Ironically, the opportunity to raise such objection or points of order was possible in most cases because the President had not signed the necessary authorization bill.

The action of Rep. Rabaut apparently took place as a result of a dispute between the Appropriations and the Rules Committees. In any event, the bill was unnecessarily stripped of all but $122 million of its funds and has gone on to the Senate where it is expected the cuts will be restored.

-Spain in NATO?-

A Resolution was unanimously adopted by the House of Representatives last Thursday expressing the sense of the Congress that all proper and necessary steps should be taken to bring about an invitation to Spain to become a party to the North Atlantic Treaty and a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Last May I joined with seven of my colleagues on the Foreign Affairs Committee in introducing resolutions identical to the one passed by the House.

One needs only to look at the map to understand Spain's strategic importance in Western Europe's defenses against international communism. The United States has recognized this importance and is in the process of building a number of bases in Spain, some of which I had the opportunity of visiting last April. I have felt for some time that the addition of Spain to the NATO defense structure would be a logical step in the further strengthening of our NATO alliance and it was for that reason I joined in introducing the resolution that was adopted by the House last week.

-Mutual Defense-

The House also voted last week an appropriation of $2.6 billion for mutual deense, approximately 20% less than had been sought by the Administration. The largest single reduction, totaling more than $420 million was in the funds or military assistance administered by the Department of Defense.

This heavy cut in the amount for military assistance was largely a result of the Defense Department's commitment of $614 million of unobligated funds on the last day of the fiscal year. The committing or obligating of this large amount of money came after a high Defense Department official had assured members of the Appropriations Committee that the Department did not intend to reach out at the last minute and commit unobligated funds.

An effort will probably be made in the Senate to restore all or at least part of the reduction made by the House of Representatives.

Coming To Methodist Church—

Brief Biography Of Dr. Allen W. Moore

Allen W. Moore

Drs. Moore and Pulen will hold a series of New Life Meetings at the First Methodist Church here beginning August 7th and running through the 14th. The meetings will be daily, except Saturday at 7:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The pastor and congregation cordially invites you to attend.

Dr. Allen W. Moore, a native of Birmingham, attended public schools in that city, and Birmingham Southern College. He has twice received the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He served as evangelist of the North Alabama Conference for three years, and was then elected a general evangelist of the Methodist Church, being the youngest man ever elected to that office.

After serving as a general evangelist for five years he was appointed to the Sixty-Seventh Street Methodist Church in Birmingham where he was pastor for two years. He was then appointed presiding elder of the Bessemer District and held that position for three years. In 1937 he was transferred to the Florida Conference and was appointed to the First Methodist Church of St. Petersburg. While there he was elected president of the Minister's Association, and also served as chief of the Chaplain's Corps of the St. Petersburg defense area. In 1944, he was appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church in Dallas, Texas. This is one of the largest churches of Methodism with a membership of approximately 4500 members. Dr. Moore is listed in Who's Who in America. He was a trustee of the Methodist Hospital in Dallas and was chairman of the Board of Evangelism of the North Texas Conference. He has been in demand for evangelistic services, as an after-dinner and a commencement-day speaker. He now lives in St. Petersburgg, Florida and is devoting his full time to the field of evangelism.

Dr. Grant K. Pulen will be in charge of the music and leading the congregation in singing. Dr. Pulen has a degree in Music from Syracuse University. He traveled with Dr. Moore as an evangelistic singer for two years and now for the past three years has been Minister of Music in the First Methodist Church in Ocala, Fla. He has seven choirs and devotes all his time to training these choirs and giving voice lessons to those in the Chapel and Chancel Choirs. He is also president of the PTA in Ocala.

Things we -SEE- and Hear

by "Tuck"

Like to congratulate Rusty Shelton on his first sermon since deciding on the ministry. From all reports, his talk at the Methodist Church last Sunday was above average. Well, we know him as a pretty sincere fellow, so we're fairly certain that he'll go a long way. We admire his courage as well as his choice of callings.

We told you the new hospital was going to open didn't we? Well, just look in this here issue of the News and see what we were talking about. And while we're at it, don't forget the Open House this coming Sunday and Monday. Everyone is welcome. You owe it to yourself to see what your money has helped to buy for our county.

Hear about the motorist who ran over the farmer's hen and had to pay a dollar for it. "I guess 50c should square it," says the motorist. [illegible], says the farmer, 'better make that a dollar. I've got a rooster who thought a mighty lot of that hen and the shock might kill him too."

Cud'n Payne has become a poppa again. This was no ordinary boy, though. This little critter weighed better'n 10 pounds. Nope, he doesn't look like his ole man; he has a chance. Name's Richard Phillip in case you're wondering and he's boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon P. Payne on Lay Dam Road. Rick has a sister and a brother bigger than he, so there's two strikes against him already, but knocks and 'short ends of the bargains' notwithstanding, he should grow up to be a fine fellow. (Like his ole man.)

Taxes come and taxes go,
It takes them taxes to make us grow;
If it makes you feel any better, pal,
Look! We've got a new hos-pi-tal.
—Author unknown

Lucky for him.

Marion Deaton, one of our best friends, is in town. He's been here for several days with his mother and brothers before he goes to Eglin Field in Florida. "Pete's" been stationed in the north before coming home and he says it's been pleasant cool up there. We coulda told him better than to leave something like that for this old heat wave, but why should we suffer all by ourselves. Anyway, we're mighty glad to see him at home. . . now if we can find some way to keep in touch with him until he's home again; seems he fears writin' letters something terrible. Well, he's promised this time, so maybe we'll get one or two, depending on how many months he's gone. We were glad to see him looking so well, and he seems to be sold on the Air Force. As they say in the Air Force, "more power to 'im."

Guess they've caught all the Coosa fish. Reports have it that they just ain't bitin'. Maybe the heat's got them just as it has most of the fishermen.

See where they are selling dresses here in town somewhere at 25 per cent off. W haven't been able to locate the place, but see here, we know it's warm, but it's not quite that hot. It's a good thing it's 90 instead of 100, no tellin' what might happen.

Some little tot is sure going to be rolling in merchandise when he becomes the first baby born at the new hospital. I tell you, there's a lot of stuff down there at the drug store. You didn't know about it? Well, there's a play pen down at Callen-Alred Drug Company where all the merchant's in town have deposited gifts and knick-knacks for the first baby to be born at the new Chilton County Hospital and this baby is going to be loaded. If you have any donaions, merchants, better get around there, the stork don't wait you know.

SLOW DOWN and Live

See You IN CHURCH Sunday

IT'S MY OPINION

Since the keynote at the new Chilton County Hospital is cooperation, it's my opinion that the public should take that into consideration, also.

In the first place cooperation itself, means everyone, and the cooperation theme should extend far beyond the walls of the hospital building itself.

It is an established opinion with me that the employees and doctors of the new hospital are going to practice this theme always, whether dealing amongst themselves or with the public. Especially, I think, the public will be foremost in the minds and actions of the employees, so it seems only fair that the public, in turn, feels a small amount of appreciation by showing that they too, can cooperate.

When you are visiting at the new hospital, try to follow all the rules of common courtesy in the first place, then try to go by the house rules as best you know how, and then go just a little further than that by putting yourself out just a bit to do the right thing at the right time.

As I said, it's a fact that the general staff at the new hospital is going to do all it can to please you when you are there, so whether you be patient or visitor treat them with courtesy and kindness they deserve as much, and more.

Most of the folks at the hospital, I'm acquainted with and usually, will go out of their way for you. You in turn, should be thoughtful enough to go out of your way for them if necessary.

This will make for cooperation as we've never seen, and that's just what we want and need at our new hospital to make it the place we'd like it to be.

A little determination for a lot of cooperation will surprise you with its results. If we'll all pull together and cooperate with the staff of the hospital there'll be no dissension, no big differences and nothing to quarrel and fuss about. Let's not pick it to pieces, like we are inclined to do so many things. Let's take into consideration that the folks at our hospital are doing the best they can, and with a job as big as theirs, you can't please everybody. Let's be broad-minded and see how it works. Remember, "Cooperation, the Keynote."

Chilton's New Hospital Has Fine Nursery For New Chiltonians

When young John Q. Public enters this world by way of the new Chilton County Hospital he will be placed in the spotless, air-cleaned, roomy nursery, where he will be watched over by a nurse, one of which will be stationed just outside his door. Of course, he's likely to have company while he's there, but there is ample room for 15 or more new John's and Jane's if necessary.

The bassinet's are of modern design and are made of clear plastic. This makes them lighter and easier for the nurse in charge to move them about. It also helps the little fellow see who his neighbor is. A large plate glass, which covers the entire West side of the rom will enable Junior to get his first glimpse of papa and the outside world.

The baby's formulas will be mixed and prepared in an adjacent room to the nursery which is especially equipped for the job, assuring your new arrival of sanitary nourishment.

A Nurses desk is in a small room directly outside the nursery so that a watchful eye can be kept on the newborns at all times.

The nurseries (white and colored) will be equipped with a "Baby Haven" or incubator, which will assist small fry in breathing a little better or growing a little longer if and when the need arises.

There is also an isolation Nursery for babies who are suspected of a default in any way. They can be placed in this nursery for special surveilance by both the doctor and the nurses until the trouble or suspected trouble is cleared up. This benefits both the other babies as well as the "suspect" baby in that it will safeguard the health of all concerned.

Chilton County Hospital One Of Alabama's Best

Take A Tour With Us Through Your Hospital

You enter Chilton County's new $650,000 hospital from the West side main entrance into the Reception Room where you will be greeted by Mrs. Sibley McGowin or Mrs. Gertie Lee Barker. They will give you directions from there, but supposing we take an unescorted tour of the halls; so long as we're here, anyway.

After leaving the reception room you enter the Nurses Station from which all halls lead and where the head nurse and all subordinates are located and can be called at a moment's notice. The main switchboard, connecting the front with every room in the hospital is located here behind the Nurses desk.

"The Laboratory room, where all chemicals are compounded, where drugs are mixed and where experimentation and other forms of lab work is carried on. Head of this department, or the Lab Technician is Mrs. Fay Bonds Wells.

The consultation room is also located along this hallway, which is the room where your trouble is diagnosed and proper treatment is decided.

The doctor's Library is here also, where the doctor can check up on cases, study on a theory or just sit quietly.

The X-Ray room with its big thick reinforced door, and the new modern machine which is adjustable to take any kind of X-Ray picture called for.

Now, when you reach the end of that hall, you will be facing the ambulance entrance. There, a hall runs to the left and one to the right. The left hall is the Maternity Ward with its pre-labor and labor rooms and two delivery rooms.

Directly inside the door, on the left, if you're facing the ambulance entrance from the inside, is the emergency operating room. This room is for emergency operations only and therefore is located directly inside the ambulance entrance.

Turn right down that hallway and you find (if you're allowed back there) the Major Operating Room and directly across from it the Minor Operating Room. Wash-up sinks and basins are strategically located to afford the doctors sanitary cleaning before and after an operation.

While we're in this Northern end of the building, it might be interesting to note that it does contain all the operating and surgical departments, as well as Nurses locker rooms and Doctor's lockers.

Should you take a right, if you are facing East you will find two corridors. The one toward the front of the building contains the personnel room' such as the dining room's kitchen, etc. The right hand hall toward the back of the building consists of the two nurseries (white and colored) and the maternity ward rooms. (white only.)

Should you go directly East from the Reception room you will find all of the entire wing taken up in private and semi-private rooms and the Deluxe Private Room, which is the best in the hospital. Also in this wing of the building, at the very back is the Solarium (or sun room). This is the quieter wing of the building and contains nothing else, but patient rooms on either side of the hallway.

There you have it, you've been on a brief, tour of the hospital. It's nice isn't it? Of course to really appreciate it you'd better attend Open House, Sunday and Monday.

Chilton Is One—

50th Hill-Burton Hospital Built In Alabama

Alabama's fiftieth hospital and health facility built under the Hill-Burton Hospital Construction Act opened its doors at Arab on Sunday.

Since 1947, when the Hill-Burton Act became effective, Alabama has almost doubled the total number of general hospital beds in the State. In addition, the Hospital Program has enabled the building of many other types of health facilities including public health centers, sanitoriums for the care and treatment of the tubercular and mentally ill, nurses homes and training schools, crippled children's clinics, and the Dental Clinic and research and laboratory facilities at the University of Alabama Medical Center.

In 1947 almost half of Alabama's 67 counties had no acceptable hospital beds. Today, through the operation of the Hospital Program and Alabama's Hospital Licensure Law, the number of such counties has been reduced to 2.

On Sunday, July 24, the new Chilton County Hospital will open its doors at Clanton. Senator Lister Hill will deliver the principal address at the dedication ceremonies.

Other Hill-Burton hospitals and health facilities in the State are now nearing completion, and several Alabama cities and counties are starting construction on new hospitals and health facilities. Many Alabama cities and communities have applications on file to build hospitals and other health facilities as rapidly as funds become available under the Hill-Burton Act.

Senator Hill, Chairman of the Senate Committee on hospital appropriations, led a successful fight in the Senate for sharply increased funds for hospital contruction. Approval by the House Conferees of the increased funds voted by the Senate would give a boost to hospital construction in Alabama.

Hot Weather Hints For Baby

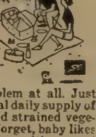
by Martha Logan

"Baby Goes On a Picnic"

Take baby along on the family picnic this summer and let him benefit from the outdoor air and sunshine, too. He will enjoy the change as much as the rest of the family and can be just as comfortable in the woods or at the picnic grounds as he is at home.

Of course, you'll want to take along a portable bed equipped with netting to protect baby from pesky mosquitos and flies and, if there's one available, a collapsible play pen so that he will have more room to stretch and play when he wakes from his nap.

As for clothing, just use your own good judgment. A sweater and a blanket are musts since it usually gets much cooler toward evening, but otherwise, baby wears essentially the same clothing as he does at home.



Feeding baby on a picnic should be no problem at all. Just take along his usual daily supply of strained meats and strained vegetables. And don't forget, baby likes and needs variety, so it's a good idea to take along several different kinds of foods for baby too. Then, for example, if strained chicken doesn't appeal maybe his strained beef will. Swift & Company makes available eight different kinds of specially prepared meat for babies, so there's plenty of variety right at your fingertips. Take your choice of beef, pork, lamb, veal, liver, heart, liver and bacon or chicken, all just the right consistency for baby.

After baby has had a hearty meal and has played in the open air to his heart's content, he will probably welcome his car crib and sleep all the way home.

FHA Backs Farm Ownership Loans On Eligible Land

Farm Ownership Loans are made to assist farm families in becoming owners of efficient family-type farms.

Farm Ownership Loans are made from funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the Farmers Home Administration and from annual appropriations by Congress. The same standards for farms and farmers' eligibility are followed for both kind of loans, but insured loans are made to families who can make a ten percent down payment, or have a ten percent equity in their farms.

Your application will be considered if you are a Veteran, or a Farm Tenant, Farm Laborer, Sharecropper, or if you own an inadequate or unimproved unit, or if you own a farm with adequate acreage that needs only building improvements. Loans are made only to those eligible applicants who cannot obtain suitable credit from other sources. The Farmers Home Administration County Committee also must decide, on the basis of your character, experience, managerial ability, industry, and financial resources, whether you are likely to be successful in the farming business. The Committee is made up of three local perons, including at least two farmers.

A farm on which a loan is to be made must be large enough and productive enough when purchased, enlarged or developed, to enable you to earn a good living, pay your operating expenses, taxes and insurance and meet your other obligations while paying for it. The farm should be a family-sized farm, that is, a place you and your family can normally operate with a minimum of hired labor.

You should apply for a loan at the Farmers Home Administration Office, Clanton, Alabama which is located in the Higgins Building.

Chilton Quota Not Reached In Blood Program

The Chilton County Chapter of Red Cross would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who assisted in any way with our blood collection on July 15. Especially we wish to thank Mr. Penn of the Coca Cola Company for donation of four cases of Coca Colas; also Mr. Williams of the Hi Land Dairy for a donation of one case of sweet milk.

Again thanks to our local doctors who have charge each Bloodmobile visit. Their splendid cooperation is greatly appreciated. We always are very grateful to our volunteer workers in the center for their services. The volunteer workers are now under the supervision of our new Chairman of volunteer services, Mrs Ruby Morgan.

Our sincere thanks to Miss Bryant who is secretary of the First Baptist Church, for her kind cooperation. Also Mr. G. C. Powell, Chapter Chairman, who is always so willing to assist in any and all service of Red Cross greatly assited us at the Blood Center.

We regret to state, however, our blood collection dropped below our minimum quota of 130 pints this time. This is the first time in some time that we have failed to collect over the quota of blood assigned by our Birmingham Regional Blood Center. We only collected 86 pints which, of course, is appreciated, but below our minimum quota. If we continued at this low rate we may be forced out of the National Blood Program. We do not want that to happen as the program is one of the most important in our county.

There were 113 persons who went through our blood center the 15th but there were 27 who were rejected for one reason or another.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Arabian Remedy Yields New Drug

Doctors attending the annual American Medical Association Convention held recently in Atlantic City were introduced to yet another drug of ancient heritage re-discovered by modern science. This drug, Senokot, is a medication based on an ancient formula designed to deal with one of man's most frequent complaints.

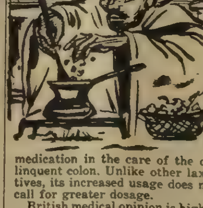
This new medicinal find, now making its appearance for the first time in the American drug store, is derived from a North African senna plant known as Cassia acutifolia. Arabian physicians introduced a crude extract of this plant to Europe more than 1,000 years ago for the treatment of intestinal obstipation.

Though the beneficial qualities of senna have been known through the ages, its availability only in crude form made it difficult to apply. Its dosage was difficult to standardize, and its effects could not be predicted accurately.

About eight years ago scientists at the University of London research laboratories refined the crude drug and found it an excellent agent in the treatment of constipation. They extracted the drug from the pod of the plant rather than from its leaves. They standardized the dosage of the extract and generally improved its effectiveness. The newly-developed drug, which they called Senokot, is prepared in chocolate flavored granules which can be taken by the teaspoon or in the form of a cocoa-malt drink and has been made available in the United States and Canada by the Purdue Frederick Company.

Drug Called Cure

Perhaps the most significant characteristic of Senokot is that it leads to the eventual freedom of medication in the care of the delinquent colon. Unlike other laxatives, its increased usage does not call for greater dosage.



British medical opinion is highly favorable as regards the therapeutic effectiveness of this new drug. In the words of Sir Adolphe Abrahams, consulting physician of the Westminster Hospital, England, this medication is "a cure in the true sense of the word." The drug is reported to be safe, without side effects.

Medical researchers have established the superiority of this drug in the treatment of chronic constipation among patients of all ages. Because of its chocolate flavor it is easily administered to children.

Staff Dining Hall Important Part Of New Hospital

The Dining Hall in the new hospital is a most important part of our new completed project. The help's dining hall and the staff dining hall are in a single room, but can be seperated by a large sliding panel. This enables them to make two dining rooms or one large dining room, whichever is called for or needed.

Bulletin boards are placed in either end of this large room and Administrator Morgan says that anything the staff should know would be posted on these boards He said, "everyone will eat at some time or other so this is the logical place to post important notices so that everyone can see them." Further indication of the efficiency and good planning you will find at our new hospital.

There are, of course, bulletin boards throughout the building, but the major bulletin board will be in the dining hall.

The staff will be served lunch, dinner and a night meal, on for each shift There will be no breakfast served at the hospital and the dining room is available only to the staff.

All-Stars Bow To Prattville For Seventh Loss

The Chilton County All-Stars playing with a patched up lineup could not cope with a strong Prattville team and lost their seventh game of the season 10 to 3. Bobby Easterling, Minor and Ellison did the pitching for the Stars. Lamar Edwards led the hitters with two hits and two walks.

Sunday afternoon local fans were treated to a fine pitching duel between the Stars' Wyatt and Irondales' Pearson with Wyatt getting the best of Pearson. Both pitchers were using a tantalizing curve ball and change of pace to keep the hitters off stride. The results was four hits each team. The game was scoreless until the bottom of the seventh. Edwards led off with a walk and two Irondale errors gave the Stars their first run. Wyatt then squeezed Henry Smith home with a perfect bunt. Minor walked and Bobby Easterling homered over the right centerfield fence driving in three runs. That completed the scoring for the day. For Wyatt it was his eighth win of the season against only one loss.

Wednesday night the Stars will be playing the Montgomery Gaels Saturday afternoon the Randolph team will come to City Park. Sunday the Stars will go to Sylacauga. This game will be played at Gantts Quarry ball park. On Sunday, July 31 the Sylacauga team will come to City Park. Sunday, August 7 the Selma Flyers will be our visitors for a big double header.

The Stars have a record of 18 wins and 7 losses for the season.

H. H. Glenn Attends District Sales Meeting

Henry H. Glenn, of Glenn Motor Co., Studebaker dealer in this area, has returned from a major meeting with officials of the company in Atlanta, where he learned that sales of Studebaker passenger cars and trucks in this region are running ahead of the national pace.

The meeting was one of the first to be held throughout the United States in which the company's sales heads and dealer organization are launching Studebaker's strongest sales promotion program since before the war.

William A. Keller, Studebaker general sales manager, told Mr. Glenn and other dealers that Studebaker produced more cars in the first five months of this year than in the first nine months of 1954, and that constantly rising sales have reached a volume more than 50 per cent higher than the comparable period in 1954.

Studebaker retail sales in the region of which Clanton is a part, are running more than 10 per cent ahead of the national average, it was disclosed. Pacing the sales climb in this area is the Commander V-8 which was repositioned from the medium-price field this year to become one of the four competitors in the low-price V-8 field. The continuing strong sales activity, it was pointed out, reflects the national attention that has been focused on Studebaker for its part in developing with Packard a fourth full-line company.

At the meeting, Mr. Glenn discussed with Mr. Keller and other sales officials the new Studebaker program developed by the company, which includes a new styling division, intensified new merchandising activities, new engineering and production advances, and expanded advertising plans.

New Hospital To Be Staffed By A Crew Of 28 Members

Nurses Station To Be Nerve Center Of New Hospital

The Nurses Station, which is more or less headquarters for all on-duty nursing staff of the new hospital is of the most modern design.

The roof of this section is built double so that light can come thru the ceiling thus eliminating extra lighting facilities. The switchboard, which is connected with every room in the hospital is located here.

It is here that the signal light for emergency help in the delivery room can be summoned. Also, when you buzz from your room, a light with your room number will come on indicating to the nurses who has called.

Nurses working the floor will work in and out of this Station and the Director of Nursing will have her headquarters behind this counter.

Directions to patien's rooms and other personal information will be available at this desk. The head nurse here will be Miss Florence Rowland.

PATTI PAGE ON TV FOR OLDSMOBILE

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

New Anesthetic

Scientists have long been searching for an ideal anesthetic — one that is safe, effective and free of unpleasant side effects for the patient. Without anesthetics, modern medicine could not attempt life-saving surgery.

A new anesthetic, tested by doctors at the University of California Medical School Hospital, recently has been developed along the lines of the much sought "ideal" agent.

This anesthetic, Viadril, when injected intravenously and combined with inhaled nitrous oxide, provided effective and safe anesthesia for 130 patients of Dr. Frank J. Murphy and his associates.

Viadril is a steroid — like such compounds as cortisone—but it does not exhibit any hormone-like effects when injected in humans.

The new anesthetic was developed and synthesized at the pharmaceutical laboratories of Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., after a screening program which tested more than 100 new steroid compounds.

First hint of the anesthetic-like qualities of the steroids came more than 20 years ago when Dr. Hans Selye, famed Canadian physiologist, reported that steroids exhibit a sedative effect in laboratory mice.

Other scientists, in the first decades of this century, developed the local, spinal and intravenous anesthetics in use today. Ether and laughing gas came into general use less than 100 years ago, but were great advances over the earlier anesthetics such as marijuana, henbane, mandrake root and cocaine.

Scientists believe Viadril will supply the surgeon another useful tool, and may well open a whole new area in the field of anesthesiology.

The new County Hospital will be run by a capable and efficient crew of 28 persons headed by Administrator, Dave Morgan.

In the front office the folks who will help you whenever necessary are: Mr. Morgan himself; Mrs. Sibley McGowin, who is the Office Manager; and Mrs Gertie Lee Barker, who is the Office Clerk.

At the Nurses Station someone will be on duty at all times. There are three Registered Nurses, one of which also will be on duty at all times. They are: Mrs. Pauline Kelley, Mrs. Grace Robinson Windham and Miss Marie Moatts. These ladies are competent and are skilled in their work. Each has the experience to do her job well. You are safe in their hands.

Nurses' Aides are Mrs. Ruth Rainey, Miss Lula Smith and Miss Bonnie Crumpton. These ladies will assist in any way possible, emergency or otherwise.

Practical Nurses, those who have had much experience, are: Mrs. Annie Gertrude Buckner, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Holcomb, Mrs. Minnie H. Clack, and Mrs. Louella Taylor. They know their business. If you're just plain miserably sick, these are the ladies who know how to comfort you. They are skilled from doing. You're at ease all the way with them.

A behind the scenes worker at the hospital is the Anesthetist, who in our case, is Mrs. Catherine Mis-Kelley. She is highly skilled in her work and as capable as she is skilled.

There are to be four Nursing Maids and four Orderlies to make the work at the hospital run more smoothly, but Administrator Morgan explained that they would be hired at a later date. Their jobs will be mostly clean-up and the Orderlies will assist you in any way possible

The Maintenance Engineer is considered one of the most important, if not the most important figure in the hospital. At least he is a key man. Of course, cooperation is the key word at our new hospital, and one worker couldn't do without the other, but it is the Maintenance Engineer's job to see that the hospital is kept up and running. Mr. John McMichael is the holder of this important post at Chilton County Hospital and according to Morgan is very capable in his capacity. He will be in charge, of all repairs, keeping of the building and grounds, smooth operating of the boiler room where the generators and power plants are located. He is the general trouble-shooter for the entire building as far as maintenance goes. He is held in very good trust by his Administrator, so we can be assured that he is the man for the job and that everything will run smoothly, as far as mechanical and electrical devices are concerned. Also, if the grounds are any example now of what they are going to be like, well, he's the right man.

An interesting and very essential branch of the new hospital is the Laboratory and X-Ray facilities. Technician in these departments is Mrs. Fay Bonds Wells. She is trained in the work and can handle any job given her along these lines.

The Dietary Supervisor of our hospital is Miss Emma Smith. She will be in charge of all meals, for personnel and patients in the building. She is "top man" in the kitchen and will have two subordinates to help her out with meals and serving. They are Mrs. Gertrude Dunlap and Mrs. Lillie Belle Culp. These three wil lhave charge of your diet and they have some of the newest and most modern equipment to work with to assure you of good food for good health.

This is the personnel of our new hospital and from our gatherings, the Administrator has unquestionable faith in each and every department head and their assistants. This is our further assurance that our new hospital will be run businesslike on a cooperative basis with a minimum of mistakes and differences.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Patterson wishes to express their appreciation to their friends and relatives for their help and prayers during the illness of the wife and mother, while in the Sanatorium in Missouri. May the Lord richly bless each and everyone of you.

Southern Bell Issues Directories

A new telephone directory is scheduled to be distributed here next week, according to Southern Bell Manager Parks Scott.

He said that approximately 25[illegible] copies of the book will be delivered to Clanton subscribers. An additional 300 directories will be distributed to Maplesville subscribers who are listed in a seperate section of the bok.

This year's edition of the Clanton-Maplesville telephone directory carries approximately the same number of telephone listings as the one issued last August.

Telephone users are urged by Mr. Scott to discard the old green-covered directory upon receipt of the 1955 edition and to refer to the new one for all numbers. Many numbers have been changed and new subscribers listed since the 1954 directory was issued.

"Look up the number before calling," Mr. Scott advises telephone users, "it will lessen your chance of getting a wrong number and consequently you'll save time."

All Patient Rooms In New Hospital Modernly Equipped With The Best

THE PATIENT'S COMFORT was foremost in mind when these rooms were built and equipped. This Deluxe Private Room has a private bath and is adjacent to the sun porch. Every room in the hospital has beds adjustable to many different heights. The beds differ however, in height.

If you happen to be the occupant of one of the new room's at the new hospital, believe you me, it won't be like being sick at all. Every convenience you could ask for or wish is at your disposal and you have only to buzz to have a nurse come a'runnin.

The rooms are mostly two bed wards, but every single bed in the entire hospital can be heavily curtained to give you all the privacy you'll need. Each patient's bed has a three way light which adjusts to fit your every need. Each room is equipped with a received for piped oxyegn in case of emergencies or just for convenience. Every room has a private or semi-private bath. Beautiful draperies are hung over the spacious windows to give the room a cheery atmosphere. The window sills are marble, so that flower pots that run over or glasses will not mar the beauty of the sill or the room.

Some of the rooms are equipped with new, modern beds and according to Administrator Morgan are among the first of their type to be tried in a hospital. They are much lower than the conventional hospital bed, that you have to climb up to. They're not much higher, if any, than your own bed in your room at home. Of course, patients that are bed-ridden and require much bedside attendtion will be on the old type beds, which is still considered best for patients of that nature because it makes it easier for nurses to help them.

The Nurses Station is centrally located so that rooms are easily accessible in a hurry.

The rooms, as is the entire hospital, are all air-conditioned in the warm months and heated by the same system in the cold months. Thus making two systems of one and eliminating much added expense and equipment.

We do not wish that you be the first to try one of the new rooms, but should you be first or should you ever have occasion to use one of them, we can assure you of comfort and satisfaction as you've never known before, anywhere.

NO MORE THAN four people are in any ward room (and there is only one four room ward) and they are easily divided by a folding screen or curtains between the beds. Each room is equipped with an oxygen outlet and two-way communication with the nursing station.

Hairy Vetch Is Substitute For Crimson Clover

Auburn, Ala.—A severe shortage of crimson clover seed is seen for this fall. But Alabama growers who can use the legume in winter grazing with ryegrass and small grains are reminded that hairy vetch will work just as well. The latter is in good supply this year.

A report on the seed outlook this week said that Alabama's 1955 production of crimson clover was estimated at 900,000 pounds—less than a third of last year's crop and far below the record eight and one-half million pounds produced in 1951.

The low yield is attributed to several factors, but bad weather made the biggest difference. Drouth in the fall of 1954 kept many growers from seeding the acreage they otherwise would have planted, and many reseeding strains of crimson clover crop was hurt by the late March failed to reseed. This spring the freeze; then came a long dry spell, followed by heavy rains hitting most parts of the state near harvest time.

Most crimson clover is produced in the Southeast, where the same general weather conditions brought the national production of crimson down to less than eight million pounds. This output is 51 percent below that of last year and about 44 percent under the ten-year average.

Since seed of the widely used legume will be in short supply all over the South, many growers will turn to haidy vetch for their August and September plantings of winter grazing mixtures. This vetch has been tried successfully in combination with grasses and small grains not only on agricultural experiment stations in the state, but also on many Alabama farms.

Paper that has become stuck to wood can be removed easily if it is first soaked with a few drops of oil and then rubbed gently with a clean cloth.

Hardwoods For Fuels

Alabamians cut well over one million cords of fuelwood each year, and unfortunately much of it is valuable pine. If that much low-quality hardwood were taken out of woodlots and burned to heat farm homes every year, it would mean a significant improvement in the quality of our forests.

Oak, hickory, and most of the other dense hardwoods not only are worth far less on the market and are therefore much cheaper, but also burn better and longer than pine.

Boiler Room At New Hospital Is Complete In Every Phase

Inside the new hospital's Boiler or Power Room is located the big power of the hospital. Here is housed the generators, incenerators, boilers, etc. The entire power section of the hospital is within this room, located at the Southern end of the building in the basement. It is the only room in the entire building off of the main floor.

There is an emergency generator in case of failure on the other generators. This is to insure power when an operation is being performed so that lights, machinery and other essential will not be put out of use.

This emergency generator does not accept the full load of power in the building, but it does supply the operating and other essential rooms with power at crucial moments until the trouble is found and corrected.

Head of this department is Mr. John McMichael. He is responsible for all these power machines and furnaces and the entire operation of the hospital depends largely upon him, from a mechanical standpoint.

Be sure, on your trip through the hospital this week-end to get Mr. McvMichael to show you the power plant of our new building.

The summer sun has made himself felt, and the poultry flock now needs all the ventilation it can get.

Test Soil Now For A Winter Cover Crop

Auburn, Ala.— Farmers looking for ways to cut production costs and build up their profits are missing a sure bet if they have skipped soil tests. Recommendations on fertilizer and lime requirements made by the soils lab at Auburn enable thrifty growers to buy only the exact amount of plant food needed for top yields.

Soil testing is just as important with cover crops that will be planted this summer and fall as it is with spring row crops. In some parts of the state, fertilizer and lime applied to row crops earlier in the year may be enough to carry cover crops without additional applications. But where they are needed, these crops won't make the desired growth without them. In either case, it pays to know and the way to find out is through soil sampling. Farmers should send samples now, from fields where fall crops will be planted.

Here's What a

New or Growing Industry

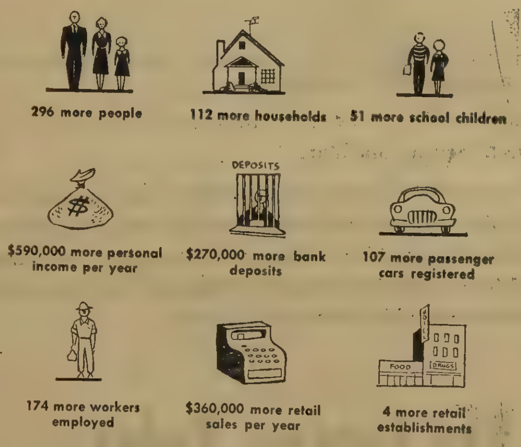
Means to Any Community

During recent years hundreds of industries, large and small, have located or expanded in Alabama. Whenever a new manufacturing plant goes up or an existing industry expands in an Alabama town, everybody profits. New jobs are created; the new pay rolls help local business, property and tax values are increased, new opportunities result for the entire community.

Recently nine counties—eight of them in the Southeast—were analyzed* to learn what happens when a new industry comes to a community. This survey disclosed that:

100 New Factory Workers Mean This to Their Community



296 more people
112 more households
51 more school children
DEPOSITS
$590,000 more personal income per year
$270,000 more bank deposits
107 more passenger cars registered
174 more workers employed
$360,000 more retail sales per year
FOOD
4 more retail establishments

*By Economic Research Department of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

A copy of the complete survey may be had by writing Industrial Development Department, Alabama Power Company, Birmingham, Alabama.

Our Industrial Development Department keeps in touch with industries in many fields considering Southern locations and presents to these firms complete information on the many manufacturing and industrial advantages which our state offers.

The Major Delivery Room has all the conveniences and then some of any larger hospital. All the doctor or nurse has to do in this room to summons extra help is to push a button and help will be on its way. This is for unforeseen emergencie and on the moment decisions.

The patient will remain in this section of the building, all necessary conveniences are there, until she is able to go back to her room. Here the attendants can keep a close eye on her during the recuperation period, furthering the safety measures of this particular operation.

The roms are situated and adequate for as many patients as normally would be called for. You won't have to worry about waiting and there will be plenty of help close at hand.

Marbury FFA Active During Summer Months

As soon as school was out Marbury Chapter made plans for a four day outing at Coopers Lodge at Foley, Alabama. There were thirteen from the Marbury Chapter to enjoy the camping trip, which consisted of boating, fishing, swimming, sightseeing, and cooking. All that went on the trip want to go back next year.

On June, 8, 9, 10 a seperate few of the Marbury FFA members attended the State FFA Convention at Auburn. Those that attended the convention came back with inspiration all FFA contests with the idea of winning.

On June 30th the Marbury Chapter held a meeting in the agriculture building. Charles Tatum, president, took charge of the meeting. Order of business was making plans for entering the contests, starting committee to work, and making plans for a social.

On July 14 an FFA meeting and social was held in the Agriculture Building. Between 45 and 50 boys and girls enjoyed themselves with an evening of fun and fellowship. At intermission, Mr. Manning, advisor started cutting watermelons. All present enjoyed eating them.

We are happy to announce that Billy Thompson will represent Autauga County at the State Forestry Camp near Selma. The camp starts July 31st and ends August 6th.

FIN-FAN ITEMS—

Hot Weather Causing Slump In Fishing Contest Entries

All's quiet on the fishing front. The seasonal slump has narrowed the field to an occasional early morning or late afternoon catch of outstanding Bass. Reports from boat docks along the lovely Coosa-Talapoosa Lakes say that some nice assorted string are being brought in, but not too many of these have been large enough to enter the contest. Bream fishermen are finding plenty of action, however. Joe Stanley Titus and party caught over one hundred average sized Bluegills and Shellcrackers from Hatchett Creek, Lake Mitchell, last week. Joe said that the type bait used was crickets.

Good fishing is expected to open up any day now, and if you want to be on hand when the action starts just come on out now and spend a little time looking over Lay Dam and Lake Lay.

Lay Dam is about 12 miles east of Clanton and like the other Alabama Power Company plants there are courteous guides on duty between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to show you the home of Reddy Kilowatt. Named after the late Captain William Patrick Lay of Gadsden, Lay Dam was completed in April, 1914. The over-all length is 1,350 feet and carries a nominal head of 70 feet. There are 26 flood control gates, each 30 feet wide by 14 feet high, that regulate the water level of the 6,000 acre lake formed by the dam. Lake Lay extends up the Coosa River 24 miles to the shoals above Bullocks Island near Wilsonville. The larger creek tributaries that offer good fishing, year 'round are: Paint, Waxahatchee, Blue Springs, Rock Springs, Spring, Peckerwood, Cedar and Beeswax. Along the picturesque shorelines are nestled several hundreds of public and private recreational cottages where more and more families are enjoying their vacations each year.

A list of public fishing camps and lodges are as follows. Blalock's Fishing Camp, just above Lay Dam and 13 miles from Clanton; Riverview Fishing Camp, 1 mile above the dam and 13 miles from Clanton; Ellis' Fishing Camp, 1 mile above Lay Dam and 14 miles from Clanton; Joe White's Boat Dock, near the mouth of Waxahatchee Creek and 13 miles from Columbiana; Sanford's Fishing Camp, Waxahatchee Creek, 13 miles south of Columbiana; H. C. Leigh's Fishing Camp, Waxahatchee Creek, 13 miles south of Columbiana; Shraeder's Boat Landing, Waxahatchee Bridge, 10 miles from Columbiana; Kibbey's Landing, 1 mile above the Narrows and 10 miles from Columbiana; Drennen's Pine Cove Fishing Camp, 2 miles above the Narrows and 10 miles from Columbiana; Glasscock's Fishing Camp, near the mouth of Spring Creek and about 10 miles from Columbiana; Ideal Landing, Spring Creek, 9 miles below Columbiana; Spring Creek Landing, Spring Creek, 9 miles below Columbiana; Okomo Fishing Camp, near the L & N R.R., Coosa River Bridge and 11 miles from Columbiana; Perkins' Fishing Camp, 4½ miles above the L & N Bridge and 8 miles east of Columbiana; Beeswax Fishing Camp at mouth of Beeswax Creek, 6 miles from Columbiana; Smith's Fishing Camp, near Bullock's Island, the extreme upper reaches of Lake Lay, 5 miles from Wilsonville, Cedar Creek Landing, mouth of Cedar Creek, 12 miles from Sylacauga; Rock Springs Landing, mouth of Rock Springs Creek, 12 miles from Sylacauga; Blue Springs Fishing Camp, mouth of Blue Springs Creek, 18 miles from Sylacauga; Nickolson's Landing, Paint Creek, 21 miles below Sylacauga; Jim Patty's Landing, Little Tom Creek, 20 miles west of Weogufka; Little Tom Fishing Camp, Little Tom Creek, 20 miles from Weogufka.

Not all of the fish caught last week were too small to enter in the Alabama Power Company Fishing Contest. Lake Hill Inn near the Highway 241 Bridge, below Alexander City, Lake Martin, reports: Harrison Robinson, Alexander City, fished Studevant Creek with live minnows and creeled a 7 pound 8 ounce Largemouth Bass.

Ma Bates River Road Store, 8 miles east of Clanton, reports: Gerald Baker, R.F.D., Clanton used a Hot Shot lure to snag his 5 pound Largemouth Bass from Lake Mitchell.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: Did you ever hear a joke concerning all the items a woman's purse usually contain? Of course you have!!! But if your boat is cluttered up like that, it's no joke. . . . it's very serious. Keep the middle of your boat clear so that if you have to move, you may do so easily and without danger of being tripped and thrown out of the boat. The best fishermen never take a lot of extra equipment along. Keep your equipment to a minimum. . . take only what is necessary.

Spray Cows For Increase In Milk

Dairy cows sprayed with methoxychlor during the fly season usually produce about 25 percent more milk than unsprayed animals.

In 100-degree weather, a 200-lb. hog has a body temperature of 106 degrees, pants about 160 times a minute and soon dies unless cooled off. Hogs need shade if they are to stay in good condition.

Sesbania, an annual summer legume, can be used for soil-building and for bird seed.

A bearing peach tree that is well pruned resembles an inverted umbrella, and has many short, fruit bearing limbs in the open top.

Rooting pigs seldom make fast gains, and they are bad for pastures.

Cannibalism among chickens usually results from overcrowding.

Irrigated field crops usually suffer more from insect attacks.

Calves will utilize feed while they are still suckling better than at any other time during their lives. Creep feeding pays.

Chilton's New Hospital Boasts Three Modern Operating Rooms

EFFICIENCY is the keynote in this Emergency Operating Room, located just six steps from the Ambulance Entrance. To this room will come accident victims and the like.

The people of Chilton County have never been so fortunate as they are now with the new hospital going into use.

From a safety and health standpoint, the new hospital is second to none according to its size and to add greatly to this efficient, modern hospital are its three excellent operating rooms.

The emergency operating room is equipped to handle emergency cases, such as: shootings, automobile accidents, home accidents and thing of that nature. This operating room has two powerful lamps in it; one suspended from the ceiling and one on a stand which can be moved anywhere. The table itself is simple and fitted with only the essentials for an operation in a hurry, but the room is still very adequately equipped for emergency cases.

The Minor Operating Room is equipped with practically the same as the Emergency room with the exception of the table, which is built a little more complex. It has the same lighting facilities as the other room.

The Major Operating Room is the one equipped to meet any and every need. The table is of the most modern design. The lighting is different from the other rooms in that the central light is on a long slide in the ceiling and will move the length of the table. The light itself is about three or four feet across and is the most powerful light in the room, or the building. There is also a floor lamp for even more versatile purposes.

All operating rooms are equipped with, oxygen inlets, clocks and glass cabinets along the walls for surgical instruments. There are sterilizers strategically placed over that section of the building to assure you of sanitary surroundings free from all germs.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

ARE YOU TIRED?

When the number of red blood cells or the amount of hemoglobin in the blood falls below normal, the condition is called anemia. The disease appears in different forms, the most serious of which is pernicious anemia.

Actually anemia means too little or too poor blood. Frequently and sometimes erroneously persons who appear pale are considered anemic. Pallor does not always mean that a disease of the blood is present. It indicates, as far as the blood is concerned, only that the quantity of blood flowing through the tiny vessels of the skin is light, whether due to anemia or other disease or whether entirely normal for the individual.

Anemia develops principally from loss of blood due to the inward bleeding, from some injury to bone of cells, from the failure of cells to ripen for conveying oxygen, from deficiency of iron, or from malnutrition. The disease is so variable in different individuals that each must be studied carefully to determine the exact reason for the condition.

Victims of anemia are ordinarily not aware of the symptoms in the early stages. As it develops, however, the individual notes loss of energy and constant fatigue. As the reserve stock of iron is used up, the nails become tender, brittle, flattened or indented. The hair becomes dry and frequently prematurely gray.

Other manifestations are a soreness in the mouth and a burning sensation of the tongue which often becomes quite smooth and deep red in color. As the condition progresses, pallor and weakness are more apparent. There may be a shortness of breath, indigestion or constipation.

To be anemic is to be without zest and energy and to stand in the shadow of death. Primary or simple anemia can ordinarily be corrected easily. It is unwise to carry on in a run-down state. If you're tired all the time, see your physician. Let him take a blood count. The test will determine whether anemia is present.

Feeding Soybeans To Dairy Cows May Be Possible Soon

The daily diet of many Alabama dairy cows may soon be changed to include ground soybeans as a source of protein.

This possibility was expressed in Auburn this week by API extension Dairyman John Parrish, who explained that the expanded acreage of soybeans being grown now may result in cheaper prices for the beans this fall. Ground soybeans are equal to peanut meal and slightly superior to cottonseed meal as feed for dairy cows.

Make Use Of Defoliation In Cotton Harvest

Auburn, Alabama—Many Alabama growers like to defoliate their cotton before harvest. This practice is standard procedure on many farms, and cotton producers who plan to defoliate this year are reminded that it's time to line up supplies.

Making these comments here this week, it was explained that defoliation is removal of leaves from mature cotton by chemicals. This process is almost a "must" with mechanical pickers if good grade cotton is to be harvested. Where cotton is harvested by hand, pickers can get an earlier start, since there are no leaves to hold dew pick faster, and gather cleaner cotton if the plants have been defoliated. Defoliation also reduces loss from boll rot in fields where rank growth keeps the sun from drying out leaves and bolls down close to the ground.

Leaf fall usually begins from ; to 10 days after defoliants are applied. But correct timing of defoliation varies from year to year and from field to field.

Listing the defoliants which may be employed, calcium cyanamid dust has been the most widely used in Alabama, but several other materials will also give good results.

Application should be made when temperatures are moderately high in the late afternoon or early morning. Dust defoliants require dew or high humidity to dissolve them, and they should be applied when air is still. Spray materials are generally more efficient when humidity is moderately high and they can be distributed better in a slight breeze.

Mr. R. M. Foshee Replaces F. T. Williams On FHA Board

Mr. R. M. Foshee of Rt. 4, Clanton, is the new member of the Chilton County Committee for the Farmers Home Administration. His appointment became effective July 1, 1955, Mr. Joe M. Murphree, the agency's county supervisor, announced.

Mr. Foshee succeeds Mr. F. T. Williams whose term on the 3-member committee expired this year.

Mr. Foshee operates a 131-acre farm 4 miles West of Clanton and has been on this farm for the past 35 years. He is a leader in agriculture in Chilton County and has served on various agriculture committees. Prior to this appointment he has served 12 years as a FHA Committeeman.

The other two member of the committee are Mr. Reedie L. Culp of Rt. 2, Jemison and Mr. Eddie E. Edwards, Rt. 3, Clanton.

There is a Farmers Home Administration county committee in every agricultural county in the country. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants and helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies and services to local conditions. Each member is named for a 3-year term, and one appointment expires each year. A member completing his 3-year term cannot succeed himself. At least two of the members must be farmers.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy, improve, enlarge, or operate efficient family-type farms. It also lends money to farmers or their nonprofit associations to establish and carry on approved oil and water conservation practices. Purposes include establishing and improving permanent pastures, terracing, soil erosion practices, and many other conservation meaures, as well as irrigation and farmstead water improvements. Most of the soil and water conservation loans and loans to buy, improve, or enlarge farms are made from funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the agency.

The agency makes emergency loans, but only in areas designated by the Secretary of Agrgiculture as being in need of emergency loans due to some calamity. Chilton County is designated for emergency loans because of the freeze in March, 1955.

Before the agency can make any loan, the applicant must have the approval of the county committee. In the case of a farm ownership loan, the farm to be purchased, enlarged or improved must also be approved by the committee, Mr. Murphree explained.

The agency does not make a loan of any type to an applicant whose credit needs can be handled by other credit sources.

Kitchen At Hospital Planned For Speedy, Nourishing Meals

The kitchen is located at the Southern end of the building just off the dining room between the dining halls and the boiler room and laundry rooms. It is designed for simplicity, but still efficiently, so that cooking and preparing meals can be done in the shortest time possible.

It is a large room with sinks, ovens and the like strategically placed to afford the cook and her staff easy operation. The big stove is located in the center of the room. It houses two or three large ovens; considerable larger than your oven at home and over these ovens and griddles a large chimney (that you could easily stand up in) is located with a gadget that filters all fumes and smoke out of the room so that odors and such will not escape into other parts of the hospital.

At the back of the room is located a large freezer locker where all cold storage meats and other perishables are stored. It is built to furnish an even larger building than we now have, if ever the need arises.

Obviously, lots of folks are going to get toast. The toaster holds several pieces at once, which would indicate that some folks are going to have somewhat of a restricted diet for a time.

However, when you're well enough along the recovery road, you can get some mighty good eating out of the new, shiny, kitchen at the hands of Miss Smith, Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Culp. They'll be out to serve you.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

You all remember James (Little Sie) Foshee. Well, he was called from his base in Texas to the Pentagon at Washington, D. C. for special duty with the Secret Service. Where did he go? Off they sent him to Geneva ahead of the President of the United States, where the peace Conference was held. (Of course the President didn't mention Sie in his speech Monday on television but we bet he was the most important person there, except for the President, so far as Clanton and Chilton County was concerned.

You know, vacation postcards sent to those back home, have a way of arriving after the sender has returned. That may sound a little mixed up, but really, don't you always beat most of your letters and postcards back home when you go on your vacation. Being a country editor we ain't never been on a vacation but we are just what they call reflecting the news. Anyway, Dr. Marshall Ware, Charles and Minnie Wade returned last week end from a tour through a dozen states and parts of Mexico. Just about the time they returned we received a beautiful postcard saying they were having a wonderful time in Oakland, California. And when they mailed the card we bet a plugged nickle they really were.

The rich old man was telling his grandson: "Why don't you get out and get a job. Why, when I was your age I went to work in a grocery store for three dollars a week, and in five years I owned the store." "But grandpa", protested the boy "You can't do that now. they have cash registers."

Read this valuable information somewhere: When telling a joke keep it short. If you don't you give the others time to think up a worse joke to tell you.

Sincere apologies to Dr. Lawrence for the misleading head to an article regarding the hospital in our last issue. The head stated that the laboratory at the new hospital was Chilton County's first. This of course, was incorrect. Fay Barnes (now Mrs. Wells) who is to be the laboratory technician at Chilton County Hospital installed a laboratory at the Lawrence Clinic in early 1954. That is what a newspaperman gets by not checking his facts before he starts shooting off his typewriter.

That pretty white stork in the nursery at the hospital was not cardboard as you probably heard. The stork was made of white mums and glads. It was presented by Bob White at Spigener Funeral home and was made by the Marcus Flower Shop in South Clanton. That playpen filled with gifts was presented by the merchants of Clanton.

"Youth Speaks It's Mind" will be a radio feature on WKLF Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The program will be under the direction of Gordon Robertson, Jr. and will present senior members of the MYF. This week's progrgam will be of especial interest to parents and you are urged to listen in and see what "Youth" has on it's "Mind".

Thanks to Mr. A. L. Cox for the golden tobacco leaf he brought to us last week. He was up in the tobacco country and while there visited one of the large warehouses where they were auctioning off the vile weed. In the ads and commercials we had often heard them rave about the beautiful golden leaf of tobacco but we had no idea just how pretty it was. We went straight home and rolled us a couple of cigars and oh boy, oh boy, it don't smoke like it looks, that's for sure.

The good wife said to her ever-loving husband: "I just don't understand you at all. You liked beans Monday night for supper and you liked beans Tuesday night for supper, and now Wednesday night and you say you don't like beans, why don't you make up your mind?"

Memorials To Cancer Victims

Making contributions in memory of a loved one is, indeed, a wonderful way to remember them. The money and name of the family, together with address of the bereaved family and your own is mailed to Mrs. Lillian G. Meade, 503 Ramsey-McCormack Building, Birmingham 8, Alabama, who is State Commander and Executive Director. A special Memorial Card is immediately mailed to the family in the name of the sender, and one at the same time sent to the sender from Mrs. Meade notifving that it has been attended to.

City Council Approves Running 12-Inch Water Line To River

A special meeting of the City Council was held last Saturday afternoon at the City Hall to determine whether or not the water lines would be extended to the Coosa River. The members of the Water Board were also invited to attend this meeting.

Four Council members and two members of the Water Board attended this meeting and all voted including the Mayor, to bring water from the river. The vote was unanimous.

One member of the Council, R. C. Williams, had been vacationing in Florida but had to return home when he became ill. He is improving at his home.

Another meeting will be held Friday night in which representatives of the bonding company will sit to complete the signing of the bonds, etc. Money will be available immediately to complete a 12 inch water main from the Coosa River. The pipe from Yellow Leaf creek is an 8 inch pipe. The two should give the city an abundance of water according to Mayor C. Fenn Jones for commercial use as well as for residents.

Woodmen Circle To Meet Tonight

The Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle will meet at the City Hall on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock, July 28th. All members are asked to be present.

Royal Arch Masons Will Meet On 30th

A special Convocation of Clanton No. 116 R.A.M. will be held at the Masonic Hall next Saturday, July 30, 1955 at 7:00 p.m. for the purpose of conferring M.E.M and R.A.M. degrees on nine candidates.

All members are urged to be present at that time, and visiting companions are welcome.

OES Holds Covered Dish Supper Tonite

Clanton Chapter No. 271, order of the Eastern Star will hold a covered dish supper, Thursday evening, July 28th at 6:30 p.m. at the Masonic Building. The regular meeting will follow at 7:30.

By order of Eleanor Haywood, secretary.

Demopolis Host To Babe Ruth Championships

The big news in the Chilton County Babe Ruth League this week concerns the State tournament which is being held in Union Springs the week of July 25-29.

A letter from Mr. R. G. Cook, Tournament Director, advises that the players and coaches will be housed in the National Guard Armory, and beds, mattresses, and mattress covers will be furnished. Each boy and coach will be responsible for his own meals

The championship game is to be played on Friday night at 8:00 p.m. in Union Springs, Alabama.

The Calera-Montevallo team finally lost their first game. Clanton No. 1 defeated them in Montevallo by a score of 10-7. The other game ended in a victory for Clanton No. 2, by the score of 15-9 over Jemison. This leaves the two Clanton entries tied for first with the Calera-Montevallo combine, all three teams having won 2, and lost 1. Jemison is showing continued improvement, and with a little luck could have recorded their first win last week.

Watch this paper and listen to WKLF for further developments. The games originally scheduled for July 27 and August 1 will probably be re-set for a later date. That will have to be determined at the meeting selecting the All-Star team.

Small Boy Lost Here For Several Hours Monday

Little Marshall Wayne Patterson six year old son of Mr. and Mrs James Patterson was lost Monday for several hours before being found near his home under the house of a neighbor.

After the small boy failed to turn up for his lunch the police were notified and began a search. Later the National Guard and the Chilton County River Guard were called into action with scores of neighbors and friends lending their efforts to find Wayne.

Reports are that while playing with some of the larger boys, in fun they had threatened to "cut off his head" and little Wayne failed to see the humor in it and ran off and hid. He was found about six o'clock where he had been in hiding under a neighbor's house all afternoon.

Despite Rains-

5,000 File Through New Chilton Hospital On Inspection Tour

After the dedication ceremonies Sunday afternoon for the Chilton County Hospital, which was rudely interrupted by rain, more than 5,000 Chilton Countians and visitors inspected the new modern hospital just completed at a cost of $665,000.00.

Senator Lister Hill gave the dedication address after being introduced by Congressman Armistead Selden. F. Leo Thompson Chairman of the Board acted as Master of Ceremonies.

During Senator Hill's address he announced that construction would begin in the near future on a nursing home adjacent to the hospital. This new addition will be constructed from Hill-Burton funds as was the Chilton County Hospital.

Thompson emceed a ceremony which also included the invocation by the Rev. E. E. Wilkins, the national anthem sung by Patricia Huddleston and the introduction of Sen. Hill by Sixth District Congressman Armistead Selden of Greensboro.

The hospital will be opened for patients August 1. It will replace an old 20-bed plant.

Seven of the 41 beds in the new hospital are for Negro patients, a pro-rata share according to population.

David Morgan, formerly of Birmingham, will administer the hospital in which the 11 Chilton County doctors will serve patients.

Visiting Hours Announced By New Hospital

Mr. David W. Morgan, Administrator, and Miss Florence Rowland, Director of Nursing Service, announced the visiting hours today for the new hospital.

"It is the feeling of the hospital that nothing can be as beneficial and welcome to a patient as a short pleasant visit," Miss Rowland stated, "But we ask you do not tire the patient by visiting too long. More than two visitors at a time can be quite a strain on a sick person."

"So that nursing care and other procedures for the patient's benefit may be carried on in privacy, we ask that you time your call within the hospital's scheduled Visiting Hours."

These hours are as follows:

Semi-Private Rooms
10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.
3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.
7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Private Roms
10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Newborn babies may be seen thru the nursery view-window at al times, except when an examination is being made. Newborn babies will not be taken to the room while visitors are in the room with the mother.

Patient's children will be allowed to visit for 15 minutes during the afternoon from 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. They must be children of the patient.

Hear "How To Make Faith Work," 30th

"Wherever the word of God fails, the fault lies not in the seed of the sower, but in the ground," says Dr. Harold W. Seever in his Baptist Hour talk entitled, "Sowing Seeds of Faith."

Dr. Seever will be heard on Station WKLF at 7:00 o'clock Sunday morning.

Freeze Summer Eggs; Save On Fall Food Bill

Homemakers who freeze eggs now while prices are low may find the stored eggs have doubled in value this fall and winter.

Only fresh, clean, uncracked eggs should be used for freezing. Whole eggs are stirred until mixed and then frozen in small, sealed bags. When yolks are frozen seperately, one teaspoon sugar or one-half teaspoon salt must be added to each six yolks to prevent coagulation of the solids during storage. Egg whites may be frozen just as they are.

All-Stars To Play Sylacauga Next Sunday

(By B. B. Bates)

The Chilton County All-Stars sent Howard Fields to the mound against the Montgomery Gaels last Wednesday night and although they displayed a fine defensive game could not score on the Gaels. Forston pitched for the Gaels and gave up only 3 hits to the Stars. This game featured the finest pitchers duel seen at City Park this season. Fields held the hard-hitting Montgomery team to only 4 hits but lost the game 1-0. For the Stars it was their eighth loss of the year.

Sunday afternoon the Stars went over to Sylacauga and it was their day to shine. The Stars fielded brilliantly behind their ace pitcher Bobby Earl Wyatt and he turned in his second consecutive shutout and his ninth win of the year. The Stars were hitting better and James Paul Easterling hit his first home run of the year. This came with one on in the second inning. For the All-Stars it was the nineteenth victory of the year.

With their spirits at the highest peak of the year the Stars are looking forward to the game next Sunday afternoon at City Park. The Sylacauga team will be here and their manager states that they can play a much better brand of baseball and they are coming to Clanton for revenge over the All-Stars.

This game will start at three o'clock and should attract the largest turnout of fans for the entire season.

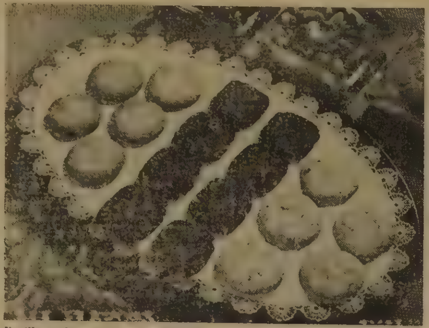
Three-In-One-Cookies



Vanilla cookies, chocolate cookies, orange cookies—all from one basic recipe for refrigerator dough. Let Three-In-One Cookies save kitchen time for you.

Lemonade-time requires a full cookie jar. Three-In-One Cookies will easily fill your summer cookie jar needs. From just one basic recipe, you can make cookies in three flavors—popular vanilla, rich chocolate, and flavorful orange.

The basic dough requires only five ingredients. A real time-saver is the self-rising flour. It already contains salt and baking powder, so there's no need to measure those two items, or to do the usual "sifting together of dry ingredients."

This recipe makes about 6 dozen small cookies.

You can bake the cookies all at one time. Or, if you prefer, leave the rolls of dough in the refrigerator and bake as needed. Perhaps you can dove-tail your cookie baking with some other oven-baking to keep your kitchen as cool as possible.

You'll appreciate the convenience of Three-In-One Cookies. And your family will appreciate you for catering to their "sweet-tooth."

THREE-IN-ONE COOKIES

1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon shredded orange or lemon rind

Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla extract. Beat well. Add flour to creamed mixture and mix well. Divide dough into thirds. To one third add chocolate, mixing it in thoroughly. To another third add orange or lemon rind, mixing well. Leave remaining third plain. Shape each third into a roll. Wrap in waxed paper. Chill until very firm. Slice ¼ inch thick and bake on ungreased baking sheets in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 10 minutes. Remove cookies from baking sheet (to cooling rack) immediately.

Dou you wish peaches would sell for 25 and 30 cents a pound next season? We hope not, for then the surplus would again deprive our farmers of their profit.

Heard a fella say that every time he sees a sign that says "Ladies Ready To Wear" he thinks it's about time. We're not sure yet, that we share that opinion with him.

CHILTON AND HER YOUTH—

Have you ever stopped to think how good the young folks, as a whole, are in our county.

And with the facilities and places with which to entertain them at such a low in our county we can't claim much of the credit for them. Not the county as a community, anyway.

It's a wonder we can boast of them, when you can look around you most anywhere and you'll find towns and cities that are up to their necks in delinquent problems, and when they do have them, they have a tough time overcoming them.

We can be thankful that the young folks around us have enough sense and are matured in mind enough not to cause their parents and neighbors any unnecessary worry and trouble.

Mind you, it is through no doing of the adults, because very little time and attention is reserved for our youngsters. Home life and the church are the only two factors that can take any credit for the goodness of our youth. All we can do is be thankful that this influence is adequate.

Our children and young folks are as good as gold as compared with the next group of modern youngsters, but can we expect them to go on behaving that way, on their own.

What we need is some form of recreation to assure us and our young folks continued wholesome living. By that we are not knocking the facilities we already have. They have been constructive, but our facilities are inadequate for our number. We need a variety in our entertainment program and we need year 'round programs.

We would do well to profit by our past good fortune and do something. We think the next generation of ours will be just as good, but we think it's our duty to help them out a little.

Human beings get into trouble when they are not occupied, especially young human beings.

As was said, we certainly have a good crop of youngsters. We only hope that the youngsters have the spunk to keep it up by themselves. However, we feel ashamed at the fact that they carry the heavy load of responsibility that is rightfully ours.

KNOW YOUR MERCHANDISE—

An alarming increase in the amount of counterfeit merchandise being sold a gullible public in the United States has been reported in recent months. This year, sub-standard counterfeit goods, especially automobile parts, have resulted in deaths on the highway.

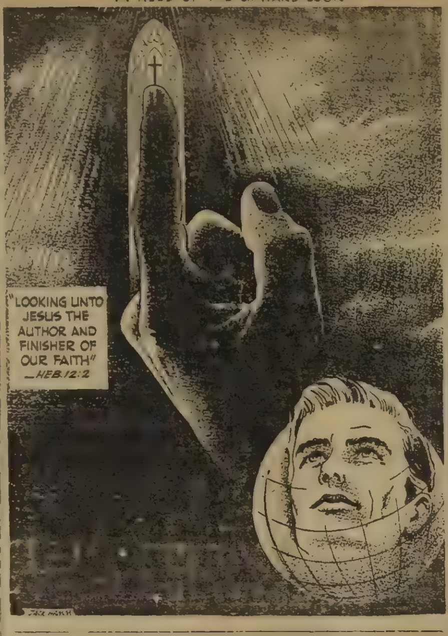
In addition to widespread counterfeiting now going on in the automotive parts field, a tremendous increase in the amount of counterfeiting in drugs and medicine is reported. In these categories ,consequences might be most serious and the consumer should be on his guard in purchasing such products, and should try to deal with a reputable firm.

Counterfeiting is being carried on successfully in a number of other fields. Brand names which stand for dependability and quality are being stamped on products ranging from sewing machines to major electrical kitchen appliances. Once an innocent consumer has purchased a counterfeit product he has no recourse from the manufacturer whose name has been stamped illegally on the product.

It is estimated that crooks are making hundreds of millions of dollars in the new counterfeit boom which has become a major menace since World War II. Better Business Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce and manufacturers who find themselves victims of cheap-imitation competiton, join in warning the public to be careful in purchasing supposedly well-known products at major price reductions.

The average consumer's desire to save money will usually cost him in the long run, more than he would have paid for the legitimate merchandise—and the cost could include your life.

IN NEED OF THE UPWARD LOOK



"LOOKING UNTO JESUS THE AUTHOR AND FINISHER OF OUR FAITH"

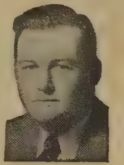
Report from Washington



BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The House and Senate have agreed on increasing the minimum wage under the Fair Labor Standards Act from the current 75c an hour to $1.00 hourly. By a vote of 36 to 54, House members approved last Wednesday the minimum wage increase which had received Senate endorsement several weeks earlier.

The bill reached the floor under a rule which permitted only two types of amendments—those providing for changes in the amount of the increase and those altering its effective date. Under this rule, an amendment was offered that would have increased the minimum wage to $1.10 rather than $1.00 an hour. After this amendment failed to pass, an amendment to increase the minimum wage to 90c instead of $1.00 also failed to receive the necessary number of votes. A third amendment, also defeated, would have spread out the increase over a period of almost a year and a half rather than make all of it effective on one given date.

A conference committe e must work out a compromise on the effective date of the increase since the House version of the legislation makes the increase effective March 1, 1956, and the Senate voted January 1, 1956, as the effective date. This compromise will probably be worked out next week, after which the measure will be sent to the White House for Presidential action.

-Social Security-

Legislation to expand social security benefits received overwhelming approval of the House last week. However, Sen. Harry Byrd, chairman of the Senate committee which will consider the House-approved social security amendments, has called for extensive hearings on the legislation and Senate consideration before adjournment is unlikely.

As approved by the House, the bill lowers from 65 to 62 the minimum age at which women can qualify for social security benefits, and it authorizes payment of benefits to permanently and totally disabled workers who are over age 50.

-Other Benefits-

Early in March I introduced a bill to amend the Social Security Act to provide for payment of children's insurance benefits to persons, regardless of age, who are physically or mentally incapable of self-support and were so disabled before reaching age 18. The present law stipulates that a child's insurance benefits cannot, under any circumstances, be paid to persons over age 18.

The provisions of my bill relative to disabled persons who have reached 18 years of age were incorporated into the social security measure just approved by the House. In order to benefit from this provision, the disabled individual must have been dependent for all of his support upon the insured at the time of the insured's death.

The House bill also extends social security coverage to self-employed professional groups now excluded (except doctors) and to certain other groups who are not presently under the program.

To finance the expanded benefits, the bill increases the combined tax rate on employers and employees from the present 4 percent to 5 percent. For self-employed persons now paying a 3 percent social security tax on their income, the rate will be raised by three-fourths of 1 percent.

NEW SAFETY DEVICE FOR AUTOS—

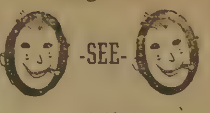
Remember the throttles they used to put in cars that would hold your accelerator down wherever you pushed it to. In our opinion they were dangerous for that particular job.

Now they have come up with a similar device, only it installs on the steering wheel. It is called a safety device because it is designed to prevent leg fatigue which some experts claim causes drowsiness. We differ with the opinion that it can be called a safety device. We do not disagree that leg fatigue is dangerous, but we neither agree that setting your machine in motion at a steady speed, which you have no control over at the time, is a safety measure. Reflexes are built to act without thinking. With such a device you would have to think and then act and would likely be killed.

No, we don't feel that putting an "automatic" pilot on a car is going to revolutionize driving and we don't feel that an automatic gas-feeder will help in the least—except maybe to kill a few more.

Alertness is what is needed when driving; making the driver more comfortable is certainly not bringing alertness up any.

Things we -SEE- and Hear



by "Tuck"

Ole Red up here at the parking lot has left us, so we heard the other day. Seems one day he just walked off and told the boys at the Service Station they could have it. He wasn't really disgusted; Red's not the type. We're sorry his parking lot didn't go over, but it's like so many other things in Clanton and Chitlon County; there's always some skeptic who says it's too early or we're not big enough. Talk like that will make us no bigger and we doubt seriously if we'll get too young for improvement or too good. Oh well, maybe next year, Red.

Talking to Tracy down at Upchurch's the other day and he said his sweet 'taters saved him this year. Tracy's a farmer too, you know. He claims to have the first "sweets" in the county this year, or at least in his neck of the woods We wish all the farmers could be "saved" by something like that this season, but most of them took it on the chin. We've never known a Chilton Countian to quit though; let alone a Chilton County farmer. Maybe next year.. It's not the crops this year anyhow, it's selling them for a profit that the rub comes in. Like we say, our farmers don't give up so easily and next season they'll make up for their losses.

Did you realize that the holiday season was just a very few months around the windy corner. Probably haven't paid for the last one yet, eh. Well, it's funny the ole clock and calendar doesn't stop a bit for us pore folks; in fact, it doesn't even slow down.

Mr. Congor Cummings says guarantees ain't worth much. Says he went down and bought a hammer one time that was guaranteed and when he broke it he took it back, naturally. Clerk told him that the guarantee wasn't any good unless the hammer was hit on the head Well, since Mr. Cummings had hit it on the side, which he fessed up to, the guarantee wasn't worth a flat-headed tack to him. If you ask us, that guarantee is like the small writing on an insuarnce policy that say you have to be hit between the hours of 2 and 3 a.m. on a busy intersection by a Mack freight truck before you're covered. (fictitious of course) but it's just about as crazy. We got nothing against guarantees, but they shouldn't misrepresent the product by selling it with a faulty guarantee. To many times, things are sold by attaching a guarantee that doesn't mean much. That's misrepresentation or the equivalent, anyhow.

Mr. Cummings says he understands the sellers position. He says that if shoes were guaranteed, a fella as robust as himself would wear out 10, 12 pair a year, because he could get new ones whenever he needed them. We agree that there's two sides to every story, but there are also exceptions to every rule.

Had a car recently. Good ole car, just had one too many miles on it. It was one of those Viber 8 specials you've heard about with a minimum of (189,000 miles on it) when you purchase it. It was in mighty good shape for its age, but after so much wear and tear hapes kinda take different ones, don't they. Well, as they say, it was a good ole car, there just ain't no great demand for good ole cars, anymore. (Ole Viber sees this, those spark plugs will start to hummin'. Stubborn critter.

Hear about the fella who was tellin' his friend about his date the night before. "She said she'd give me a kiss if I'd put the top back and we could look at the moon. So, I had the top back in about fifteen minutes and. . .". "Wait a minute" says the friend, "you mean to tell me it takes you fifteen minutes to get the top back on your car, why I can get mine back in 30 seconds". "Yeh, but you got a convertible", says Romeo.

Letters to the Editor

Rev. Stuckey's 47 Year Ministry

Next Sunday, July 31st, will be the 47th anniversary of my ministry. I entered the Ministry on July 31st 1909 and have failed to go to the pulpit 14 Sundays in the 47 years

I am proud of my long ministry and know that I am coming close to the end. I want to stay busy three more years and will if my health and the Churches permit.

On that day, July the 31st, I want every member of the Samaria Church and all others that can conveniently do so to come and worship with us at Samaria. I ask you to do this in honor of my long ministry. My Church has already given me a nice suit of clothes in honor of that day. Will you please come and worship with us at that time.

I am receiving many cards and letters from my radio friends because of this date in my life and I wish that yours may be added. This week I am away in a Revival in Barbour County but will be back in time for my Radio Broadcast Saturday and my Pulpit on Sunday

I am laying my life out for the Master's use and appreciate all you that are making it possible for me to do so.

Sincerely,
-s- R. W. Stuckey

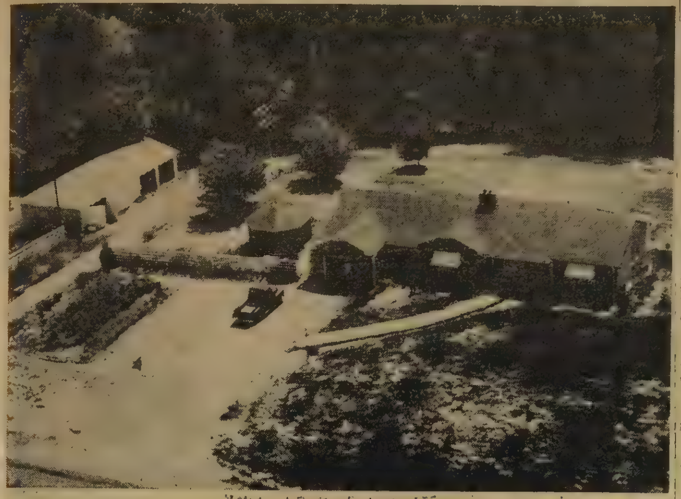
Whose Farm Is This?



EVERYONE should be a winner this week. If you've seen the house above, you know who owns it; and if you know who owns it, you know the owner of this week's "Mystery Farm". It's as simple as that.

If you will look closely at the fellow standing in the doorway of the garage, you may recognize him as the owner's son.

We're really giving you an easy one this week, so don't pass up this opportunity to win yourself two free passes to a Wadesonian Theatre. Too, if your answer is correct, you'll be eligible to win the Grand Prize of twelve dollars in merchandise.

RUTH HICKS

Greetings New Hampshire! Appreciated your kind remarks. Happy too that our paper reaches you on time each week and that you especially enjoy our paper. It's nice to hear from our readers. Correspondents like to know that their column is a source of real enjoyment and it is through people like you that we get our real inspiration to do our reporting.

It is with great regret that the friends and relatives in this and adjoining communities of the Hobson Middlebrooks family of Centerville, learned that their son, Joe Middlebrooks is confined to the University Hospital in Birmingham with polio. Joe was stricken Friday night enroute home after visiting his parents in Centerville. By the time Joe reached "Six Mile" just outside of Centerville he had become so ill he was unable to continue driving his car. His wife, who was with him, drove him to Birmingham where he was placed in the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Middlebrooks visited their son last Monday in the hospital and reported that Joe had improved and that the doctors did not think he would suffer any permanent paralysis.

This family lived in Chilton County for a number of years and made many friends. We're wishing Joe a very speedy and complete recovery.

The Case Of The Missing "Mystery Farm"

For the first time this year we missed running a "Farm of the Week" photograph. It wasn't a forgetful error. . . we can't forget them, we're having too much fun.

As you know, however, last week's issue was devoted prmiarily to giving you the dope on our new Chilton County Hospital and last minute material made it impossible for us to get a farm picture in.

Nobody lost anything by it. We've got lots of pictures and lots of time and this week we're running the farm photo that would have run last week. Don't miss this one. We'll just pick up where we left off and you can do the same. We just got a week behind. Winners in week before lasts "Farm" winners are on this page along with the story on the farm they guessed on.

From now on, we'll try not to miss one. Just a little miscalculation on our part. Were you wondering if you'd missed one? Nope. The important thing is. . .

Do you know who owns this week's "Mystery Farm."

Why Hospitals Ask For Deposits

Many people wonder why hospitals ask for a cash deposit when a patient is admitted to the hospital. Hospitals are public service institutions—why must they ask for money in advance from the patient?

It is because they are rendering a public service that they must ask such a deposit. Most hospitals are non-profit organizations. Therefore, they do not have any great surplus of cash to draw upon to meet daily needs.

Except in cases of emergency, our patients are asked to deposit an estimated week's payment upon entrance to the hospital. This is not intended to reflect upon the patient's credit rating in any respect. it is simply necessary to provide a continuous flow of working capital to meet heavy daily expenses.

Presentation of membership card in Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Alabama is accepted in lieu of an advance payment. This is possible because Blue Cross reimburses the hospital directly, and Blue Cross accounts are settled promptly.

Hospitals are called upon to provide the very finest in patient care The patient receives the benefit of the most up-to-date medical knowledge and techniques. The hospital must be equipped with expensive machines and equipment for laboratory tests and for treatment.

All this care costs money—a great deal of it. The hospital has current bills to meet, and a heavy payroll.

It is the policy of the hospital to keep charges as low as is consistent with the ability to give the best care possible.

There is no backlog of cash to meet current bills. So that's why the deposit is asked.

We hope our patients will understand why they are asked for a deposit—it's not a reflection on their credit rating— it's just to enable the hospital to give them what they need in the way of patient care.

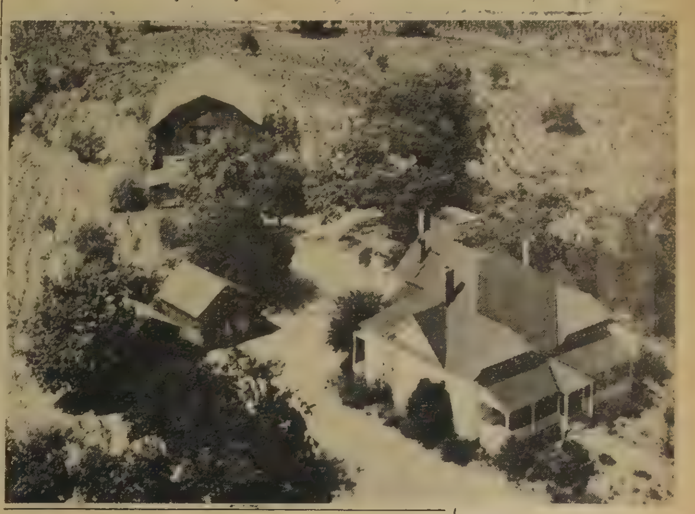
Reprint from "Rebel Review", B'ham Baptist Hospitals, March, 1954.

Patients admitted to Chilton County Hospital will be asked to deposit the following amounts:

Obstetrical patients—$50.00
Medical patients—$50.00
Surgical patients—$75.00

This amount will be credited to the patient's bill, and a refund will be made upon discharge, should the deposit exceed the amount of the patient's bill. Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance will be accepted in lieu of advance payment. Other insurance policies will be accepted on their individual worth.

Last "Mystery Farm" That Of Mrs. Vinson



The "Mystery Farm" above was published two weeks ago and is the home of Mrs. Elmina (A.P.) Vinson and is located 7 miles south of Clanton near Bethel Church.

Mis Dolly Vinson, who lives with her mother on the home place, has lived there all of her life and the land has been in the family for at least four generations. Miss Vinson's great, great grandfather settled the land back in the nineteenth century.

There are 180 acres now and according to the family regular farm crops are raised such as corn, cotton, tomatoes, chickens, etc.

The present heirs say that the property will remain in the Vinson family forever if they have their way about it.

Hot Weather Hints For Baby

by Martha Logan

"Baby At the Seashore"

A mere mention of a day at the beach will get a welcome cheer from the whole family, and even baby, if he could understand would probably give a contented gurgle.

Of course, crowded beach areas are strictly taboo for wee ones, but with a search far enough along the waterfront you should be able to find a less congested nook that will take you away from the masses.

Although sun is good for him, baby's delicate skin is quite sensitive to the sun's direct rays. A safe rule is to let him stay in the sun for only a few minutes at a time and to dress him in clothing designed for protection, just in case the sun is more penetrating than you suspect. Also, with the many good suntan lotions on the market it might be wise to ask your physician about a suntan preparation that will help protect baby's skin.

Feeding baby at the beach shouldn't create much of a problem. Just pack an extra large supply of distilled or boiled water, a handy ice bucket filled with ready prepared formula, and an adequate supply of strained fruits or vegetables and strained meats. It isn't a good idea to try feeding baby something new since he will be in strange surroundings, but do remember that he likes and needs variety. Swift & Company makes available eight different kinds of especially prepared meats for babies including: beef, pork, lamb, veal, liver, heart, liver and bacon and chicken, so take along just what baby likes.

Our Sunday attendance was 106. We are thankful for the members helping to make this number. There are many more that should be in this servicee, let each member work hard to make this better next Sunday.

We had one of the best preaching services this church has ever had in a long time. Everybody seemed to have the right spirit.

Our visitors were Miss Nancy Langston of Birmingham, and Miss Barbara Mount of Birmingham. There were others also. We are always happy to have visitors.

One of our young men, Mr. Wayne Hardy who is in the Service was selected to attend the Baptist World Alliance. This is an outstanding honor and we are just as happy about him as his family,Mrs. Mull and Miss Hardy.

Mr. Jimmie Green, the B.T.U. leader urges all the members to do inviting that we may have good attendance next Sunday. The training Union is one of the best in our church for training young people to take leadership.

All members make plans to attend church and Sunday School next Sunday.

Remember the 133 Psalm, "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

Suit Soup To The Weather

CONVERTIBLE foods . . . like convertible cars . . . fit right in with relaxed summer living. Soup. for example. can come out hot as noonday sun. or cool as an Arctic breeze.

STACK UP a stock of "convertible" soups in your larder. Which soups? Why you can choose from a goodly number of the regular canned ones. Super to serve cold as well as hot are: Asparagus. Cream of chicken. Black Bean. Consommé (jells when cold). Tomato.

THE NEW FROZEN SOUPS are also convertible. For instance, frozen potato soup tastes remarkably good either piping hot or icy cold. Frozen shrimp soup and green pea (with ham) have the same happy faculty.

You can go along. serenely confident about summer lunches and suppers when soup's in easy reach. Dawns a day that's a scorcher; hurry soup into the refrigerator to chill. Blows up a cold breezy storm; "hotten" up a kettle of your favorite chowder.

TO CHILL SOUP, simply blend it with as much milk or water as you like. Pop the container into refrigerator (a plastic shaker is good). It's best to allow 4 hours for chilling: then give mixture another good stir and ladle into bowls. Keep cans of consommé on tap in the refrigerator at all times. It will jell into a sparkling amber delicacy when cans are chilled just as is (without added liquid).

Enjoy summer, merrily eating this way:

Jellied Consommé

Deviled Eggs
Cheese with Crackers

And this salad eats right well with franks in buns or with sliced ham. For the salad: Mix 1 can pork and beans (2½ cups) with 1 cup chopped celery, ½ cup chopped green pepper and 1 tablespoon mayonnaise. Season with a speck of black pepper if you like. Chill. Spoon into a bowl lined with crisp lettuce leaves. Enough fo

Fishing Is Still Good For Better Anglers

The Alabama Power Company 1955 Fishing Contest rolls into the summer-fall period with the ending of July. Many outstanding entries have been made thus far, but there is plenty of room for improvement in all contest species. Your chances of winning a handsome trophy, a monthly cash prize and Whopper Catcher Certificates are very good but you have to register your catch to become eligible. Ask your boat dock operator or sporting goods dealer about the contest.

About this time each year, while the weather is hot, you often hear some fishermen complain that fishing is slow. This may be true for certain species but actually there is action galore for the more skillful anglers. Fishing conditions could more accurately be described by saying, that this is not the best time of year for the novice, this is the time for specialization. That is, fish for certain species with the right tackle and at the right time of day. The people who are catching creel limits these days are the one's with the know how and know what they are fishing for, and the persons who are complaining the most are the one's who are fishing for anything and are relying on luck.

Now, if you are a fisherman who can only go occasionally and you don't have enough time to become familiar with local conditions, you would be in style and appear, to really know your way around on the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes, if you arrange your schedule as follows: Fighting Bream offer the best prospects, around the clock, anytime of day. They are spawning and their nests are usually constructed in colonies, in sand and fine gravel about the size of a man's hat. Worms and live minnows are all right for bait, but the fun is found with a fly rod baited with live crickets or popping bugs. Blue flies have been very good. If you haven't spotted the beds before, work just off-shore in not too deep water around the weed beds and around where there are swarming willow flies. The larger Bluegills will strike most anything thrown in the midst of his bed, but crickets and popping bugs are most alluring along the fringe areas. If you are not a Bream fisherman you have been missing some real down to earth fun and some of the sweetest and most flavorable fish that ever entered a skillet.

Floyd Barrett over on Hatchett Creek, Lake Mitchell, says that Black Bass, Stripes and Crappie are striking good too. for those who fish according to the hot weather schedule. Black Bass are being taken from the weed beds and about the points. Live minnows, flies and top water plugs are very effective in the early mornings. There is one floater plug that you would least suspect as being a good bet and that's the largest size black Jitter bug. Toss it out near an old snag and let it lie there for a while then occasionally give two or three short zig-zag jerks. Play it very slow and if you don't get a rise keep plugging the same spot. If there is one of those Whoppers in the area he will eventually let you know it.

Stripes or White Bass should be schooling, but as you know this underwater battler is very temperamental and most unreliable in making a surface show. They have been known to be up one day and down the next. Sometimes they appear steady for a few days then disappear for several weeks, often for an entire season. But even that haphazard attitude, when the Stripes are up long enough for you to toss a plunker and trailer bug into his school, there is nothing like it for rapid fire action. Late afternoon trolling along the flats and about the islands with a silver spoon is a good method to pick up singles while he's not surface schooling.

It may sound strange to hear that Crappie are being caught in fair size catches these days, but it's true they are. Fishing deep around the snags with live minnows may be OK but one of the most sportful methods has been to troll very slowly along with a flying swarm of willow flies and peppel the water with a fly. As you know, late in the afternoon the willow flies leave the bushes and tree limbs and swarm out over the water leaving a trail of fluttering, faltering friends. Usually Mr. Crappie will be on hand to have his supper and your fly will prove very effective in the scramble.

The above mentioned methods are by no means the only way to fish the Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes. There are many, many other ways to cope successfully with the finny tribe. but the mentioned methods are being worked day in and day out with exceptionally good results and they are passed on to you right from the horse's mouth.

RITES HELD FOR MRS. MARTHA DONALDSON

Mrs. Martha D. Donaldson of Clanton, died suddenly at her home Wednesday morning at 6:30 at the age of 72.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. at the West End Baptist Church conducted by Rev. R. E. Wilkins. Burial was in the Martin Memorial Cemetery. Martin Funeral Home directing.

Surviving her are two sons, Ray of Clanton and W. H. of Opelika; three daughters, Mrs. Eddie Robinson, Mrs. Willie Mae Milstead, and Mrs. Ludelle Parrish; six grandchildren; one great grandchild; one brother, W. E. Hendrix of Hartford; three sisters, Mrs. A. H. Fulford of Hartford, Mrs. E. P. Riley of Florida and Mrs. A. E. Smith of Columbus, Ga.

Pallbearers were Carl Muncher, Bill and James Reed, and Bill House.

Out-of-town friends who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond House, Mr. and Mrs. James Reid, Mr. Bill Reid, Mrs. Evelyn Hughes and Miss Betty Donaldson all of Birmingham. Mrs. Jennie Hendrix, Mr. Paul Hendrix, Mrs. W. H. Hendrix, Charles Hendrix, Mrs. Vanice Traywick, all of Hartford, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kennedy of Greenville, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Delice Sketol, all of Panama City, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Rastus Smith of Columbus, Ga., Mrs. E. P. Riley, Mrs. Gladys Andrews, Mr. Eddie Seales, Mrs. Malcolm McLaney, and Mr. Charlie Riley, all of Florala, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Almon Fulford, and Mrs. Hartense Vickers, all of Geneva, Ala.

Don't forget to enter your best catch in the contest. The prize you win will prove that your method is best long after the fish is eaten.

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: You wouldn't think of going fishing without plenty of bait, strong lines, and the best rod and reel. Yet all these things can do is help you catch fish. However, too often fishermen head for their favorite fishing spot without life jackets and other safety equipment. This equipment can save your life. If every sportsman would take the same pains to have the right kind of safety equipment with him as he does with checking his fishing equipment, the list of statistics which represent water accident fatalities would be much shorter.

Ala. Sheepmen Face Grave Decision On Referendum

Auburn, Ala.—Alabama sheepmen have a big decision to make.

On or before August 19, they may decide whether they want to channel a small part of their incentive payments on wool sold into a nationwide promotional program. The success or failure of the plan will be determined by the votes of sheep growers here and throughout the nation.

To encourage domestic wool production, the federal government pays growers incentives from import tariff money. If the current referendum is decided favorably, one cent per pound from each of these payments will be turned over to the American Sheep producers Council for use in promoting the sale of wool and lamb meat.

Alabama shepherds are urged to vote on the referendum at local ASC offices before August 20, as the question to be decided is very important to the up-and-coming Alabama sheep industry. Sheep probably offer more promise than any other form of livestock for future development here.

Approval of the plan would give the American sheep industry its first opportunity to adequately advertise its products. "Synthetic fibers that compete with wool are highly advertised, although wool has some very desirable characteristics that have not been duplicated synthetically" says one authority. "And, thousands of persons in the U. S. have never tasted lamb meat or have gotten a bad impression of it through eating inferior foreign products that were badly cooked.

Cotton Acreage Nose Dives Again In State

Auburn, — Alabama's rapidly dwindling cotton acreage has taken another nose-dive, leaving it at the lowest point in nearly a century.

And weakened King Cotton is expected to give way this year for the first time to livestock products, including poultry and eggs, as the number one money-maker in the state's farm setup.

Economists point out that the 1,005,000 acres planted to cotton this year is well under Alabama's already small 1,102,000-acre allotment. Even though farmers planted more of their alloted acreage this year than last. . . slightly under nine percent of this year's allotment remains unplanted, as compared with 12 and one-half percent last year. . . the drop leaves us with the smallest cotton acreage since 1866. "And we are faced with the prospect that some of our remaining acreage will be lost to the west," said one economist.

The cotton acreage on most Alabama farms is now so small that growers cannot afford to maintain power equipment. And yet we recognize that efficient production is absolutely necessary for profit under present farming conditions. New farm enterprises that will offset the tremendous cotton losses on most farms have become imperative.

It is in this connection that the prediction that livestock and poultry will bring in over half the state's cash farm receipts this year, is voiced. These enterprise, the major ones available to us here in Alabama for replacing lost cotton income, are also available to farmers in other areas. Competition is going to be keen, and Alabama farmers will have to achieve pretty-nearly maximum efficiency in production if they are going to stay alive in commercial agriculture.

Mt. Pleasant Baptist

Daniel 3:17-18—"Our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning, fiery furnace and He will deliver us out of thine hand, O King. But if not be it known unto thee, O King, that we will not serve the gords, nor worship the golden images which thou hast set up."

Rev. E. Deason delivered two fine sermons this Sunday. He had dinner with the Lamar Collins family.

We were happy to see so many visitors, including the Reese Davis family and the Edom Gore family. There were others that we didn't know, but we wish to bid them welcome at all times.

The G.A.'s gave a wonderful program Wednesday night ,also served refreshments to everyone. It was a fine treat and a surprise to all.

We also had a watermelon feed Have you noticed how manners quickly leave as watermelon comes in the door? But it wouldn't be any fun unless you could get watermelon in your ears or on your chin. Anyway, it was enjoyed by all.

The Brotherhood and W. M. S. met Wednesday with good attendance.

This church and community sends its heartfelt sympathy to the Ward and Dewey Oats family in the death of Mrs. Ward.

We send congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lonza Davis. They are the proud parents of a baby boy.

Nazarene Church Of Maplesville

Church Calendar—
Pastor, Rev. J. L. Adams
Sunday School at 10:00 a.m.
Preaching at 11:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.
B.T.U. at 7:00 p.m.
Prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Our Sunday attendance was 102, which we are very thankful. There are many more not attending, we are praying that we may reach them some way.

In looking around over the Church we saw several visitors. We recognized little Miss Leighella Jane Warren from way down in New Orleans. Then there was Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Davis from the West End Baptist Church in Clanton. There were others but we did not learn their names. We are thankful for our visitors, and trust they will be with us again.

To the members of our church we urge that you help in bringing our B.T.U. and Sunday School attendance up. Now is the time for each one of us to work hard and give our wonderful pastor all the cooperation we can. He is doing a wonderful work, but he can't do it all, so do your part. Be at every service and show which way you are going. Let us go all out for our Lord and Master.

According to the statement of our pastor, we need more cooperation in helping do the work on the pastor's home. The collection is coming along fine, but we need more workers.

I quote you the words of Charles Schwab, "I have yet to find the man, however exalted his station who did not do better work and put forth greater effort under a spirit of approval than under a spirit of criticism." All churches have some who like to complain.

The G. A.'s will meet next Wednesday week July 27th instead of their date this week to finish the study course.

Change In Schedule For Drivers' Tests

A change in schedule of the State Highway patrolman who gives driver's licenses was announced by Judge M. D. Tingle.

In the past the examiner has been in Clanton on Monday and Tuesday of each week.

It takes only one word to explain why today's Pontiac is the most popular Pontiac ever built. That word is VALUE.

Buyers from both ends of the price scale are finding that Pontiac provides just about everything any car at any price can offer. It's a matter of fact, not opinion, that Pontiac is the biggest, most powerful car anywhere near its modest price!

For size, Pontiac reaches high into the fine-car price range—and comes up with a long 122" or 124" wheelbase. This is size where it counts, because nothing beats wheelbase in providing solid comfort and stability on any road at any speed.

Pontiac's performance is strictly Pontiac's alone—and it stems from the most modern, most advanced V-8 in the industry! Its mighty 200-h.p. Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* provides more power than any car within hundreds of dollars of Pontiac's modest price.

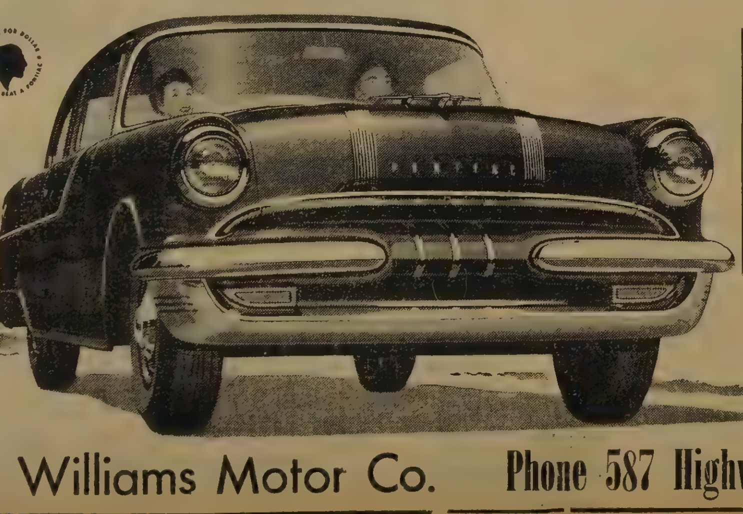
Another Pontiac extra value, so easily measured when you get behind the wheel, is the supreme ease of handling that keeps all its eager power and husky bigness under instant and almost effortless control.

And if you interpret value in terms of appearance—here again Pontiac's your kind of car. Its distinctive Twin-Streak beauty and Vogue Two-Toning will stay new and fresh for years!

And for the final value clincher—bear in mind that Pontiac prices fit easily into any new-car budget!

No wonder Pontiac sales are at an all-time high! Come in soon and drive this wonderful car. We're sure you, too, will join the big swing to Pontiac!

Low extra-cost option; 180 h.p. standard*



THERE'S NO POWER LIKE STRATO-STREAK POWER!

Here is the heart of Pontiac's terrific performance—the all-new, ultramodern Strato-Streak V-8! This masterpiece of engine design will deliver up to 200 horsepower with Pontiac's 4-barrel carburetor, an extra-cost option. Come on in, take the wheel and see what Strato-Streak really means!

VOLUME XXXIII CLANTON, ALABAMA THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1955 NUMBER 31

Will Vie For "Miss America" Title---

Pat Huddleston Is "Miss Alabama"

Reigns As Queen

Miss Patricia Huddleston

Clanton's own talented Patricia Huddleston is now "Miss Alabama."

The new "Miss Alabama" will be met in Thorsby today by a group of ladies representing the various clubs of Clanton. She will be escorted by them to the Airport hangar here at 5:45 for the presentation of the Key to the City and to be further honored as Clanton's number one citizen. Among the dignitaries expected to be present at this occasion will be Mr. Jimmy Morgan, Mayor of Birminham. The public is cordially invited to attend this affair and to give Pat the royal welcome she well deserves.

Patricia, a music major at the University of Alabama, was chosen from a large field of talented and lovely entrants in what was termed the keenest of the "Miss Alabama" events. She was officially crowned at the Coronation Ceremonies in Birmingham last Monday night.

Patricia is the 21 year old daughter of Mrs. Alma Huddleston of Clanton, and has long given freely of her singing talent on various musical programs over the county.

Only last April Pat was named "Jeanie" at the Biennial Convention of the Federation of Music Clubs held in Miami, Florida. In this quest for a likeness of Stephen Foster's "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair" Pat was chosen from a group of centestants representing fourteen southeastern states. Next month she will represent Alabama in the "Miss America" pageant to be held in Atlantic City.

Patricia plans to finish work on her music degree at the University of Ala. before taking advantage of all the many scholarships she won with the coveted title of "Miss Alabama." Her plans are to become a concert artist and with her remarkable talent she is sure to succeed.

All of Chilton County is proud of this lovely native daughter and wish for her the best of luck in the "Miss America" pageant and in the continued following of her chosen career.

All-Stars Plaster Randolph For Twentieth Win

The Chilton County All-Stars plastered the Randolph team with a coat of white wash and scored 8 runs on as many hits to chalk up win number 20 for the year. Marion Grant did the hurling for the Stars and he held thhe visitors to 2 hits getting his 4th win of the season. He has yet to lose a game.

Edwards drove in 3 runs with two hits. These same two teams will play again Saturday at Randolph.

Sundays game was played before a large turnout of fans but the opposition was not up to par and the Stars hit and scored at will to pile up a big 17 to 1 final score. Ellison led the hitting with 3 hits. One of these was a grand slam homer in the first inning over the left field fence. It was the first grand slammer of the year for the Stars. Ellison also broke a club record by batting in a total of 8 runs. Bobby Easterling came through with 4 hits. Grant ot 3 hits and James Paul 2 hits.

Bobby Carl Wyatt continued his fine pitchin and it was his 10th win aginst one loss. Sylacauga scored one time in the 5th. It was the first time in 27 innings that Bobby Carl had been scored on. The visitors failed to score during the last four innings.

This lad still has one more year of high school so the Pro Base Ball scouts will have to wait it out for a few more months. The All-Stars feel as if they have a couple of more players who could make a go of it in Pro Base Ball.

Next Sunday afternoon the Selma Flyers will be at City Park for a double-header. Game time will be at two p. m.

Mr. M. R. Glasscock, County Agent, announced today that boll weevils seem to be running rampant in Chilton County's cotton fields.

Upon checking some of the local fields and finding this condition Mr. Glasscock started a search for an aerial crop duster who would be willin to dust cotton at a price that farmers could afford.

A suitable crop-duster was found and he will charge about 5c per pound to apply the farmers poison The Agent stated that this would mean the dusting would cost a farmer about $1.00 per acre.

Local Artist On Faculty Of Mexican Art School

The school, Instituto Allende, has placed Clanton resident Leonard Farley Jr., on its staff to teach ceramics during the current summer session.

The agreement is an indication of Farley's stature and reputation in ceramics, for the Instituto draws its students from throughout the Americas and Europe and a large number of them are professionals.

Farley, 34, received his master's degree in fine arts from Ohio State University this Spring, completed his B. F. A. at University of Alabama in 1949. He attended elementary and high schools in Birmingham.

Farley is skilled not only in ceramics, but in photography. He freelanced in the photographic field from 1949 to 1953, doing mostly commercial work.

He operated his own ceramics studio in Clanton, specialized in pottery.

At the Instituto Farley has a chance to put some of his practice and theory to work in the class room. "Heretomore," he said "pottery has been rather tyrannized by the wheel . . . because of the mechanics involved." He went on to explain that the revolving pottery wheel requires symmetrical shapes in pottery, and this puts a definite limit on the possibility of producing new and interesting forms.

SOUTH FOR THE SUMMER is Alabamian Leonard Farley, Jr., of Clanton, on the faculty of Institute Allende in the Mexican mountain town of San Miguel de Allende, Mexico's top-rating art center. Farley (standing) is briefing a student on the technique of building up her clay work. Man at rear is using the potter's wheel, which Farley claims has "tyrannized" pottery for years. Farley specializes in "free form" pottery. (Photo by Peter Olwyler)

"But in the last few years there has been a tendency to develop the free form. This has raised ceramics from a mere handicraft to the level of a fine . . ."

Farley specializes in free form ceramics, though he is an adept at all types of work. It is free form work which he is teaching his classes of professional ceramicists and art teachers at the summer session He also holds classes for beginners teaching the basic elements of hand building, glazing and firing.

It is the Clanton man's first trip to Mexico. "I'd known of Instituto Allende for years, from hearing about it from artists. I wrote to find out about the possibilities of teaching there." Farley's experience in ceramics was reviewed by Instituto director Sterling Dickinson and the agreement was approved.

When he is not teaching, Farley uses his time drawing, painting and experimenting with new ceramic techniques. On weekend he works in trips to Queretero, a city where jewels are sold on street corners; Marfil, an ancient ghost town with some of the most princely ruins in Mexico; and Guanajuato the State capitol, known as one of the handsomest colonial towns in Mexico.

Cutting, Curing Can Help Hay Quality

Auburn—Hay quality depends on the way the crop is saved as well as on the value of the plants themselves.

Urging livestock owners to save all the high quality hay they can get as insurance against possible feed shortages, experts give several suggestions for improving hay thru the proper cutting and curing methods. Cut hay crops when they are ready. Don't allow them to become too mature, since the plants are more nutritious when they are first ripe. The presence of leaves and green color increases the value of hay as feed.

Once the hay is cut, it should be baled or stored as soon as it is dry enough to keep. Lying in the sun too long will cause the hay to lose Vitamin A as well as other nutrients. And hard rains falling on dried hay will also lessen its food value.

A better feed program is often possible on farms where storage space is provided for silage as well as for hay, the experts point out. Some crops can be saved as silage when rain makes haying impossible.

A trend toward fewer but bigger farmer cooperatives is apparent in recent figures gathered from co-ops in Alabama. In 1941 this state had a total of 75 marketing, purchasing, and service farm co-ops with 34,510 members. Ten years later, with only 60 cooperatives in operation, the number of rural people served by them was 80,826.

A FOND FAREWELL—

We lost an old citizen Monday.

After thirty-three years of service to the people of Chilton County she passed on to rest. Hers had been a dedicated life of easing the aches and pains of the sick and injured here.

She had, in her years, seen a great amount of suffering and saved the lives of countless folks who went to her in a time of emergency.

She was the first home for many people now scattered all around the world. She was the last earthly home of some.

Chilton County owed her much but flowers on a grave are not seen by the one they are intended for. With her passing comes a younger one with greater [illegible] to take her place in the service of our people.

The Central Alabama Hospital closed its doors to the public Monday, August 1st.

AN UNBEATABLE COMBINATION—

As far as we're concerned, Chilton County is the Peach Center of the World, but we'll have to take second place on packing this delicious fruit.

For the first time in many years local stores are receiving shipments of peaches from California and it gives our peach growers a good chance to see what other growers are doing to sell their product. We have not eaten any of this out-of-state fruit but, as far as we're concerned, it wouldn't hold a chance against a real Chilco peach.

Something about these western peaches that we did notice was the way they are packed and labeled. The packing was practical from a shipping standpoint and enticing to a customer from a merchandising standpoint. Every box is labeled with a sticker proudly proclaiming that they are indeed California peaches.

We believe that our wonderful peach crop deserves this kind of regal treatment, too. And this sort of "point of sale" advertising would indeed improve our market by getting folks to looking for our peaches. Too, it would assure them that the peaches they are buying came from our fair county.

After all, we know "Chilton County Peaches are Tops;" let's let everyone else know it, too.

PRICE WAR IN BIBB COUNTY—

One of our citizens reported to us this week that the bootleggers in his section of the county had gone out of business, because they were unable to sell their whiskey at a profit. He reported that the bootleggers were offered $3.00 per gallon for whiskey delivered to Birmingham and that they were unable to make it pay off at this price. There is so much competition in the whiskey business in Alabama between the bootleggers until they have forced the price down so low until they are unable to make this illegal business pay off. —The Centreville Times.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

In its final push towards adjournment, the House last week considered three important and highly controversial measures. The first of these was the highway expansion bill, the second was an amendment to the Natural Gas Act of 1938, and the third was the housing bill.

Highway Bill

Two versions of the legislation that would have made possible a tremendous highway construction program were defeated by the House. First, a move to substitute President Eisenhower's highway program for that presented by the House Public Works Committee was rejected. Then, on a final vote the Committee's bill was also defeated.

The bill reported by the Public Works Committee provided for expenditures of $48.5 billion over a 13-year period for the road-building program and construction was scheduled to get underway next July 1. The federal government would have paid approximately $36.5 billion of the cost, including $24 billion for the completion of a national network of interstate highways. The remainder of the total cost would have been borne by the various states. Federal revenue to support this program was to be obtained from increased taxes on such items as gasoline, diesel fuel, and heavy duty tires and tubes.

The road plan recommended by President Eisenhower was to continue over 10 years and the estimated total cost was to be $39 billion of that amount being contributed by the federal government. To finance the President's plan no new taxes were contemplated. Instead most of the federal funds would have been derived from a $21 billion special bond issue. It was pointed out during debate, however that the issuance of bonds for road program would result in the payment of billions of dollars in unnecessary interest.

Natural Gas Bill

By only six votes, the House passed the highly controversial Harris Bill. The measure, if passed by the Senate and signed by the President, will free natural as producers from federal regulation. This legislation was introduced after the United States Supreme Court held last year in the so-called Phillips Case that natural gas producers are subject to federal regulation.

The advocates of the Harris Bill argued that competition among independent producers can be relied upon to protect natural gas consumers and that federal regulation is not only uncalled for but, if imposed, will destroy the necessary incentive for further natural gas exploration. The opponents of the measure argued with equal vigor that competitive economic forces in the natural gas field are practically nonexistent or at best weak, and that federal regulation is necessary to protect the consumers.

These and other strong arguments were an indication of the touch-and-go battle that has been waged for months over this legislation. In addition to the close vote on final passage, the bill cleared the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee and also the Rules Committee by only one-vote margins. Senate action on this measure has been deferred until next year.

Housing

The Housing Bill, as reported by the Banking and Currency Committee, provided for the construction of 70,000 new public housing units during the next two years. The House decided, by a vote of 217-188, to substitute a bill by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) that eliminates all public housing but extends expiring provisions of the National Housing Act.

Further action on this legislation is scheduled to take place early this week after a House-Senate conference committee irons out the differences between the House and Senate bills.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

YOUR BASAL METABOLIC RATE

How often have we heard the remark "Oh I've Just had a basal?" The term is more complete. Actually it is a basal metabolic rate determination to measure the heat production of the body. Mefined as the speed of chemical processes of the body. In its function, the body uses up oxygen. When the body is at rest, all its activities slow up. However, during digestion exercise or even when exposed to the cold, the body needs more oxygen to fulfill its needs. This alters the rate of chemical change that occurs within the body. Food is the fuel burned for energy. Food is also needed to repair and rebuild body tissue.

The thyroid, located in the neck is the gland that interferes with the speed of processes of the body. If it is not functioning in balance, too much or too little energy may be used. To determine the degree of balance, the patient is asked to have a good night's rest and to be without breakfast when the test is given. Mental and physical quiet is important.

Since the body requires protein sugar and a certain amount of fat to furnish energy and to rebuild tissue, all of which are involved in the speed processes of the body, it is obvious that metabolism includes all the numerous chemical changes that are going on constantly.

Then, too, other factors covering the activity of other glands of the body must be considered. Thoughts, ideas, anger, frustration ambition and drive, all stemming from various portions of the brain, enter into the picture of metabolism.

It is a simple test. Just lie quietly, rest and breathe. The apparatus will do the work and your physician will be helped in coping with your problem.

Ala. Leads Nation In Cattle Increase

Montgomery, Ala.—Alabama now has more than one million head of cattle on pastures stretching from the Tennessee River to the Gulf of Mexico and is fast becoming one of the nation's leading cattle producing states, T. Whit Athey, Jr., Grady, President of the Alabama Cattlemen's Association, said today.

For the past six years," Athey continued, "Alabama has led the nation in the largest percentage increase of cattle. The national average is just over 24 percent, while Alabama's increase is more than 58 per cent."

Official government figures estimated Alabama's beef cattle at 1,[illegible],000 head, Athey added. This, the State Cattlemen's president said, ranks Alabama 20th among other states in the number of beef cattle.

Athey said Alabama cattlemen sold more than 51 million dollars worth of beef cattle during 1954, making beef cattle one of Alabama's major cash crops.

Despite the drought and low prices for beef cattle for the past few years, Athey says the picture is improving steadily in Alabama now. "Alabama cattlemen are feeling better now," Athey added, "and are saving a record amount of hay and other feed crops." Pastures and cattle, generally, throughout the State are better than ever, another indication of the upswing in the cattle business for the future, Athey believes.

A report just recently released by the Alabama Cattlemen's Association shows that more than 4400 cattlemen are members of the organization in 67 county associations throughout Alabama. The Cattlemen's Association has as its purpose promoting, developing and encouragin the cattle industry in Alabama and now stands today as one of the largest State Cattlemen's Associations in the nation.

Cancer Society Belongs To No United Appeal

Mobile, Ala.—The policy of the American Cancer Society on participating in united fund drives in Alabama was explained in a letter mailed to community leaders throughout the state.

The letter was written by Dr. John Day Peake of Mobile, chairman of the executive committee, Alabama Division, American Cancer Society. It was mailed to fund raising organizations, newspaper radio and television officials and others.

The letter set forth that the national policy of ACS is that no unit shall be permitted to participate in any new federated fund-raising activity, and that present participation in any united fund-raising program shall be carefully evaluated.

This policy was decided upon by the society's national board of directors, Dr. Peake wrote, "after a year-long study and comparison of those units engaged in federation and those which conduct individual campaigns."

As state committee chairman he said a national survey found that in 68 units in the United States with complete five-year records of participation in federated fund-raising, funds raised for the cancer society had increased 18 per cent over a five-year period, while funds contributed to the society as a whole had increased 58 per cent

"The American Cancer Society has no quarrel with united fund appeals," Dr. Peake declared. "However, experience has proven to the American Cancer Society that its growth can be maintained only through individual fund-raising campaigns."

The American Cancer Society carries on a continuous program of education, research and service to medically indignent cancer patients. In annual national budget, the society has grown from $800,000 in 1945 to $24,000,000 in 1955. The cancer society has spent nearly three quarters of a million dollars in Alabama alone on research projects during that period.

"The American Cancer Society has found," Dr. Peake said, "that the American public wants it to have the funds it needs to carry on its three-point program to conquer cancer."

Dr. Peake pointed out that an educational program to save lives through early diagnosis and treatment of cancer is an important part of the society's indepenlent annual campaign.

"The sole purpose of the American Cancer Society," Dr. Peak explained, "is the saving of more lives now, through early diagnosis and proper treatment, and eventual complete control, through research, of cancer—man's cruelest enemy."

He said, "In order to accomplish this, it is necessary that the society have complete internal control of its budget, as its long experience with the cancer problem enables it to estimate more accurately its costs than can be done by those who have not had this experience."

All policies of the American Cancer Society are set by its National Board of Directors, which consists of sixty-eight members, half of whom are lay, and half professional (medical), representing every geographical region of the United States. All policies of the Alabama division are set by its State Executive Committee, half of whom also are law and half medical.

$16.5 Million To Be Spent On Military Construction In Ala.

Washington.—The Senate has just voted $16,682,000 in funds for Army, Navy, and Air Force construction in Alabama in the fiscal year which began July 1st, Senator Lister Hill (D-Ala.) has announced. The funds were restored to the Supplemental Appropriations bill by the Senate Appropriations Committee, of which Senator Hill is a member, after they had been dropped from the bill in the House upon points of order.

The Senate approved $8,985,000 for new construction at Air Force installations in Alabama. This figure includes $4,170,000 for Brookley Field at Mobile, $1,650,000 for Craig Field, at Selma, $2,661,000 for Maxwell Field, and $275,000 for Gunter Field, both at Montgomery, and $229,000 for the Air Technical Center at Birmingham.

Appropriations for Army installations, totaling $7,546,000 include $2,070,000 for Camp Rucker, at Ozark, $2,865,000 for Redstone Arsenal, at Huntsville and $2,611,000 for Fort McClellan, at Anniston.

The Senate also approved $151,000 for the Navy Auxiliary Air Station, Barin Field, at Foley. These funds are to be used for modernization and improvement in the safety conditions of the field.

Social Security Helps Families Stay Together

Of the $31,387 in monthly social security benefits being paid in Chilton County at the end of 1954, $7,750, or about 24 percent, went to mothers and children, according to J. W. Overstreet, Jr., Social Security Administration district manager in Birmingham.

Mr. Overstreet pointed out that payments to mothers and children have special significance to the community as a whole because they help families to stay together after the death of the breadwinner.

Under the old-age and survivors insurance program, workers and their employers and self-employed people pay into a fund while they are working, and when earnings stop because of the death of the worker or because he has retired, payments are made from the fund to the worker and his dependents or to his survivors.

In all, 887 people in Chitlon County were receiving benefits under the old-age and survivor insurance program at the end of the year. This was an increase of 15 percent over 1953.

One reason for the increase was the passage last September of the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act. These amendments increased all benefit payments and made it possible for the first time for survivors of some workers who died after 1939 and before 1950 to qualify for payments.

Beginning in September 1954 the amendments permit the "dropping out" of up to 5 years of lowest earnings in figuring the worker's average monthly wage. This has the affect of increasing the average earnings, from which the monthly payments are figured.

Other improvements in the law made by the 1954 Amendments went into effect in 1955, and therefore are not reflected in the benefit figures for the end of 1954. Among these were the bringing of many more employees and self-employed people under the law including farm workers and farm operators. Another improvement is the "disability freeze," which protects future benefit rights of former workers who have become totally disabled.

The Birmingham social security office is at 1825 First Avenue, N. and representatives of the office regularly Clanton, Calera and Jasper.

Mulberry Church

We welcome into our church twelve new members all for baptism. They are Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Baker, Mrs. Otis Cooper, Kenneth Veazey, Evan Calfee, Sherrell White, David Cummins, Billy Fulmer, Bobby Jean Nabors, Joanne Ware, Judy Jackson, and Mary Elizabeth Sexton.

There were good congregations at all services throughout the week Bro. Kiddles, the evangelist delivered some very inspiring sermons.

Sunday was Sacrifice and Catch-up Day for our church. All offerings will go into the building fund. The offering for the day ran over $275.00. We are happy to soon be able to pay off the indebtedness on the pastorium. Our church needs more Sunday School rooms, a preacher's study, and a room for our library. When our recent debt is paid, we can build these rooms, which will mean we can minister to many more than we are now reaching.

Jean McCraw and Anna Mae Cox are attending GA Week at Shocco this week. The WMU sponsored this trip for them. Rev. and Mrs. Evan Johnson carried them to Shocco on Monday afternoon.

We still have other books in our church library that you have not read. Check them out and enjoy reading them, although we need more new books and a larger place to keep them. If you have any suggestions that will help build up our library, please let the librarian know it. All suggestions and interest will be appreciated.

A-3c Bobby Veazey has completed his training at Beg Air Force Base in Alpaso, Texas. He is at home with his parents and sister for a few weeks.

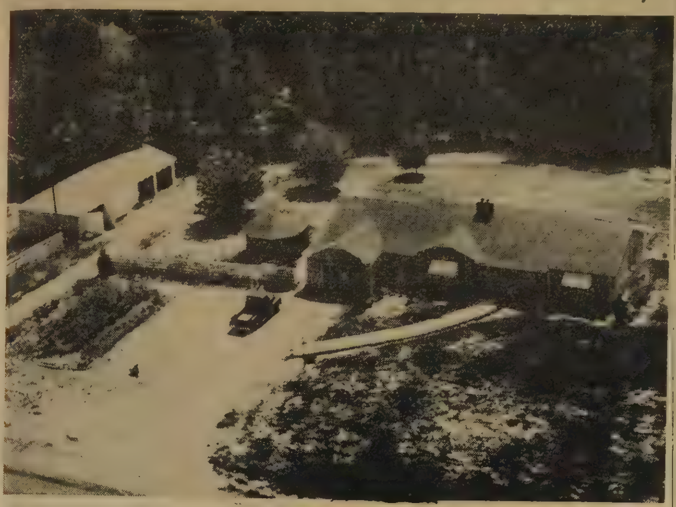
Last Week's Mystery Farm Was The A. L. Farley's



Last week's "Mystery Farm" (pictured above) is owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Farley of Clanton. Located about three miles out on the Lay Dam Road the beautiful house was constructed by the Farley's in 1949. The big machine shed was constructed about three years ago and right now they are busy adding a barbecue pit to the lovely grounds of the home.

Mr. Farley purchased the farm from Mr. Jim Blalock in 1925 but they have lived there for only the past six years.

Married in 1920, the Farley's have one son, Leonard, Jr., who is now teaching ceramics at the San Miguel Allende in Mexico City, Mexico. He is 34 years old.

Mr. Farley is a member of the Red Polled Association and Mrs. Rose Farley is a member of the Music Appreciation Club of Clanton. All three of the Farleys belong to the First Baptist Church of Clanton.

Mr. Farley says his hobbies are farming and woodworking but running the Farley Drug Co. leaves very little time for hobbies.

This year the Farleys are converting their livestock herd to Registered Herefords. Besides cattle they do quite a bit of general farming.

The Winners!

Twenty-nine persons correctly guessed last week's "Mystery Farm" as that of Mr. A. L. Farley. From the correct answers Mrs. Weston Smith's name was drawn as winner of the Grand Prize.

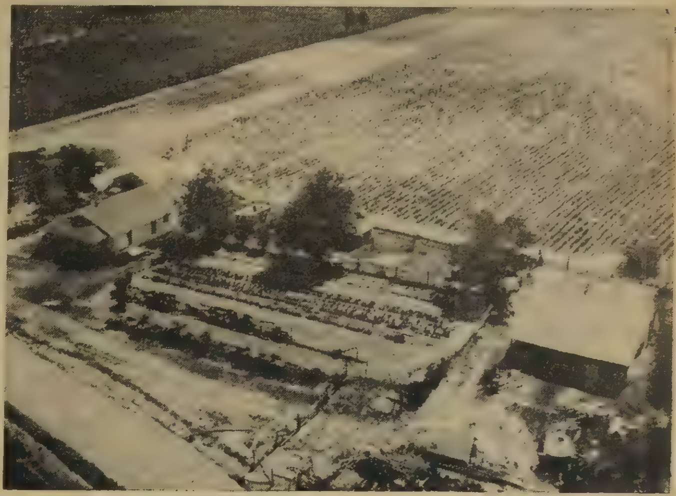
Whose Farm Is This?



Nothing is hidden in this picture. We've even left the road in it so you can easily identify this week's "Mystery Farm." Whoever owns it really has some long rows to plow, and he really had a pretty garden last year.

You'll be a winner in this week's contest if you'll just come to the News office before four o'clock next Saturday afternoon and tell us who owns the farm pictured above. That's all you have to do to win two passes good at any Wadesonian Theatre in Chilton County and you'll also be eligible to win the Grand Prize next Monday.

Our Grand Prize is really worth trying for. The winner gets a five dollar gift-certificate redeemable in merchandise at Pig's Grocery and Market in West End, a five dollar gift-certificate redeemable in merchandse at Watson's in Clanton and a one-year subscription to Chilton County County News.

Fish Biting Despite Hot Weather

There is not too much to be said of outstanding strings of fish caught during the past week. The trouble is, the weather is just so hot that not many fishermen are going out. Actually, the Bass are striking pretty good, especially, early in the mornings, and the Bream are feeding around the clock. Another thing that makes prospects better than usual are the local showers that stain the upper reaches of tributariese. The big one's are stirring about feeding on the large supply of insects being washed out of the woods, and as the stain is only a thin layer on the surface, it serves as a blind for the fisherman and a shady hunting ground for the fish. Yesterday, down at Swayback Bridge, Lake Jordan, a layer of silt began drifting down Sofkahatchee Creek and right away those that happened to be out started catching Bass.

Bream fishing, however, offers the best prospects for the larger creels. Dewey Penton and Joe Henry Stanley, of Titus, are Bream specialists and they are still mopping up on Hatchett Creek, Lake Mitchell. A Mr. Short and Mr. Hayes of Sylacauga came into Barrett's Fishing Camp with a near creel limit catch, for each, of Bluegills that they had caught from Hatcheet Creek with a blue popping bug. They had some dandies that weighed up to about 10 ounces each.

C. P. Dick, manager, Bonner's Fishing Camp, near Holtville, Lake Jordan, reports that J. S. Williams and L. E. Esco, Montomery, caught 19 assorted fish while fly fishing with a popping bug. Mr. Williams entered one of his best catches in the Alabama Power Company Contest. It was a White Lake Bass weighing 1 pound 12 ounces.

Ed Hardiman, Manager, Riverview Fishing Camp, near Clanton, Lake Lay, reports a 5 pound [illegible] ounce Largemouth Bass was caught on a black and white Bomber by Turner Belser, Birmingham.

Don't sit back and wait for more comfortable weather to go fishing. While it is hot on the lakes the temperature is much lower than that of the city. The lovely Coosa-Tallapoosa Lakes are completely surrounded by pine and hardwood shade trees and in many spots you will find a constant cooling breeze What could be more inviting?

CHIEF ALAPOCO SAYS: Most of us have to wait for an opportunity in order to enjoy a fishing or boating trip. For that reason we might be tempted to take a chance and go ahead even when the weathlooks forbidding. Or perhaps, after looks forbiddin. Or perhaps aftstorm coming we may wait until the last minute before staring to a safe landing place. Head for the shore before a storm starts. However, if you're caught unaware, seat all passengers on the floor of the boat. Remember . . never take unnecessary chances with your life. . . . it's the only one you have.

Ex-Prisoners Of War Must File Soon For Claims

Washington.—More than 800 former American prisoners of war, including a number of Alabamians, have until August 21 to file claims for compensation under the War Claims Act, Senator Hill (D-Ala.), Chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, which has jurisdiction over veterans affairs, has announced.

In case of death of a former prisoner of war, claims for compensation may be filed by the surviving widow, husband, children or parents, Senator Hill said. Payment is authorized to be made at the rate of 8250 per day for each day of imprisonment. Funds for payment are derived from receipts from seized assets of enemy overnments during World War II.

Wood cut and dried in early fall will have greater heating value this winter than green wood.

Many Dairy Cows Are Lost As Mismanaged Calves

The next three or four months will see three-fourths of all the dairy cows in Alabama calve. Some 120,000 heifer calves will be dropped. And at least 30,000 of these will die before they are a year old.

This tremendous loss to state dairymen is caused chiefly by poor feeding and management, explained API Extension Dairyman John Parrish after stating these appalling facts. He said the successful dairyman must grow his own herd replacements and must do so by sound calf-raising methods.

The specialist listed improper feeding, diseases, parasites, and other results of mismanagement as the greatest dangers to young calves.

Baking Best To Keep Vegetable Food Val.

Auburn, Ala.—Nutrient minded homemakers miss a good bet if they overlook baked vegetables for family meals.

Baking is the best known cooking method for preserving the food value of vegetables, said Mary Hulsey, API Extension foods and nutrition specialist, in making this comment. And several vegetables other than potatoes can be prepared in the oven.

Miss Hulsey added that vitamin-packed squash and onions are especially good when baked. The dishes made by the following recipes are fit for company dinner or a special family occasion.

Baked Onions—Select medium-size. mild-flavored onions and scoop out centers Chop centers fine and mix with leftover rice and chopped leftover beef or pork. Moisten with meat broth or canned tomatoes and season. Fill centers. Dot with butter, surround with juice, and cook in covered, buttered casserole about 30 min.

Stuffed squash.—Scooped out the centers of tender, young yellow or white squash and fill with a stuffing similar to dressing made with leftover corn bread, onions, and seasoning, with poultry or other meat broth. Bake, surrounded by broth, in a casserole in moderate oven until tender.

Pullets that were started early will be ready for the laying house this month.

More Cotton Being Harvested By Machinery

Auburn, Ala.-Mechanization that has taken over in cotton fields during the last decade is rapidly reaching into the harvesting phase of the South's chief cash crop.

Alabama farmers who plan to pick their cotton with machines this year are probably aware of the fact that pre-harvest practices, from the selection of good, smooth cotton land to proper defoliation of mature cotton stalks, are vital to efficient mechanical harvesting. But some points about operation of the machines themselves are also important, according to J. T. Gaillard of the API Extension Service.

Gaillard, who is Extension farm machinery specialist, said this week that well-trained, dependable operators are the first requirement for efficient mechanical harvesting. Drivers and machines work best in fields that are clean and smooth, with thick-spaced, well-defoliated cotton plants bearing lots of sound, well-opened bolls.

The time to start harvesting depends on location, weather conditions, degree of defoliation, boll maturtiy, and type of harvester, explained the specialist. With picker-type harvesters, it is usually best to pick twice, starting when 60 percent of the cotton is open and picking again when the remaining bolls are open. Stripper-type machines can't be used until all or most of the bolls are ready. With the latter type, it may pay to sacrifice a few unopened bolls so cotton already open won't be kept in the field long enough to lower its grade.

Once started, picking should be continued until the job is done to get maximum returns from the machine, Gaillard said. It's very important that the harvester be adjusted for the conditions of the field, and if necessary an implement dealer should be called in to make this adjustment.

State FFA Forestry Camp

Future Farmers over the state are enjoying Alabama's Annual Forestry Camp at Camp Grist near Selma this week.

According to T. L. Faulkner, executive secretary of the Alabama Association, 103 Future Farmers of America representing every county in the state are attending this year's camp.

From Autauga County, Billy Thompson from the Marbury FFA chapter is attending the camp.

Delegates were selected by local Vo-Ag teachers in each county on the basis of their interest and demonstrated ability in forestry. All expenses are paid for the boys except transportation to and from Selma.

The camp is being sponsored by Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association through its member mills in Alabama in cooperation with Alabama Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry.

J. C. Cannon, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, in commending the Forestry Camp and its sponsors, said, "We believe that the Annual Forestry Camp is a very fine way of adding interest to that part of our teaching program." He stressed that none of the boys have attended this camp before and that all possess interest in forestry, with most of the boys carrying forestry projects in their supervised farming programs.

Topics being studied by the farm youths includes tree identification, tree planting, forest fire prevention and control, first aid and farm safety, harvesting, utilizing and marketing forest products, timber management, selective cutting, timber stand improvement, and chemical eradication and control of undesirable hardwoods. Tours and field trips are also included.

The camp isn't all study for the boys though. Daily activities include swimming and other supervised recreation, athletic events, morning an devening vesper servimorning and evening vesper servimonies.

State Forester J. M. Stauffer explained that this is an all FFA camp and is administered by the Division of Forestry of the Alabama Department of Conservation. It is sponsored by the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association and its member mills which are as follows: Gulf States Paper Corp., Tuscaloosa; Hollingsworth Whitney Co., Mobile; Southern Kraft Division of the International Paper Co., Mobile and Coosa River Newsprint Co., of Coosa Pines.

The farm youngsters arrived in Selma Sunday July 31, and the action packed week will end with the breaking of camp Saturday morning, August 6. Several Vo-Ag. teachers are also attending the camp to help out in the program.

Elder Accident Victims Require Prompt First Aid

Montgomery.—Prompt and adequate first aid is always important when injuries occur, but it is particularly so when the victim is an older person.

Dr. D. G .Gill, Alabama Health Officer said today that injured elderly people do not withstand shock, fractures and head injury as well as younger people. "The aged are peculiarly subject to fractures of bones at the hip, of the shoulder and and of the vertebrae." Dr. Gill pointed out, "and these injuries may not show up under first aid conditions."

For these reasons, caution should be observed in permitting an older person to stand up and walk after an accident. "Although there has been no fractured bone," Dr. Gill said, "there is a danger that the victim will fall."

Elderly persons also usually require more covering during first aid and transportation to the doctor's office than younger people, Dr. Gill said.

PLANT FALL GARDENS NOW

Alabama gardeners are reminded that early August rains frequently provide the last chance to get many fall garden crops into the ground with enough moisture to get good stands.

This point was made by API Extension Horticulturist John Bagby, who said this week that snap beans, squash, cucumbers, turnips, kale, broccoli, collards, beets, carrots, and lettuce may all be planted now.

It's time to line up supplies for replacing peach trees killed in the late spring freeze and for new plantings. Good nursery stock may be scarce later on.

USS Chilton Presents Judge with Momento

Judge M. D. Tingle was presented a cigarette lighter etched with the name, hull number, and silhouette of the USS Chilton at the meeting of the Board of Revenue and Control, Monday, July 25.

This token from the Commanding Officer, officers, and crew of the USS Chilton was forwarded through Navy channels. Presentation on behalf of the Navy wac made by Lieutenant Commander John M. Higgins, local Navy representative.

During June, 1954, nine young Marine Corps reservists, who are natives of Chilton County had the pleasure of visiting the U S S Chilton at Norfolk, Virginia. The Chilton had just returned from duty in the Mediterranean, and the Chilton County Marines were taking summer training at Little Creek, Va., with the 3rd 105-mm Howitzer Battalion of Birmingham.

The Executive Officer of the USS Chilton is Commander H. J. Kicker, a native of Chilton County, Alabama, and he was delighted to meet and entertain the young Marine Corps reservists aboard the ship named for their home county.

The USS Chilton is an attack transport fitted out as a squadron flagship for an amphibious transport squadron. During World War II she was the flagship of Transport Squadron 17, Amphibious Forces, Pacific Fleet. [illegible] participated [illegible] landings in the Philippines, Kerama Retto, Ie Shima [illegible] Okinawa. At Kerama Retto [illegible] enemy aircraft in that engagement [illegible] Gadsden, Alabama who later became Lt. [illegible] Radar Officer [illegible]

During the [illegible] Okinawa [illegible] enemy aircraft.

The Chilton is 492 feet in length with a 70 foot [illegible] wartime complement of 459 officers and men. The combat mission is to land an infantry battalion fully equipped on an enemy beach. She has troop accommodations for approximately 2,000 men with 500 tons of equipment and supplies. In addition the Chilton, as a flagship, is equipped to carry out the duties of administration and command for an infantry division together with control of fighter aircraft in support.

The ship was launched on December 29, 1924, as the SS Sea Needle for the Maritime Commission built by Western Pipe and Steel Company, San Francisco, California. Five months later the Sea Needle was delivered to the U.S. Navy for conversion to a Navy attack transport. On May 20, 1943 the ship was commissioned in the Navy as the USS Chilton (APA 38) in honor of Chilton County, Alabama. At that time Chilton County, Alabama led the entire United States in per centage over-subscription of the War Bond quota.

In presenting the cigarette lighter to the Probate Judge of Chilton County, the Commanding Officer, officers and crew of the USS Chilton wish to express their friendship and esteem for the people of Chilton County, Alabama.

Locally Grown Seeds Will Be Short For Fall Planting

Auburn, Ala.—Because home-produced grazing crop seed are short this year, the fall may find Alabama farmers planting more of the crops that come from other states.

This prediction was voiced by Ralph R. Jones, API Extension seed crops marketing specialist. He said this week that supplies will be short for most locally grown seed, including such crops as crimson clover, white clover, caley peas, vetch, oats, wheat, rye, and rescue grass. The prospective shortages are due to a number of factors, but weather has played the biggest role, explained the specialist.

Jones said this year's grass and legume seed crops over the country have not yet been harvested, but that an adequate amount of most of these is indicated. Supplies are expected to be below average for white clover, lespedeza, Kentucky bluegrass, Austrian winter peas, and lupine. But alfalfa, hairy vetch, and ryegrass, all of which [illegible] important places in many Alabama cropping systems, will be plentiful.

Educational Funds Are Short In All Departments

The post-war bumper baby crop has pushed the Alabama school enrollment to a new all-time high of 721,538 pupils, and the end is not anythin like in sight. The 1947 peak birth rate six years later pushed the public school enrollment over the 700,000 mark, and last year, while these beginners moved up to the second grade, the 1948 babies pushed the enrollment to the new figure. The beginners are moving up through the grades and the high birth rate continues.

Our schools are already full. Our school buses are packed like "sardine boxes." Alabama teachers already have more pupils than they can teach. What shall we do with these children? An official survey financed by state and federal funds showed that Alabama, needs to spend over $300,000,000 for public school buildings. School boards have already employed over 1,200 more teachers than the State supports in its Minimum School Program. School officials estimate that another 1,300 teachers should be employed to meet the bulging enrollment and to reduce existing classroom overcrowding. School officials, P. T. A. officials, lay board members, and other school-minded organiaztions have recommended that the Legislature authorize a $150,000,000 State school bond issue to meet the critical building needs, and that $32,750,000 new money be provided to meet the expanding needs and give the teachers an average $600 annual salary increase to bring them up to the Southern average, for the public schools alone.

The State Superintendent of Education warns that, unless the overcrowding is relieved and unless at least the $600 average annual salary increase is provided, there will be another exodus from the teaching profession similar to that which happened during World War II in which over 7,000 emergency certificates had to be issued to man the Alabama public school classrooms on a wartime basis. The 1947 Legislature provided a program which checked the exodus from the teaching profession, but last year a new wave of teachers started leaving the public schools of Alabama. Over 3,500 emergency certificates were issued in order to have someone in the class rooms with the children.

If the people of Alabama had provided $1 per day (the price of one haircut) for 180 school days for each of the 721,538 pupils enrolled in school last year, the bill would have come to $129,876,840. The State Minimum Program Fund request for these and the additional 20,000 pupils expected next year totals only $86,143,769, or over $43,000,000 less than $1 per pupil per day.

HILL INTRODUCES BILL TO LABEL ALL TEXTILES

Senator Lister Hill of Alabama introduced in the Senate today a bill sponsored by Walter Randolph, President of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation and by the American Farm Bureau Federation requiring fiber content labeling and identification of cotton and other textile products advertised or offered for sale.

The bill applies to all fibers, both natural and man-made, and incorporates the provisions of the Wool Labeling Act.

Senator Hill explained that the bill is of particular significance in the case of cotton because it will, for the first time, give to cotton products the "truth-in-fabrics" labeling protection and benefits already given wool and rayon products. He pointed out that a large percentage of the cotton articles now on the market are not identified as cotton and as a result, cotton is losing each year some 8 million dollars worth of national advertising value.

Hill pointed out that cotton has definite qualities and characteristics distinct from those of other fibers. The buying public generally knows the qualities and characteristics of cotton—for example, it washability, absorbility, wet strength, ironing characteristics and resistance to wear and abrasion. He added that consumers should be assured of getting the kind of product they intend to buy. He said that because of frequent failure to properly identify and label cotton products, because of the substitution of other fibers for cotton in the production of fabric types historically associated by the buying public with cotton and because of the practice of blending synthetic fibers with cotton and wool without proper labeling, much confusion has developed among consumers. "Textile articles," Hill declared, "are often ruined by improper treatment simply because the purchaser does not know what the fabric is made of. For these reasons new markets for cotton which have been developed and built in recent years through the research and sales promotion efforts of the cotton industry are being threatened. Our cotton farmers have played a big role in the development of these new markets for cotton and in the establishment of an unsurpassed reputation for many cotton textile items." Hill said. "Our cotton farmers are not afraid of competition but they have a right to expect that their competition will be fair and that the consumer will have the opportunity of knowing what he is buyin and of making a free selection among the various textile items now on the market."

Senator Hill declared that the bill aims at providing adequate protection to the consumer without burdening the manufacturer or distributor of textile products. The bill exempts textiles from tagging or labeling until they are in a form ready to be sold to the consumer.

Local Farmers Plan To Keep Chilton Green

A visit with Allen Lenoir of Stanton, found him enthused over Coastal Bermuda grass, Allen stated, "I want to set that sandy field of 25 acres next spring." Allen has an acre that he set this spring which will furnish stolons for the rest.

A .K. Morgan of Maplesville, said "I can't plant or work any crop that will make me as much money as my hogs and cows." "For my hog grazing I use Kudzu on the rough land for summer pasture and Crimson Clover for fall and winter", said Mr. Morgan.

President Eisenhower has designated the week of July 24-30th as National Safety Week. Many people are hurt each year from being careless while operating farm machinery, automotive equipment, and being careless with farm livestock. Let's all be careful while we work and play.

District Cooperator, S. E. Maddox of Pate's Chapel has a demonstration of three varieties of Sericea. His cows have a choice of common, Arlington, or Tupelo type. S. E. states "A blind man can tell when he walks into the Tupelo variety—this plant is more dense and has smaller stems and is more leafy."

Dewey and Curtis Collins of Thorsby, have done a good job of establishing twenty-five acres of Coastal Grass in corn middles, and at the same time there will be a lot of corn made and the grass is better by having corn cultivated.

Jack Roberts and his father, C. W. Roberts have just finished plowing and side-dressing their Coastal Bermuda. This forty-acre flat will be one of Chilton's prettiest when it is well established.

State To Furnish Wildlife Exhibits For Schools

Montgomery, Ala.—W. H. Drinkard, Director of the Alabama Department of Conservation, today announced that the Department has employed a full-time museum technician and taxidermist who will mount wildlife species in natural exhibits for display in the schools of Alabama.

Drinkard said that K. E. Boykin, who has displayed similar wildlife exhibits at Selma for many years, will mount wildlife and plant specimens from throughout Alabama. These will be shown in the schools, fair exhibits, and before biological study and nature study groups as a means of promoting nature conservation in Alabama.

In announcing the start of this program, Drinkard called on people throughout the state to aid the Department in collecting wildlife and plant specimens for creating the needed exhibits. He said that there is an immediate need for large snakes of every species, large fish, alligators, extra large turtles, and armadillos.

Also, during the cold months of the year while pelts are prime the Department will need to collect specimens of the ame and furbearin animals of the state. Drinkard said that most of the birds of the state are protected by state and federal laws, but that specimens which are killed accidentally by automobiles or in other ways should be preserved for use by the Department of Conservation.

Specimens to be of value for mountin should be frozen or refrigerated as quickly as possible after death. Some could be kept alive and held for the Department.

Drinkard said people who have specimens which might be of value should contact the Department of Conservation, 711 High Street, Montgomery, Alabama. Arrangements will be made to pick up the animal or plant specimen.

Folks and Things ABOUT TOWN

—By Ben

A very nice lady called today to ask that we give recognition to these fine gentlemen of Clanton who are giving their time and money to mold better men of tomorrow. She is referring to the Little League baseball club and it's membership. Bing LeCroy, for one, has worked tirelessly with these youngsters through the summer as has many of our public spirited citizens. We wish we could name them individually but with very little effort on your part you can learn who they are. When you do, give them a pat on the back because as Horace Heiht says: "It's easier to build boys than to mend men."

Looks like our Representative Francis Speaks is getting it from all sides in his effort to change the present Board of Revenue & Control setup. Guess he would be the first one to tell you that being a politician is no fun. We hear all sides. Mayor McCain from Maplesville was in to see us this morning. He was for the change but he didn't go along with the Bill as it is written. He thinks some amendments should be made. The fact is that Chilton County would lose her road money if the Bill was passed into law. An engineer could not possibly work men he had no control over, nor could you. Well without an engineer our federal money is cut off and instead of continuing with our road building program that has been progressing so moothly we would have no road building at all and be back where we started from several years ago. We'll readily admit that improvements can be made in just about anything but the bill being published to be introduced into the legislature within the next two weeks ain't it.

Hope Mrs. Eleanor Haywood wasn't hurt bad in that wreck south of town this morning. It happened right in front of her home as she drove out on the highway. A car driven by James M. Powell of 425 Valley Road, Failfield, Ala., hit the car driven by Mrs. Haywood broadside, turning it over. Mrs. Mignon Holifield a passenger in the Powell car was admitted to Chilton County Hospital along with Mrs. Haywood.

Their condition is believed to be not too serious.

The teacher was telling the children about a famous American who lived a hundred years or more: "He lived in a little log hut six miles from school and he would walk to school every morning. A small tot in the back of the room said: "Crazy kid kept missing the bus every morning huh?"

Bobby Lane don't know it but we ate one of his big red, ripe tomatoes today. You see, he gave it to a fellow who gave it to a guy, who gave it to a party who gave it to us. And we'll tell you one thing for sure, if Bobby Lane can't do anything else, he can sure grow tomatoes. Tomatoes have always been our weakness but boy, we didn't know the kind you eat could be so flavorful.

Mr. Billy Smith, former Editor of the Chilton County News, and wife, are visiting in Clanton this week with his mother, Mrs. Mamie C. Smith and other relatives.

Girl Shoots And Kills Her Father In Family Row

Lucile Green is in the Chilton County jail charged with murder in the death of her father last Saturday night.

According to Sheriff R. O'Dell Payton, the father, Jackson Green, was shot with a 12 guage shotgun by the daughter when she tried to stop a fight between he and her mother. Mrs. Green is also being held on an assault and battery charge it is stated.

The Greens lived near Stanton.

Samaria Will Have Building Day

Sunday August 21st has been selected, by the Samaria Baptist Church as Church Building Day. We are asking our members and friends to contribute as much as possible on that day, either in cash or pledges for the purpose of building a new church. This building is a must with us for we realize that we will have to build or go out of business. The six Deacons and Pastor will contribute $2,350.00, either in cash or a ninety day pledges, to begin this fund. We are asking you to cooperate in this effort as your finances will permit. This offering will only be a starter for we will have to give and keep on giving until the job is well done. We will build within our means keeping in mind efficiency, beauty, and comfort. The building will be left so it can be expanded as expansion is necessary. Every small gift will count and be appreciated.

"Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by his in store, as God has prospered him" I Cor. 16:2.

R. W. STUCKEY, Pastor.

The second game went to the Stars on the strength of Bobby Wyatt's 4 hit shut out. The home team scored 9 runs on 11 hits. James Paul Easterling hit a home run with one on in the fifth inning. This was win No. 11 for Bobby Carl aainst one defeat.

Leading the All-Stars in hitting for the day were Guin and Lowerey with 3 hits. Getting 2 hits each were Minor, J. Smith and Wyatt.

The success of the All-Stars can be traced to fine pitching and a very good defense. During the last six games the Stars have scored 4 shut outs and allowed one run each in the other two games.

Next Friday night the Stars will be at Prattville to play Doc Wingard's City team. This game will be preceded by a game between Clanton's and Prattville's fourteen year-old boys team. These same teams will do a repeat performance at Clanton's City Park later on in the year.

The All-Stars are making every effort to bring Stockham and Acipco of Birmingham in the near future.

The double win brought our record to 23 wins and 8 losses.

Bahia Grass Looking Good Over County

R. O. Williams, Fred M. McCormick, B. B. Mizzell, and B. H. Robinson.

R. O. Williams stated that his cows ate more Bahia than any other plant he had on his place, and were giving milk from it.

Stopping by Mr. Williams' one day last week, just after one of the hardest rains they have had in a long time, we saw something that would cause us to stop and think. All along the road muddy water poured from fields and unprotected land, carrying tons of topsoil down stream—out of production. I passed farm after farm seeing the same sight, but when I came to Mr. Williams' land, the water was pouring out into the road ditch, but it was as clear as spring water. Mr. Williams commented that if you want to know how good a job you are doing toward conserving your soil, just check the color of the run-off water after these hard rains.

Sod all water disposal areas. Terrace land and then cultivate on the contour. Make sure terraces empty on sodded outlets. Plant field borders. Plant steep land to thick growing crops or permanent sod.

"Miss Alabama" Thanks All

To My Dear Friends:

It would be a genuine pleasure if I could personally thank each one who had a part in making my homecoming a glorious and unforgettably happy one. Since it is impossible I am taking this means to do so.

My sincere gratitude goes to each one of you for your prayers, good wishes, and congratulatory messages.

I shall proudly bear the title of Miss Alabama to Atlantic City, representing you and all of Alabama in the very best way that I possibly can.

Remember to keep your fingers crossed!

PATRICIA HUDDLESTON.

Parents, Time To Consider Pre-School Requirements

SCHOOL ENTRANCE AGE AND PRESCHOOL SHOTS

Parents of children planning to enter school this year for the first time are reminded that the law provides that a child must be six years of age on or before October 1 in order to be old enough to enter. Evidence of the child's age must accompany the child on the opening day of school if the child is to be enrolled on that day. This evidence should be in the form of a birth certificate. Parents are urged to locate the child's birth certificate now in order to be assured that it will be available on the opening day of school. If such a certificate has not been obtained or has been lost, the parent should contact the Health Department immediately regarding the matter.

Recent outbreaks of diphtheria in the state remind us of the importance of proper immunization of children before entering school. The purpose of the preschool shots is not only to protect the individual child, but to prevent dangerous epidemics from occurring in the schools and communities. Each child entering school for the first time this year is required to have a certificate from the Health Department or from the family physician showing that the child has had the vaccinations for Diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and small pox.

Parents are urged to cooperate with school authorities and Health Department authorities 100 per cent incarrying out the law pertaining to these items. The general welfare of the county depends on this cooperation.

Bill Would Wreck Chilton County's Fine Road System

Representative Speaks Would Go Back To Old "Spoils System"

A bill which is currently being published in the Chilton County News and is to be introduced in the Legislature by Rep. Francis Speaks would paralyze the road building in Chilton County and make a political football out of our Highway Department to say nothing of returning our Board of Revenue & Control to the old "Spoils System".

According to the Bill each member of the Board would hire and fire anyone in his District at anytime regardless of whether he was qualified to fill the position he was appointed to. It would place the County Engineer in a position where he would have to resign as he would have no authority over the men who worked under him. When the engineer resigns, Chilton County can get no further Federal aid as that is one of the requirements—that we have a capable County Engineer.

At a meeting of the Board of Revenue and Control Monday the following resolution was passed with two members voting for and two members voting against. This gave the Chairman the balance of power and he cast his vote with Jim Dunlap and Harold Smith who voted as opposing the measure.

A RESOLUTION

Mr. Smith offered the following preamble and resolution for adoption; which were duly seconded by Mr. Dunlap:

WHEREAS, the County has employed a competent engineer to select, subject to the approval of The Board of Revenue and Control county employees in the road department on the basis of ability.

AND WHEREAS, the Board has instructed the said Engineer to choose all county employees working under him on the basis of their ability to perform the most work at the least cost to the peoples of Chilton County,

AND WHEREAS, the Board of Revenue and Control is of the opinion that county employees should not be chosen on a purely political basis.

AND WHEREAS, it is not fair just or right that a county official use public funds to pay county employees so as to influence their vote,

AND WHEREAS, the present system of employing county employees tends to eliminate the above evils,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That The Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Aabama feels that the passage of a local law amending the present law, with reference to the method of employing county employees in the road department, and nominating Board members by a county-wide vote, is detrimental to the public interests of the peoples of Chilton County.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of this motion, together with the foregoing preamble, be forthwith mailed to the Hon. Francis Speaks, Representative of Chilton County, and the Hon. Dave L. Yarbrough, Senator of the 15th District of Alabama.

The above stated preamble and resolution were adopted by a majority vote with Messrs. Smith, Dunlap and Tingle voting "Yes"; and Messrs Cost and Motley voting "No", whereupon the Chairman declared said resolution duly adopted!"

STATE OF ALABAMA)
CHILTON COUNTY)

I, Harold H. Smyer, Clerk of The Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of a resolution adopted by The Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama, on August 8, 1955.

HAROLD H. SMYER,
Clerk of The Board of Revenue and Control of Chilton County, Alabama

Under the old Commissioner System 45 miles of roads was paved in our county in 9 years. In only 3 years the present system paved 65 miles of road in the county. This indicates that the present system is an improvement over the old system in that it has given the county more paved roads in one-third of the time taken by the old system.

A report from the Chairman of the present Board of Revenue and Control reads:

With the completion of the paving of the Mineral Springs-Lay Dam Road, Chilton County now has over 100 miles of paved roads.

Since the creation of the county unit system in Chilton County in September 1952, the County has paved 65 miles. This is at the rate of over 21 miles per year. Chilton County has paved 16 miles this year to date in addition to resurfacing 7 miles. There is the possibility of the Verbena-Enterprise Road, presently under construction, being paved this year which is another 6.8 miles. The Maplesville-Sprott Road, which is under construction, is another 5.6 miles. The Mineral Springs Bridge across Yellowleaf Creek was completed this year and the bridge across Waxahatchee Creek will be completed this month. The Cooper-Enterprise Road will be under construction before the end of this year, which is another 5.35 miles. This road will include two major bridges. Surveys and plans are now under way for approximately 10 miles of roadwork and two large bridges in the Collins Chapel-Thorsby-Union Grove area.

Since the present rate of progress is such an improvement, it seems unwise to change it. Local legislation is now being advertised which would, in my opinion, interfere with our unit system. Those interested in a good road program as free as possible of politics, are urged to make their wishes known to Hon. Francis Speaks, Representative, and Hon. Dave Yarbrough Senator, Prattville

M. D. TINGLE,
Judge of Probate & Chairman of The Board of Revenue and Control.

American Legion Presents Movie At Courthouse

Most of us burn gasoline in our automobiles, use oil for lubrication and many other purposes without knowing or thinking about where or how it was discovered.

The old-time medicine men peddled "rock-oil" as a cure for dandruff, colds, fallen arches and other ills.

Chilton County Post No. 6, American Legion, according to Bob Fullen, Commander, will show the picture (in color and sound) "Prospecting for Petroleum" free of charge to all veterans and their families at the Courthouse in Clanton, August 16th, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m

The movie covers every aspect of oil exploration thoroughly; but it is also intended to make even the most scientific subject entertaining. Mankind's interest in petroleum deposits is traced from the days of ancient Babylon to the bringing in of the first commercial oil well in 1859 to the present day amazing devices for "seeing into the ground" are employed.

There is absolutely no admission charge and all veterans and their families are invited to be guests of the American Legion Tuesday evening at 7:30 on August 16th at the County Courthouse.

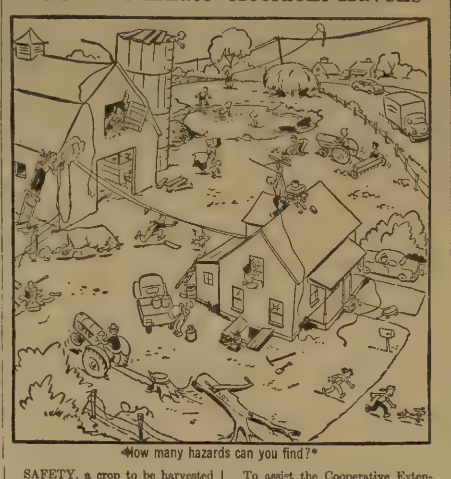
4-H'ers Eliminate "Accident Havens"



How many hazards can you find?

SAFETY, a crop to be harvested on every farm and in every home, is receiving special attention from more than one-half million 4-H Club members taking part in the 1955 National 4-H Safety Program.

As a part of their 4-H Club work, members in all 48 states are correcting hazards such as those seen in the above drawing. They are attempting to reduce the Nation's annual farm toll of 14,500 lives, 1,250,000 injuries, and an economic loss of about a billion dollars.

4-H'ers, working as individuals or in groups through their local clubs, conduct surveys to locate hazards, then correct the unsafe conditions. They give demonstrations on hundreds of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety. Members present talks before group meetings and over radio and television; put displays in store windows; and build booths at fairs.

To assist the Cooperative Extension Service in conducting the 4-H Safety Program, General Motors has just published a new "4-H Safety Handbook for Local Leaders," which provides how-to-do-it ideas for carrying out successful safety programs. Copies of the manual will be distributed to volunteer 4-H leaders through County Extension Offices.

In addition, GM provides incentives in the National 4-H Safety Awards program which is arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Medals are made available to four county winners; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is given to the state winner; and $300 college scholarships are presented to eight national winners.

*In the drawing, there are more than 45 accident hazards or unsafe practices shown. Don't let them occur on your farm or in your home.

Non-Agricultural Employment On An Upward Trend

Montomery, Ala.—Nonagricultural employment continued its upward trend in Alabama during June as 3,900 persons were added to payrolls, making a total enrollment of 675,600 workers, it was reported today by the Department of Industrial Relations.

Eugene M. Wells, Director of the Department, said the additions, represented a six-tenth per cent gain over May and a 2.3 per cent, or 15,200 workers, over June, 1954.

Settlement of a major strike in communications, expansion by most of the durable goods industries, and more activity in mining and quarrying were mainly responsible for the improved conditions, Wells said.

Major gains were in the hard goods roup with a 2,300 increase over May. Primary metals, the director said, were up by 700 as blast furnaces and steel works added 500 workers.

Shipbuilding and repair, adding 800 employees for a total of 3,900 workers, reached its peak employment since December 1952. Fabricated metals registered 500 more workers to their segment, the director said.

Non-manufacturing employment advanced slightly as some 4,000 workers were added with the settlement of a strike in communications in late May, Wells said. Stevedoring reported a 500 gain in workers.

Mining and quarrying totals, Wells continued, increased for the second consecutive month as additional workers were added in ore and bituminous coal mines.

Wells cited the only notable decrease in employment was in government workers. The decrease was caused by the termination at the end of the school year of some 5,300 school lunchroom workers, bus drivers, and janitors.

WW II GI Bill Deadline Near

World War II veterans in Alabama have one year from July 25 in which to complete GI training and two years in which to apply for GI loans, they were reminded today by Harley A. Smith, Manager of Alabama Regional Office.

July 25, 1956, marks the end of the education program for all but a few of the World War II veterans now in training under the original GI Bill.

GI training payments to schools and veterans will stop on that date even though a veteran may still have unused training entiltment or be in the middle of a course.

The GI loan program, now at peak activity, has two more years to run, coming to end for practically all World War II veterans on July 25, 1957.

The small group of veterans exempted from these two deadlines are those who enlisted or re-enlisted under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act between October 6, 1945 and October 5, 1946. These veterans have nine years from the end of their enlistment or re-enlistment to finish GI training and ten years to apply for GI loans.

Other participating counties will be Blount, Jefferson, St. Clair, "Preliminary reports from the six counties indicate a larger number of entries this year than in any previous competition here," stated James C. Bradley, general festival chairman. "Likewise, there is a decided increase in the interest of Bessemer residents. Howard College Extension School Opens Sept. 19

The Howard College Extension Division for Christian Training will begin its fall term here at the First Baptist Church, Tuesday night September 13 at 7:00 O'clock. Three courses will be taught, but only two periods of about fifty minutes each. Two courses will be taught parallel.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Gilbert Hutchinson and the Rev. Clarence Clinkscales will be the instructors. Mrs. Hutchinson will teach the preview of the Sunday School lessons; Dr Hutchinson will teach a course in New Testament: "Book of Mark." That is the schedule for the first semester.

The schedule for the second semester will be the same except Rev. Clinkscales class will take up studies in I and II Timothy, Titus and Philemon.

The registration per semester is $2.00 and the tuition is $4.50 per course. Therefore, the entire semester will cost only $11.00 plus books. You just cannot afford to miss an opportunity like this.

Worthy students can receive financial aid by filling out an application blank with the register Some churches in the past have made it possible for some of their people to attend the school by paying the registration and tuition. This is a forward step on the part of any church or individual since there are Sunday School teachers and prospective teachers that would like to especially take advantage of the Sunday School preview.

Classes will be held only one night each week and will continue for 17 weeks. It is the arm of Howard College reaching out right to our front door. Beware lest you let this golden opportunity slip and leave you unprepared.

YOUR Health

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE

The individual with low blood pressure is not a sick person for that reason alone. There is an average normal blood pressure for each person, depending on age, sex, body weight and constitution and activity level. The average obtained from thousands of persons without disease; it must therefore include persons with pressures both below and above the accepted figure, but all healthy.

A low blood pressure, in the absence of other symptoms, is not necessarily serious nor does it mean that disease is present. Low blood pressure is found in healthy persons. Women are more likely to develop it than men.

Some persons with marked lowering of physical strength are found on examination, to have low blood pressure. While this person may be underweight and possess poor muscular tone, he is otherwise normal. It is when he tries to outdo the physical strength of his friends as in golf or dancing, that trouble appears, including such symptoms as dizziness, apprehension, numbness of hands and feet, and pain resembling neuralgia in various parts of the body.

Low blood pressure may also be present in persons who have literally "knocked themselves out" with excessive playing, late hours, or overwork. These individuals are tired in the morning and gain physical momentum as the day progresses. In these persons adjustment to [illegible] a balancing of work, [illegible] a rest will restore the [illegible] to the level normal for the individual.

Since low blood pressure can occur in health and disease, the condition becomes an individual problem. A physician must decide on its significance after careful study. If the condition is not abnormal, it is a matter of understanding it and of learning not to overdo physically. In some emotional disturbances low pressure may disappear when the emotional situation is straightened out.

If you would keep a secret from an enemy, tell it not to a friend.—Benjamin Franklin

Our new highway markers are fine—now if we can just keep these hot-rodders at a slow enough speed to read them as they pass our problem will be solved.

* * * *

We're about ready to join the first union that comes out with a four hour day with ten hours pay and a six months paid vacation.

THE REST IS UP TO US—

The City of Clanton and the Police Department has done commendably on installing the new speed zone signs in and around Clanton; now it's up to us to finish the job of keeping our city clean of accidents.

The speed limit within the city limits is 30 miles per hour. That's not so slow when you get used to the idea. Especially when you consider the damage you can do at higher rates of speed at the risk of your life and others.

Especially when you think of the hundreds of children who are innocent to the dangers of the automobile, and are easy prey to carelessness.

When there's your future and life at stake, and possibly someone else's. . . well, then the speed laws don't seem half so bad, and you can see that they are put into effect to protect you and yours.

We've been seeing some pretty fast driving since the signs were installed. Let us say here, that when they were put up, that's when they went into effect. You stand a chance of a pretty heavy fine and possible sentence, so how about waiting until you get outside the city limits to stomp down on that accelerator and then. . . not too hard, huh.

HOW CAN WE REMEDY IT?—

We still want to know why there has to be such a stink.

Surely there is a logical explanation for the unhealthy atmosphere around the Airport and that area, but what we want to know is how come?

It has been suggested before that something be done about it, but there still remains the same old unpleasant odor.

The only thing we found wrong with the County Fair last year was the obnoxious smell you had to live with while there.

Well, it's almost time for another County Fair (Sept. 5th through the 9th) and they still have to put up with that odor the entire week.

You know yourself, if you had to stay out there any length of time or you lived in that vicinity it would become pretty annoying.

We do not propose a way of getting rid of the situation, we wish we could; but we are proposing that a way be found whereby we can dispose of our sewage and the bad smell at the same time.

At any rate, we're sure a lot of folks would like to know why something hasn't been done about it before now, or if something has been done, why it didn't work.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM CELEBRATES 100

Alabama's first public school system was established 100 years ago. In celebration of this Centennial, all Alabama joins with the school children, parents, and teachers in advocating a program of increased state support for Education in Alabama. Great effort is being made to build up Alabama school plants, and raise teachers' salaries, in addition to other major improvements planned in the educational program.

Schools in the state of Alabama as they are today face a crisis upon the opening of school this fall. Many new classrooms are badly needed; additional teachers have become necessary and the all-over situation is considered a real emergency.

Superintendent of Education Meadows, Governor Folsom and the Legislature of Alabama are faced with the greatest challenge since the opening of the public school system in Alabama 100 years ago.

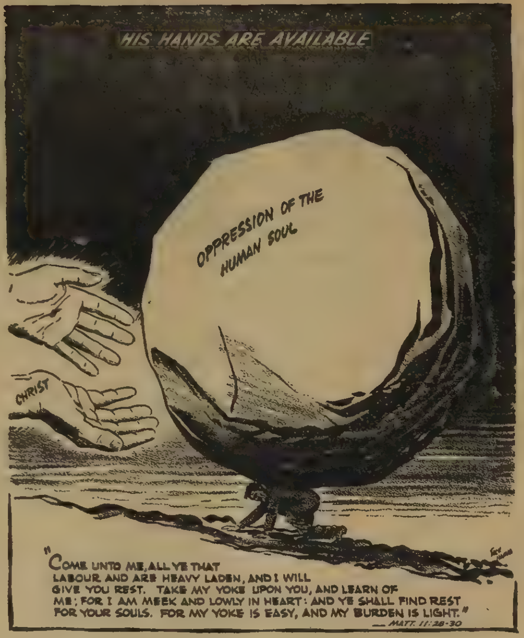
Alabama's first Constitution stated that "Schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged in this state," that was in 1819; but it was nearly thirty-five years later that action on a state level was taken.

That's just about how far behind we are in our present school system. A steady growth in state support of education has been evident since that time, but the demand is growing faster than the support and that is why we have the crisis we face today.

An overwhelming majority of state organizations have approved a 12-point program of progress along all educational lines to meet the economic, social and civic demands of our times.

With the support of the State Superintendent and the leaders of our state government and the cooperation of the public, we can overcome this emergency which we face. It will not be like snapping the fingers and be relieved in a day or a week or a month. It will take the hard work and honest cooperation of every influential person in the field of education.

Now, we have our eye on a goal; we must try to attain that goal as soon as possible in order to preserve our way of life and our future citizens of the state of Alabama.



"COME UNTO ME, ALL YE THAT LABOUR AND ARE HEAVY LADEN, AND I WILL GIVE YOU REST. TAKE MY YOKE UPON YOU, AND LEARN OF ME; FOR I AM MEEK AND LOWLY IN HEART: AND YE SHALL FIND REST FOR YOUR SOULS. FOR MY YOKE IS EASY, AND MY BURDEN IS LIGHT."

Things we -SEE- and Hear

by "Tuck"

The West End Baptist Church has a bus to take youngsters (and you oldsters too, we suppose) to and from Sunday School each Sunday morning. Churches, it's bad to say, don't usually take good points from one another, but we think, in this case, it would be a point well taken to look into something similar for other denominations. It's doing the congregation a service as well as supplying an incentive to want to go to church; the last of which is most important.

Don't know if we're quilified to say so or not, but we're proud of Pat Huddleston. You see, we graduated from high school with Pat and we feel like we have sufficient reason to be proud. We always thought and said she would go places, but we didn't realize just how fast. When the Class of '52 voted Pat the "Most Talented" they were never, in their school careers more right about anything (including examinations.) We wish Pat all the luck there is on the Miss America title.

Congratulations to the City of Clanton on the promptness with which they have installed new speed zone signs and new highway markers on our streets and highways In order to sufficiently uphold the new speed laws in the city these signs were of primary importance. We're glad to see the City officials doing their job with such thoroughness. It'll prove profitable to all of us in the long run.

See where you don't have to have air-conditionin in your automobile to beat the heat this summer. All you have to do is keep a 50 pound block of ice in a pan in front of an open vent. That's plumb silly Can't you just see yourself careening down the road (well, that's the way they drive), trying to keep a pan balanced in front of the vent. Doesn't sound too logical to us, and we aren't hot enough yet to try it. Anyway, if you were going on a long trip where you'd really want air-conditioning you'd break yourself up trying to keep ice in the pan and water out of the floorboard. Nope, won't work.

They say pony tails aren't new fashion at all. Seems they were in style way, way back in another century. That sounds pretty logical since ponies were here since way before that; and we kinda take it for granted they had tails.

It says here that a tourist is a person who thinks a farmer wouldn't mind if they took a dozen ears of his corn. Well, I'm no tourist, and I tried it on watermelons one time and believe me that's definitely a misleading statement.

Folks are always talking about the weather and some of 'em fascinate us about this frying eggs on the pavement. We've heard of them doing everything but burn them black but we're still never seen any one fry, boil, poach or anything else one on the pavement Thing about it is, if it were possible to do it, think what else would be frying while you were waiting on the egg . . . especially if you were sitting down.

The fisherman says the fish aren't biting; the hardware dealer says you aren't usin the right kind of lure; the boat dock operator says you aren't fishing in the right place your partner says you don't have the right touch to catch fish; your wife says you'd better not bring home a bunch of messy fish for me to clean (she has comparatively little to worry about); and the fish say "who's gonna eat that mess": it's enough to discourage any fisherman.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

During the final two days of the session, the House not only acted on a number of bills, resolutions and conference reports, but it finally reached a compromise with the Senate on the housing bill which had threatened an adjournment delay. After a marathon session, beginning Tuesday at 11 a.m., the House adjourned at 11:36 p.m. that night. Adjournment for the Senate came 29 minutes later.

-Housing Bill-

House members approved a compromise version of the housing bill by a slim margin of only 19 votes. A conference committee had been deadlocked for several days in an effort to reach an agreement on the number of new public housing units to be authorized. The Senate bill authorized a total of 135,000 low-rent housing units a year for the next four years, while the House version of the bill included no provisions for public housing.

The compromise bill, passed on a 187-168 vote in the House, authorizes the construction of 45,000 new housing units over a period of about 12 months. The measure also increases the Federal Housing Administration's mortgage insurance authority by $4 million and authorizes an additional $500 million for slum clearance and urban redevelopment grants during the next two years. A provision which has linked new public housing to the slum clearance program was eliminated.

-Polio Vaccine-

Also approved and sent to the President last week was a measure authorizing the federal government to furnish free polio shots for an estimated one-third of the nation's eligible children and expectant mothers. Under terms of the bill $30 million of Salk anti-polio vaccine will be made available to the states between now and February 15.

-Returns To District-

This will be my last "Report from Washington" until Congress reconvenes. Although there have been rumors that the President may call a special session, this is highly unlikely and the members of Congress will probably return to Washington as scheduled next January.

I would like to again express my appreciation to the editors of all the newspapers in the Sixth District for their splendid cooperation which has enabled me to make this weekly report to you.

Except for two weeks of scheduled committee work, I plan to be in the District until Congress reconvenes. Our District office is located in the Post Office Building in Tuscaloosa, and a full-time staff is there six days a week. I will spend several days of each week at the Tuscaloosa office, and the rest of my time will be spent visiting the other seven counties of our District. For those who would like to get in touch with me, I suggest they mail their letters to Tuscaloosa.

I am lookin gforward to seeing as many of you as possible while I am in the District during the Congressional recess.

Southern Bell To Add New Phones In Chilton

Telephone company engineers are now surveying the route for new lines that will enable Southern Bell to provide additional telephone service in the southern section of the Clanton exchange area.

The proposed facilities will serve 30 square miles of rural areas along and in the vicinity of the Enterprise Road. Included in the territory to benefit from the construction is the community of Billingsley.

Parks Scott, local telephone company manager, said applications for telephone service have been received from 218 applicants in the area to be served.

Construction of the lines will follow completion of the survey as soon as materials become available and weather conditions permit, he said.

The project is part of Southern Bell's $4,224,000 program to provide new and additional telephone service in rural areas of Alabama. The company will spend a total of approximately $22,000,000 on all expansion in the state during 1955.

IT'S MY OPINION

It has been observed of late that some of our church organizations are losing sight of the intended meaning of their groups.

It has long been the custom for church groups to meet, discuss their necessary business and then have a social gathering. This, it is believed, is fine and dandy, but when you turn the entire meeting into nothing more than a social gathering, then you've lost the basic meaning of your oranization.

Don't get me wrong, socials are just as important as any other phase of our way of life, in its proper place. As they say, there's a time and place for everything, and a meeting of the church group should not be based on merely getting together and talking.

It has been said that conversation that doesn't end in some kind of action is useless. If this be the case, you haven't accomplished what you set out to do and are not doing right by your neighbor, your church or yourself.

Church oranizations are basically formed to help out in the different duties of the church. Anything coming under the head of the church and using the church as basis should act accordingly and do as it would do in the eyes of the church. In other words, if you go to a meeting to do something for the church, don't forget the main reason you're going, is to back your church. First things first. If your organization has a business meeting and then a social, as is customary don't rush through the business of your church so you can chat with your neighbor. You do this, and you're missing the whole idea of why you have that organization and as was said, you're not doing right by your neighbor, your church or yourself.

Strict Tests Through Every Process Assure Safety of Salk Polio Vaccine

For the first time in history, a vaccine is protecting millions of human beings from paralytic polio. While the Salk vaccine will not work in every case, American children are being safeguarded against the dread disease, with no more risk than they would take in a vaccination against smallpox or a typhoid shot. The Salk vaccine must pass elaborate tests under the watchful eye of a government inspector at every stage of production. Then the final packaged vaccine is approved by the U.S. Public Health Service for distribution. Here are shown a few of the steps that assure American parents their children are being given a safe vaccine.

NO ADMITTANCE

This technician is filtering dead cells and all other foreign matter from polio virus after it has grown on animal tissue in glass containers.

Virus is "cooked" in tank with formaldehyde (from bottle) until it is rendered harmless, after which it must pass exacting safety tests.

This expert is examining tissue after contact with vaccine, to determine absence of live virus.

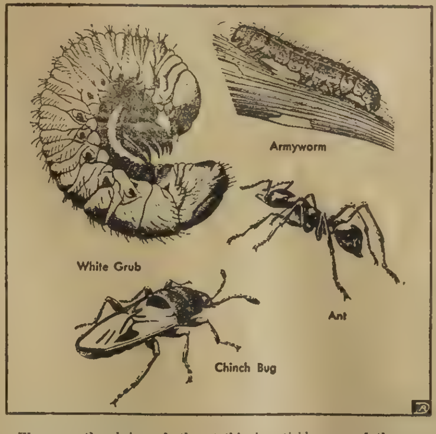
Wrecking Crew Now at Work on Home Lawns



Warm weather brings forth a horde of insects, as any home gardener knows. It's easy to see the surface pests that chew on green grass and foliage, but entomologists say that insect larvae in the soil also cause serious damage by eating the roots of grass and shrubs.

Lawn and garden experts are urging homeowners to treat early in the season to avoid the ravages of the insect "wrecking crew." One way to get rid of hungry bugs and grubs that eat the beauty out of your turf and ornamentals is to apply dieldrin, a lawn insecticide that lasts a long time.

Lasts for years in soil

In the soil, dieldrin actually provides protection against insect larvae for years. On the surface, this insecticide is effective for weeks. Cutworms, ants, lawn moths, chinch bugs, white grubs, and even mosquitoes, chiggers and fleas that live in grass and shrubbery, are controlled by dieldrin. Entomologists explain that this insecticide, one of the new members of the chlorinated hydrocarbon family, kills insects if they eat, breathe or touch it.

The new bug killer is available in several forms, all of which can be applied easily by the homeowner to turf or ornamental plants.

Choose suitable formulation

It's up to the gardener to choose the formulation best suited to his needs. He should spread it over the entire lawn, making sure not to miss areas. The insecticide can be applied anytime, but after application turf should be watered to soak the insecticide into the soil.

No treatment can get at the lungworm in a pig. But if the animal is kept off low, marshy fishing worm ground where it can't eat the host earthworm, lungworms can't get at it.

Ebernezer Baptist Church At Stanton

Church Calendar—

Pastor, Rev. J. I Adams
Sunday School at [illegible] a.m.
Preaching at 11:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.
B.T.U. at 7:00 p.m.
Prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

There has been no change in the church calendar. We trust that each member will remember the hour of beginning of each organization, and make a special effort to be there on time.

Our Sunday school was 96, which is somewhat off. Please make a special effort to see that the ones not there this time, will be notified that their presence was missed. The only way I know of to get good attendance is through invitation. You may say that they know already that they are welcome, but to remember these people by card or visit will make them feel like they are really a part of it.

Brother Adams brought one of his best services in preaching both day and night. We are very happy about our pastor, and I am very sure we will continue to build. Just about the only reason any preacher fails, is because he does not work hard at his job. There are very few if any of our members he don't see sometime during the week and this makes the folks love him.

I am very sorry I do not have the names of our visitors, but should some one see this just know we really love to have you visit with us. Anytime you happen to be in our town on Sunday, be sure to make our church your stopping place.

Thanks to all the men who worked so hard at the Pastor's home Saturday, the home is beginning to look like a house. I am sure it won't be long before it will be finished.

We may not always get what we think best, but with prayer and hard work together with faith, we will do well to remember the words of the Apostle Paul in Philippians, 4-11 "L have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." Let us all be happy and work while the day is here there will come a time when our work will be no more.

State FFA Members Attend Forestry Camp

Future Farmers over the state enjoyed Alabama's Tenth Annual Forestry Camp at Camp Grist near Selma last week.

According to T. L. Faulkner, executive secretary of the Alabama Association 193 Future Farmers attended this year's camp.

From Chilton County, George Kimbrell from the Jemison FFA chapter attended the camp.

Delegates were selected by local teachers of vocational agriculture in each county on the basis of their interest and demonstrated ability in forestry. All expenses are paid for the boys except transportation to and from Selma.

The camp is being sponsored by Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association through its member mills in cooperation with Alabama Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry

J. C. Cannon, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, in commending the Forestry Camp and its sponsors, adds, "we believe that the Annual Forestry Camp is a very fine way of adding interest to that part of our teaching program." He stressed that none of the boys have attended this camp before and that all possess interest in forestry, with most of the boys carrying forestry projects in their supervised farming programs.

T[illegible] being studied by the farm youths include tree identification, tree planting, forest fire prevention and control, first aid and farm safety, harvesting, utilizing and marketing forest products, timber management, selective cutting, timber stand improvement and chemical eradication of undesirable hardwoods. Tours and field trips are also included.

The camp isn't all study for the boys, though. Daily activities include swimming and other supervised recreation, athletic events, morning and evening vesper services and morning and evening flag ceremonies.

State Forester J. M. Stauffer explained that [illegible] all FFA camps [illegible] the Division of Forestry [illegible] the Alabama Department of Conservation. It is sponsored [illegible] the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association. The Association member mills are as follows: Gulf States Paper Corp., Tuscaloosa, Hollingsworth Whitney Co., Mobile, Southern Kraft Division of the International Paper Co., Mobile, and Coosa River Newsprint Co., of Coosa Pines.

Whose Farm Is This?

One thing about this week's "Mystery Farm" that you can be sure of is the fact that it's located on a milk route. See the cans? Just a few simple clues like this is all you need to determine who the "Mystery Farm" belongs to.

When you think you know who owns the farm pictured above come in to the News office and tell us. Your answer must be in before four oclock next Saturday afternoon.

Each contestant who guesses correctly will receive two passes good at any Wadesonian Theatre in Chilton County and will also be eligible to win the Grand Prize drawing next Monday.

Come in and guess—you'll probably be a winner.

Carelessness Is First-

Farm Accidents Will Take Heavy Toll This Year

Between 14,000 and 15,000 farm residents will be killed in accidents this year if the 1955 death rate conforms with that of previous years. Another 1,200,000 or more may be injured.

According to the National Safety Council, which with the Department of Agriculture is co-sponsoring National Farm Safety Week (July 24-30), farming is the nation's third most hazardous industry. Mining and construction have a higher rate of work deaths per 100,000 workers, but agriculture has the highest number of accidental work deaths.

Because farm mishaps tend to occur most often during late morning or afternoon hours, when body reflexes are more sluggish, many safety men recommend that rural workers emulate office and factory employees and take brief coffee breaks about 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

In one nationwide industrial study 82% of the personnel men interviewed reported that coffee breaks helped to reduce fatigue; 32% reported a lower accident rate.

The National Safety Council included the following among "major unsafe acts" which farmers should guard against: failure to make regular safety inventories; hurry (taking shortcuts that cause accidents); using defective, unguarded, or wrong equipment; inattention (daydreaming while working with heavy machinery or near hazardous work); improper animal handling, violating commonsense safety rules, allowing children near dangerous machinery.

On-Farm Trainees Get Increased Allowances

The House has passed the Hill Bill, introduced by Senator Lister Hill, (D., Ala.) and passed in the Senate on July 22, to increase allowances for veterans pursuing on-farm training under the Korean G. I. Bill. The bill now goes to the White House.

Under the present law, the automatic reduction formula calls for reduction each 4 months in the allowances for on-farm trainees. The Hill Bill postpones any reduction in these allowances until after the veteran has completed the first twelve months of his training. This gives the veteran one full year of crop or livestock production to help get his farm placed on a self-sustaining basis and prevents many veterans who started on-farm training from being forced to drop out of the program for lack of adequate income because their allowances were reduced before they had an opportunity to sell their first crop.

Get More For Better Cotton

Auburn, Ala.—"Cotton's cotton," say some growers.

But that just isn't so.

Some cotton is clean, grades high and commands a good price . . . other cotton is trashy and stained, grades low, and falls way down in value. Alabama farmers who make the most of their 1955 cotton crops will be those who safeguard the fiber quality from field to gin.

In support of this fact, according to the federal loan schedule, middling white cotton with a one and one-thirty-second inch staple is worth $21.50 per bale more than low middling cotton of the same staple length.

Control late infestation of boll weevils and other cotton insects that might stain the fiber. Pick only mature bolls; picking cracked green bolls slows down the harvest process and may lower the cotton grade. The cotton should be picked, and kept, clean. It should not be tramped in baskets, wagons or trucks, because pushing it down may cause trash to stain the lint. Cotton should be ginned dry. It oftentimes pays to spread dew-damp cotton in the sun for several hours before taking it to the gin.

'Beat The Heat' In August

Dr. D. G. Gill, Alabama's State Health Officer said today that there are several things a person can do to stay comfortable, as well as healthy when the mercury in the thermometer soars.

1. Drink plenty of liquids, either hot or cold, to supply the moisture you need for sweating or perspiring. Thirst sometime slags behind need so it may not be a good guide.

2. Increase your salt intake somewhat to replace salt lost through sweating—unless, of course, you are on a low-salt diet.

3. Set aside some time to relax: the amount of heat you produce depends on your muscular activity.

4. Keep an eye on babies and small children: they are subject to heat exhaustion because their sweat glands have limited capacity. Keeping a child's head cool—with wet handkerchiefs, for instance—is important becauses much of the heat generated in the child is produced by the brain.

5. Avoid too much exposure to blazing sunshine at any one time. Such over-exposure can lead to heat stroke.

Loans Are Now Available For Veterans To Purchase A Farm Of Their Own

According to information furnished R. L. (Bob) Fulen, Veterans Service Officer, on June 16, the President signed into law a bill to allow the Veterans Administration to guarantee G. I. Farm loans, up to 60%, where the loan is made by a private lender. Now, farm veterans may make loans of up to $12,500 under the G. I. Bill, and such loan may be for three purposes: first, for the purchase of a farm on which there is a farm residence to be occupied by the veteran as his home. The guarantee would cover not only the farm and residence, but all other buildings which are considered as part of the realty. Second, for the construction of a farm residence to be occupied by the veteran on land owned by him. Third, for the repair, alteration or improvement of a farm residence owned by the veteran and occupied by him as his home. The new law also authorizes the Veteran Administration to make direct loans to farm veterans.

Such direct loans may also be used to purchase a farm on which there is a residence to be occupied by the veteran as his home; to construct on land owned by the veteran a farm residence to be occupied as his home and to repair, alter or improve a farm residence or other dwelling owned by the veteran and occupied as his home.

Before the passage of this bill G. I. loans to purchase farms were not available due to the fact that they were considered business loans.

63 Arrested For Falsely Drawing 'Pennies' Checks

Montgomery, Ala.—During the past six months, 63 Alabamians found out that chiseling the State does not pay—at least, not in the long run. These people were convicted of drawing "pennies", or unemployment compensation unlawfully.

Seventeen of the convicted were Korean veterans who fraudulently drew federal funds. They were tried in federal courts.

According to the Department of Industrial Relations—the State agency that pays jobless benefits 45,496 claims were scrutinized during the six-month period to determine whether there was any evidence of chiseling. Investiation were conducted on 6,592 claims, and it was discovered that 601 claimants were paid benefits to which they were not entitled.

The State recovered $19,941 out of $27,516 in overpayments and also penalized 142 violators by disqualifying them from receiving some of their future entitlements. Furthermore, the State initialed criminal action against 107 claimants and referred 142 more, which involve jobless benefits for veterans, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In the courts, there were no acquittals; however, there were 13 dismissals.

Eugene M. Wells, director of the Industrial Relations Department said that even though only a small minority of claimants seek payments to which they are not entitled, the Department directs every effort to detect, and act against violations of the Alabama Unemployment Compensation saw. "The exposure of fraud and its prosecution to the fullest extent is a firm policy of the Department," Wells added.

The Department, Wells said, paid out nearly nine million dollars to over 54 thousand claimants during the half-year period.

Davy Crockett To Appear In Alabama

Montgomery.—Fess Parker, better known to millions of kids as Davy Crockett has been invited to Dothan, Alabama's 12th Annual National Peanut Festival. "Davy Crockett" was contacted in Kentucky on behalf of the Festival by a former college-days room-mate of his, Neil Metcalf, Geneva County, Alabama Legislator who had attended law school with him in Texas. This year's festival will be staged the third week in October.

It was also announced today by Festival Chairman R. A. Dowling that Congressman Harold Cooley Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, is expected to attend this year's festival. He has been asked to make the main address at the Farm Recognition Dinner.

Hollywood's "Queen for a Day" has also been offered this year's celebration by the Mutual Broadcasting System. Also, Dowling stated that one of the Festival Trustees is endeavoring to arrange for attendance at the big south Alabama event of "Miss Universe" (Chosen from beauty finalists last month from all over the world.)

A partial list of committee appointments announced by Dowling for this year's celebration are:

Special Guests' Reception: Gu Hardwick (Ala.'s Lt. Gov.)

Drivers' Rodeo: W. A. Narris of Ozark (South Ala. Safety Director).

Soap Box Derby: Ernest Dean of Dothan (building contractor).

Aug. 4th "Mystery Farm" That Of M. R. Glasscock

M. R. Glasscock, popular Chilton County Farm Agent, is the owner of the Mystery Farm that appeared in last week's Chilton County News.

The Glasscock's bought the farm four years ago from Claud C. Klinner. They have three children, one of which is in the Marine Corps and stationed at Parris Island. M. R., Jr. and Margaret both attend the Clanton Grammar School.

Mrs. Glasscock is a member of the Methodist Church and Mr. Glasscock and the children are Baptists. The entire family takes part in many civic affairs.

The Glasscock farm is devoted to kids projects according to Red and farming is enjoyed as a hobby.

1955 Corn Prospects Pose A New Storage Problem

Auburn, Ala.—If Alabama farmers make a big corn crop this year—and there is little doubt that they will—a lack of storage facilities may deprive growers of the full value of their grain. Prices can be expected to fall off sharply should most of the corn flood the market right after harvest.

Producers have a chance to avoid the market break and make the most of their crop only through storage, either farm or commercial. By storing a big part of the crop, farmers can hold the corn until prices rise or market it through livestock.

The price of a storage building for corn is recovered in extra profits earned in almost any year. And the building is good for 20 years or more.

County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees may authorize loans up to 80 percent of cost for bins and for drying and ventilating equipment. These four percent loans may be repaid over a three or four year period, and new regulations permit borrowers to claim investment costs as federal income-tax deductions over a five year period.

What Is Going On In Your State Capitol

Montgomery, Ala.—As the Legislature moves into its last month of work a logjam of bills—particularly in the Senate—appears to face the lawmakers.

However, the Senate last Friday adjourned after two hours and without taking up any important bills.

Decisive days are now before the Senate as regards to the school appropriation bills. The House, of course, has already passed on these proposed measures, and voted for bill which would include an additional $30 millions for the schools and $600 a year teacher pay raises, dependent on ratification by the voters on a State referendum in December.

Meanwhile, Gov. James E. Folsom has called for a work speed-up from all department heads, all State employes, and hinted in a proclamation that the Legislature might join the Administration in the program of increased labor. The proclamation stepped up Alabama's anual "Back to Work" month from September to August.

The Governor has also named a series of measures, still in the Legislative mill, which he hopes to see passed into law. These measures are a bill to create a new State agency to promote more industrial payrolls in the State; passage of the school bills; abolition of the poll tax—already whittled down by a 1953 act; jury service for women and repeal of the so-called Right-to-work Act.

The legislative session is expected to end in the first week of September, and be recalled about November 1 for a special session on re-apportionment.

The 672nd Transportation Company (-st Trk) of Lineville, reseiced the Governor's Trophy as the outstanding company of the Alabama National Guard non-divisional units now in training here. Gov James E. Folsom, who authorized the award, presented the trophy to the unit at the Ft. McClellan Ampitheater late this afternoon.

Under The Study Lamp

William Crowe

A GREEN OLD AGE

"Moses my servant is dead; now therefore arise and go over this Jordan, thou, and all this people." Joshua 1:2.

That was a big order for a man beyond eighty years of age to undertake. But when the Almighty commanded Joshua to step into Moses' shoes in order to bring to a completion the biggest colonization project that history has ever recorded, Joshua obeyed. And yet with one exception, he was the oldest man in that enormous throng of immigrants.

The point that we are undertaking to make is that too often we permit the calendar to determine our usefulness. It must be omitted that some people in advancing years are more able, physically speaking, to carry on than others But we are inclined to wonder if imagination does not have a good deal to do with it. It has become a custom to consider that old age begins at about 65, and therefore we may as well fold up when that is reached. That kind of philosophy persuades us to deprive ourselves of a privilege that is beyond reckoning —the enjoyment of work during the period when we are freest to do the things that are not actually compelling and yet that are of profit for others as well as for ourselves.

More than 300 years ago John Dryden coined the expression, "A green old age." We thank old John for reminding us that springtime can be had despite increasing years How does that compare with, "My way of life Is fallen into the sere, the yellow leaf?" (Shakespeare said that.)

William Lyon Phelps was a scholar of the first rank. He was also the most beloved member of the Yale University faculty, because of his warm and genial heart. We quote herewith a paragraph from the pen of dear old "Billy Phelps,' as he was known by faculty and students;

"No one ought to be alarmed when his hair turns gray; if it turned green or blue then one ought to see a doctor. But when it turns gray, that simply means that there is so much gray matter in the skull there is no longer room for it; it comes out and discolors the hair Don't be ashamed of your gray hair Wear it proudly, like a flag. You are fortunate in a world of so many vicissitudes to have lived long enough to earn it."

The writer of this column is in his eighties, but is still plugging along. Shortly ago he had a letter from an unknown friend in Jacksonville, Florida, saying: "I am a traveling salesman and am 86 years old, and make three states in my own car. On my one-hundredth birthday I am going to Alabama to get you, and we will go fishing together."

In the 10 years that followed the outbreak of World War II, Alabama had a 100-percent increase in the share of agricultural income realized through farm cooperatives. The corresponding figure for the nation was around 24 percent.

In all Europe, not counting Russia, there are only 85 species of trees. The United States has more than 1,200 species.

Important Fight With Cancer Is Education . . . Now!

The American Cancer Society Alabama Division wants you to know the reasons for its policy on federated fund-raising.

The policy was set by the American Cancer Society's National Board of Directors, which consists of sixty-eight (68) members, half of whom are lay, and half professional (medical), all volunteers, representing every geographic region of the country. This policy is that no American Cancer Society Unit shall be permitted to participate in any new federated fund-raising activity, and that each of its sixty (60) Divisions shall carefully evaluate the results of those in which it now participates.

This decision was reached after a year long study and comparison of those Units engaged in federation, and those which conduct independent Campaigns. This study disclosed that financial support from federated or United fund-raising agencies was not keeping step with the growth and needs of the American Cancer Society.

It was found that in the sixty-eight (68) Units where complete records were available, over a five year period of American Cancer Society participation, it had a growth of eighteen percent over the five-year period, while the overall growth of the American Cancer Society has been fifty-eight percent.

Because of the urgency of the cancer control problem, since cancer will strike one out of four people, and two families out of three, the American Cancer Society has found that the American public wants it to have the funds which it needs to carry on its three-point program of Education, Research and Service to conquer cancer.

Proof of this acceptance by the public is its financial growth from $800,000.00 in 1945 to $24,000,000.00 in 1955.

An important phase of the fight against cancer is the educational program which is dedicated to saving more lives now. Volunteers are an essential part of the American Cancer Society, and these devoted people carry the life saving message of early diagnosis and treatment to the people by word of mouth and the giving of literature This is intensified during Campaign.

Cancer Research is being accelerated all along the line as new scientists are joining in the fight for the long range program of complete cancer control. It is the purpose of the American Cancer Society to support and enlarge approved research until the complex job of conquering cancer is finished. In order to accomplish this it is necessary that it have complete internal control of its budget, as its long experience with the cancer problem enables it to more accurately estimate its costs than can be done by those who have not had this experience.

The American Cancer Society has no quarrel with United Fund appeals, or Community Chests, and indeed a great many of its volunteers are members of Community Chest Boards of Directors and actively participate in their fund-raising appears to support their local member agencies. However, experience has proven to the American Cancer Society that its growth can be maintained only through independent fund-raising Campaigns.

The sole purpose of the American Cancer Society is the saving of more lives now, through early diagnosis and proper treatment, and eventual complete control, through research, of cancer—man's cruelest enemy.

The Alabama Division, of the American Cancer Society, earnestly solicits the continued support of all Alabamians, as we carry our share of the load in the Crusade to conquer the terrible scourge of cancer We know we shall have that support.

How To Control Pesky Flies

It has been observed that houseflies come mainly from three sources. These are garbage, manure in and around livestock shelters, and insanitary privies. Since these objects and the various other decaying organic materials in which fly breeding takes place are objectionable from standpoints other than breeding flies, then certainly the best fly control measure is the elimination of the source of breeding The use of fly proof garbage cans, the spreading of manure on the fields where it will do some good, and the construction of sanitary [illegible] will greatly reduce the fly population. These sanitary practices may be supplemented with chemicals to aid fly control. An emulsion spray containing 2½% chlordane should be applied at weekly intervals to garbage cans, and the soil around garbage cans, to accumulation of manure, and all other decaying organic matter where fly breeding is found The protected surfaces of outbuildings should also be sprayed with the same emulsion A 2½% chlordane solution may be obtained by using one (1) part of 40% chlordane to 15 parts of water.

A 5% DDT and rosin emulsion spray will also be effective when sprayed on outbuildings of 25% DDT to 4 parts of water. In many instances fuel oil may be used in place of water.

If smaller quantities only of spray is required, then the chemicals may be purchased already in solution and ready for use. Care should be exercised in handling these spray to avoid excessive inhalation and skin contact.

Marine Corps Open For Direct Enlistment

The U. S. Marine Corps is now accepting men for immediate enlistment, thus doing away with the waiting list which has been in effect for the past several months.

This announcement came from Capt. R. F. Young, Jr., officer in charge of Marine recruiting for the state of Alabama and Northwest Florida.

"This means," said Capt. Young "that any qualified young man who wants to enlist and go on active duty immediately may do so without having to wait as was the case in the past several months."

Young men who enlist are sent immediately to the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. for ten weeks of basic training.

Upon completing recruit training they may be assigned to any one of the many technical schools the aviation branch of the Marine Corps, a tour of duty aboard one of the large ships of the Navy, or a large Marine base for further training.

Interested young men are urged to contact the Marine Corps Recruiter at the Post Office in Clanton each second and fourth Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m

Helpful Hints For Housewives

Ordinary rubber bands kept in the kitchen can be great time-savers. They can be used to secure wrapping paper around dishes and good, hold packages closed, keep stalks of celery together, etc.

Those little plastic cases in which powder puffs are sold are nice for holding bobby pins, earrings, hair ribbons, and other personal items

Your meringues will stand up better if you'll beat a little cornstarch into the egg whites along with the powdered sugar.

If you want a wide hem and have only a little material to turn up, try stitching rows of seam binding together to finish out the desired width.

"Goodbye Mr. Roach" Is Campaign Cry

Groundwork for an intensive state wide campaign against a repulsive and dangerous household pest is being laid in Auburn this week.

"Goodbye, Mr. Roach" is the name given the project being outlined for 128 Alabama Extension people attending the annual home demonstration agents training meet in at API. To start next January, this campaign will be conducted through HD and 4-H Clubs, civic organizations, and other local groups.

According to API Extension Specialists Stella Mitchell and W. A Ruffin ,who are directing "Goodbye, Mr. Roach," these unpleasant germ-toting insects are present in nearly every home in Alabama.

Know Quality Of Sheets You Buy

Auburn, Ala.—Many of the August "white" sales now going on in most Alabama towns offer shoppers an opportunity to buy good household linens at discount prices. However, some so-called "sale" prices are actually regular prices on low-quality goods.

"The wise homemaker learns to recognize quality and buys accordingly," said API Extension Home Furnishings Specialist Alice Peavy this week in expalining these points.

Miss Peavy went on to say that there are several different qualities of sheets within most brands, so a sheet carrying a dependable brand name and selling at a very low price is not necesarily a bargain.

A sheet that is too short is never a good buy, the specialist added. The 108-inch length is most practical for the average mattress. Miss Peavy cautioned buyers to check both the length of the sheet and the type number, which indicates the number of threads per square inch. The higher the thread count, the better the sheet.

FHA Emergency Loans Hold 3 Percent Interest Rate

The interest rate on all Farmers Home Administration emergency loans made on or after July 7 will be 3 percent, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said recently. This action was taken under the provisions of Public Law 132 signed by President Eisenhower today which sets a ceiling of 3 percent on the interest rate for emergency loans.

Emergency loans are made in areas where the Secretary of Agriculture finds there is a need for credit that is not available from other sources. The need may be due to the damage done by a natural disaster, such as drought, flood or hurricane, or to economic reasons.

Currently, 1,470 counties in 3[illegible] states are designated as emergency loan areas. A high percentage of these designations are based on drought conditions. Most of the designations expire December 31 1955.

To be eligible for an emergency loan a farmer or rancher must be unable to obtain the credit he need from any other source. In addition he must be engaged primarily in farming, have suitable farming experience and reasonable prospects for success in the farming operations he plans to carry on with the loan. If emergency loans are available in the area because of a natural disaster, the applicant must have suffered a substantial production loss because of the disaster in order to be eligible.

Emergency loans are made to finance normal operations. Loan funds can be used to purchase feed, seed, fertilizer, farm and home supplies; replacement machinery and livestock; and to replace or repair buildings and equipment damaged by a storm, flood or similar disaster.

Repayments are scheduled according to the borrower's ability to repay.

Ordinarily, loans secured by lien on chattel property are scheduled for repayment within one to five years and loans for repair or improvement of real estate are scheduled within one to 10 years. Loans for crop production are usually due when the crop is harvested.

Applications for emergency loans are made at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration The local county Farmers Home Administration committee determines the eligibility of applicants for these emergency loans.

Let Cattle "Work" Steeper Slopes

Soil conservationists describe such attempts as "an uphill fight which erosion will sooner or later win."

Steep land is not suitable for growing row crops, but can be used to good advantage for sod crops such as sericea, kudzu, and grass-legume mixtures. These crops anchor the soil, help conserve moisture, and produce forage which can be grazed by beef and dairy cattle and sheep.

Big 'Everybody Wins' Campaign

—By Ben

We have the nicest enemies. Now take some of the letters published in this issue of the News, aren't they sweet? Especially do we like the paragraph in one of them where we have been getting all the "spoils" You just can't hardly get them no more. Lonnie Cost, who is a member of the Board of Revenue and Control and attends all the meetings states that three or four thousand dollars is spent annually or publishing minutes yet during the first six months of 1955 only $847.36 was spent for this purpose and we'll bet a dime that Lonnie should have known that. Or does Lonnie know what is going on?

And the paragraph regarding Doug Bullington being handed a list and told to fire everyone on it. We checked with the County Attorney and the Chairman of the Board and was assured no such thing ever happened.

And the letter about the business we receive from the Board keeping our wheels turning. Well we got news for that fellow. The money for services rendered the Board in publishing minutes for the first half of the year would just about pay the cost of production and overhead for one week. Not that we don't appreciate the business we receive, but we'd just hate to have to depend solely on it.

Oh yeah, they keep saying it wouldn't effect our present road program. Tell us where you are going to get an engineer who will work men (or could work men) over whom he has no authority? You won't find one that's for sure. And when we have no engineer let's see you get our road money matched. It's not just the democrats or republicans in Chilton County that are against any changes in our present set-up, it's all the people who are working for a better road system and for better and more efficient government. Don't let them fool you.

Crit Jones was promoted to Superintendant at Lay Dam and had to take a vacation. Now a promotion like that would just about make anyone ready for a rest. Maybe Crit is just thinking of the responsibility he will have and is getting ready for it. At any rate we're glad and congratulate him wholeheartedly on his achievement. We hope he will enjoy as many years as did his predecessor, the popular Sam Powers.

Just talking to Archie Ogburn and he was telling us about his guest for Wednesday, August 24th. Congressman Armistead Selden will spend the day at Thorsby on that day and will make his headquarters at the Bank of Thorsby. Archie says that anyone having business with our Congressman can visit him there. At 12:30 the businessmen of Thorsby will have a luncheon in the Congressman's honor and according to Mr. Ogburn those who wish to attend are welcome. Selden will speak at 2 p.m. at the Annual Meeting of the Canebrake National Farm Loan Association.

"Folks", said the old colored minister, "the subject of my sermon this evening is Liars. How many in the congregation has read the 69th Chapter of Matthews?" Nearly every hand in the congregation was raised. "That's right," said the preacher, "you is the folks I want to talk to. There ain't no 69th chapter of Matthews."

Nothing upsets a woman like company dropping in to see the house looking like it usually does.

Judges for the "Everybody Wins" contest will be announced in our next issue. You can't lose in the "Everybody Wins" contest so get in at the start and win the beautiful new 1955 Ford. It will be on display at Clanton Motors, Inc., within a few days.

422 Youths To Be Called For Duty

PLANTS DRAWN HERE

Writers Attack Editor With Exagerated Claims Of Amount Spent For Publishing Of Minutes

It was with much interest that I read and studied what was said about the proposed legislation submitted by Hon. Francis Speaks in last weeks edition of our local press and more especially what one of the papers had to say about the "Spoils System". To me that was a joke much too serious to laugh at for we all know that one newspaper in the County has depended on what it refers to as the "Spoils System" to keep its presses rolling by publishing resolutions and orders and minutes of the Board of Revenue and Control at the expense of us taxpayers.

As we all know, the law of self preservation is the first law of nature so, in this respect I can't blame Mr. Tucker from fighting for he has been on the gravy wagon on the gravy wagon for a long time, but why didn't he tell us the truth behind his story of woe.

Speaking of the spoil system, a careful study of Mr. Speaks proposed legislation will reveal that the sole purpose of it is to do away with an active Clique or Klan who actually think they are getting away with fooling the people of this fine county into believing that the "Spoils System" has been tossed out the window—we know better. Some of the high "moguls" around the courthouse must not know that many of us know of the threats held over the heads of county employees if they did not suspect certain candidates during the campaigns last year. They must not know that we know of certain promises and deals that they made and attempted to make with certain voters for their support of their favorite candidate or slate.

During the past ten of fifteen years there has been entirely too much centralization of power in government. Let's return it to the people where it rightfully belongs We are stockholders so why should we not have a voice in the operation of same.

Oh yes, I was about to forget in reference to what was said about hiring and firing. It seems that it all depends on who has the authority to do this as to whether it is such a sin or wrong "Spoils System" It did not seem to be wrong or out of order when the late Mr. Bullington, County Engineer, was handed a list of names and told to fire them. Has the law been changed since then?

No.

Let us all remember that when the term "Spoils System" is used that it all depends on who is going to get the spoils away from who?

OFFER CASH PRIZES FOR FIRST WEEK

Just to "start the ball rolling," so to speak, and as a little added incentive for prompt action on the part of those who want to make the most of every opportunity in The Chilton County News' big "Everybody Wins" prize subscription campaign, this newspaper will award twenty special $25 cash prizes to aggressive "early starters" making the best showing during the first week of the contest, terminating Saturday night, August 27th.

These special prizes are in ADDITION to the regular 20 per cent commission, payable weekly, and major prizes to be awarded at end of the contest, but to show good faith a minimum of $100 in subscription collections is necesary to qualify for one of these special prizes (top winners will receive in return a check for $45 out of their first $100 in new and renewal subscriptions) which, after all, is a very small requirement and easily obtainable.

Then, too, there's another super special $25 cash bonus award on top of the above mentioned special prizes and cash commissions for extra effort and unusual results during your first week—also easily obtainable—as more fully outlined in the big announcement elsewhere in this issue of The Chilton County News.

It is easily possible, therefore, for any aggressive contestant to earn $100 cash, or more, during his or her very first week in campaign, while at the same time accumulating large numbers of votes toward winning one of the major awards.

Campaign Managers

Always the leader in promoting programs for the betterment and prosperity of this thriving community, The Chilton County News today announces a big Trade Expansion and Everybody Wins subscription drive in which every resident of Chilton County will benefit—readers, advertisers and the general public. Everyone who participates will be liberally paid for his or her time.

The Chilton County News takes great pride in announcing the inauguration of one of the most unique methods of placing within easy reach of its many readers, and potential subscribers, an opportunity to earn for themselves awards amounting to thousands of dollars in prizes.

This great prize-giving event gets underway today as The Chilton County News announces a seven and one-half week subscription campaign with the most interesting and attractive prizes being offered to those participating.

A 1955 Ford V-8 Fordor worth over $2385.56 and $750.00 cash are to be awarded the top two contestants at the close of the contest, Saturday, Ocober 15th. These two prizes alone should be sufficient reason for those interested to enter the contest quickly, but, to make things all the more attractive, four big cash bonus awards will go to the third, fourth, fifth and sixth place winning contestants.

Nor is that all! A veritable shower of money in the form of special prizes and weekly commission paychecks are yours for the asking. All of these prizes are being offered to anyone in this area who is willing to co-operate with The Chilton County News in this short program.

Purpose is Twofold

Although the Chilton County News enjoys an ever-growing circulation throughout this area, it nevertheless wishes to add to its lists quickly, and at the same time give present readers the opportunity to renew their subscriptions by helping a friend or relative who participates in the contest.

Also, through the contest, the News offers a real opportunity to any energetic citizen of this area to earn valuable prizes and commissions during spare time.

"Everybody Wins" Slogan

One of the outstanding features of this unique contest is the fact that there will be no losers! A cash commission of 20 per cent (one dollar out of every five collected) on either new or renewal subscriptions, will be paid at the end of each week to all active contestants.

The winers of the first and second prizes are to consider their weekly pay checks in the light of an "advance" which are returnable upon presentation of prize thus obviating double compensation. This does not apply to bonus check winners or to other contestants outside the award list.

Jehovah's Witnesses Publish New Book On Society

Now available at most book stores is the new book "Jehovah's Witnesses—the New World Society", published by Vantage Press of New York City. Several books and many pamphlets have been written about Jehovah's Witnesses, but this one is unusual in the fairness and objectivity of its material. It is put together in the crisp news style of a reporter by its author, Marley Cole. He has assembled authentic material by research into literature both by the Witnesses and about them, by attendance a local congregational meetings and at national and international assemblies, and especially by personal interview with many Witnesses themselves some of whom are officials of the Watchtower Society.

The first of its ten chapters colorfully reports on the 1953 international asembly at New York's Yankee Stadium, attended by Witnesses from ninety-six nations, and climaxed by a gathering of 165,82 persons to hear the public talk on the last day.

Under Nathan H. Knorr, the witness work took on new impetus as trained missionaries were sent into scores of countries and branches sprang up in many lands. And yet this was in the face of continuing opposition, from individuals to mobs to nations, fighting imprisonment and bans, doing the work underground for years in some nations and waging incessant court battles in many countries for the legal right to preach. An enlightening interview with the Society's legal counsel, Hayden C. Covington, disclosed the magnitude of the court battles and the many victories won in the Supreme Court of the United States—so impressive that many judges and lawyers have hailed Jehovah's Witnesses as making firm the civil liberties of all citizens.

Another interview, this one with a Society director and the superintendent of evangelists, Thomas J Sulliman, brings out the basic doctrines, placing first in importance the vindication of Jehovah's name and continuing to show belief about salvation, the soul, Christ's second presence since 1914, earth wide Kingdom preaching and the paradise conditions to come in the new world.

Many pages of fine photographs on heavy coated paper and an appendix complete this 229-page book. Perhaps the outstanding part of this appendix for the average reader will be the documentary evidence that President Eisenhower's parents were Jehovah's witnesses for more than forty years. This book is interestingly written about interesting material. You will enjoy reading it. The first printing of 20,000 copies has been taken up by bookstores. A second printing, 404,000 this time, has been run.

Sweet potato prices are probably as high now as they will be at any time this year. Growers may find it profitable to dig and sell early-planted potatoes as soon as they make satisfactory yields.

Handle With Care

Tractors are like horses — or mules — in more ways than one. They can be pretty tricky if you don't handle them right.

Too many tractor accidents happen because of carelessness, The day grows hot and drowsy, the job grows monotonous — and bingo! Someone forgets to throttle down when making a turn, or something, and there's a bad spill.

Credit Slim Hartman's missus for the fact that there's never been tractor trouble on their place. Midway through every morning and afternoon she brings him snacks. "He'll stay on the alert," she says, "if I get him off the tractor for ten minutes."

From where I sit, carelessness can cause plenty of harm in our off-the-job personal lives, too. For instance, suppose a neighbor prefers a glass of beer with supper. You might not share this particular preference with him — but if you're careless about protecting his right to choose, your own freedom of choice is in danger of being "plowed under."

TIME—MOST VALUABLE POSSESSION—

Did you ever stop and try to think of the most valuable thing on earth? Is it a diamond? Is it gold. Some say it would be power, riches, or friends.

You might think it would be love. Certainly, faith and love, which are tied closely together, are the greatest virtues, of which there are many—like unselfishness, sincerity, kindness, etc.

But what is the one most valuable thing? Dismissing faith, which transcends all else, of course, what is there left more valuable than anything else? What is worth more than anything—other than faith?

Time. Time's the most valuable thing you own. The amount of it you have left may depend on you. A strange thing about time is that rich people cannot buy it. They can sometimes extend it with medical care, but just as often their riches actually reduce the supply of it they have, by inducing wrong living, or by causing violence, or attracting danger.

When you waste a day, or a week, you will never recover those hours and days. They have been spent never to return and if you learned nothing in that time, failed to improve yourself in some way, or failed to better your position in life, you lived wastefully in that time.

In spite of all man's inventions, and knowledge, he can still do little with time. Time was the subject which probably fascinated the late Albert Einstein most of all. It brings about life, causes death, makes plants and animals grow, takes care of everything. Time will heal any wound, will solve any problem, if applied in great enough measure.

If man could ever capture the secret of the ravages of time, he could prolong life, perhaps stop the process of ageing.

FARM INCOME DOWN—

The latest report of the Department of Agriculture shows that farmers' cash income in 1955 is down four per cent in the first six months of the year. This is a serious drop, caused—according to the department — by a decline in prices of farm products.

Despite the fact that the country seems to be in for a harvest of bumper crops this year, this further drop in farm income is a serious blow to the Administration, and confronts the Republicans with their gravest domestic problem in three years of office. Unless this trend is checked and the economic plight of the farmer improved, the Republicans are likely to lose the farm vote in 1956.

The records show that farm income has dropped twenty per cent since 1951, just after the outbreak of the Korean War. In no other major profession has income skidded to such an extent, and the fact that production costs have risen adds to the tightening pinch on the average farmer today.

For three years now President Eisenhower has backed up the philosophy and program of his Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson. For three years prices have continued to go down. While it is true that the size of certain crops is being trimmed, the question is whether a continuing decline in farm income is a more serious problem than the surplus problem.

The responsibility for doing something to relieve this situation and prevent what might develop into a serious economic trend rests squarely upon the shoulders of President Eisenhower. The issue can be solved simply by aiming the efforts of the Government in one simple direction—halting the drop in farm income.

The fact that the nation might have to spend some money to maintain farm income at a safe level should not frighten anyone, since the Government spends billions of dollars aiding business each year and untold sums aiding labor.

Prosperity—which is apparently grinding out gains in the face of the darkening farm picture—is worth the money the Government will have to spend to keep farm income at a reasonably safe level.

Board shall be. No one feels that the people in the other three districts should tell them who they should nominate or name to the Board.

Sometimes the people county wide, might nominate a man to the Board when as a matter of fact the people from the district that he will represent would not want him at all. This is nothing but home rule, and the people in my district are anxious to see this change made.

Now, I am sorry that Mr. Tucker and the Chilton County News mis-represented the purposes of the Amendments in an attempt to turn the people against the bill. The Chilton County News referred to Mr. Speaks as wanting to go back to the "Spoils System" when in truth and fact nothing in the proposed Amendments warranted this misleading statement. My friends Mr. Tucker did not tell you his real purpose and motive in opposing these amendments. The truth is folks that the present law requires the Board of Revenue to publish the full minutes and resolutions of every Board meeting. The publishing of the minutes costs the taxpayers of the County between three and four thousand dollars every year. This has been the spoils that Mr. Tucker did not tell you about in the Chilton County News.

Now, the proposed Amendment requires the Clerk to make sufficient copies of the Minutes of every meeting of the Board and have them available for anybody asking for them, also to post copies in every district and in every town in the county. This will save the taxpayers over three thousand dollars a year.

I have served on the Board since January. I was elected from District One to serve the people of that district. This I have been unable to do. Soon after I took office I saw that a conspiracy existed on the Board of Revenue. I was told about this Conspiracy before I was elected and was also told if I was elected I would have no say so about anything affecting my district. I was also told that the third district being represented by Mr Sherman Moley had been completely Boycotted by the other members of the Board, and that Mr. Motley had no authority or say so in representing the people in his district. I soon realized that all this was true as I ran into it full force when I asked the Board to make a few changes in my district. They turned me down cold and to this day I have no more say so over the personnel or problems in my district than the man in the moon. I also find it to be true that Mr. Motley has no say so in his district. I had hoped for these several months since taking office, that Mr. Smith or Mr. Dunlap or Chairman Tingle would recognize the unjustness and unfairness of Boycotting and conspiring against the people of my district and the people of Mr. Motleys District.

Mr. Motley and I have talked about this on several occasions and I am sure that he won't and I know that I never will conspire with other members of this Board to Boycott other sections of our good county, because they nominated and elected a member of the Board when I did not support. I am ready, willing and able to cooperate with Mr. Smith, Mr. Dunlap and Chairman Tingle on anything to the best interest of our good county. I have been doing this and will continue to do so even though they continue to refuse me the same rights as to my district on the Board that they have, Mr. Smith, Mr. Dunlap and Chairman Tingle are hiring and firing whomever they wish in my district without my consent and at times even without my knowledge. The people of my district are openly opposed to this Boycott and Conspiracy. Since we can't get this Combine of Smith, Dunlap and Chairman Tingle to permit us to run our own districts under the present law, we are backing our Representative, Mr. Speaks, to the limit on these proposed amendments that will give us fairness and justness to which we are entitled.

This part of the proposed amendments would not have been necessary, if it had not been for this Conspiracy and Boycott being enforced as outlined above.

The Amendments to the Board of Revenue Bill will not tear down our road system. The county will still have an Engineer to look after the roads and bridges in the county The present Engineer will still be in charge of the roads and the only change in the road setup will be that your elected Representative to the Board will have some say as to who will be employed by the county from his district. Would not the Board Member have a better knowledge of who the peiple of his district want to work on the roads than an Engineer who is not a citizen of Chilton County but came here from some far distant place, and knows none of the people of the county? And, is it fair for Mr. Smith and Mr. Dunlap to name whoever they please in their districts, with the vote of Chairman Tingle and also to name the employees in my district and Mr. Motley's district against our wishes. Folks, I was elected by the good people who represent good old District Number One, but this Combine and Boycott prevents me from doing so.

Let's burst this Combine and Boycott by contacting our Representative and our Senator and insisting that they make these needed changes.

Yours for better government and more home rule,
-s- Lonnie Cost

MEMBER BOARD OF REVENUE OF DISTRICT THREE ADVOCATES PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO PRESENT ROAD BILL

I feel that the proposed changes in our Board of Revenue and Road Department Law that are being advertised will once they are put in operation, be very satisfactory to the people. I think the people want these changes and I know that the people in my district, the third district, want these changes.

The bill proposes only three things and they are:

1. The bill provides that each District shall nominate its own Board Member, whereas, under our present law each Board Member is nominated from the county at large.

2. The bill provides that each Board Member shall have a say so as to who works for the county from his district. Under the present law a Board Member has no say so at all as to who the Engineer shall hire to work the roads in his district. The people in general do not like this and want a change.

3. The proposed bill will repeal that part of the law requiring the Board of Revenue to publish the minutes of the Board Meetings. The new proposal will require the Clerk of the Board of Revenue to print several copies of the Minutes and make them available to the public and he also will have to post a copy of the minutes in various public places over the county. This proposed change will save the county several thousand dollars annually.

These three changes are all that the proposed bill will do. It will not affect the present road system and it does not abolish the present road system. It merely seeks to strengthen the system in that it places the County Government back closer o the people.

It does not do away with the County Engineer but the law will still require the County to employ an Engineer to supervise the building and maintenance of roads in this county.

The people in my district are heavily in favor of these proposed changes and being their elected representative on the Board of Revenue of this county I shall go along with them and do whatever I can to bring about these changes.

-s- Sherman Motley

TO THE EDITOR:

The Resolution appearing in last weeks issue of the Chilton County News which was passed by the vote of Judge Tingle, Mr. Dunlap and Mr. Smith condemning the bill which is being advertised by Representative Speaks to nominate the members of the Board of Revenue Control by districts and to give each member the right to hire and fire the employees hired in each district, to my way of thinking is sufficient proof that the bill should be passed and become a law. Its passage will assure Mr. Cost and Mr. Motley of having some voice and authority in helping to run the affairs of the Board of Revenue and Control which the people elected them to do and, in the present set up, which they aren't allowed to have.

The passage of this bill will not interfere with the county having an engineer and with the county getting Federal and State aid in the building of county roads. That apart will remain as it is now.

Another reason that this bill should become a law is that it saves the taxpayer approximately 3 to 4 thousand dollars a year expended for the printing of the minutes of the meetings of the Board of Revenue and Control.

-s- Bill Porter

(Editor's Note: The first six months of 1955 the Chilton County Board of Revenue and Control paid $847.36 for publishing minutes of the meetings of the Board.)

REPRESENTATIVE SPEAKS CHARGES PROBATE JUDGE TELLS HALF-TRUTHS

Because of a mislabeled article which was written in the Chilton County News of last week which had a sub-heading "Representative Speaks Would Go Back to Old Spoils System," I feel that I should explain to you just what the Bill which I propose amending the present law concerning the Board of Revenue and Control does.

FIRST: This Bill provides that each Member of the Board of Revenue and Control be nominated from the district which he represents.

SECOND: It gives him authority to hire and fire those men employed in his district.

THIRD: It does away with the publishing of the minutes of the Board of Revenue in the newspapers and provides that instead these minutes are to be reproduced and posted in three public places in Clanton, Maplesville, Thorsby, Verbena, and Jemison, as well as in the Court House.

I challenge any person to show that this Bill makes any other changes than those above enumerated. It does not change our system of purchasing in any manner, nor does it affect the duties of the Engineer.

The nomination of the Commissioners by districts I feel will return in a measure to the people of the district more local self-government and will make the Commissioner more responsible to the people of the District he is elected to serve. If a Commissioner of a District be elected to represent a District he should be answerable to the people of that District. Do you think that Jefferson County should vote in electing the Representative of Chilton County? I might say that I promised many of the voters of this County that I would attempt this change, if elected.

The second change allowing the Commissioners to hire and fire in their district is no more responsibility than should be assumed by them on being elected by the people. By placing confidence in a Commissioner on his election, the people are saying they want him to represent them in their County government. Would the people want to completely devoid their elected representative from any authority in what he is to do in the district, and at the same time hold him responsible for those thing which were done wrong or have not been done? At present the hiring and firing is done by certain board members but excluded from others.

The third change which allows the reproduction of the minutes of the Board instead of printing them and providing they be placed in three public places in all the municipalities will, I am informed, save the County approximately $3,500 per year. Recommendations of this provision were at one time made by the Chairman of the Board of Revenue and I am reliably informed met with the approval of the majority of the Board Members when voted upon.

The statement that this Bill, "Would place the County Engineer in a position that he would have to resign" and that "Chilton County can get no further Federal Aid" is in my opinion entirely false. I have discussed the provisions of this Bill with Mr. Lewis, our present Engineer, and he informed me that this Bill if enforced effectively would not hinder him in his operations. Neither in private or governmental functions is the Engineer given authority to hire and fire. He does the work of an expert and his services are very necessary but the responsibility of how this job is performed is placed upon the elected official and he must answer to the electorate for any misuse of this authority. I would like to say that in three of the four counties surrounding us and in over half of the counties of the State, the Commissioners have equal or greater authority than as provided in this Bill and that none of these counties are restricted in receiving Federal Aid. It seems rather absurd to suppose that I would support the enormous State road building program of the present administration, and then cut off my County from receiving the benefits of this program.

References were made in this article that, "Our road program should be as free as possible from volitics." This is my chief aim. During the last election equipment and men were pulled from every district in the County and place in a certain district in attempt to elect a certain person to office. This can be attested by any citizen of this district. Members of the road crew certain candidates they would be were told that if they voted for fired. I quesiton the fact that this is keeping our road program out of politics and instead insert the thought that it is my belief that this is politics in its worst form. I challenge the present Chairman of the Board of Revenue and Control to deny that he has stated, "that his chief interes in the road crew was the political influence that it exerted."

It is true that many roads have been constructed in this County during the last six years. However, during Gordon Person's Administration a 25 million dollar bond issue was made for construction of roads in this State. This was matched by Federal funds giving us an excess of 50 million dollars for road construction during 1952-53-54. During the present administration a 50 million dollar road bond issue will be made with additional income coming from the 1c gasoline tax which was imposed. This matched with Federal Funds will give us over 100 million dollars for road construction during the next four years. We have already been informed that over $587,000.00 will be allocated ti this County during the present administration for road building. I say that any system can build roads where the money is available. The question is, how many miles of road can we build for this amount, and how does this compare with other ciunties surrounding us?

I would like to say in closing that I do not contend that this amendment will make our law a perfect law. No law is any better than those that enforce it. It is an effort by me to try to cure sime of the inequities which I know exist. When the elected Commissioners of half the County have no authority to do the bidding of their people, I feel something is wrong. This amendment is an attempt to return to the Districts more local self-government and to divide the authority so that elected officials of the District can more freely exercise their repnosibilities to the people they serve.

Things we -SEE- and Hear

by "Tuck"

It's hard to understand. "Willie" is dead, yet, a week or two weeks or three from now we'll expect to see him on the street. We had two best friends in the world; Bill Powell was one of them.

It's hard to believe that everyone we know will change over the years, yet he will always remain the same.

It's odd to us that we don't feel any emotion. Somehow, until it does soak in, we'll go on just as if he were here, as always, but we can already feel, not an emotion, it's just sort of nothingness.

"Willie" never found his calling. In all his 21 years, he never appeared satisfied with his work. Yet, he could be the jolliest person around and the most fun to be with.

He never got to make his mark, but we feel, knowing him as we did, that someday he would have found his calling and made his mark, and it would have been a big one.

We know of no one who really disliked him and folks who liked his ways and loved him as a friend are a fortunate many.

He was a person of moods, but when he did decide on a way to do something, he wasn't fickle about it. We can remember when he would fly off the handle if you said good morning to him in the wrong tone of voice. Most of you who know him, wouldn't know that. it was way, way back. When he did change, he made up his mind to be more pleasant, to control his temper and to this day there was a great improvement. That's character like we don't see often and will power to match it.

Yep, it's strange, everyone will change through the years, yet "Willie" will always remain the same; to us he'll always be a jolly, friendly person, able to enjoy life most of the time, even when goings are rough. He'll always be remembered, to us, as our sincere friend and we're going to miss him.

Folsom Attended Govs. Convention

Montgomery.— Gov. James E. Folsom last week attended the national Governors' Convention in Chicago, and was made a member of the highways conference. He was accompanied by Mrs. Folsom and five of his six children. Also with the governor was Press Secretary Ralph Hammond and Civil Defense director Pitt Tyson Maner.

The Governor had to return to Alabama half-way through the meeting of the 48 Governors in order to be back in Montgomery for last Friday's Legislative day. He delaped his departure from Chicago however, long enough to sit in on a round table discussion of the mental sickness problem, and agreed with many other governors that adequate hospitals and the need for more doctors and nurses to care for the mentally ill "is one of the most pressings needs" of the State.
